

IT'S NOT HOW YOU WIN... OR HOW YOU LOSE... IT'S BOTH

Our hobby is a competitive one. And quite a number of us are competitive people. But it's what we do with that competitiveness, and how we carry ourselves, that really separates some of us from others. It's cool to be excited when you play well. And it's understandable to be a bit less than pleased if you play poorly. But you know what? Generally, neither of those responses is your opponent's fault. So how about we all try to maybe spaz the hell down a bit? Slamming your stuff down, punching the backboard, screaming out loud, whipping your hat across the bar, loudly complaining and throwing a fit, yeah... pretty much none of those have any welcome place at any dart match. By the same token, talking crap to your opponent, mocking a bad throw, gloating if you do something well, screaming out loud for what you claim is a legitimate reason (hint: it isn't), or just generally showing up your opponent, yeah... pretty much also none of those have any welcome place at a dart match. In fact, any combination of these things happening with any regularity just kind of make you a dick. Don't be a dick.

It's kind of amazing, actually, how much all the things above can trump talent in our hobby. I have had the pleasure (hell, let's be honest, it's an honor) to play on teams with some of the best of the best in the entire nation. Among the best of those are an actual pair of national champions. And those guys are two of the most well-mannered darters I've ever countered. They win with class and dignity, and they lose with class and dignity. People they beat often genuinely enjoy the matchup, even if they get crushed like bugs, because the guys doing it treat them as equals, win or lose, big margin or small margin. They don't scream, they don't taunt, they don't storm off if they have a bad night. They are friggin' pros. And I mean at being humans, not at throwing darts. So many others at their level are so very different from that so often.... Makes me sad. I implore all of you, please find that happy, respectful, classy you that I know is in there. Do it soon.

RDL TRIVIA

This week's question(s): Last week, Stevie Phillips of North Raleigh Alliance tossed a ridiculous 16.5 ASPs. In my 49-ish seasons as statistician (48 full seasons, plus the Sp20 half season, plus this season's first half), how many times has an RDL member thrown at least that many in one night? Which person/people have done it?

The answer: Pitching more than 4.0 ASPs per game is pretty rare. (And yes, I realize that a thrower can average fewer per game and still reach 16.5 if they are picked as a blocker, but seriously, who is picking a thrower with 4/game talent as a blocker??) It's so rare that Phillips's night was only the 8th time it has happened in my 25 years here as RDL statistician. Phillips's 16.5 here in Fa21 wk08 tied his brother Robbie Phillips (Sp09 wk08) and Mike Hall (Sp00 wk14). Above them come Dan Naylor with 17.0 (Fa19 wk14), Naylor again with 18.0 (Sp11 wk10), Robbie Phillips again with 18.0 (Sp19 wk07), Brian Blake with 18.5 (Fa11 wk08), and John Kramer with the all-time record of 22.5 (Sp18 wk08). Thus, while the 16.5 line has been reached a total of 8 times, only 6 people have done it.

This week's question: Last week, The Bullies rang up one of the rarest occurrences here in RDL-land. They chalked up a 24-0 whitewash of another of the top four teams in A division. How many times since I took over as statistician (1996 forward) has a team that finished in the top four in A the prior season lost by a full 24-0 shutout score? (I ask it that way because searching teams that were "top four" the prior season is a much easier data search due to the way I have the score tables set up.)

RDL HEADLINES

"A" Division: The Bullies hang a friggin' 24 on the scoreboard, and on a strong opponent; Alliance outlasts Element in 1001 on Minty's winner; shorthanded Liver likely clinches top-5
 "B" Division: Boom rides a 501 sweep to victory over division-leading Serious; Terror Bulls thump Darty Daze, take over B #1 slot; Armed wins big, stays right in the thick of the race
 "C" Division: F Bombs starting to make a little distance from the pack; Niners roll the shorthanded Sharks, drop them to 0.500; shorthanded-again-Outlaws barely escape last place Toeing
 "D" Division: Machine plays short, wins almost no crickets, yanks Off Constantly from the top spot anyway; Big Bulls sweep doubles, move to top of D; Bandits win, lurk in third
 "E" Division: Sanchez fully returning to division leader form, taking all 6 doubles from Corkers; Rangers overcome a huge 10-2 singles deficit, take out the Ducks in 1001 to stay in 2nd
 "F" Division: Dart Knights squeak past Privilege to keep hold of F lead; Dart Side closes out Banging before 501, dropping the number of legitimate F contenders to 3 (with Coach 4:4)

ANOTHER CRAZY STAT COINCIDENCE LEVEL

Remember last week, when I told you about the nutso Left, Right, Corkers @ Death Throw match in E division? The one where both teams scored exactly 9 points AND both threw exactly 9.0 ASPs? Well, I hadn't even noticed at the time, but that outcome had left both teams with exactly 90 points in the standings! 9s for everybody!! More 9s, more 9s, we need more 9s!! (Shoutout to Patrick Merkle for picking up on the 90s too.)

Name the band/singer? the song? Last week's answers: Song 1 = "Beggin' " by The Four Seasons (and recently covered by Maneskin); Song 2 = "The Sign" by Ace of Base (it still bothers me that this isn't 'Bass'); Song 3 = "Why Don't You Get A Job?" by The Offspring. And the theme? The street corner panhandlers. Begging, signs, a common quandary from the drivers going by... It's really sad that such a high percentage of those folks are there by choice, because they make such a strong living from doing nothing but asking for money. I would love to help the few that actually need it. Alas, it's often difficult to identify those really in need. [I admit that the first song, while awesome, was kind of tough. And nobody got it. But what completely stunned me was that nobody got song 2 either!! That song is soooo very much everywhere even decades later. I'm betting a lot of people are kicking themselves now. (Roughly everybody got song #3). - JK]

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "What you gon' do with all that junk?, All that junk inside that trunk?, I'ma get, get, get, get, you drunk"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "I see the magazine workin' that Photoshop, We know that shit ain't real, come on now, make it stop"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "She had dumps like a truck truck truck, Thighs like what what what, Baby move your butt butt butt"

"HOT DARTS" LISTING GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines that will be used for the minimum number of all-star points each week for the "hot darts" page.

"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs

"C" Division = 3.5 or more ASPs

"D, E" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "F" = 2.5 or more ASPs

Also, we will list any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:

for Divisions "B", "E" and "F" (8 teams / division):

Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played

All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for Divs. "A" (except team A3), "C" and "D" (7 teams / div.):

Singles win %-age: min. of 16 Singles Games Played

All-star pt. Average: min. of 32 Total Games Played for team A3 (due to 1 forfeit received):

min. of 15 Singles Games Played, 30 Total Games Played

PREDICTIONS FOR THE WEEK

Well, after two pretty crappy weeks, I guess a 15-6 week will have to do. Certainly not stellar, but it's serviceable. That takes me to 129-59 (68.6% correct) for the season, which is ok (I'm always happy-ish when I'm getting twice as many right as wrong), but isn't amazing. The issue is that I just can't figure a few teams out. I'm a sad 2-6 in Shark Shooters matches... I'm 2-5 in One Armed Bandits matches... and I'm one pick under 0.500 for 3 other teams too. Running out of weeks to catch up.

Match of the week: (B Div.) Brown's Terror Bulls @ Boom Baby!!! With Boom taking out Serious last week, the B race is (once again) renewed into an awesome mess of awesomeness. The Terror Bulls are back on top and in control of the B race, and while I really think Boom has something, I can't pick a team with a losing SCKt in the match of the week. Thus, I think Terror Bulls take this again, 14-10.

Match #2: (D Div.) Big Bulls @ Hump Day! With Off Constantly getting dumped by a shorthanded Machine last week, the Big Bulls have moved back atop D. The Humpers presently look like a distant fourth, but when you realize they've already had their bye, they're really just a match and a few points from the lead. Big Bulls, 14-10.

Match #3: (E Div.) Darts & Debauchery @ Death Throw. Sanchez has rebounded and won a couple straight to settle the E race a bit, but both of these chasers are still well within reach of the lead (this despite Debauchery's loss to the last place team a week ago). Death Throw's tendency to be short scares me a bit. Debauchery, 11-10.

Match #4: (C Div.) Dysfunctional Outlaws @ Nine Lives. The F Bombs and their six-match win streak appear to be running away and hiding a bit. But if the F Bombs stumble, there is only time for one challenger to make a run at them, and that will certainly be the winner of this matchup of 3-loss teams. I'll go with the Dysfunctionals, 14-10.

Match #5: (E Div.) Salty Damn Duck Gone @ Left, Right, Corkers. The Corkers' miracle rebound run has stalled a bit lately, but now we get this really interesting pairing where it's possible that one of these teams might end up fighting to avoid a drop to F in the spring. I think the Ducks might end their five-match slide in a tight one. Ducks, 13-11.

Match #6: (C Div.) Shark Shooters @ F Bombs. As noted above, the F Bombs have really taken control of C, and are only a few wins from salting this race away. I've proven week after week that I have no idea what the Sharks are going to do, so I'll just have to pick this one based on my faith in the Bombs' consistency. Bombs near the title, 14-10.

Match #7: (A Div.) The Bullies @ The Reunited Element. This is still the current top two teams in A, but honestly, this match means far less than usual. The Bullies are about a minute from clinching the A race, even if they didn't show up at all for a couple weeks. The Bullies are super deep, so even if some guys skip out... 14-10.

Match #8: (F Div.) Flight Privilege @ Dart Side of the Moon. Even with their week 8 surprise stumble, Dart Side still controls their own fate in terms of the F division title. As long as they keep handling business, the week 14 showdown with the Knights could be for it all. Step #1 in handling business is this big hurdle. Dart Side, 13-11.

Match #9: (C Div.) Rif Raf @ Cheap Shots. If Rif Raf wants to avoid a bottom-2 finish in C (and a possible drop to D next season), it's time to take out the teams right ahead of them. Given their 2-5 record and their previous solid loss to the Cheapies, there is no good argument to pick Rif Raf. But I just have a feeling! RR, 13-11.

Match #10: (D Div.) Board Royalty @ Menace 2 Sobriety. There is honestly not a lot to play for in this one aside from pride and the pure enjoyment of the game. But that's the reason we're here, right? Royalty took this matchup against the 1-win Menace in 1001 last time, but I think it's time for a little bit of payback. Menace, 12+-12.

Match #11: (F Div.) Banging The Wire @ The Neighborhood Dart Knights. The Knights got a critical win last week, while Banging fell to the Dart Side and might have finally fallen out of the F race. Banging is way dangerous, but the Dart Knights prevail, 14-10.

Match #12: (D Div.) Sharky's Machine @ One Armed Bandits. The Bandits look to just be cruising along at 4-3, not making too much eye contact with the leaders, and minding their own business. But with matchups against both 2-loss teams still on the schedule, and the highest point/week average... look out. Bandits, 14-10.

Match #13: (B Div.) Consistently Inconsistent @ Darty Daze. These two were contenders very recently. Now they're fighting to avoid a possible fall to 7th (and C in the spring). CI, I guess? 13-11.

And the remaining 8 matches, sorted by division:

A Division: Alliance 15, Fringe 9; Liver Die! 15, A-fenders 9.
 B Division: Armed 14, Show Me 10; Why So Serious? 17, DD-214 7.
 E Division: Sanchez 14, Ones Are Closed 10; Rangers 15, Just F'd 9.
 F Division: Sofa Kings 16, Gutter Balls 8; Coach 16, We Throw It 8.
