The "Finally, Survivor Is Back Tonight!! Yet Another Great Thing To Come Back To Us" Edition

LET'S TALK ABOUT BLOCKERS... lots of topics here

Ok, captains/teams/players... over the past few weeks, quite a few questions/issues have arisen around the application of "blocker" situations, with some of them coming up a couple times each. So, let's take a minute and address each here in sequence.

TOPIC #1 - don't be careless or flippant when listing your team, especially with 2 blockers

Please remember that there can be significant strategy in where you list blockers. And this is especially true in doubles, and even truer when down two players. For example, if your two-blocker team is down two points heading into 501, splitting your blockers immediately means you must sweep 501, while putting them together means you might force 501 with only two wins in the set. Seriously. Pay attention to the little stuff - it can make a heck of a difference in the outcome of what is of course a hobby, but is still a competition as well.

TOPIC #2 - When does the blocker get chosen?

Turns out this is a question for a few teams out there... Do you pick the blocker immediately at the start of a set, or when the game comes up to be played? This one is super easy, as rule C.6.b in the MATCHES section spells it out directly: "Blockers should not be added until it is time for the game in question to be called.." So, you definitely wait until the game comes up. And this is actually a pretty important distinction, especially in a case where a team might have a sixth player show up -- because when you reach that game, the opposition HAS to pick a player that hasn't played yet, and that player WOULD earn a point if s/he were to win. (The only negative for the originally shorthanded team here is if two or more players arrive, as the opposition is fully welcome to pick a less-talented available thrower rather than a better one.)

TOPIC #3 - Should you list a player who hasn't arrived yet, rather than leave a blank?

Well, this one can go either way. If your sixth thrower isn't there yet and you list that person, if the game time comes and s/he hasn't arrived yet, that game will be forfeited in singles (or forcing a 3-darts-against-6 situation in doubles). In that instance, you should definitely have left the slot as a blocker, as the opponent would have to pick the newly arrived player if s/he is there in time (see topic #2 directly above). The only reason you WOULD want to list a player not yet present is if you know that more than one more player will arrive and you want to choose who goes in that slot yourself.

TOPIC #4 - Waiting for the blocker you want to select

It's a time-honored tradition here in the RDL to try to use whatever means possible to get your opponent to select a blocker who isn't your worst thrower. Of course we all want to try to make that happen, duh. Pretty common to put your blocker at the start of 301 before they get to see who is hot or not. Also common to try to prey on your opponents' impatience by listing your coldest thrower at the same time as the blocker slot, hoping the opponents won't want to wait for the coldest thrower to finish (especially if the shorthanded team is willing to enforce the RDL standard of playing the games in the order they are listed - side note, heck yeah they should stick to the order if they are trying to push a little impatience). BUT... here's the thing... while the shorthanded team should try all these things, the non-shorthanded team also shouldn't just be giving up their advantage all willy-nilly. The full-attendance team is COMPLETELY in its rights to wait for any player to be the blocker. And they obviously SHOULD wait for the lesser/colder player to be available - why the heck should a team give up its advantage just because the opponents (who didn't bring enough players) want them to?? [Bottom line? I'm personally NEVER going to just make a pick that you want me to make, just because you want me to, or because you're grumpy that your plan isn't working on me. Want me to not pick a certain player? Either bring more players, or put that person "with" the blank in doubles. You aren't guiltling me... - JK]

RDL HEADLINES

"Leaguewide": only TWO teams make it through week 6 without a loss; still some fast game categories without a reported leader yet, in SCKt, DCkT, and 501; only three T80s so far leaguewide?
"A" Division: The Bullies roll again, now sitting with a 2-match lead (as well as many points); Alliance rolls, extends win streak to 4; Element handles Liver to keep themselves in the lead group
"B" Division: Serious gets a huge win over Terror in match that was tied after singles; Armed squeezes past Inconsistent, stays inside a super-tight pack of five lead teams; Boom and Darty Daze post solid wins, both now sit in the group of 4-2 contenders
"C" Division: F Bomb uses a big cricket advantage to escape the winless last place team and keep hold of C lead; Cheapies outlast

Niners to move to 4-1; Outlaws escape Rif Raf in tiebreaker
"D" Division: Big Bulls win fifth straight, reach their midseason bye with likely hold of D lead; Off Constantly gets past One Armed Bandits in a pretty odd, quite-shorthanded night
"E" Division: Debauchery comes out and just rips Sanchez, who had been undefeated until this matchup; the revitalized Corkers roll a third straight opponent, now just points out of 3rd after an 0-3 start; Ones take 10 cricket points from Ducks
"F" Division: Dart Knights ring up a big score, forget to send in the sheet; Dart Side wins again, setting up a monster matchup with the Knights tonight; Banging ekes past Coach in a critical result, leaving both at 4-2 with equal total points

Name the band/singer? the song? Last week's answers: Song 1 = "School's Out" by Alice Cooper; Song 2 = "Beauty School Dropout" by Frankie Avalon; Song 3 = "Rock N' Roll High School" by The Ramones. And the theme? Just schools, now that we're back in full-on school time and I have to wait on school buses in the mornings and afternoons again. I guess I didn't miss "everything" during the pandemic. [Recent quiz leader Pete Rutten got everything but song 2 this week, but he was outdone this week. Both Mikey Hindle and Paul Jacobi nailed the entire set (and Jacobi added a great theme-addition guess based around our teammate's Schoolio nickname). - JK]

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "...better than I ever did, Looking like a true survivor, feeling like a little kid"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "Well, I know what's right, I got just one life, In a world that keeps on pushin' me around, But I'll stand my ground"

Week 7, song #3 lyric: "While you were sittin', Home alone at age thirteen, Your real daddy was dyin', Sorry you didn't see him"

LAST REMINDER - SINGLES TOURNAMENT REPLACING SAT. BLIND DRAW

For the next two weeks, Brown's Billiards will still be hosting their regular Saturday blind draws at 8:00 p.m. But starting on October 2nd, they will be switching their Saturday weekly event to a singles tournament that starts at 7:00 p.m. It will be a $10 entry fee and the bar will be matching 100% (although it's not yet decided if that will be 100% that night, or 50% that night and the other 50% saved for something like a tournament of champions every 12 weeks or so). The playing format will be Chicago (301/501/cricket), best 2 out of 3 in both winner and loser brackets (double elimination!). Also there will be a bounty for whoever can knock out the player who won the prior week(s). There will also likely be a triple shot. But please note, the final specifics of the format/payout/etc. are still somewhat in the finalizing phases, so the organizers are still open to suggestions if you have some. Please let the Brown's staff or owner David Huffman know if you would be interested in playing, but also if you have any further suggestions.

"HOT DARTS" LISTING GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines that will be used for the minimum number of all-star points each week for the "hot darts" page.

"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C" Division = 3.5 or more ASPs
"D, E" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "F" = 2.5 or more ASPs

Also, we will list any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:

for Divisions "B", "E" and "F" (8 teams / division):

Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for Divs. "A" (except team A3), "C" and "D" (7 teams / div.):

Singles win %-age: min. of 16 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 32 Total Games Played for team A3 (due to 1 forfeit received):

PREDICTIONS FOR THE WEEK

Alright, last week was decent again... 15-5 (with one match postponed) for the week, with a few of my correct picks swinging on a single dart again. Included in my near-miss pile was my current kryptonite, the One Armed Bandits, who won more than half the slots, but forfeited a game, and then played two short for the last three sets. I'm now OH-AND-FIVE in Bandits matches... but when this much craziness happens, do they even count anymore?? Anyway, that brings me to 88-36 for the season so far, which is a correct pick rate of 71%. Onward we go...
Match of the week: (D Div.) Hump Day! @ Off Constantly-Reboot. The Big Bulls (on the bye tonight) have reached the midway point with only 1 loss. The winner here will be the only team to join them in that lead pairing, so this could be a season race-defining matchup. Both teams are on a three-match win streak, and couldn't look much more even. It just feels like Hump Day might be finding their stride a bit, 13-11.
Match #2: (F Div.) The Neighborhood Dart Knights @ Dart Side of the Moon. With the Dart Knights' scoresheet penalty last week, the point race in F is now all tied up between these two, and Dart Side can thus take over first with any size of match victory tonight. Dart Side has won five in a row, but I'm thinking that run will end here. Dart Knights, 15-9.
Matches #3 & #4: (B Div.) Why So Serious? @ Darty Daze; Armed & Hammered @ Boom Baby!!! The B race has formed into an awesome pack of five teams separated by only a single match and 10 points. The Serious are the only team to not drop a second match yet, so these two pairings within that lead-five could shape a LOT of what the B race will become in the next eight weeks. Somehow Serious has pulled to 5-1 despite only three players even being 0.500 (counting those who have played more than once), so that lead feels a little tenuous. This story is way better if Darty pulls the upset, so let's go with that, 13-11. And I'm thinking Boom might escape Armed & Hammered in a tiebreaker.
Match #5: (E Div.) Darty Sanchez @ Red-eye Rangers. Sanchez was all undefeated and rolling... and then last week, they got completely rolled. If the Rangers can pull another upset on Sanchez, the E race turns into an absolute free-for-all with 4 to 6 teams within a match of the lead. Sadly for the story side, I think Sanchez rebounds, 14-10.
Match #6: (C Div.) Dysfunctional Outlaws @ Cheap Shots. Four C teams sit with either 1 or 2 losses, and this match could really create a great storyline regardless of who wins. If the Cheapies win, they join

F Bombs at 1 loss at the turn. If the Outlaws win, a pack of up to 3 chase teams will sit one match back. Outlaws create the pack, 14-10.
Match #7: (E Div.) Darts & Debauchery @ Left, Right, Corkers. At first glance, this looks like 2nd place vs 6th place. But what this really is, is a team that just handed the division leaders their butts, against a newly-not-shorthanded roster that is climbing fast on the strength of a three-match win streak. Turns out this pairing is pretty critical. I so want to pick the Corkers, but just can't... D&D, 14-10.
Matches #8 & #9: (D Div.) One Armed Bandits @ Board Royalty; Sharky's Machine @ Menace 2 Sobriety. Three teams in D have 1 loss so far. The other four all have 3+ and are probably fighting to avoid a bottom-two spot that could send them to E next season. And it turns out that those four happen to face each other tonight. We all know that I can't get a Bandits pick right, so I'll gift a win to the Royalty by picking One Armed, 12-10. And while Menace is winless and 2 matches behind the Machine, they've actually won only 2 fewer games than the Machine so far. Still Machine, 13-11.
Match #10: (E Div.) Salty Damn Duck Gone @ Death Throw. Swing result time... Two teams at 0.500, in a division with no undefeated teams and no winless teams. Winner here could be in the title chase, loser might be trying to avoid dropping. Ducks, 13-11.
Match #11: (F Div.) We're Sexy & We Throw It @ The Gutter Balls. Last match of the season that can guarantee a first-time winner, so the last time than we can guarantee a breakthrough celebration. The Gutters are greatly improved, but I think this is We Throw It, 14-10.
Match #12: (C Div.) Nine Lives @ Rif Raf. I suspect these teams are surprised to be in a pairing that could determine who finishes in a bottom-two spot, but here we are nonetheless. Pretty even pairing, as you might expect, but it's time for Niners to make a move, 14-10.
Match #13: (E Div.) Ones Are Closed @ Just F'd. A tightening of the race to avoid the E cellar? Or the Ones' next step in reclaiming their shot at getting back in the E chase? I'll take the Ones, 14-10.
And the remaining 8 matches, sorted by division:
A Division: The Reunited Element 17, 3-Peat A-fenders 7; The Bullies 17, Liver Die! 7; Lunatic Fringe 18, Shadows Count 6.
B Division: Terror Bulls 15, Show Me 9; Inconsistent 14, DD-214 10.
C Division: Shark Shooters 15, Toeing The Line 9.
F Division: Banging 13, Sofa Kings 11; Coach 4:4 14, Privilege 10.

WEEK-BY-WEEK SCORE TABLE - To see how your team has performed against other opponents, find your team in the left column, then read across to the right week by week. Each week lists the team number of the opponent as well as the match result and points scored for your team. An upper-case opponent number is a home match for your team, while a lower-case opponent number is a road match for your team. To see what the opponent scored in any given week's match (because sometimes matches have fewer than 24 total points when a blocker is involved), just find the score on the corresponding opponent line for that same week. (Match forfeits are listed in italics.)
