Home to the Fall Session of the Raleigh Dart League for the Banquet, Saturday, December 10, 2011 Issue #JK512
The "It Really Is Kind Of An Honor To Be A Part Of Something So Long-Lasting And So Talent-Laden" Edition

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - Just A Little High (13-3)
Little High reverses the regular season/tournament script from last season against Element, repeatedly outrunning an Element squad that was actually playing quite well and hitting a lot in the final.

"B" Division - Appetite for Destruction (13-5)
Appetite completes the only undefeated season in the RDL this time around, coughing up only 9 total points in the tournament and inspiring captain Sid to make repeated '72 Dolphin references.

"C" Division - Mug Hunters (13-7)
The Hunters prove once again that their name is one of the most appropriate in league history, as they complete their fourth Mug run in a row - which is how many seasons the team has existed.

"D" Division - Black Mug Society (14-8)
I wasn't there, but from what I hear I'm guessing that this was the most 'eventful' of the tournament finals. Incidentally, these finalists received a forfeit and a mid-match concession in the quarterfinals.

"E" Division - Lords of Da Board (14-4)
In another finals pairing that produced some 'colorful' scenes, the Lords had their full team for the first time in many weeks, becoming one of only three teams to complete the season/tournament double.

"F" Division - Projectile Bogarts (14-8)
Holy upsets, Batman! The Bogarts claim the tournament title from the #5 spot, facing the #7(!!) seed F6f Hellcats in the finals and winning half as many matches in the tournament as in the season.

"G" Division - Liquor Posse (14-8)
The Posse reinforces its role as the bane of the Brawlers' existence, handing the Backyard bunch its second loss (out of a grand total of two) in the last seven weeks to take home the ceramic hardware.

"H" Division - Methodical Madness (?-?)
After winning the season by four matches (the largest margin this season), the Madness evidently took care of business like it was business, at least from the sound of the unenthused score (non)report.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Not Non-Element (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Just A Little High

"B" Division - Appetite for Destruction (14 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - The Locals

"C" Division - Is It In? (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Mug Hunters

SPRING 2012 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

These dates (or at least some of them) are on page 8, as well as on pages 1 and 40, but I am putting them in many locations because they might be the most important thing for you in this newsletter.

Wednesday, January 4th - Spring season registration, Upper Deck (online registration available in days immediately prior to the 4th)

Wed., Jan. 18th - Preseason capts.' mtg./packet pickup, Upper Deck

Wednesday, January 25th - Start of Spring season match play

Monday, February 27th - Fifth week captains' meeting, Upper Deck

Wednesday, May 2/9/16 - Spring season divisional tournaments

Saturday, May 19th - Spring season banquet, site TBD

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Just sort of a regular season in terms of tiebreakers, with 37 total (2 of those 37 in the tournaments). The remarkable thing this time around was that we had a division with zero 1001 games - A division - that really doesn't happen very often. C division led the way for the 2nd consecutive season, with 8 tiebreakers, followed by E (7, with 1 in the tournament), H (6, with 1 in the tournament), F (6), B (5), G (3), and D (only 2). Interestingly, just like C repeated its most-1001s title, D repeated its fewest-1001s title. Ummm… is there a reason for that?

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) goes to Big Bulls in E division, who ended up with a 3-1 record. They got the award over Fullabull in H (also 3-1 in 1001) because one of the Big Bulls' wins was in the tournament semifinal.

The Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost) is shared by two teams in C division. Rif Raf finished 0-3 in the extra leg, while The Usual Suspects managed to at least win one on the way to their 1-3 record. Considering that the Suspects' three losses were all to Corked & Loaded and the Mug Hunters, it turns out those 1001 failures cost The Suspects second place in C (this despite the fact that The Suspects finished FOUR matches out of 2nd).

QUOTES FROM AROUND THE LEAGUE

Quote #1 : from David "Mo'Tea" Murray of the Rednecks when he saw my team's opponents Bob Terry and Jim Budelman playing ping pong during the late portions of singles cricket: "When two of your best throwers are playing ping pong, you know things aren't really going all that well…"

Quote #2 : from Jim Budelman of Lunatic Fringe at that same match. Upon his arrival, the waitress asked what he would like, and he said wine. When she asked 'what direction are you thinking?' as she pulled out her white, red, and rose lists, Jim simply replied: "Bottles."

Quote #3 : from Sid Mitchell of Appetite for Destruction, who just finished winning B division with a 17-0 record: "We joined Perfect-ville. Mercury Morris, Bob Griese, and Larry Csonka welcomed us." [Are you sure that's who was welcoming you? I thought maybe since you just rolled B division that it was Brian Blake, Robbie Phillips, and Mike Seward welcoming you. On their behalf… welcome. - JK]

Quote #4 : from Daniel Caputo of Liquor Posse, after his team won the G division tournament, in his first season back after his league-mandated one-season hiatus after the little brouhaha at Mac's last Fall: "We took the championship and I totally redeemed myself!" [While I realize that there isn't much humor in that quote, I included it because at the preseason captains' meeting, Daniel bluntly guaranteed me this is exactly how things would finish. And they did! Wow. - JK]

Quote #5 : from the Double Tap comments section of their week 13 scoresheet, coughing up a guarded secret to success: "Blair [Becker] said she got her dart throwing groove back now since she got her purple hi-lights done again." [I would lend this notion more credence if the entire Double Tap team would show up for a match with purple hi-lights… Even Steve… And I want photos as proof… - JK]

FALL 2011 PENALTY SUMMARY

Another decent season in terms of penalties (actually lack thereof, so good for you again). 26 total penalties for a total of 207 points, which is about the same as last season. And like last season, we had one division (F) that wasn't penalized even once! Beyond that, there was no division that was penalized all that much more than the rest - that's a bit rare, to be honest. There were 0 captains' meeting penalties (nice!!), 8 election ballot penalties (for 40 total points), 11 phone penalties (55 total points), 5 mail penalties (80 total points), and 2 penalties for incomplete tiebreaker score-sheet information (32 total points). G division had the most total penalties (6), as well as the most penalized teams (5); but both D and H divisions surpassed G in total points lost with 47 each (which is pretty low compared to other seasons). Overall, 21 of the 64 teams received at least one penalty (with five teams leaguewide receiving two, and none with more than two!).

But the most interesting part of this column each season? Who lost the most due to penalties? Well, the simple answer would be Missing Flights in H division, the only team that lost more than 21 points this season (they lost 32). The much more significant loss, however, came for Nine Lives in B division - their lone penalty (a week 5 mail penalty) cost them a spot in the B standings that will now likely drop them down to C next season!!

Who beat Julie Tate Lee of Bulls & Bears in H division?
in 301: Doug Genzlinger (wk.5), Glen Steel (wk.7), Cindy Voorhees (wk.8), Roger Genzlinger (wk.12), Jacob Dozier (wk.13).
in cricket: Jared Davis (wk.5), Mike Venable (wk.7), Luke Davis (wk.9), Mike Horrall (wk.14).

PEOPLE, BE A DAN DAMMIT…

Two RDL tournament finals reached shouting-match level and one almost came to blows. That is flipping ridiculous. Grow the hell up. Matches can be intense, but it's a game, people! Get a grip on that. I saw this week a perfect example of how you should feel about our game, how you should truly just enjoy the chance we have to do something so fun yet pointless and keep it all in perspective. Dan Naylor, of Just A Little High and the Wilmington City Team, lost a state tournament semifinal match to my team on Saturday in a nailbiting tiebreaker. Could've been just the right opportunity to have a big tantrum, make excuses, be a poor loser, whatever… What did Dan do? He shook hands and wished us luck, then came back to the bar on Sunday to watch the state league final, drink and hang out with us and enjoy great darts, and then he even helped out by taking team photos for us with the Cup (see a Dan-taken photo on pg. 15). Then, on Wednesday, he came to our RDL finals match and tore us a-freakin'-part with a slew of huge darts. Didn't win one day, then watched others play another day, then won on a third day. And he did it with the same life-is-great smile all three days. All of you whiny-ass, overly macho, self-important complainers should take notes on this one. Because when the bar is on fire one day and I only have time to save one unconscious leaguemate, Dan is getting dragged out of the building long before you are.

THE GREATEST ALL-STAR TEAM EVER

(It is this item to which the all-star team notes on page 9 refer…)
Oh, I so wish I had more than 8 spots on the A division all-star team. This season had more incredible throwers playing well than any I've seen in my 32 seasons as statistician. The 8 guys that I picked for this season should probably be more honored (yes, a lot of people see it as an honor, so you hush…) than any in any past season. I had to leave off guys like Bob Gargan and Randy Crites of Just A Little High, Mark Knight and Keith Wall of Element, Bob Terry of Lunatic Fringe, Mike Seward and Jim Davis of Daddies, and David "Mo'Tea" Murray of the Rednecks. All of those guys had seasons of which 95% of us can only dream to have. And there wasn't space for even one of them on the team. That is almost unfathomable to me. There is so much talent at the top of RDL right now (see page 15, left column, for further proof) that it's sort of unprecedented. It's like a who's who of state champions from the entire past fifteen years. Wow.

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C", "D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E", "F", "G" Divisions = 3.0 or more ASPs
"H" Division = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star pt. ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:
for ALL Divs.(except teams D2,D3,D7,F6,G3,G7) (8 teams/div.):
Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for teams D2, D3, D7, F6, G3 & G7 (due to 1 forfeit received.):
min. of 18 Singles Games Played, 35 Total Games Played

THE THIRTIETH SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs

A Division	Brian Blake	Just A Little High	E Division	Tim Bunn	Force 8 from the Planet XXX
B Division	Robert Ray	Appetite for Destruction	F Division	Matt Goss	Double Tap
C Division	Billy Lloyd	Is It In?	G Division	Stan Converse	D'Artists Formerly Known As Ducks
D Division	Randy Wilcox	Black Mug Society	H Division	John Iager	Grateful Darts

All of RDL -- Tim "Big Dummy" Bunn -- Force 8 from the Planet XXX

"A" Division (best 8 of maybe the best A division ever)

Brian Blake	Just A Little High	(A division is just so deep
Tom Brown	Not Non-Element	with talent that I'm not going
Kyle Gaulthier	Off Constantly	to bother with individual
Shane Murray	Undom. Rednecks	player-by-player comments
Dan Naylor	Just A Little High	here. Instead I'm simply
Robbie Phillips	Not Non-Element	going to say 'check out
Scott Stankevich	Undom. Rednecks	the players here, then read
Wil Tan	Not Non-Element	the right column of page 7.')

"B" Division (had to leave some good shots off here too…)

Rick Bradshaw	The Locals	Three 11-win sets is pretty tough to beat.
Phillip Eastmead	The Locals	Finally headed back to his proper A slot.
Kris Fischlein	Two Girls and…	Led new team in both singles and doubles.
Sid Mitchell	Appetite for Dest.	Beat most everyone but his teammate.
Jerry Oakley	Traveling Beer Belli	Super in singles, was team's best by a lot.
Robert Ray	Appetite for Dest.	Great addition made good team undefeated.
David Romanchek	Nine Lives	Maybe not the best doubles lister ever…
J.J. Tant	OT Outlaws	We'll just sit him in 301, then unleash him.

"C" Division

Lonnie Bullington	Mug Hunters	Might have been the Mug-hunting MVP.
Ed Grubb	Corked & Loaded	Wow. Grubber went 22-2 overall in cricket.
David Hoyt	Rif Raf	Diablo is driven, and wins a truckload.
Michael Johnson	The Usual Suspects	Top cricket player for big-time upset team.
Billy Lloyd	Is It In?	Maybe the most out-of-place player of all.
Charles Parker	Is It In?	Mr. Consistency of C from set to set.
Alberto Sandoval	Mug Hunters	Hunter captain starts slow, finishes big.
Jason Thomas	Take It All	When he's absent, Take It All takes none.

"D" Division

Sean Ackley	What the Fork?	WTF? must just cringe if he misses a night.
Frank Allison	Sharky's Machine	Got better and better with each passing set.
Kevin Brody	Salute-A-Bulls	Another big winner w/a minor 301 problem.
Don Sautter	Choot 'Em!	Top Chooter just needs a few more 501s.
Andy Schwochow	Ale-ing Archers	Clearly the top shot in the Archery squad.
Jerry Shengulette	Black Mug Society	Even his teammates say he walks on water.
David Simpson	Salute-A-Bulls	Maybe new darting leader in the family?
Randy Wilcox	Black Mug Society	As always, 501 comes a bit late each match.

"E" Division

Todd Bowman	Lords of Da Board	Lords win a lot, & they say he's their best.
Tim Bunn	Force 8/Planet XXX	I can't say enough of his importance. Can't.
Aaron Fitzgerald	Big Bulls	Somehow doubles is below team average?
Stephen Flanagan	Big Bulls	Solid from front-to-back in all four sets.
Dave Johnson	Menace 2 Sobriety	We just won't ask him to chalk too often.
Vicente Martinez	Turtle Soup	Obviously the Big Turtle in a new pond.
Tim Welborn	Lords of Da Board	Probably carried the Lords most of anyone.
Tom Winters	Lords of Da Board	Even if he was off being a Dad for a while.

"F" Division

Dana Bither	Sharkshooters	Great add will help return Sharks to glory.
David Gelberg	Dublin-Dublout	Calm, clutch thrower for nailbiter kings.
Matt Goss	Double Tap	12-2 was his worst set record. Yes, worst.
Andrew Jones	Dublin-Dublout	Not a SCkt whiz, but the rest was golden.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	The youth are already inheriting the earth.
Steve Polenz	Double Tap	If not for Goss, he would shine pretty big.
Rod Stacy	Sharkshooters	So… maybe he'll be a singles specialist…
J.J. Yoneoka	Banzai Darters	Oh, if only he wasn't just a part-timer…

"G" Division (there were LOTS of guys that almost made this team…)

Stan Converse	D'Artists…Ducks	Showed up BIG for team of no-shows.
Josh Frumkin	Backyard Brawlers	Maybe he's the real top Backyard dog…
Lyman Kiser	One Armed Bandits	32-7 in last 3 sets kept Bandits in lead trio.
Rob Lewis	Backyard Brawlers	Team's 3rd or 4th best player? Not fair.
Ted Marks	Liquor Posse	Top winner for Brawler-beating Mug crew.
Pat Merkle	Backyard Brawlers	Only 501 record wasn't at a stellar level.
Shane Nelson	Liquor Posse	The drop to G certainly served him well.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	If he was full-time, he could own this div.

"H" Division

Sheldon Citrak	Method. Madness	4th most mad? Or 4th most methodical?
Jared Davis	Frank	Great in singles, good enough in doubles.
Brad Hamilton	Method. Madness	10+ wins every set for runaway winners.
Mike Horrall	Method. Madness	12-0 in SCkt? That certainly doesn't suck.
John Iager	Grateful Darts	Pulled slow-starters all the way to 0.500.
James McDole	Frank	Strong, but slowly tailed in the later sets.
Bob Rube	Bulls & Bears	11-2 in both SCkt and DCkt is quite bullish.
Mike Venable	Method. Madness	Put up massive 36-4 record after slow 301.

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): All 8 divisions had 8 teams this season, and no teams received more than one forfeit so the playing field is pretty level. We have 5 club members this season, so no need again to consider throwers with four 9-win sets or three 10-win sets or stuff like that. This season's five with four 10-win sets: Brian Blake of Just A Little High in A division (who was one of two throwers that actually had four 12-win sets!), Robert Ray of Appetite for Destruction in B, Matt Goss of Double Tap in F (who was the other with four 12-win sets!), Josh Frumkin of Backyard Brawlers in G, and Brad Hamilton of Methodical Madness in H.

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: Ok, the Ducks' ongoing roster situation is clearly creating a set of RDL records that may never be matched, much less beaten. Bob Carawon of G division's D'Artists Formerly Known As Ducks led the RDL for the third consecutive season with an incredible 84 games played. Two seasons ago he played 83 games, and last season he played 73… for a three-season total of 240 !! That is starting to border on silly. We should probably charge him extra dues since he gets so much more play than the rest of us... Honorable mentions for this season, as division leaders: Trey Rodgers of Alcohol Free For All in A with 59; Sal Reitano of The Locals in B with 60; six people in C with 58 each; Ryan Knott of Choot 'Em! in D with 64; Chris Toolan of Big Bulls in E with 62; Matt Goss of Double Tap in F with 58; and Chris Elliott (Fullabull) and Tisha Marriott (Dart Vaders) in H with 60. p.s. Carawon's teammate David Martin was 2nd with 66.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Oh my goodness, the six-player teams are getting ever closer to a full-blown return! Lunatic Fringe in A, Is It In? in C (sort of), the F6f Hellcats in F, and Fullabull in H were all really close to just sticking with the same 6 throwers set after set after set. But the closest? Choot 'Em!, at least once they added Shawn Leonard. After he joined, it was roster repetition city!

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

Another similar season for me, but… maybe a little better than usual? My overall pick rates are actually slowly climbing even higher, and as time goes by I seem to nail more and more long-term stuff each season. Let's break down my results…

In my preseason picks (easily the toughest each and every season), I hit 3 of the 8 first-place teams, but 2 more of my picks took tournament Mugs, and only one of my picks finished below 2nd for the season (sorry, Salute and D division… you fooled me a bit early on). Beyond that, I basically wrote exactly how B division would finish, and I almost completely nailed both A and H divisions from top to bottom. Maybe my only big mistake of the preseason picks was my faith in the Pigs to contend in D… oy… last time I checked, 1-13 was not contending…

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. For a fifth time in six seasons, my record improved, and by another full percentage point!! I got over 76% of the picks correct (impressive if you ask me, since some of you almost seem to "try" to make my picks be wrong). My picks were more balanced this time than most - I didn't have one division that was exceptionally harder or easier than the others. I ended up between 66 & 88% correct in every division, and I finished above 0.500 for all but two teams (and those two were both at 0.500 even, so I had no losing prediction records).

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And as usual, we go to best-of-three and my picks are pretty good, but not really much better than my season results because I'm picking semifinals and finals that I could conceivably get wrong before the match is even played. I was 24-8 in the quarterfinals (I got 5 of the friggin' 4v5 matches wrong, dangit!), then I hit 12 of 16 semifinals, and I nailed 5 of the 8 Mug champions (this despite the fact that only three of the #1 seeds won). Not too bad at 41-15 overall. Add to that the fact that my Sure Things actually were, and that my #5 seed F dark horse won, and I'm pleased.

JK'S TEAM-BY-TEAM, WEEK-BY-WEEK MATCH PREDICTION RESULTS

(I introduced this page fifteen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the two 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the three 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [Only two teams (Beer Bellies and Chroot 'Em!) were able to fool me even half the time! And I was over 66% correct in every division…even that infernal mess called D division. And >76% overall. Nice!]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 6 question(s): (This one was inspired by an odd match from two weeks ago and a subsequent reader submission regarding that match. As with most trivia questions in this column, any questions with any significant statistical basis will only go back through 1996, the time when I started as the Tons editor and statistician. A lot of the info before that is a little scarce or a little sketchy…) What is the lowest-scoring regular season match in the RDL since the start of 1996? And who were the winning and losing teams involved?

Week 7 question: This week the RDL heads into match play with exactly one undefeated team in each division. When was the last time that the league had exactly one undefeated team in each division at the midway point of the season?

Week 8 question: Tom Brown has five perfect throws this season, and Billy Lloyd and Robbie Phillips each have four. What is the highest single-season combined total of 9-marks/Ton-80s/ 6-Bulls by one player in any of the past 31 seasons?

Week 9 question: Let's follow that question up… What is the highest combined total of 9-marks/Ton-80s/6-Bulls by one player in any one postseason in any of the past 31 seasons?

Week 10 question(s): What is the lowest number of darts that can be used to win a game of 501, provided that every dart scores a different value? What is the lowest number of darts if you can only hit one single, one double, and one triple each turn?

Week 11 question(s): Let's do the inverse of last week since it seemed like a handful had quite a bit of fun with that one. What is the GREATEST number of darts that can be used to win a game of 501, provided that every dart scores, and they all score different values? What is the greatest number of darts if you can only hit one single, one double, and one triple each turn?

Week 12 question: In all RDL divisions below the top division the winners move up each season. But in A, the top teams have no place to move, so the top teams sometimes stay the top teams. And sometimes for a long period of time. When was the last time that A division had three different regular season winners in a three-season span?

Week 13 question(s): (by reader request!) In my 32 seasons as statistician (this is the 32nd), what is the highest percentage of the RDL membership that hit at least one perfect throw during the regular season? In which season?

Week 6 answer: Well, the answer isn't the match that I thought it might be after a discussion with a league member and her favorite memories a week and a half ago. And before I list the actual lowest-scoring matches, please note that the scoring system changed just a small bit a few years ago when we got rid of the extra point for 1001… That said, the record (at least in the last 16 years) for lowest-scoring match is 9-7, and it has happened FOUR times. (I point out the change in the 1001 rule because four matches ended 9-8, all being played before the rule change, and I admit that I didn't bother to see which if any were tiebreaker matches.) Anyway, the four 9-7 results were: Get Over It over Hard Cheddar in F division in Fall 2000, Da Bulls over Got Pepsi? in C division in Fall 2005, Designated Divers over Bad News Beers in G division in Fall 2007, and Lunatic Fringe over Cheap Darts in A in Spring 2008.

Week 7 answer: Well, this question is sort of unanswered… The records pre-JK are a little dicey, and I certainly don't have full weekly results from any previous statisticians. So, all I can tell you is that during my tenure (this is my 32nd season), it has never happened. At least one division has failed to have a winless team at the season midway point in every last one of those seasons.

Week 8 answer: It turns out that Brown's five perfect throws are in a six-way tie for second-most in the regular season. Allen Smith (Sp96 Dart Shadows), Wil Tan (Sp04 The Elusive Element), Tom Brown himself (Fa08 The Rogue Element), Jeremiah Miller (Fa07 The Rogue Element), and Brian Blake (Sp11 Just A Little High) have all pitched five. But the king of the single season total? Shocker! It's Robbie Phillips! Phillips had five 9-marks and three Ton-80s for a total of 8 in the Fall 2009 season (when he was a member of Elements of Mass Destruction). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Brown finished with the same 5 perfect throws, but single-season king Phillips took over the #2 spot on the list as well, with 6 this season (three 9-marks, three Ton-80s). While he didn't match that total, Wil Tan accomplished a rare feat as well, recording a season hat trick of 9-mark/Ton-80/6-Bull.]

Week 9 answer: A small pile of people have hit two perfect throws in one postseason, but only two of us have hit three… In the Fall 1998 season, Allen Smith of Dart Shadows tossed a 9-mark and two Ton-80s, all in one match - a 13-11 quarterfinal win over Top Dead Center (how clutch was all that!). And in the Spring 2007 season, Robbie Phillips of Out Of Our Element pitched two 9-marks and a Ton-80. Neither of those two teams even made the final, so we're left to wonder if either guy might have tossed a fourth (or fifth?). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Dan Naylor, with his two 9-marks in DCkt in the finals, joined the three-perfect-throw club!]

Week 10 answer: The lowest number of darts that can be used is 11 (60/57/54, 51/50/48, 45/42/39, 15/40). If you add the stipulation of only one single, one double, and one triple per turn, the lowest number of darts that can be used is 13 (one possible solution could be triple20/doubleBull/singleBull, triple19/double20/single20, triple18/double19/single19, triple17/double17/single17, double18).

Week 11 answer: The greatest number of darts that can be used is 30, which represents almost the entire set of values possible on a dartboard (since there are only 43). And as it turns out, the number is still 30 when you put in the requirement of one single, one double, and one triple each turn.

Week 12 answer: I've been statistician for 31 seasons prior to this one, and in that time only 6 teams have claimed an A regular season title. With that in mind, it is probably surprising that as recently as the span of Fa06 through Fa07 there were three different A winners. The Daddies took the Fa06 title, The Shadows (basically an earlier version of Just A Little High) took the Sp07 title, and Element took the Fa07 title. It is probably less surprising that there is only one other occurrence of three different teams winning in a row in my 31-season tenure. [And as many of you likely assumed, the main obstacles to variability in winners have been Fringe (winning 12 of the 15 seasons from Sp96-Sp03), and Element (winning 12 of the 16 seasons since the team formed in Fa03). The total A title counts from Sp96-Sp11: Fringe=13, Element=12, Little High/Shadows=2, Industrial Strength/Dilligaffs=2, Daddies=1, Shameless&Aimless=1.]

Week 13 answer: The highest percentage in my tenure is 13.30% of the league membership (54 of 406 league members), in the Spring 2004 season. I suppose that season shouldn't surprise me, since that's the season with the lowest membership since at least 1995 (thus making each thrower a higher percentage of the league than normal). The overall average in my 32 seasons is 9.15%, with only that Sp04 season above 11.41%, and with 6.42% (28 of 436) as the low (Fa00). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: This season, 55 of the 554 league members hit a perfect throw for 9.93% of the total membership, raising the 32-season overall average a touch to 9.17%]

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page. No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "I started throwin' bass, she started throwin' back mid-range, But when I sprung the question, she acted kind of strange"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "Working hard to get my fill, everybody wants a thrill, Payin' anything to roll the dice, just one more time"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "Once I used to believe I was such a great romancer, Then I came home to a woman I could not recognize"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "At least I have her love, the city she loves me, Lonely as I am, together we cry"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "She'll take a tumble on you, Roll you like you were dice until you come up blue"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "My old man was born to rock, he's still trying to beat the clock, Think of me what you will, I've got a little space to fill"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "We're searching for the latest thing, a break in this routine, Talkin' some new kicks, ones like you ain't never seen"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "How well I remember, The look that was in his eyes, Stealin' kisses from me on the sly"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "What big eyes you have, the kind of eyes that drive wolves mad, So just to see that you don't get chased, I think I ought to walk with you for a ways"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "But just like everything else, those old crazy dreams, Just kinda came and went"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "Sometimes I love ya, Sometimes you make me blue, Sometimes I feel good, at times I feel used"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "What's your name? Who's your daddy? Is he rich like me?"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "For here am I sitting in a tin can, Far above the world, Planet Earth is blue, And there's nothing I can do"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "She said Hello, my name is Bobby Jo, Meet my twin sister Betty Lou, And we're both feeling kinda wild tonight"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "Oh baby when I see your face, Mellow as the month of May, Oh darling I can't stand it, When you look at me that way"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "Foot on the pedal, never ever false metal, Engine running hotter than a boiling kettle"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "When I hold you in my arms, I know that I can't do no wrong, And when I hold you in my arms, My love won't do you no harm"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "This is the life of illusion, Wrapped up in trouble laced with confusion, What we doing here?"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "Well I've searched and I've searched, To find the perfect life, A brand new car and a brand new suit, I even got me a little wife"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "The powers that be, That force us to live like we do, Bring me to my knees, When I see what they've done to you"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "And in the naked light I saw, Ten thousand people, maybe more, People talking without speaking, People hearing without listening"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Load up on guns and bring your friends, It's fun to lose and to pretend, She's over-bored and self-assured, Oh no, I know a dirty word"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "Some people say that life is a game, Well if this is so, I'd like to know the rules on which this game of life is based"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "You are the latest contender, You are the one to remember, You are the villain who sends her"

THE LYRIC GAME IS FUN FOR ME TOO…

Song 2 in week 12 was, I have to admit, my favorite ever so far. A song that launched an entire genre, that we've all heard literally hundreds of times, and I even used the first four lines of the song (which I rarely do) - and still only one person (David Hoyt of Rif Raf) got it. Matt Heimbach of Lunatic Fringe summed it up best for me in an email exchange: "I had to Google the second song as I had no clue whatsoever, and I've got to say, that was mean of you. I've heard that song thousands of times and never knew the lyrics. I don't feel too bad, though, as Weird Al made a parody specifically about how indecipherable the lyrics are. Normally when you don't know the lyrics to a song because you can't make them out and then you are told what those lyrics actually are, from that point on you have no problem hearing the correct lyrics. Not with this song. Just now I had the full lyrics in front of me while I turned on the song, and I still got lost."

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED (the answers to the lyrics at the top of the page)

Week 2 answers: Song 1 = "Just A Friend" by Biz Markie === Song 2 = "Don't Stop Believin' " by Journey.

Week 3 answers: Song 1 = "The Stranger" by Billy Joel === Song 2 = "Under The Bridge" by Red Hot Chili Peppers.

Week 4 answers: Song 1 = "Bette Davis Eyes" by Kim Carnes === Song 2 = "You Don't Know How It Feels" by Tom Petty (not with The Heartbreakers).

Week 5 answers: Song 1 = "Mean Street" by Van Halen === Song 2 = "Son Of A Preacher Man" by Dusty Springfield.

Week 6 answers: Song 1 = "Little Red Riding Hood" by Sam The Sham & The Pharaohs === Song 2 = "Pink Houses" by John Mellencamp.

Week 7 answers: Song 1 = "Fallin' " by Alicia Keys === Song 2 = "Time Of The Season" by The Zombies.

Week 8 answers: Song 1 = "Space Oddity" by David Bowie === Song 2 = "I Ain't As Good As I Once Was" by Toby Keith.

Week 9 answers: Song 1 = "I Feel The Earth Move" by Carole King === Song 2 = "No Sleep 'Til Brooklyn" by The Beastie Boys.

Week 10 answers: Song 1 = "I Feel Good" by James Brown === Song 2 = "Grease" by Frank Valli.

Week 12 answers: Song 1 = "The Sound of Silence" by Simon & Garfunkel === Song 2 = "Smells Like Teen Spirit" by Nirvana.
[The week 12 song choice #2 was an "item" unlike any before… see above for the commentary I ran in the week 13 Tons…]

Week 13 answers: Song 1 = "Cricket" by The Kinks === Song 2 = "Darts of Pleasure" by Franz Ferdinand.

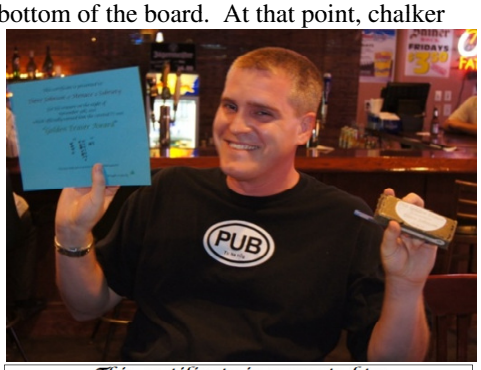
RULE CHANGE FOR THE SPRING!!!!!

You will receive multiple reminders of this when the new season starts, but here is your first official heads up about a small change that was enacted for the upcoming (and subsequent) seasons. It will no longer be a call-in penalty if you get your scoresheet fax or email to the statistician on Thursday, even if you don't get a confirmation that I received it. Previously, I had to get it AND you had to know that I got it, or you had to call the score into the VoiceMail. If I was away for the day or something and wasn't able to see your email, you were on the hook for the score call. Well, now, as long as I received it, you're good to go. Please keep in mind that this does NOT absolve you of the responsibility to actually get the sheet to me on that day - if you "tried" to fax or email and it failed, then I haven't received it… And yes, I will still send confirmations to all those that request them (as well as those that have generally requested them in the past).

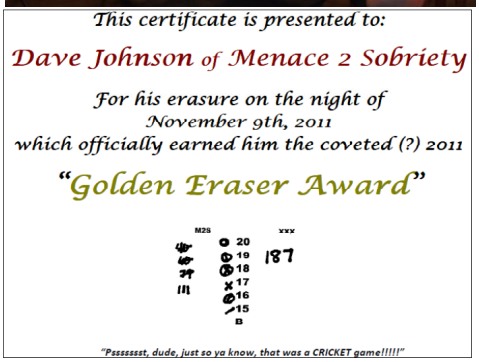
REMEMBER THIS FROM LAST SEASON?

THE RDL IS A LITTLE LIKE THE USA NETWORK SOMETIMES… "CHARACTERS WELCOME"

At the exact same time, I can't believe I'm typing this, and I also know that I should expect no different… The photo to the right? That's Keith Gibbs of Jack 9. He's carrying a Thor hammer, and wearing a Thor helmet and a Tampa Bay Lightning sweater with the name Mjolnir on it (which I have found out is the name of said hammer). And he wore this stuff the entire night during his quarterfinal match against my team at Tir na nOg. Seriously. His beer glass barely fit between those two helmet protrusions to reach his mouth. Keith... is clearly nuts.



WELL… WE PLAYED A GOD LAST SEASON… AND A SUPER HERO THIS SEASON!



Yep, that's right… this season at our quarterfinal match, Gibbs arrived as the Green Lantern. He was decked out in a Green Lantern t-shirt, and was sporting the mask, ring, and (completely functional) lantern! He also had on a Green Lantern hat and a pair of Converse-style Green Lantern sneakers. If he was telling the truth (and I would bet big money that he was), he was even wearing Green Lantern boxers (now that I think of it, how the heck did I get away without him trying to show them to me in some fashion? This is Keith, after all…). And while some of you are probably shaking your head and chuckling, let me tell you, there is clearly something about all this that works for Keith. While I was sitting next to him during the match, a woman that was just at the bar eating and drinking started chatting him up and said that he would be perfect for her full-scholarship two-sport college athlete daughter. Ummm… you go, Green Lantern?!

EVER JUST HAVE ONE OF THOSE MOMENTS…

… when you realize "oh crap, what did I just do?!" and your heart sinks a little and your stomach rolls over in minor agony? I'm pretty certain that Dave Johnson of Menace 2 Sobriety has. About four weeks ago when his team was playing Force 8 from the Planet XXX, Dave was chalking a game of cricket for Keith Bouchard and Frank Balena. As Frank was fighting back from a deficit, the game became a bit of a point war and Frank's scoring column reached the bottom of the board. At that point, chalker Dave (as Heather Bohanan tells it) slowly and deliberately wiped down Frank's entire side of the board and wrote "187" at the top, not yet realizing that he had just erased all of Frank's marks. No one spoke or moved, not quite knowing what to say. After what seemed like an eternity, Dave turned and looked at the board for confirmation of what he had done, immediately making a face that spectators wish they had on film. Fortunately, one of the M2S guys had been watching pretty closely and he remembered enough of the board for both players to agree and proceed. But that certainly didn't relieve Dave of the unavoidable humor at his expense. And the humor was large enough that Heather and her partner in crime Tolson Willis (of Death Throw, Dave's next opposition) created not just a certificate to commemorate the occasion, but also Dave's own golden eraser! Anybody at today's blind draw need a chalker?

THERE'S MORE THAN ONE WAY TO 'DOH!'

Dave Johnson's chalker 'doh!' will make your skin crawl for some of you out there who are afraid/nervous to keep score in front of everyone (especially if your math skills aren't the greatest). But you can avoid that nervousness by just not chalking. It's kind of hard, however, to avoid any nervousness you have regarding throwing strategy given that we… ya know… play in a dart league… And not that Zak Mayhew is nervous to play (I think quite the opposite is probably much more accurate), but his story from week 11 when his team (Off Constantly) was playing mine might strike fear in the hearts of the math-overwhelmed among us. Zak tossed a beautiful 109-out against Tom Brown in 301. But as he turned to shake hands and saw all of the guys behind him gently shaking their heads, he just said "that's wrong, isn't it?" with sort of an 'oh, dammit' face. The problem for Zak? He had been on 113 and subtracted incorrectly on one of the first two darts. [Brown, of course, ended it on that next turn…]

BUT DON'T WORRY FOR MAYHEW TOO MUCH

It was a bummer that Zak's big out for the point was wrong, but I'm sure he's not worried about that as his one shot at glory this season. You see, in the NC City Dart League this season, Zak hit a 9-mark, a Ton-80, & a 6-Bull... and he even added a 160-In!

HOW MUCH DOES THE RDL ROCK?

North Carolina is, honestly, quite a hotbed of dart talent in the southeast. Many of the best players around hail from our state, and I don't mean just the National Champs (e.g., Robbie Phillips) and the ADO #1s (e.g., Brian Blake). It's the next hundred or so top guys that really make North Carolina shine. And on top of that, a large portion of the state's talent calls the RDL home!

The North Carolina City Dart League (NCCDL) & North Carolina Ladies' Cup (NCLC) are the stomping grounds of basically all of the top male and female throwers from our state, and check out how things shook out (see pages 18 & 19)! What you don't see in those results are some pretty interesting RDL-relevant facts…

For example… the Cary NCCDL team? You know, the only one to go undefeated during the regular season? That team is made up of 4 guys from Fringe, 3 from Rednecks, 2 from Appetite, 2 from Daddies, & 1 each from Little High, Free For All, & Off Constantly. Yup, the only undefeated team during the season is 100% RDL!

And the Wilmington team? The one that won the other NCCDL division this season and has won six of the last thirteen annual State Cups? That team features 6 guys from Just A Little High, 1 from Rednecks, and 1 from the Beer Bellies. Oh, and a bunch of the guys on this team think so much of the competition level here in RDL that they drive from Wilmington, Fayetteville, and Southern Pines on a weekly basis to play. That says something…

And the Durham team? The one whose only loss in the season was to Wilmington in a tiebreaker, and is now the holder of the State Cup and winner of the other seven of the last thirteen annual State Cups? That team features 8 members of Not Non-Element, and 1 each from Off Constantly, Lunatic Fringe, and the Daddies. On a side note, congratulations to the winners of this year's state title. From left to right, Allen Smith, Paul Jacobi, Kyle Gaulthier, Jason Kilts, Robbie Phillips, Tom Brown, Mark Knight, Wil Tan, Jeremy Dziczkowski, & Todd Lemons, with Keith Wall in the front.

But wait, that's not all! The RDL is home to many of the best female darters in the state too. The Apex ladies' team, featuring 5 members of Corked & Loaded, took the Central Division during the season, and then took the 2011 NC Ladies' Cup! Back row: Julie Payne, Maridy Knight, Paula Delp, and Sarah Blackmon. Front row: Amy Williford, Angela Gaulthier, and Lis Pleasant.

PEOPLE OFTEN ASK ME…

…about how it went in my Element-Little High match. Or what those matches are like. Or other similar questions. And I'm never really sure how to answer. So, I thought I would try to explain it here since it seems to be one of the most recurring thoughts on the readers' minds as the seasons progress. There are actually quite a few facets to a rivalry like Element-Little High. And most of them are completely excellent, and unfortunately in my opinion, something that few of us will ever really experience or appreciate (at least in the dart world). I'm not even sure if I can really convey some of the stuff…

First, there is the competition level. What's it like when these two teams get rolling? It's a little awe-inspiring, to be honest, even for those in the games. Strings of 5m, answered by 7m, answered by 6m, answered by 5m, are more the rule than the exception. Hitting a 125 to leave 32 only to have the other guy immediately check out 97 in two darts happens with decent regularity. Heck, in the finals this past Wednesday, Bob Gargan and Dan Naylor hit three 9-marks and about a dozen 6- and 7-marks in their doubles cricket set… and they had to survive a shot at an 8-mark-for-the-win in the third leg. That is pretty nuts.

Next, there is the familiarity. It's hard to build truly lasting rivalries in the RDL outside of A division because of the system of teams moving up and down each season. But at the top of A there is no place else to go, so the same teams know the other guys aren't going anywhere. However, in this specific case, it's even a little more than that - Element and Little High is basically a league night version of the NC State Cup top matchup of Durham and Wilmington, a pair of teams that combined has won the last… thirteen… state… titles… in… a… row. And it's not like it's 9-4 or even 8-5 in titles - it's 7-6 and it's only uneven because Durham just broke the tie this past weekend.

Finally, on that same note, comes the astonishingly even balance of the rivalry. And I don't just mean how the state cups are only 7-6. That's a huge part of it, but look at the teams' RDL records together. Last season, Little High won both regular season matches and Element won the mugs; this season, the exact reverse happened. And match scores are about even too - a couple matches have been tiebreakers, and after Element got the better of a big score at the end of the season, Little High paid it right back in the tournament. When you add in the fact that both meetings in the state cup season went to a tiebreaker as well, it's clear that these teams just can't shake each other. And that fact might be the most important one and it's probably the one thing all the guys on both teams feel most. There is certainly an us-vs.-them rah-rah mentality during the matches, but I suspect that just about every guy on both teams takes a pretty cool satisfaction in knowing that the competitive "club" at the top of the heap that they've built is so small and so consistent. Lots of others have built teams (both on league nights and in state play) and there are always serious challenges. But at the end of the day, these two squads still seem to be the Yankees-Red Sox… the Patriots-Packers… the Lakers-Celtics… And there is something really sort of special about that. So that's my answer… that's what's it like for me (and certainly others)…

HOLIDAY BREAK BLIND DRAWS

Throughout the holiday break, the Upper Deck will be adding a weekly Wednesday blind draw for all those who just want to keep their regular dart night out rolling through the break. If you have more free time, you might want to try one or more of the other six weekly/monthly draws as well. For a full list, see the bottom half of the right column on page 8.

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

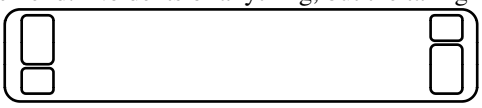
Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- Still not back to the tradition of starting with a Survivor item… Instead, there is something else at this time of year that is so impossibly stupid, and takes up so much media attention (at least if you are a sports fan), that it finally just needs to be shot and killed forever. I am, of course, talking about the system used to crown a college football national champion. I'm not even going to bother using the three-letter initials for the system name, because the 2nd of the letters shouldn't be there. Instead, I am simply going to provide you a link to a column written by Yahoo!Sports columnist Dan Wetzel. It is one of the most intelligent, complete, well-written columns on the topic I have ever seen. A must-read for any college sports fan… (the link is long… sorry - you'll have to copy/paste it from multiple lines here…): http://rivals.yahoo.com/ncaa/football/news?slug=dw-wetzel_football_hostage_illegitimate_bcs_112911

-- My favorite recent bumper sticker? "Can I vote on your marriage now?" If you don't get it, then… nothing… sigh…

-- I think I've finally figured out how Dublin-Dublout was able to just keep pulling out so many matches this season. They even described it themselves on one of their recent scoresheets: "Dave Gelberg - triple-15, triple-Bull to win." That triple-Bull is just not an easy shot to hit. (And shut up with your "he meant he hit three bulls with a trip-15…" Of course he did. If you analyze it and be a big old thinking butthead, it's not fun anymore. Wet blanket.)

-- Several days ago I was walking from Duke Hospital to the VA Hospital between meetings. As I did, I walked past the bus stop. And sitting there was a guy casually drinking a Natural Ice tall boy. With a straw. Just not an image I get every day.



-- The next time that I see one of those stupid phone company ads where people keep coming up to the center characters of the ad saying stuff, and the center characters (who are surfing the web on their phones) keep saying "that was so 23 seconds ago", "that was so 12 seconds ago", "that was so 17 seconds ago", I'm going to throw my damn television out the window. So if you happen to know that one of those ads is coming on during a show that I watch, stand outside my window - you could have a free TV. But a warning… I still have only old picture tube TVs, so be ready to catch something big and heavy…

-- I don't think we could ever award a Most Valuable Player crown of a professional sport to someone who didn't play for even one second during the season. But can we go back to previous years and take the award away from somebody and give it to someone else if we realize that we made a mistake back then? The reason I ask is this… In the National Football League, the dominant-for-a-decade Indianapolis Colts are now the most haphazard winless pile of buffoons in the league. The only thing that really changed is that Peyton Manning is not on the field as their quarterback. I think maybe we should go back for about the last 10 years and retroactively recognize him as the MVP for every last one of those years. Clearly, the data support this notion…

-- While we're on the topic of NFL QBs, I think I might know why Peyton isn't playing this season (and it's not his neck injury). It's because his name isn't Matt. Seriously. It seems like almost a prerequisite nowadays to throw a damn football is to be named Matt. I present to you the following: Matt Ryan of Atlanta, Matt Stafford of Detroit, Matt Cassel of Kansas City, Matt Moore of Miami, Matt Hasselbeck of Tennessee, and Matt Schaub of Houston. And when Matt Schaub got hurt, they replaced him with Matt Leinart! I suspect that Super Bowl MVP Aaron Rodgers of Green Bay is probably feeling nervous about lasting the entire season too… His backup? Matt Flynn! And hell, I'm doing this from memory and I'm too lazy to look up the team lists, so there could well even be another Matt or two lying around… And there are only 32 friggin' teams in the league. Wow.

-- Last football note of the column, I promise… I can't tell you how unbelievably and irrationally happy it makes me to know that the Philadelphia Eagles' season has crashed and burned in spectacular fashion. "Dream Team" this…

-- Maybe this is ridiculous (heck, it probably is, basically this entire column is, but isn't that the point?), but I saw something on a truck recently that really made me pause. The truck was older and a little beat up, and it had certainly seen it's share of hard labor. And I'm guessing that at some point something had happened to the back end. No dents or anything, but the taillights looked like this:

Clearly, the right taillight had been knocked out at some point, and I guess the only way they could get it to stay in was to turn it upside-down. I guess there's no law that you can't have the brake light above the reverse light on one side, and the inverse on the other. But seeing it just threw me off. I don't know, it was odd.

-- I wrote about this once before, but the idiots who do it have upped the ante since that time, so I'm addressing it again. I've been to three Carolina Hurricanes games recently, and unfortunately, the classless morons that feel the need to constantly desecrate the national anthem are still there. But now, they don't only scream the name of Jussi (you-see) Jokinen over the lyric "oh, say can you see", and scream the hardly logically relevant RED!! in 'honor' of the Hurricanes' primary color when the lyric is "and the rocket's red glare". Now they've added the absolutely dumbest insult yet - yelling the last name of defenseman Tim Gleason over the lyric "at the twilight's last gleaming." Really, Gleason for gleaming? Are you imbeciles kidding me with that? That is freakin' pathetic. It's not even witty. Or logical. Or funny. Or… hey, get this one… appropriate. And I'll bet those non-singing, random-idiocy-screaming tools don't even know why it's disrespectful. They most likely couldn't even read this, so I'm mostly preaching to the wrong crowd. But if you are one of those idiots and you can read this and have gotten this far, please for the love of every notion on which our fabulous country is built, go out and find out what that anthem represents. What history is behind it, and what it represents. And if you aren't able to find it out on your own, let me know. I would be happy to refer you to any of the couple dozen ex-military in the RDL that laid their lives on the line to help protect exactly what is behind that song.

-- You know what I love? People who insist on having their top down on their convertible in the winter when it's close to freezing. We get it, pal… your car is so very cool… we're all impressed…

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- Sometimes I come across stuff that people that is so stupid that you almost have to see it to believe it. If you enjoy that kind of stuff, take a look at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5rf1Bn3Rg0o to see how the city of Florence, OR handled a 45-foot-long dead whale on the beach in 1970. I would tell you what they did and what happened, but sometimes you have to see things for yourself. (Ok, I'll drop a very big hint… it involves crates and crates of dynamite and some very questionable judgment.)

-- I'm not generally a conspiracy theorist, but as I emailed one of my Bull City Dart League compadres recently, I'm getting a little skeptical in my home league. BCDL league play is handicapped (pretty cool system - you should ask me about it sometime), and about the top half of teams in each division all enter one leaguewide championship tournament. Thus, there are a few A teams, a few B teams, a few C teams, etc. Now, while anyone can win any match, the A teams are (not surprisingly) the toughest to beat, as the handicap system is designed to bring all players to the out or bull at the same time, not to make everyone 0.500. And the tournament pairings/bracket are randomly drawn, so matches are often inter-divisional. Well… in the last 11 seasons, my team has won A division 9 times, finishing second in the other 2 seasons. In those 11 seasons, my team has "randomly" drawn the hardest path of all the A teams 10 friggin' times. And in the 11th season, we lost a quarterfinal to a lower division team; had we won that match, we had a 2/3 chance of drawing a harder A opponent than the second place A team, and gee, does anybody here think that would NOT have happened? That means that with one chip, my team would get the short end of the stick ELEVEN seasons in a row. Do you know what the odds of that are? Greater than 2000-to-1!!! And when you consider that in 6 of those 11 seasons, we didn't just have the hardest path through the tournament, but had to literally face every other A team in the draw along the way (sometimes 2 teams, often 3 teams), the odds of us drawing those extra A teams as well jump past 4000-to-1, and past 8000-to-1!! Oh, come the hell on… are you kidding me with that? I'm not saying that my team hasn't won its share (it certainly has), but I'm tired of being the experiment playing a schedule unfairly opposite of what we've earned each season. It looks like I will have to press the Executive Council to go back to the standard of advertising when and where the random draw will be held, and I'll have to go attend to protect my team's interests. Sigh… shouldn't be necessary… but 8000-to-1? Enough.

-- Ok, do you have any of those oval white stickers/magnets on the back of your car? Well, here's a small piece of advice: go take them off. Their fifteen minutes are up. There are so many of those for so many things nowadays that they have lost all meaning. They are so much more just a ridiculous overdone annoyance, with every local school creating half a dozen of their own, they're on an absurd number of cars now. There are so many and they are getting so stupid that most of them now need to write along the bottom what the letters represent because otherwise nobody would ever have a clue. That's just friggin' dumb.

-- Ever go to a Hurricanes game? Cool sport, right? Ever go to a Durham Bulls game? Great relaxed atmosphere, right? Ever go to a minor league hockey game? It's sort of a combination of the two, and it's awesome. I grew up going to see the Saginaw Gears in MI for the first decade of my life. I started by sitting on my mother's lap for the entire season (season tickets… sweet!), and just kept going from there. There are minor league hockey teams all over the country, and I recommend you go if you get the chance. In some places they even do great community service types of things, and the whole place is down-home and wonderful. Want to see an incredible example? Check out this link (copy/paste from 2 lines):

It's called the Calgary Teddy Bear Toss, and while it's certainly fun, it also almost makes you want to happily cry a little…

-- For maybe the first time in my life, I think I actually heard a dart speak last weekend. I'm pretty certain that I literally heard a voice come from the dart... It was late in my Durham City Team's state tournament final, during a time when Lake Norman needed to win both best-2-of-3 four-man sets to force a tiebreaker. Lake Norman had won the first leg in both sets, and their players were starting to get a little geeked up. In the middle of the second leg, Ryan Barnette (a highly nationally ranked ADO thrower most years) was throwing immediately before my teammate Robbie Phillips, and Barnette threw a Ton-40 that brought high-decibel yelling, shouting, and grunting from seemingly everywhere. Phillips (also my teammate on Not Non-Element) quickly stepped to the line and buried a Ton-80 so perfect that not one of the darts even touched a wire. And when that third dart hit the bristle, I swear that it shouted out "ZIP IT, peanut gallery!" And… they did. And after about five minutes of suddenly butt-kicking darts from basically our entire team, it was us a little geeked up…

-- In the past few weeks, I have seen all or part of some of the greatest comedies ever made. Slapshot… Stripes… Caddyshack… History of the World, Part 1… Been a pretty good month. I think I've laughed more than usual.

-- Can I ask you a favor if you're driving and/or parking near me? Actually, several favors. Please stay in your lane. Please don't throw your trash (and lit cigarette butts!) out the window. Please don't run every red light you encounter just for sport. Please don't text while driving. Please don't text so much that you don't realize the light in front of you is now green. Please don't change lanes into the space that I am presently occupying. Please park at least somewhat between the lines indicating your space. And please don't make all the rest of us wait for roughly 17 hours while you back into your parking space repeatedly and poorly. I really don't want to spend the next couple decades in prison. And I am afraid that I will choke the living hell out of the next person that does each of things by me. Which probably means that I choked about a dozen people just on the way to this banquet… including probably two or three outside in the parking lot alone…

-- How often have you guys had somebody in one of your matches talking a big game the whole time, but then pretty much sucking when they actually threw the darts? Happens a lot. But every now and then I encounter somebody who says something and then backs it up. A few weeks ago I was at the Friday draw at The Upper Deck and Robert Ray of Appetite for Destruction was there. I was sitting by his set for a good length of time and he was not talking every turn like some guys do. But on one specific turn in a tight portion of the match, he turned to me and said something to the effect of "I'm going to bust this open. Write it down." And then he threw five 18s that I swear looked line a 9-mark. He called it, then did it. That is so nasty. And exceedingly rare…

NCCDL / NCLC MEETING RESULTS FROM THE OCTOBER MEETING

NCCDL and NCLC: The same 14 associations in the NCCDL committed to play again in 2012, while 12 of the 14 NCLC associations from this year will continue playing in 2012 (Lake Norman and Boone have dropped out). Following the season-to-season scheduling precedent set over the past three years, 2012 will return to West and East divisions. Each team will play one match against each of the teams in their division, plus two out-of-division matches (chosen primarily to hit pairings that haven't been played as often as others in recent seasons). Division alignments are:

West: Asheville, Pineville, Charlotte, Piedmont, Chapel Hill, Lake Norman (NCCDL only), Cary (NCCDL only), and Hickory (NCLC only).

East: Durham, Capital Area, Fuquay-Varina, Jacksonville, Wilmington, Raleigh (NCCDL only), Port City (NCCDL only), and Apex (NCLC only).

HISTORY OF THE NCCDL…

It was back in 1995 that Tim Lane (now of the Cary NCCDL team) first introduced the idea of the statewide year-long season style of play to replace the old "one team holds the cup against a string of challengers" sytem. It's still possibly the most popular and successful idea ever for anything larger than a local league. Here are the 16 tournament final results so far:

1996: Raleigh over Charlotte(?)
1997: Piedmont over Durham
1998: Piedmont over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
1999: Wilmington over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
2000: Durham over Charlotte
2001: Durham over Wilmington
2002: Wilmington over Durham
2003: Wilmington over Durham
2004: Wilmington over Durham
2005: Durham over Wilmington
2006: Durham over Charlotte
2007: Durham over Charlotte
2008: Durham over Charlotte
2009: Wilmington over Charlotte
2010: Wilmington over Durham
2011: Durham over Lake Norman

Request to the NCLC Ladies: if any of you have a history of the results like the one above for the NCCDL, I would love to have a copy of those so I can periodically run an NCLC history as well. Drop me a line please if you're willing to share.

Once again, we didn't run this year's state championships, so I don't have the original results file. As with last year's results page, this one was distributed in pdf form, so I wasn't able to highlight all of the RDL members' names below. Thus, I'll simply summarize the RDL members with state shirt titles below: BRIAN BLAKE (3) (Just A Little High), PAULA DELP (Corked & Loaded), BOB GARGAN (2) (Just A Little High), MARIDY KNIGHT (Corked & Loaded), ROBBIE PHILLIPS (3) (Not Non-Element), LIS PLEASANT (Corked & Loaded).

1,000,001 Dart-A-Thon

Play 1,000,001 to benefit local Darters!!!

When: December 17, 2011

Where: Upper Deck, Cary, NC

Time: 10 am Saturday till we finish

We are trying to raise money to help send local Darters to play in Regional, National, and International Events. Robbie Phillips is going to England next year to play in the Winmau World Masters. We would like to be able to help him with his travel expenses as well as any other local Darters that would like to attend Regionals and Nationals in 2012.

If you are interested in playing or making a donation, please contact:

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - Required Elements (13-5)
The Element takes the only final that didn't reach 501 after surviving the Kyle Gaulthier show (see page 14) in the semifinals, celebrating the team's 18th season in existence by making their 18th A finals.

"B" Division - Absolut Confusion (13-11)
Absolut defeats season champ Triple Threats for the third time, this one in the third game of the final 501, when Mark Sellers returns from a mid-game potty break to hit a couple Tons & a couple outs.

"C" Division - Excalibur (13-9)
Excalibur, now tied for 2nd longest current win streak, claims their 7th, 8th, and 9th in a row on the way to the season/tournament double, taking out the Archers for the third time in the finals.

"D" Division - Big Bulls (14-6)
The Bulls, the only team in any tournament to not give up more than 6 points in any of the three tournament rounds, sort of waltzed past a Rif Raf team that was missing a key part or two in the final.

"E" Division - Force 8 from the Planet XXX (13-11)
The normal Galen heroics aren't needed, as the Frank Hall Double-3 Train (see page 14) makes its final stop in the final 501 set of a match that Force 8 seemed to have in its pocket hours earlier.

"F" Division - BullsHitters (14-6)
The lone serious upset bid of the tournaments, that of #6 seed The Dysfunction is Back, is turned away relatively quickly as the Hitters claim the rubber match to clinch the season/tourney double.

"G" Division - One Armed Bandits (14-10)
The Bandits open up an early nailbiter in doubles, with part-timer Brian Ketchem hitting the third leg winner not once, but twice. Of course, the second time he shook hands the dart was actually in…

"H" Division - Brown's Bombers (13-9)
The Tips & Shafts fought valiantly to make a doubles cricket comeback, but it simply wasn't enough to derail the RDL's only undefeated romp through both the regular season and tournament.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Required Elements (11 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Rednecks

"B" Division - Triple Threats (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Absolut Confusion

"C" Division - Excalibur (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Drunk on Arrival

"D" Division - Big Bulls (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Rif Raf

"E" Division - Dublin-Dublout (9 wins, 5 losses)
2nd place - Force 8 from the Planet XXX

"F" Division - BullsHitters (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Backyard Brawlers

"G" Division - Methodical Madness (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - One Armed Bandits

"H" Division - Brown's Bombers (14 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - Tips & Shafts

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Despite the fact that the presence of a bye this season decreased the total number of RDL matches played each week, the number of 1001 tiebreakers that were played jumped. A lot! We must have had some seriously even divisions this time around… We had 47 tiebreakers played (with 6 of those 47 occurring during the divisional tournaments). E division led the way with a whopping 10 tiebreakers (with 2 of those in the tournament), followed by B (7, with 1 in the tournament), D (7, with 2 in the tournament), and G (7, with 1 in the tournament) divisions. H division chipped in 6 tiebreakers, while C and F divisions saw only 4 each, and A division brought up the rear with only 2 tiebreakers (both lost by the same team - Hu Flung Pu).

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) goes to Constantly Corked of B division, who played in an astonishing SIX tiebreakers. The Corkers put up a 3-3 record, but that last loss was a painful one, coming in the tournament semifinal.

The Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost) is shared by three teams, including the aforementioned Corkers. Joining them with the same number of losses but with fewer wins were Sharky's Machine in D division (at 2-3) and Double Tap in E division (at 0-3). And to make matters worse for these heartbroken darters, the third 1001 loss for all three of them came in their respective tournament losses. Ouch…

RDL QUOTES

Quote #1 : from the tournament final in B division. I see all kinds of angry outbursts, I've seen things kicked, I can't count the number of dart sets that I've seen slammed down, and I've certainly heard a lot of profanities uttered. But every now and then, someone really crosses the line and says something I haven't heard before. After barely missing a shot at a 108-out in his 501 set in a tied match, Absolut Confusion captain Scott Butters did just that. He said it clearly and plainly, and loud enough for anyone within about 10-15 feet to hear: "Poopie!"

Quote #2a : from an unnamed member of Dublin-Dublout, calling in their quarterfinal result because their captain was out of town: "Dublin-Dublout wins 301. Again, Dublin-Dublout wins in 301." [The hell?? I played it back to see what time they called to see if they were calling in each set individually. Nope… Turns out they won a tiebreaker. For some reason I just didn't pick that up. Not sure why.]

Quote #2b : also from an unnamed member of Dublin-Dublout, this time after their semifinal, and really illuminating how aware all those guys are of what's going on around them… yikes…: "Dublin-Dublout wins. Dublout 13, whoever we played 5. Again, I repeat Dublin-Dublout 13, opposing team 5." [I'm sure the Starving Dartists will be happy to know that they made such an impression on you guys. Oy.]

Quote #3 : from Matt Heimbach of Lunatic Fringe, after the week 13 lyrics quote was sent out: "Song #2 is Van Halen - Beautiful Girls. I don't know #1, though. Some sort of disco or dance song probably, but I certainly can't place it. Talking about 'dreams' makes me think of ABBA but then talking about partying everywhere makes me think of some Hannah Montana/Miley Cyrus nonsense, and I'm sure you wouldn't do that to us." [Even after reading that comment a few times, I still laugh at it. And I wonder if I should take that as a challenge… Oh, and the song… it was by Kool & the Gang. :o)]

Quote #4 : from my teammate Allen Smith: "Smile and keep on trucking." [When I threatened to tell our team that he used the phrase 'keep on trucking', he said "be my guest, had a t-shirt growing up with that phrase on it." You just don't hear "trucking" much anymore…]

SPRING 2012 PENALTY SUMMARY

Ok, the bottom line here is that you guys had a really good season in terms of penalties. One of the best I've seen in my time here in the RDL. Throughout the entire season, all 63 teams combined for only 19 penalties and a total loss of only 174 points. More remarkable is that we had TWO divisions (A and C) that went the entire season without a single infraction. There was 1 captains' meeting penalties (for 5 total points), 10 phone penalties (50 total points), 6 mail penalties (96 total points), and 2 ineligible player penalties (23 total points). F division had the most total penalties (6) and most points lost (52), but H division had the most penalized teams (4). All in all, only 14 of the 63 teams were hit with any penalties at all, and only 4 of those 14 received more than one penalty. And… of those 4 that took more than one penalty, 3 of them were a phone/mail penalty pair from the same forgotten week (meaning they really only messed up once each, just having messed up a little bigger than usual). The only team that was hit with a penalty in more than one week of the season is also the only team that received 3 total penalties: Liquor Posse of F division. And the only two teams that lost a standings spot due to penalty both only fell from 5th to 6th in their respective divisions: Death Throw in E, & Dysfunction in F.

SUMMER DARTS

Well, we're about at that time when most of us take a Wednesday break for a couple months, with the Fall season not starting up until July/August. But what about those of us who don't live near Durham or Chapel Hill (where the local leagues run through the summer months)? Well, maybe it's time to start picking up a blind draw or two! Sure, it will cost you five bucks to play, but you might win significantly more than that. And much better than that, you will likely get to play doubles with someone that isn't one of your regular every week partners! It's really a great way to meet some of the others in your league, and is also one of the best ways to network and meet others (often in higher divisions) if you are looking for new options yourself, or if you're looking for players to add to your own team. And how about this? Over the summer, you don't even need to add a new dart night!! There are regular weekly draws in the Triangle on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday all year (see page 8 of this issue for details, and page 4 of the weekly issues all season every season), but the Upper Deck on Harrison Avenue has added a weekly Wednesday draw until RDL starts back up! 8 p.m. close of registration, double-elimination, bar matches the pot, just like their regular Friday and Sunday draws. Maybe I'll see you out there one of these weeks…

And for those more inclined to hit a bigger tournament…

Please note that the summer months are some of the heaviest in terms of weekend-long dart tournaments within driving distance (although some are not drive-and-come-back-same-day distance). Fliers for some of those tournaments can be found on pages 19-21 of this issue of the newsletter, but also note that the Savannah Open will be held this coming weekend, and there just wasn't room for the flier here. That means there are tournaments in Savannah (May 25-27), Richmond (June 8-10), Greensboro (June 23-24), Charlotte (July 13-15), and Nashville (July 27-29). And that doesn't even include the most important one of them all… which is…

THE 7TH ANNUAL WRECK AT THE DECK!!! (see pg. 19)

It's not every day that an ADO-sanctioned tournament lands in your back yard. But that's exactly what happens during the span of June 1st-3rd. It all goes down at The Upper Deck on Harrison Ave. in Cary, and there are events for both men and women, alone or in pairs (or even trips), both regular tournament-style and blind draw format! If you can't find an event you like, then you don't really like darts very much… This is really a top notch event that always runs smoothly, has great raffles, and always ends up with a few birthday celebrations getting out of hand. I recommend you check it out. Julie Payne, Mark and Maridy Knight, Angela Gaulthier, and the rest of the Carolina Dart Association (and the Deck!) do it up right.

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5+ ASPs; "B" = 4.0+ ASPs; "C" & "D" = 3.5+
"E", "F" & "G" = 3.0+ ASPs; "H" = 2.5+ ASPs
Also: perfect throws, fast games (15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, 24-dart cricket games), high ins/outs (over 100), or other pretty impressive stuff (e.g., Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:
for all Divs. except "A" and teams G4 & G7 (8 teams / div.):
Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for Division "A" (7 teams / division):
min. of 16 Singles Games Played, 32 Total Games Played for teams G4 and G7 (due to 1 forfeit received.):
min. of 18 Singles Games Played, 35 Total Games Played

THE THIRTY-FIRST SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs

A Division	Robbie Phillips	Required Elements	E Division	Vicente Martinez	The Mayan Dartist
B Division	Billy Lloyd	Is It In?	F Division	Chad Massengill	BullsHitters
C Division	Eric Klann	Drunk on Arrival	G Division	Andy Krestalude	Charlie Don't Surf
D Division	David Hoyt	Rif Raf	H Division	David Huffman	Brown's Bombers

All of RDL -- Chad Massengill -- BullsHitters

"A" Division (oh, I soooo wish there two more spots...)

Tom Brown	Required Elements	Even when he's 'off', he just keeps winning.
Kyle Gaulthier	Hu Flung Pu	The 4-perfect-throw match is instant legend.
Robbie Phillips	Required Elements	Maybe the best the RDL has ever had.
Robert Ray	Appetite for Destruc	What a strong return to A that was…
Mike Seward	Hu Flung Pu	Not full time, but I don't want to face him.
Scott Stankevich	Rednecks	Probably throws fewer misses than anyone.
Wil Tan	Required Elements	More huge finishes than ever this season.
Bob Terry	Lunatic Fringe	Still one of the most truly feared opponents.

"B" Division

Kent Butters	Absolut Confusion	Could it be a changing of the Butters order?
Scott Butters	Absolut Confusion	Nah… Scott's still one of the best around.
Randy Crites	Triple Threats	Imagine if he hadn't miss half the season.
Simon Healy	Triple Threats	Delivered at all the biggest moments.
Michael Johnson	Triple Threats	Led the top B team in wins this season.
Billy Lloyd	Is It In?	What the hell didn't he do this season?
Alberto Sandoval	Mug Hunters	Strong again, will do well when he hits A.
Matt Varnadoe	Is It In?	Look what happens when he's a regular!

"C" Division

Jim Gallagher	Coral Reefers	Oh, did he try to just will this team to wins.
Josh Hall	Excalibur	Superb first three sets for big C winners.
Justin Harvey	Ale-ing Archers	The C -01 king was decent in cricket too.
Bob James	Excalibur	Mr. C doubles brought it home this season.
Eric Klann	Drunk on Arrival	Four 10-win sets? Not drunk on arrival…
Andy Schwochow	Ale-ing Archers	Part-timer could've made a big difference.
Jerry Shengulette	Drunk on Arrival	When this is your 3rd best, you'll do well.
Randy Wilcox	Drunk on Arrival	He's making himself at home on this page.

"D" Division

Aaron Fitzgerald	Big Bulls	Most consistent for easily strongest D team.
Stephen Flanagan	Big Bulls	Not spectacular, but very solid first 3 sets.
David Hoyt	Rif Raf	Good enough to carry a team when needed.
Barry Jackson	Throwin Stones	Great resurgence for the new captain.
Jess Jur	Rif Raf	Could be D's best if work travel cooperated.
Ronnie Knott	Choot 'Em!	Another solid season for often-top 3 team.
Keith Ohrberg	Rif Raf	Dangerous shot for the runners-up.
Chris Toolan	Big Bulls	After 301 was on fire nearly whole season.

"E" Division

Sean Ackley	Cuban Dart Crisis	Perpetual all-star slipped a bit in doubles.
Tim Bunn	Force 8/Planet XXX	Big Dummy is just a big flippin' winner.
David Gelberg	Dublin-Dublout	Driving force behind the season titlists.
Matt Goss	Double Tap	Wow, what a season. Again. Awesome.
Dave Goyen	Force 8/Planet XXX	One/two punch with Bunn is almost unfair.
Dave Johnson	Menace 2 Sobriety	Huge singles, tailed off in doubles. Hmmm.
Vicente Martinez	The Mayan Dartist	Carried oft-shorthandeds to win after win.
Jeff Rudy	Dublin-Dublout	Solid across all four sets is always nice.

"F" Division (wow, there could've been 14 different guys here…)

Josh Frumkin	Backyard Brawlers	If only the cricket results matched the -01s.
Ernie Gilyardi	BullsHitters	So we sit him in 501… the other 3 sets rock.
Donald Grubb	Salute-A-Bulls	Was the team hammer before he moved.
Ted Marks	Liquor Posse	Lots of singles wins, ASPs, and plaques.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Dominated like no other thrower this spring.
Pat Merkle	Backyard Brawlers	Just another first-3-sets solid winner.
Dave Tanner	The Dysfunction is I	No dysfunction for him this season.
Derek Williams	Sharkshooters	Holy crap did this guy ever bust out…

"G" Division

Sheldon Citrak	Method. Madness	22-8 in the first 3 sets is tough to beat.
Mike Horrall	Method. Madness	Got better as the match sets went on…
Andy Krestalude	Charlie Don't Surf	Wow, this guy WAS cricket for his team.
Eric Long	We Be Triplin	When 9-4 is your bad set, things are alright.
Phil Murphy	One Armed Bandits	SCkt and 501 clearly drove this choice.
Mark Powell	UZMAgain	Singles king struggled a bit in doubles.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	At any given moment, maybe the best in G.
Mike Venable	Method. Madness	Just solid record for regular season champs.

"H" Division (geez, there were maybe 13 worthy guys in this one)

David Huffman	Brown's Bombers	List, throw, win, hit fast games, clinch Mug.
John Iager	Grateful Darts	Singles champ needs a bit of doubles help.
Dennis Morgan	Fullabull	-01s were fine, but cricket is where it's at.
John Owens	Brown's Bombers	31-11 after 301 makes him just 3rd on team.
Joe Strang	Tips & Shafts	Nearly hit 40 wins for the runners-up.
Dan Therrien	Y'All Ain't Ready!	Strong singles, strong doubles = strong.
Patrick Todd	Tips & Shafts	Put up a huge record in both SCkt and 501.
Justin Vick	Brown's Bombers	Stellar season second only to Huffman's.

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): 7 throwers in the club this season! [side note: A division only had 12 matches, so it only produced one player with as many as three 10-win sets (Robbie Phillips).] The seven holder of all 10+-win sets: Billy Lloyd of Is It In? in B division (who actually had all sets of 11+ wins), Eric Klann and Randy Wilcox of Drunk on Arrival in C division, Aaron Fitzgerald of Big Bulls in D division, Matt Goss of Double Tap and Vicente Martinez of The Mayan Dartist in E division, and Chad Massengill of the BullsHitters in F division. Congrats to all the big winners!

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: Well, the Ducks got so shorthanded that they went ahead and forfeited a couple this season, which means a non-Duck can take the top spot here again. And that's exactly what happened. Barry Thompson of The Mayan Dartist came through with a solid 66 games this season. Certainly no record, but not bad considering there are generally only 56 sets per season. One of his teammates (Joshua Walters) actually tied for second-highest in the league with 62, so they clearly spent some time shorthanded. Honorable mentions for this season, as division leaders: Sal Reitano of The Locals in a 7-team A division with 53 (on this list for a 2nd season in a row); Hugh Vance of the Traveling Beer Bellies in B with 61; 3 Archers in C @ 61 each; Scott Fink of Sharky's Machine in D with 61; Aaron Mooty of Liquor Posse in F with 59; Erin Hartmann of Charlie Don't Surf in G with 62; & Tisha Marriott of Con Dartists in H with 61 (2 seasons in a row).

-The Team Attendance Award winners: For a third straight season, we're getting ever closer to a return of the regular six-man squad! SIX teams sort of came close, but there are two who were simply ahead of the rest in their single-lineup unity. Brown's Bombers rolled through H sharing only 13 of their 336 player slots outside the main six. But the closest to a solid-six-pack? Choot 'Em! in D division, who had a 7th player play only 3 games all season, and all in the same night!

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

Holy crap, what do I say here? Do I try to build a big story and explain away what we all already know? Do I blame it on you guys? Or do I just tell it like it is and be done with it? I think I'll go with that last option…

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season, but this time around, what's the difference?), I hit 3 of the 8 first-place teams, and had a couple more that finished 2nd or 3rd. But to be honest, I missed some of these divisions by more than I ever have in any previous season. I picked the E winner last (shocker!). I had three top-three picks end up in 7th spots. I had a few of my top picks finish down in 4th. What a flippin' mess… That column is generally pretty accurate. But Hu Flung Pu finishing 5th in A is about all you to need to see how tough this was.

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. After 5 pick rate improvements in 6 seasons that saw my correct pick percentage climb higher than 76%, I crashed to a 13% drop this season! What the heck could I possibly say here? I had maybe my worst pick season ever, and I mostly blame E division! I went 25-31 in E, 4 E teams fooled me more often than not, and for two of them I was an atrocious 4-10. That… is… pathetic. Oh, and… I started the season 0-9 with Double Tap; I had two other teams with whom I had 6-match incorrect strings; and I was over 2/3 right for A div., but no others.

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And this time, when we went to best-of-three my picks took the hell off in comparison to my preseason and weekly picks, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals & finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. I was 25-5 in the quarterfinals, a whopping 13-3 in the semifinals, and then I also nailed 5 of the 8 Mug champions! That's a final record of 43-12, I hit every match in A and H divisions, and the three finals I got wrong were the three that were down to only a dart or two! Oh, and… my Sure Things were all perfect! My Dark Horses though? Maybe a little too dark.

JK'S TEAM-BY-TEAM, WEEK-BY-WEEK MATCH PREDICTION RESULTS

(I introduced this page sixteen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the two 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the three 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [And thus ends one of the craziest, most ridiculous (and least successful prediction-wise) seasons in RDL history… E division? Y'all can kiss my butt!! Did you guys flip coins to decide winners? Draw straws?]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 5 question(s): How many teams since 1995 (my tenure as statistician) have pulled the double (regular season AND tournament titles in the same season) in BOTH seasons in a calendar year? Who are they?

Week 6 question: How many February 29th issues of the Tons of Newsletter have I ever written?

Week 7 question: The RDL shifted its award structure to a divisional style for High Ins/Outs and Fast Games in the Spring 2007 season. In the 10 seasons we've given awards this way, what is the greatest number of divisions in a single season for which the High In was exactly 120?

Week 8 question: Alyssa Leggett of We Be Triplin leads G division in ASP Average. How many times in my 32 seasons as statistician has a female claimed a division ASP Average title?

Week 9 question: When was the last change in the RDL match format (change in players per set, blocker usage, what sets are played, anything like that)?

Week 10 question: What was the last change in the RDL match format prior to the change in the 1001 scoring noted above?

Week 11 question: The Ducks (presently known as the Quackerjacks) have hit one of the RDL's longest-ever runs of attendance issues. In the past three seasons plus the first ten weeks of this season (that's 52 regular season weeks), how many times have they played shorthanded?

Week 12 question(s): This is the 10th season in a row (the only 10 in league history) that RDL has had 8 or more divisions. In that time, what was the average number of members per season? And how many different individuals have played at least one season during that time?

Week 5 answer: In the 16 years that I've been statistician, 11 teams have pulled the full-calendar-year sweep. The odd part of that is that all 11 times happened in only 5 of the 16 years, and further, 3 of those 5 years were my first 3 years! That means that it has only happened in 2 of the last 13 years. Of the 11 times that it happened, it has been only 9 different teams, as 2 two teams have done it twice. The teams with that super year under their belts: Lunatic Fringe (A-1996); Bottom Feeders/The Dart Party (D/C-1996); Lunatic Fringe (A-1997); Diddler's Choice (C/B-1997); Shameless & Aimless IV/V (D/C-1997); No Clue (C/B-1998); The Elusive Element/The Intrusive Element (A-2004); Wireless (D/C-2004); Elemental Truths/Element Horizon (A-2010); Imports & Domestics/Domestic Rednecks (D/C-2010); Mug Hunters (I/E-2010).

Week 6 answer: Counting last week… 1. February 29th is on a different day of the week for each of the 7 leap years in a 28-year run. The last time that date was a Wednesday then, was 1984 -- 12 years prior to my tenure as the statistician. [The best answer to this question during the season came from the fourth person to respond: Matt Heimbach of Lunatic Fringe (who didn't offer up an actual answer, but clearly knew it) asked a question to the effect of "I'm sort of new to the RDL… has the league ever been played on a different night of the week?" Pretty insightful thought…]

Week 7 answer: This one is a little interesting to me… The straight answer to the question is FOUR divisions (out of only 7!) in the Spring 2007 season (the first in which we separated the awards by division). The interesting part of this question though is how the change in the High In interpretation (to first-turn only, with which I completely agree) four seasons ago has affected this situation. In the first six seasons, 8 of the 47 divisions had 120 for a High In, with 6 of those 8 being a tie (2 120s once, 3 120s twice, 4 120s twice, and 5 120s in a division once). In the four seasons since it went to first-turn-only, 9 of the 33 divisions had 120 for a High In, with only 4 of those 9 being a tie (2 120s once, 3 120s twice, and 6(!) 120s once). [Interestingly, those last three big-tie instances were all in the same season, Spring 2011.] Also, it appears that E division is the king of the 120, having that as the High In in 5 of the 10 seasons. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: new record time! This season we broke this record when FIVE of our 8 divisions ended up with a 120-In as the leader. And in those five divisions, 14 different people got an award for a 120-In, with one guy (Jon Kenney of Required Elements) doing it twice.]

Week 8 answer: Twice. Well, sorta three times, but sorta not… I'll explain. Our first female division ASP champ was Paula Delp, who took the C crown in the Spring 2000 season with 1.147 ASP/game; and our second was Deb Blackwelder, who claimed the D title in the Spring 2006 season with 0.805 ASP/game. The sorta kinda one came during the Spring 2009 season, when we had split the ASP awards into '01 and cricket - Blackwelder claimed the '01 portion in E division, but was not the overall ASP leader for the division. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Alas, we did not add another female overall divisional ASP champ this season…]

Week 9 answer: At the beginning of the Fall 2003 season, the RDL stopped awarding a point for winning a tiebreaker. Until that time, a non-shorthanded tiebreaker match ended with a 13-12 score, creating an extra point out of nowhere.

Week 10 answer: Between the Spring 1995 and Fall 1995 seasons, singles '01 was switched from straight-in 501 to double-in 301. Keith Wall of Pig Tour 95 claimed the last RDL singles 501 fast game with a 14-darter, tossed a little over two months before he won the Singles 501 crown (as well as the Doubles 501 title with Mike Hall, and the Four-Person 1001 title on a team that included Wil Tan) at that spring's Charlotte Open.

Week 11 answer: The Ducks have been shorthanded an astonishing 43 times in that 52-match regular season string. They had 6+ players for exactly zero matches in the Fall 2010 season, for 5 matches in the Spring 2011 season, for 1 match in the Fall 2011 season, and for 3 of the first 10 matches this season. Painfully, they have been short by 2 players relatively often, have dropped to 3 short during a couple other matches, and forfeited a small handful of times as well. No wonder some of their players are always in the running for the Iron Man Award for the player throwing the most games in the league… [Answer update for the banquet Tons: In the last 4 weeks of this season, things got no better for the Ducks. They were short for two sets one week, they were two players short twice, and they flat out forfeited the other week. But… they didn't have the Iron Man this time… sadly, because of the forfeits…]

Week 12 answer: Over the past 10 seasons, the average number of RDL members is just under 540 members per season (we have 547 this season; the record is 586 in the spring 2010 season, our only 9-division season ever). And in those 10 seasons, I believe we've had 1271 different people as a league member for at least 1 season. That means that 724 people who played in at least 1 of the last 9 seasons before this one are not league members now - I know that life changes, people move, etc., but 724 people? Where the heck did all those people go? Go out and get them back people!! I division! J division! K division! Why not? We're already the biggest and best dart league in the state (by a lot, mind you). Let's get even bigger! Who can't always use a few more dart friends?

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page. No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "Like a hurt, lost and blinded fool, fool, oh no, I've said too much"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "And I found a dream that I could speak to, A dream that I can call my own"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "I don't care if it hurts, I want to have control, I want a perfect body, I want a perfect soul"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "And well, he's on the table, And he's gone to code, And I do not think anyone knows, What they are doing here"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "I work hard every day of my life, I work till I ache my bones, At the end I take home my hard earned pay all on my own"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "And I will go on shining, shining like brand new, I'll never look behind me, my troubles will be few"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "He said 'give me all you've got, I want your money not your life, But if you try to make a move I won't think twice'"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "What do you see when you turn out the light, I can't tell you but I know it's mine"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "Take a little trip, take a little trip, Take a little trip and see"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "It's funny that you're calling me tonight, And yes, I've dreamt of you too"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "Piano man makes his stand in the auditorium, Looking on she sings the songs, the words she knows the tune she hums"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "If you took all the girls I knew when I was single, And brought them all together for one night"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "Freedom's just another word for nothin' left to lose, Nothin', don't mean nothin' hon' if it ain't free"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "He's leaping buildings in a single bound, I'm reading Shakespeare at my place downtown"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "You called me strong, you called me weak, But still your secrets I will keep"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "Little Joe never once gave it away, Everybody had to pay and pay"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "I don't understand at best, I cannot speak for all the rest, In the morning rise a lifetime's passed me by"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "And all of a sudden goin' fishin', Wasn't such an imposition, And I went three times that year I lost my Dad"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Against the grain should be a way of life, What's worth the price is always worth the fight"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "On disco lights your name will be seen, You can fulfill all your dreams, Party here, party there, everywhere"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "Well, I'm a bum in the sun and I'm havin' fun, And I know you know I got no special plans"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "Time is the essence, Time is the season, Time ain't no reason, Got no time to slow"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "And I'm talking to myself at night, because I can't forget, Back and forth through my mind, behind a cigarette"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "Welcome to a new kind of tension, All across the alien nation, Where everything isn't meant to be okay"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "There's no bathroom, and there is no sink, The water out of the tap is very hard to drink"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "Push the fader, gifted animator, One for the now and eleven for the later"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "When it was all over, we had to find another place, Swiss time was running out, it seemed that we would lose the race"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "My beacon's been moved under moon and star, Where am I to go, now that I've gone too far"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "Nobody wants him, They just turn their heads, Nobody helps him, Now he has his revenge"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "I went to see the doctor of philosophy, With a poster of Rasputin and a beard down to his knee"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "Well, I was raised up beneath the shade of a Georgia pine, And that's home you know"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "Tap on my window, knock on my door, I want to make you feel beautiful, I know I tend to get insecure"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "I don't wanna be the girl that has to fill the silence, The quiet scares me 'cause it screams the truth"

[I can't believe how few people picked up on the band name color theme in the 12-song week 14 set… The other themes I used were all a LOT more subtle (and only included two songs) - week 8 was the two area concerts on the same day, week 10 was obviously Superman, week 12 was about recognizing that you only get one life and you should live it, and week 13 was the big concert in Greensboro that week. I have no idea if the themes make it easier or harder, or if anyone even cares, but they keep me interested, soooo… there…. - JK]

WATCHING RDL HISTORY HAPPEN

At my team's A division semifinal two weeks ago, my team was all set for a big match against one of our top rivals, Hu Flung Pu (often known as the Daddies in recent seasons). In the first pairing in 301, Kyle Gaulthier of Hu Flung stuck a big old Ton-80 in the first leg of the night. Nice, right? Well, it got better. For him, at least… He stuck another Ton-80 in the second leg of that same set! Holy cow! How many of you guys have ever hit two perfect throws in the same night, much less the same best-of-3 match? Well, before you answer, let me tell you this - Gaulthier stuck a 9-mark in singles cricket for his THIRD perfect throw of the night! Oh, crap, are you kidding me?! Three in one night? That's nuts! But not as nuts as the fact that he hit another 9-mark in doubles cricket!!! I'm not kidding - he tossed FOUR perfect throws against us in the same damn night! I have never heard of that, much less seen it. [And p.s. Kyle is still only 16 years old!]

And what that ridiculous number doesn't show is that at least three other times in the same match he started turns with two triples, so the number was very nearly higher! On my team, when a guy hits a perfect throw each of his teammates gives him a dollar. Glad (I suppose) that Kyle was on the other team that night or I would've been broke. (And yes, Kyle is my teammate, but only on Saturdays.)

How did my team eventually win the match anyway? Well, I guess it's partly due to the fact that Gaulthier slipped a bit in 501. He only hit a 140 in each game rather than a 180 (choker!), and we managed to slide past his pair in that set. Turns out we have a national champ on our roster too. :o)

THIS IS ALMOST UNFATHOMABLE

Every now and then as I peruse the mountain of RDL information I have amassed in my 17.5 years in the RDL (16.5 as the newsletter editor), I notice something that seems unlikely enough that I have to recheck the old records to make sure that there wasn't some database error that reported some ridiculous outcome. And it is, basically without fail, always accurate, regardless of how surprising the feat is. It turns out that some of you guys really do just put together feats sometimes that are beyond any logical expectation. And this past week, I absolutely came across one of those feats.

Now I want you to read this slowly and carefully and really digest just exactly how silly the numbers I am about to present really are. A cursory read of these facts really will not do them justice…

I joined the RDL in the spring of 1995. I was a new member of Pig Tour '95 in A division, and I was joined there by team newcomers Tom Brown (in his first RDL season ever) and Keith Wall (who had played one season in B). I had no idea what was starting that day. I played 2 seasons with Tom and Keith, then we split for 15 seasons because of friends on other teams, etc., and then we re-joined as Element for the last 18 seasons. That means it has been 35 seasons since we entered the RDL A division (plus Keith's one B season). I've had a lot of success in my day, but let me tell you about some real success…

In those 35 seasons, Tom Brown has played in THIRTY-THREE A division tournament finals matches!!!!! And despite the fact that Brown and Wall went to different teams for eight seasons, Keith Wall has played in THIRTY-TWO A division tournament finals matches!!!! Even when they weren't together, they were facing off in the finals against each other! The only season that had neither of them in the finals was the Fall 2000 season, when they lost in the semis together on Fringe. Brown's A finals tournament record? 23 wins, 10 losses, 2 absences. Wall's A finals tournament record? 19 wins, 13 losses, 3 absences. That… is… flippin'… silly…

SOMEWHERE JASON THOMAS IS SMILING…

Ok, that headline was too easy, I admit. RDL Pres. Jason "JT" Thomas is almost always smiling, so that's not news. (Constant unbreaking smiling, by the way, is likely a sign of some chemical imbalance or psychotic disorder… I'm just sayin'…) Anyway, a couple years ago when Thomas was playing on my team in the Bull City Dart League over in Durham, there was a string of matches in which Thomas somehow left either himself or his partner a double-3 about a million times (which, translated from dart-speak to English, probably means about 4 or 5 times in a half of a season or so - which is still a lot considering that… it's a double-3). This quickly got him the nickname Double-3 (creative, right?) among our teammates, even to the point that two different team names contained Double-3 in his honor.

Well, the finals matches this past Wednesday at Mac's Tavern (the E and B division finals) were right up JT's avenue. I saw something that I had never seen before that night, and then I saw it again! Let's set the stage… The only two matches this past Wednesday that went to one do-or-die set for both teams were the two at Mac's. 11-11 in both matches, tension building.

On the left in the E final, Dublin-Dublout had just climbed out of a big deficit against Force 8 from the Planet XXX to force the deciding pairing. Frank Hall, the shall we say much-embattled captain of Force 8, took game 1 for his side to put them on the brink of Mugs. Then, in game 2, with his team holding a very slight lead, he stepped to the line with 37 remaining. He threw his first dart at the 5, which while a little risky with two even numbers next to it, is mathematically a strong play. Unfortunately for him, the dart sank a touch down into the 12, leaving 25. A little team powwow ensued to discuss how to approach the shot at 25. I figured the discussion was a decision between throwing at the 9 to leave 16, or throwing the safer second dart of the 17/3 wire to leave either 8 (ideal) or 22 (at least it's a shot). Ummmm… nope. The team consensus was to throw the fat 19 to leave 6. WHAT?! Who the hell sets up double-3 on purpose (you shut up here, JT - none of us believe you ever did it on purpose, and if you did, why would ever admit that to us?)?! And why, when there are other more preferable doubles on the board (including basically everything but 2)? Well, that first dart goes right in the heart of the 19 to "strategically" move the score to 6. Which, I must admit, is indeed at least an "out". I know that it's an out, because the next dart buried in the right corner of the double-3 and a whole heap of screaming and jumping ensued (which is not usually what happens when you don't throw the winning dart, unless you're a part-time One Armed Bandit - see page 1). So, there it was. The first time I had ever seen a Mug won on a dart in the lowly double-3. Then I find out something incredible… Hall had won his 301 set a couple hours earlier by taking out BOTH of his wins on double-3 as well!! Are you kidding??? THREE double-3 winners for one guy in one match? Could there possibly be even one other double-3 left for the entire RDL on this night? Turns out there could…

We turn our attention now to the B final on the right board. Not only did this match go to 11-11, but it went to the third leg of that final set too!! And this one was getting way interesting, because although these two teams accounted for 5 of the 8 players on my B division all-star team, none of those all-stars were in the final pairs! Awesome drama!! After Dana Bither put the Triple Threats up a game, Mark Sellers caught a couple minutes of fire and tied the set at a game apiece. In a final deciding leg that saw both teams shooting multiple turns at the out, Sellers claimed the Mug for Absolut, with… a double-3!!! No way!! Most excellent.

HOW'S THIS FOR TEAM SPIRIT?

Anybody else got anything that identifies you as a member of a specific dart team beyond a shirt? I'll bet that's pretty much… none of you. Unless you happen to play for Death Throw or the Mug Hunters, that is!! You see, those two teams have a few specialized team items. For example, check out these team flights!

Rumor has it that Death Throw has not only these flights, but they also have things like beer cozies, dart cases, and who knows what else, to go with their standard shirts (of which, they of course have both home and away models). But to be fair, here, I believe that Death Throw is a commercially available line of darting gear, so it isn't as if they had to go out and make the stuff. They just had to be crazy enough to all show up in it/with it. I've met some of Tolson's guys… no issue there…

So, to me, the real diehards here are the Mug Hunters. Check out those flights!! I mean really take a look. Not only are they team-personalized, but they feature the RDL-style black ceramic tournament champion Mug! That is a pretty damn slick inclusion.

THE RDL LIVES AT ADO NATIONALS LATELY!

If you read this newsletter with any regularity at all, you already know that Robbie Phillips (of Required Elements) qualifies for ADO Nationals events roughly four times per year (for those who don't know, there are exactly four ADO Nationals per year :o). [Coincidentally, Phillips is throwing at the ADO Masters Nationals as I sit here and type this…] And you also know that Phillips won the ADO 501 National Championship last year. And you also know that Kyle Gaulthier (of Hu Flung Pu, and 4-perfect throws in one match fame - see previous page) won the ADO 501 Youth National Championship that same day.

Well, it's almost time for the ADO 501 National Championships (once again held in Stamford, CT) to come around. And guess who qualified by winning a regional? Yep. Phillips in the main portion and Gaulthier in the youth (under-18) portion. They are both headed back to defend their titles!! The tournament will take place Friday, August 10th, and you'll be able to track part of it online through the ADO website if you are so inclined.

But wait! There's more! How boring would it be if we just sent back the same two guys to represent RDL in the same two events? (Well, ok, not really all that boring, but go with me here…) What we need is some more RDL muscle representing this time around. Well, lucky us! Chad Massengill (of BullsHitters) won a different regional than Phillips entered, and he is headed to Nationals too! No way! Most excellent! RDL is so freakin' deep that a 20-year-old in F division is good enough to advance to a National final! How much does RDL rock, right?

Well, I'm still not done. Cody Gaulthier, Kyle's slightly older brother (who is in college and taking a few seasons off from RDL, but still lives here part-time and still plays on the Raleigh NCCDL team) won the Junior (age 18-20) All-Star regional, and is also off to Stamford to play in the East/West All-Star National events!

Two in the open, one in the junior, one in the youth!! Wow!

Every divisional tournament had at least one upset. Cool…

FURTHER PROOF THAT "E" DIVISION IS JUST NUTS

Anybody who knows most of the players in this season's E division will already recognize that most of them are out of their minds. It's alright, they mostly seem to revel in it. So, that's cool. But for those that need mathematical proof that the dart outcomes associated with those crazy people are equally crazy, check out this astounding statistic… There were 56 matches played in E division during the regular season this spring. Of those 56, 15 included two teams that had the same record (the week 1 matches are obviously 4 of these). That leaves 41 matches in which one team entered the night with a better record than the other (and sometimes significantly better). Well, this is E… and just as I suspected, the teams with the lesser record entering the matches had a WINNING record against the teams with a better record. The lesser team won 23 of those 41 matches (obviously losing just 18). It's no wonder my pick percentage was so terrible here; there is just no rhyme or reason as to who wins here. Ever. Wow.

TWO THINGS I NOTICED WHILE DRIVING

#1 - Cars with personalized plates are fine and all, and sort of interesting. That is, right up until you pull up behind one at a red light and you notice the car next to that has a personalized plate too. All of a sudden, a cute little self-expression becomes a bit of a who-here-is-the-bigger-nerd-with-some-witty-word-play contest. I'd never seen two little word tricks side by side before, but I'm glad I did. I know now that a personal plate is not for me.
#2 - Want me to hate you as a driver? Then do one of two things: First, go slow in the left lane and refuse to get over, then when I move around to your right, immediately drive whatever speed I am going and then some, until I slow down, then go the exact same slow speed again. And second, drive up right on my butt when I'm going something like 15 over and get within inches of my bumper while there are cars in the right lane so I can't move over, and then when I do have room and I move over, go the same speed as me or slower, and refuse to pass me. Awesome.

IT'S NOT JUST CURRENT RDL MEMBERS…

If you look at the column to the left, the stories there basically gush the praises of current RDL members who are making waves nationally. Some ex-RDL members are kicking some national butt as well. Today's example? Jeremiah Millar, who was a member of the Element a couple years ago. Since moving to the soft-tip heavy world of Michigan darting, Millar has taken the hell over! After claiming the singles 501 title at the BullShooter last year (and finishing second in the Top Gun singles cricket at that same huge event), Millar never looked back. This year, after earning a professional sponsorship with Shelti/Radikal darts (a professional partnership that will be sending Millar to Las Vegas for over a week - they seem to think that's a good idea…), Millar earned a spot on Team USA for soft tip (the team events for which are in Vegas), and is now ranked in the top 8 in the country for soft tip. What a run… Millar was always a really good player with us here, but nothing quite like this. Not sure what the difference is… maybe the steel-tip darts were just too heavy for him? :o) (For those who don't know, Millar almost makes ME look a little tall…)

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- I'm back to the Survivor first tradition… but sadly, it's to say this: that was the single stupidest cast of Survivor contestants I've ever seen. They were so preposterously dumb that for the first time I didn't enjoy the season. My head hurt from watching them. I think they should have just decided that nobody gets the million bucks. One painfully stupid decision after another. After another. After another. With some of them being the dumbest things ever to have happened on the show. That's it. That's all I have to say about that.

-- The gas station on the corner by my building has one of those LED signs where they put the daily special, so as to entice you to come on in for something wonderful like 2 Monster drinks for "only" four dollars. Well, this week, they turned their attention to ice cream treats. However, seeing the sign advertising 2 Nutty Butty for two dollars made me think they need to look at the label a little more closely. Sort of an unfortunate typo there, BuDDy…

-- The National Hockey League system of "creating" an extra point for games that go to overtime or a shootout has just got to either go the hell away or at least be altered to be mathematically logical. This season, the Florida Panthers lost in overtime so often that they won the Hurricanes' division despite being SIX games UNDER 0.500. What's worse is that the team behind them (the Washington Capitals) had a winning record, so it's not like the whole division was just too awful to win games. Somebody tell me how that makes sense.

-- In the ever-growing tradition of people constantly justifying their jobs by doing "something", my workplace (the Durham VA Medical Center - yes, I work for Duke, but I mostly work at the VA) has been altering all of the lighting on the hospital campus. Now there are some motion-activated lights in the parking deck (in the driving lanes, of course, not in the "less logical" places like the corner stairwells). And there are new kinds of light bulbs (maybe those save energy). But I would love to know who the genius was that put the new light above the entrance to my research building. Have you seen those lights that are used to immediately fry something in one of those science fiction pressure chambers? They come on for about three seconds, they're brighter than the sun, and they immediately burn anything within two light years of it? Well, there is now one of those above our door. I swear I can't even see to put the key in the door (it's a locked facility) because the light is so blinding. Progress! At least any would-be attacker will fail because he is blinded too, I suppose. On the plus side, I swear get a better tan every time I'm at our building after hours.

-- I still laugh about how many people over the years have used the song Every Breath You Take by The Police for their weddings, proms, whatever. Have you ever listened to the actual lyrics, people? That song is about a stalker! He wants to control the one he can't have! It is NOT a love song. Oh, yuck. Makes my skin crawl just thinking about how many gooey-eyed young lovers have mouthed those lyrics to their significant others…

-- I'm not the biggest NBA fan by any stretch of that definition, but I have to admit that I thought it was cool when the whole Jeremy Lin craze with the New York Knicks exploded. That story was so big so quickly, and he became such a hero, that their games were being broadcast worldwide with Mandarin-speaking play-by-play guys. Now THAT is globalization of a sport.

-- Note to all you captains who pre-print your scoresheets and misspell your own names. Please don't ever go away.

-- I tend to talk about the best throwers here in the RDL quite a bit (since this is, last time I checked, a dart league newsletter). And sometimes I hold back a bit so that you guys don't read about the same people repeatedly. But… the best are the best, and the stuff they do is often the coolest stuff. Simple truth. The fact that I happen to play with and against the best throwers also gives me a front-row view for much of the coolest action. I could easily fill an entire page every week with all the stuff I see, but that would be so frickin' repetitive. Instead, I pick and choose my moments. And, oh look… Here's one now! -- In week 7, in the big matchup at the top of A between Element and the Rednecks, David "Mo'Tea" Murray got what most of would consider an unlucky draw: Robbie Phillips in singles cricket. Oh, ugh, right? Not for Mo. What did he do? He jumped out early for a couple turns, then stuck a 9-mark on him. Unfortunately for him, the other guy was still Robbie… who immediately answered with a 9-mark on his way to another win. How many of you have ever hit a 9-mark in league play? Can you imagine doing it on the turn after somebody else just threw one on you? How nasty is that?

-- Anybody here watch American Idol? I don't watch it all the time, but I catch it now and then. And this year, I caught one of the contestants' families in a flat-out lie that the Fox producers didn't seem to notice. There was this Milli Vanilli-looking guy who sang in a damn falsetto voice almost all the time (wow, I did not like him), and he was reported to be 17 years old (of which we were reminded seemingly every 43 seconds or so). In his family's on-camera interview, they were gushing about him and his mother went on and on about how when Deandre (the falsetto singer) was 4 years old, he sang for… something… in front of… somebody, and everybody was telling him he would win American Idol when he grew up. Which is particularly interesting since the show didn't come on the air until he was about 7.

-- For a sport that claims to be completely aware of the dangers of potential organized gambling elements, I find this story about the NFL more than a bit odd. The Associated Press reports, "The NFL will allow teams to accept advertisements for casinos and other state-licensed gambling-related establishments during the next two seasons. Those ads can appear only in game programs, on local radio broadcasts and in the upper bowl and inner concourses of stadiums. 'We remain steadfast in our opposition to the proliferation of gambling on NFL games,' NFL spokesman Brian McCarthy said. 'There is a distinction between accepting advertising in a limited fashion and gambling on the outcome of our games.' " Ummm… yes… technically there is a difference between those two things. But if you think I'm dumb enough to believe that advertising gambling at games leaves it completely separate from the games themselves, that's just ridiculous. This NFL statement is just silly.

-- A couple weeks ago I went to the Rise Against concert down in Charlotte with my teenage son. The band A Day To Remember was one of the opening acts and they had all kinds of gimmicks going on. One of them was just not something you see every day. A guy in a full Gumby outfit running around shooting t-shirts out of a t-shirt cannon. Let that one sink in. A t-shirt-launching Gumby.

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- One of our collaborators here at work is taking a job here with us and leaving his previous position. Which is pretty normal. What is not so normal to me is where he was previously employed: The Carolina Center for Excellence. That's it. That's the entire name. I can already sort of hear their answers when asked about what they do there. "What do you guys do there?" "We're excellent." "But, what do you make there?" "Excellence." "Uhhh… ok… how do you do that?" "Excellently." "But what do you guys do when you are at work." "We excel." … … How awesome is that?! Oh, uh, I mean, how excellent is that?!

-- I am making the unilateral decision, on behalf of the entire English-speaking portion of the world, to forever bury the word 'fierce'. From the very first time that every fake wanna be TV personality / model / reality star / singer / whatever heard Tyra Banks say that term (and she says it roughly 968 times per day), that word was doomed. It is so completely overused by so many millions of people who are really anything at all but fierce. It really wouldn't hurt my feelings to never hear that term again. Ugh. [And rest assured that somebody else at this banquet has already wittily (or more likely, not so wittily) used 'fierce' in a conversation with me before you even thought of it…]

-- And I know that some time ago I buried another term, but it seems to be like some sort of zombie word that has returned as part of the ever-nearing zombie apocalypse. Thus, I don't bury the word 'diva', but rather banish it to another dimension in the time-space continuum. About 98% of the people here have no idea what diva actually means anyway, so unless you're some self-glorifying turd who doesn't even know what you're calling yourself, you won't miss it. Of course, there seem to be a hell of a lot of those self-glorifying turds hanging around. Problem is that almost none of them have ever been a singer of any kind. And certainly not any that have enjoyed much public acclaim.

-- Less than ten minutes from my house, there is a little tiny strip of stores with a sign out at the street that has only this on it. I'm assuming there is a dentist in that plaza, I suppose. Not sure that makes this better. That's all I have to say about that.

-- If anybody else is going to see The Avengers movie (or if you already have), don't even try to tell me that Robert Downey, Jr.'s role as Tony Stark / Iron Man doesn't simply make that movie. The writing for that character is just brilliant; just the right amount of sarcasm at all times (which is generally "a lot"). If that character was real, I think he would work at the Center for Excellence.

-- When I was growing up, Van Halen was my no-contest, hands-down, undisputed favorite band. (And no, not that only somewhat interesting two-decade interlude with Sammy Hagar.) It sort of sucked that they weren't together much after I was old enough to really be music-aware. But I maintained my love and allegiance for all those years, and now they're back in their old form (well, almost… sorry, Michael…). And at their concert last month in Greensboro they gave me a whole new reason to love and admire their excellent (Center for Excellence?) rock-and-roll-ness. In one five-second span, they did away with one of my least favorite traditions in rock: the seemingly mandatory wait-and-chant before the "surprise" encore. Why the hell do we bother with that crap at shows? We know they're coming back, they know they're coming back, and the house lights don't even come up. We just waste 3 or 4 minutes while they sit in the back and we wait. That is just dumb. Well… not at Van Halen shows! They finish the main set with a hugely popular classic, they turn the lights off for about five seconds, then David Lee Roth says something to the effect of "ok, that's the set, we both know we're coming back out for an encore, so let's skip that dumb wait and just play the rest of the songs right now", and the lights come back up and it's time for more rock! Logic and rock at the same time! I love those guys!

-- I caught an American Idol clip a few months ago in which they were discussing the stuff the judges were wearing. Steven Tyler (of Aerosmith fame) was wearing… well… hell, I have no idea what he was wearing. But he acknowledged exactly what I was thinking when he said "hey, you have no idea how expensive it is to look this cheap." Which got me to thinking about the dart banquet… Now that I've pointed out that it's expensive to look really cheap, I wonder how many of you guys I will catch looking around to see who here at the banquet looks so cheap they must be rich. But be careful if you play this game… if you don't see anyone that fits the criteria (HIGHLY unlikely), then it might be you that looks the cheapest (which maybe makes you the richest, I suppose?).

-- I love dart team names with great histories, especially if they are both simple and funny. For example, I'll bet almost none of you know why the team Frank is called Frank. It's so simple that it's beautiful. In the previous season their name was Total Eclipse of the Dart, and routinely wrote TED on the top of their side of the scoreboard. So, most teams began referring to them as Ted. They decided the next season to leave Ted behind and become Frank.

-- Anybody who has a "smart phone" and texts knows that unless you turn off the feature, when you type in words that it doesn't recognize, it constantly auto-corrects and offers other words that are supposedly close in terms of spelling. And we all know how funny those autocorrects can be (if you don't, then check out www.damnyouautocorrect.com when you have some free time). But sometimes I type in a word that it autocorrects that isn't really funny, but rather just surprises the crap out of me that it isn't in the phone's internal dictionary. For example, when you type "ouch" into my Thunderbolt, it tries to change it to "Lucy". Really? It doesn't have "ouch"? Is that word that far out of the ordinary? Or out of the ordinary at all, for that matter?

-- I think Scott Butters, captain of Absolut Confusion in B, is one of the nicest guys in the entire RDL. But I promised him that I was going to call him out in the Tons, and so that's what I'm doing. See that bag and tiles in the photo? Well, Scott has 7 players on his roster. And sometimes this is his method of picking who plays. Draw the angry face tile and you're out that set. I think he might even use the numbers to make his doubles pairings. As a 33-season captain, to that I say "chicken!" Of course, he'll say that it must've worked because they finished in the top two in both the season and tournament. To which I'll say he could've listed them to the top spot in both! He does get bonus points for the Crown Royal bag, though…

-- I think I've realized the only thing that bugs me more than how much basically everyone sucks at driving… That places like Live Nation and TicketMaster can charge $10/15/20 in fees. Per ticket!

"A" Division - Narfle the Element (13-9)
Element, in its 19th season, survives a very tough final against Klitzkrieg to add its 12th tournament Mug to its 15th regular season title, completing its 3rd undefeated season (all in the last 6 seasons).

"B" Division - Mug Hunters (13-7)
After a one-season hiatus from living out their team's stated goal (hunting Mugs), the Hunters add their fifth tournament title in the team's six seasons, avoiding an 0-3 season against Is It In?.

"C" Division - 1 to Potato (13-5)
Rif Raf, who won their first two tournament matches in the final 501 and in 1001, has their Cinderella run ended pretty quickly by 1 to Potato, in the only tournament final that didn't make it into 501.

"D" Division - Dublin-Dublout (13-9)
After needing a tiebreaker to get past the #8 seed, and then rolling right through the semis, Dublin-Dublout claims the first two 501s in a nailbiter final with Choot 'Em! that was 9-9 heading to the last set.

"E" Division - BullsHitters (13-9)
One of the wildest divisions in years ends up producing a Mug winner that was also the regular season winner, and a tournament featuring only the minor upset of the #3 over the #2 in the semis.

"F" Division - Projectile Dysfunction (14-6)
Projectile completes the least challenged tournament run of the season, giving up a total of only 10 points in their three matches, defeating the sort of unusual team path of the #8, #5, & #3 teams.

"G" Division - Brown's Bombers (13-7)
After being pushed to the last 501 by the division's bottom team, the Bombers picked up some momentum, closing out 2012 with a second straight regular season/tournament victory double.

"H" Division - The Misfits (13-7)
In the only division to produce a Mug winner from outside the season's top two finishers (and one of only two Mug winners that hadn't taken the season too), the #3 knocked off the #4 in the final.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Narfle the Element (12 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - Lunatic Fringe

"B" Division - Is It In? (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Mug Hunters

"C" Division - 1 to Potato (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Fire for Effect

"D" Division - Dublin-Dublout (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Choot 'Em!

"E" Division - BullsHitters (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Death Throw

"F" Division - Projectile Dysfunction (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Methodical Madness

"G" Division - Brown's Bombers (10 wins, 4 losses)
2nd place - We Be Triplin

"H" Division - Lunchbox in the Alley (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Grateful Darts

Rosters of all season- and tournament-winning teams are on page 4.)

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Same number of divisions and teams as last season, so the same number of matches as last season. Not quite as much awesome parity this season though… as we dropped to a total of 40 tiebreakers played (with 3 of those 40 occurring during the divisional tournaments). G division led the way with 9 tiebreakers (with none of those in the tournament), followed by E (8, with 1 in the tournament), C (6, with 1 in the tournament), and D (6, with 1 in the tournament) divisions. H division added 5 tiebreakers, F division added 3 tiebreakers, A division had only 2 tiebreakers (both won by the same team), and B only produced 1 tiebreaker throughout the entire Fall.

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) goes to Five-OH! Whizzle of G division, who played in a solid 5 tiebreakers, including a relatively astonishing 4 in a 5-week span from weeks 8 to 12. Whizzle inched above 0.500 in 1001 with a 3-2 record, with the two losses being to the top two G teams, meaning that had they snagged those two also, they would've actually taken the division title!

The Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost) goes to Wire We Back in E division, who tied for the second most tiebreakers played, and… lost all four(!). (Only one other team lost even as many as three.) And while the first three of their 1001 losses dropped them from 3rd to 6th, it was the last that probably hurt most, ending their tournament.

SPRING 2013 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

These dates (or at least some of them) are on page 8, as well as on pages 1 and 40, but I am putting them in many locations because they might be the most important thing for you in this newsletter.

Wed., Jan. 16th - Preseason capts.' mtg./packet pickup, High Park
Wednesday, January 23rd - Start of Spring season match play
Monday, Feb. 25th - Fifth week captains' meeting, High Park
Wed., May 1 / 8 / 15 - Spring season divisional tournaments
Saturday, May 18th - Spring season banquet, site TBD

RDL QUOTES

Quote #1 : from Chris Montesi of Dublin-Dublout, after his team won the D division tournament final: "Good news and bad news… Bad news is that your prediction was wrong for C League…" [Ummm, nope… I got the C pick right, Mr. D division captain. - JK]

Quote #2 : from Jimmy Davis of Klitzkrieg, in a comment that was probably funniest only to those who were at our tournament finals match. After Keith Wall of my team celebrated his Mug-winning dart with a relatively deep and loud "Yeeeaaaahhh", within about 0.08 seconds Jimmy yelled just as deeply and loudly "NOOOOOO!!!", as he smiled and offered a handshake. It was just so damn quick…

Quote #3 : from my teammate Robbie Phillips on Narfle the Element: "Jon [Kenney] is the second funniest guy I know… right behind how funny Tom [Brown] thinks he is…" [I can't describe how hard I laughed at that. That is some seriously funny stuff… - JK]

Quote #4 : from Jerry Shengulette of Tattoo the Red Eye, in response to the week 6 lyrics quiz: "Zombie - Cranberries. I've never heard this song completely. It's a ring-tone for one of my kids. I had to text them to get the answer. They replied. It's 9:20 a.m. Why are they responding to texts NOW, during school? Also, Russ's phone plays 'The Real Slim Shady' - and not the clean version - when he gets a text so I hope he was somewhere inappropriate. :-)" [Ha! Parenting at its finest!! Jerry is my new hero… - JK]

Quote #5a : from Eric Stoakes of Five-OH! Whizzle, after their week 3 win: "Five-OH! Whizzle had to earn the name last night in doubles 5-0-whizzle. First time team had to experience what we like to call, 1 double OH! Whizzle win. Shook the drizzle from a squirrel frizzle." [?!?!?!?!?!? - JK]

Quote #5b : from Eric Stoakes of Five-OH! Whizzle, in response to my message sent in response to quote 5a above: "Same as saying 'we were fending off a Flying Blind Squirrel frenzy'... I don't know, we make this up as we go…..'izzlisms'(sp?)" [Somehow, that actually does seem to help me understand. A little… - JK]

Quote #6 : from Joe Munroe of the Brawlers, describing how quickly his personal talent switch can flip (much like my own, I'm afraid): "I hit a nice 101-In, then proceeded to throw 75 more darts."

Quote #7 : in honor of the start of every Force 8 from the Planet XXX match in recent seasons, as captain Frank Hall joins the RDL Board: "Allright, allright, allright – we're gonna play some darts now…"

FALL 2012 PENALTY SUMMARY

Well, it couldn't be two awesome seasons in a row… Last season was one of the best ever in the RDL in terms of a lack of penalties. But this season our 63 teams combined for 32 penalties and a total loss of 254 points. Every one of our eight divisions had at least one penalty, but that's not really that surprising in an election season. There were no captains' meeting penalties, but there were 14 election ballot penalties (for a total of 70 penalty points), 8 phone penalties (40 total points), 8 mail penalties (128 total points), & 2 incomplete 1001 penalties (but for only 16 total points, because one of these two was already penalized 16 points for being mailed late). F and H divisions tied for the most total penalties (7), and F had the most points lost (57). F division also had the most penalized teams (5). All in all, 21 of 63 teams were hit with any penalties at all, but only 5 of those 21 received more than one penalty.

The bigger story is what those penalties cost some teams… Bel Biv Dethrow in H and the Overtime Outlaws in B got the most penalties (4 each), but didn't actually lose any spots in the standings. FIVE teams did drop a spot in the standings though… and two of them lost out in hardware spots! Klitzkrieg's 5 points in A cost them 2nd place, and We Be Triplin's 37 points in G cost them the regular season division crown!

HOLIDAY BREAK BLIND DRAWS

As in many previous years, throughout the holiday break the Upper Deck will be adding a weekly Wednesday blind draw for all those who just want to keep their regular dart night out rolling through the break. The Wednesday draw will be run just like the Friday and Sunday draws at the Deck (the Triple Shot will be exclusive to the Friday draws still). If you have more free time, you might want to try one or more of the other 7 weekly/monthly draws as well. For a full list, see the bottom half of the right column on page 8.

OR MAYBE YOU WANT TO ADD ANOTHER LEAGUE?

If you're quick, and you live on the Chapel Hill side of things, you might be able to pick up a second league this coming season if you are so inclined. The Triangle Dart League will be holding their registration meeting this coming Wednesday, Dec. 12th, at 7:30 p.m., at the Top of the Hill restaurant at 100 E. Franklin St. For more information about the league, the registration, etc., visit: http://www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/

ANOTHER LEAGUE ALREADY THROWING…

A third option if you are looking to add more darts throughout December (and beyond) is the Bull City Dart League in Durham. Unfortunately, this one is already 3 weeks into their 18-week regular season, so full teams can't sign up right now, but every now and then a teams is looking to add another player or two. If you are interested for now or for later, you can visit the BCDL at www.thebcdl.org, for more information.

AND THE NEW REIGNING BCDL CHAMPS…

Congratulations to my teammates on Our Moms Say We're Special, on this past month's league championship victory (see page 14, right column, for related story from that finals match). If you want to come take a shot at the defenders this season, you'll be aiming for a bunch of RDL members (left to right, below): Paul Jacobi (of Lunatic Fringe), Jason Kilts and Tom Brown (both of Narfle the Element), Alberto Sandoval (of Mug Hunters), and Robb Beeson and Mark Knight (also both of Narfle the Element).

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divisions = 3.0 or more ASPs
"H" Division = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

Tom Brown	Narfle the Element	Came up biggest at all the biggest times.
Kyle Gaulthier	Klitzkrieg	I want to throw just one turn that smoothly.
Simon Healy	Triple Threats	Truly powered the upset bunch. Until 501.
Matt Heimbach	Lunatic Fringe	For a "retired" guy, he sure wins a bunch.
Shane Murray	Rednecks	Unfazed by literally anyone or anything.
Robbie Phillips	Narfle the Element	Robbie the Robot needs no words from me.
Mike Seward	Klitzkrieg	Can take over a game in the blink of an eye.
Wil Tan	Narfle the Element	Ok, so it wasn't his best DCkt season…

"B" Division

Ramy Banna	Is It In?	Newcomer part-timer stepped this team up.
Tony Keller	Is It In?	Mr. League Record was great all around.
Billy Lloyd	Is It In?	The most dominant player outside of A.
Vicente Martinez	Mug Hunters	What a frickin' pick up for the Hunters!
Sal Reitano	The Brews Bros	Seemingly willed his team to some wins.
Alberto Sandoval	Mug Hunters	Can hit any shot. See page 14 for proof.
J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	Had a nice four-set record for 3rd placers.
Randy Wilcox	We're Sexy and We	13-0 in SCkt; won over 50% of team's dbls.

"C" Division

Kyle Gardner	Coral Reefers	Not just strong for Reefers, but present!
Matt Goss	Fire for Effect	Superb singles guy needs a few doubles.
Justin Harvey	Ale-ing Archers	Carried the season mostly in SCkt & 501.
David Hoyt	Rif Raf	Oh, this guy moving is such a bummer…
John Mays	Nine Lives	One of RDL's most subtle top winners.
Tim McNamara	1 to Potato	Main reason Potato finally bounced back.
Jeff Watson, Sr.	1 to Potato	8+ wins in each set is a nice support record.
Lee Whitehead	1 to Potato	Finally back, and owning mostly in SCkt.

"D" Division

Frank Allison	Sharky's Machine	Alright, so he's not the RDL's '01 monster.
Barry Jackson	Throwin Stones	Captain Bump just needs a few more 501s.
Ronnie Knott	Choot 'Em!	A bit of a slow starter, gets hot after 301.
Tom Kubel	Blind Squirrels	Q-Ball was seeing just fine all season…
Mike Litzsinger	Tattoo the Red Eye	Singles ace for a team with softer doubles.
Mark Ray	Leftovers	Basically solid for the early-season leaders.
Jeff Rudy	Dublin-Dublout	Holy crap… 13-0 in 501? That is just nuts.
Tony Thomas	Leftovers	A couple big sets, a couple decent ones.

"E" Division

Tim Bunn	Force 8/Planet XXX	Wow, huge winner on a 0.500 team.
Dave Johnson	Menace 2 Sobriety	Captain Menace was great all season.
Ted Marks	BullsHitters	Hitters' big addition of three 10-win sets.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Nationals qualifier had a sick win total.
Randy Massengill	BullsHitters	Is he now the top Massengill? Possibly…
Brady Price	Menace 2 Sobriety	Made for a nice 1-2 punch with Johnson.
Brian Reiser	Hammered Heads	Clearly, the least Hammered of the Heads.
John Wylie	BullsHitters	The fourth-best Hitter also wins 68%+?!

"F" Division

Brad Hamilton	Method. Madness	One of the best seasons in all of the RDL.
Roger Loving	Method. Madness	Truly great in singles, passable in doubles.
Ryan Raymond	Projectile Dysfunctic	The picture of consistency for top F team.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	Season after season, just keeps winning.
Rod Stacy	Sharkshooters	Put whole team on his back some nights.
Dave Tanner	Projectile Dysfunctic	Top team, top player. This one was easy.
Tim Welborn	Projectile Dysfunctic	Another team with a great offseason add.
Derek Williams	Sharkshooters	Ummm… we sit him in doubles, I guess?

"G" Division (this was a really hard division to cut down…)

Randy Baldwin	We Be Triplin	When this is your third wheel…. Nice…
Randy Deemer	We Be Triplin	36-7 in the first three sets can't be argued.
David Huffman	Brown's Bombers	Clear leader of the season&Mug winners.
Andy Krestalude	8T0 Proof	With a few DCkts, he would race for MVP.
Alyssa Leggett	We Be Triplin	Led team to the division's best win %-age.
Bob Rube	UZMAgain	Just solid winner year after year after year.
Mark Slawter	Five-OH! Whizzle	This Whizzle was the Shizzle, my Dizzle.
Paul Spaulding	Brown's Bombers	Decent singles guy became a doubles pro.

Justin Blessing	Lunchbox in the Alley	… … … Duh. … … …
Debbie Dudley	Lunchbox in the Alle	34 wins in the first three sets is just huge.
Fritz Herman	Grateful Darts	Still regularly thumping guys half his age.
John Iager	Grateful Darts	Best H record outside the Lunchbox.
Adam Schoch	The Duck Stops Her	New Duck wins a lot! And he shows up!
Andrew Strickland	The Misfits	Yes, they're family and all… but they'd be
Craig Strickland	The Misfits	tough to differentiate dartwise anyway.
David Woodard	Bel Biv Dethrow	Great singles, and VoiceMail tunes…

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): There was quite a pile of people with three 10-win sets, or four 9-win sets… but only two people put together the pure Quadruple Double. This season's two biggest set-wide winners? Alyssa Leggett of We Be Triplin in G division, and Justin Blessing of Lunchbox in the Alley in H division (who actually put up four 11-win sets!). [A quick honorable mention though for Robbie Phillips of Narfle the Element, who came closest in the 12-match A division schedule with three 9-win sets that were obviously key to his league best 0.921 win percentage.]

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: The Ducks' grasp on being the most regularly shorthanded team was loosened this season, and Lunchbox in the Alley stepped in to take their place. That consistently short produced resulted in this season's Iron Woman, Alexa Aronson, putting forth a relatively Herculean effort with 82(!) games played this season. That is a remarkable number for a season that had only 56 sets and 2 tiebreakers. Nobody else was even close… But let's recognize those who led the other divisions with the following honorable mentions: Trey Rodgers of Pour Boys in A division with 51; Whit Bryant of The Brews Bros in B with 59; Tom Mushow of the Ale-ing Archers in C with 67 (tied for 2nd most in the league, with one of Aronson's teammates); Don Sautter and Shawn Leonard of Choot 'Em! in D with 58 each; Tolson Willis of Death Throw in E with 61; Rod Stacy of the Sharkshooters in F with 57; and Marc Garzon of We Be Triplin in G with 63.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Wow, I tagged a full 14 squads that were actually starting to move back toward this old trend (of starting the same 6 players every set every week). In the end, I picked out three teams that were the closest: #3 was Big Bulls in C division, who shared only 18 games with 2 other players; #2 was Brown's Bombers in G, who also shared the same 18 games with 2 players; and #1 was We Be Triplin in G, who played only 6, just with a couple short nights.

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

Well, I would have had to work pretty hard this season to do as badly as I did last season… that was just a mess. I didn't even come close to my record-setting rates from 2 and 3 seasons ago, but I did ok at least… Let's review, shall we?

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season, as evidence by the H division stuff this season), I did pretty dang well. I hit a few division winners, had a couple more division winners slotted for second, and even lost one winner just due to penalty points. I was way off in H division, but that division info got altered in a big way in a big hurry right after I published my picks… so… sorry, but there was just no chance. The only team that I really truly honestly missed this season was Dublin-Dublout, who WAY outdid my picks. Kudos to them!

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. I had improved in 5 of 6 seasons before last spring (when the crash happened and dogs married cats and Coke lovers also switched to Pepsi), so getting better this time was easy relative to last season. And that is saying something considering that I had two divisions below 60% this season (C and D), nine teams fooled me as often as not (or more!), and I was a horribly sad 4-9 in matches involving Nine Lives. Of course, if you consider the fact that I started 0-6 with the Niners, one might argue that I finished with a decent little run there…

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And as usual, we jump to best-of-three, and my picks look generally pretty strong, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals & finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. I was 23-8 in the quarterfinals, a pretty strong 12-4 in the semi-finals, and then I hit 4 of the 8 Mug champions (with my pick losing in the final in 3 other divisions! That's a final record of 39-16, which is just a touch worse than I did last season. Sadly, I didn't hit every match in even one division this time. My top Sure Things and Dark Horses picks were pretty damn nice though!

(I introduced this page seventeen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the six 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the three 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [C and D divisions were almost random events in my eyes this season. And in F, G & H divisions, there were 2, 1 & 1 teams I simply couldn't figure out… despite the fact their division mates were no problem!]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 5 question(s): We all know that division-winning teams climb up a rung in the next season, but most people don't really recognize how well they do the season after. What was the combined record last season of the teams that won the season before? And what is the current combined record of last season's division winners?

Week 6 question(s): Let's flip that week 5 question around… What was the combined record last season of the teams that had finished in last place in their division the season before? And what is the current combined record of last season's last-place teams?

Week 7 question(s): The state championships [were] held right here in one of RDL's host establishments next weekend (the 28th-30th, not the 21st-23rd - see page 6). How many times in the last decade has that occurred, and in what years?

Week 8 question: What dart of the seven in Tony Keller's record game [7-dart 301, see week 8 newsletter, page 1] did he miss? [I'm completely assuming that Tony is a man of at least normal intelligence (teammates on Is It In? please hold your snickering here…), and thus there is only one logical shot in the 7-dart string that could be the miss.]

Week 9 question: How many current RDL members have won a state championship shirt? (the tournament began in 1990)

Week 10 question: How many seasons out of my 33 as the statistician has RDL had 0 undefeated AND 0 winless teams?

Week 11 question: What is the lowest team win percentage (in terms of percentage of the 24 slots per match that the team won) for a team that won a regular season division title (at least in the last 33 seasons, the length of my tenure as statistician)?

Week 12 question(s): What is the earliest point in the season that a team can clinch a season title in an 8-team division? In a 7-team division? (And for the purposes of this question, we are disregarding the unlikely possibilities of double-forfeit matches and teams getting a series of late mail penalties that eventually begin removing their match wins.)

Week 13 question(s): Has any team clinched a division at the conclusion of week 10 during my tenure as statistician (the most recent 34 seasons, counting this one)? If so, who? If not, what is the fastest a division was claimed?

Week 5 answer(s): Ok, first let me point out that all of the division winners that could (obviously the A winner couldn't go anywhere) moved up exactly one division. And those 8 winners put together a very nice combined record of 67-41 (a fact that is even more impressive when you note that one team finished 2-12)! 3 of the 8 division winners claimed their division again (in A, E, and G), while another (in F) took 2nd place hardware. Two more finished 3rd (in A and B - yes, the B winner from the previous season went all the way up to 3rd in A!). Nice! And last season's division winners? They are pretty much kicking butt again, even with 7 of the 8 in a higher division: 28-10 total so far (24-7 at the time I published the question), with all but 1 of the 8 teams at 3-2 or better and in 4th place or higher (with three of them still undefeated). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: last season's first place teams combined this season for a 74-34 regular season record and a 14-4 tournament record, with 4 first place season finishes and 4 tournament titles.]

Week 6 answer(s): As with last week, first let me point out that all of the cellar dwellers that could (obviously the bottom H team couldn't go anywhere) moved down exactly one division (except for the last D team, which folded). And those remaining 7 bottom teams put together a respectable record of 43-55, and had 1 team immediately claim a division title and climb back up (but another team finished last again - eek!)! And last season's bottom teams? Well, that story isn't as great - 2 of the 8 folded before this season, and of the other 6, only one has a record above 2-4 (and oddly enough, that was the team in H that couldn't move down). They presently have a 12-24 combined record. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: last season's last place teams (the 7 that played, at least) combined this season for a 36-62 regular season record and a 6-6 tournament record, with one team coming through with Mugs!]

Week 7 answer: That weekend's NC State Championships were the third championships held in the Triangle in the last decade, but only the second held in an RDL establishment (unless you count the Cary VFW as an RDL spot because we used to hold our season-ending banquets there). Still, that's quite a few, and a nice benefit for local throwers. That's also second most of any area in the last 15 years combined: Greensboro (10 - 1998-2001, 2003-2006, 2010-2011), Cary (3 - 2008, 2009, 2012), Boone (1 - 2002), and Charlotte (1 - 2007).

Week 8 answer: Logically, it has to be dart #4. We know his 160-In left 141, so it's probably safe to assume that he threw at the triple-20 on dart 4. If he hit it, he would've been left on 81 and would've switched numbers, leaving almost no chance of ending up with 125 on his second turn. And if was dart 6 he missed, then… we need to talk to Tony about his math skills… [Turns out he hit a single-20 on dart 4, then set up his 16 with triple-17/triple-18 on darts 5 and 6.]

Week 9 answer: There are presently 24(!) active RDL members who have claimed a North Carolina State Championship shirt! In the 23 years of the NC championships, 495 shirt titles have been awarded, to 163 different people (extra note: this number could be a touch higher, as the 1991 open four-person 701 event winners were not recorded anywhere… can you imagine that?). The 24 active RDL state champs have won an astonishing 104(!) shirts between them, meaning they possess more than 21% of the shirts ever given, due in large part to the fact that the RDL presently has 3 of the only 7 people to ever amass 14 or more shirts. The current RDL members with state titles: Brian Blake (21 titles, 2nd most ever); Robbie Phillips (15); Tom Brown (14); Jim Budelman (8); Steve Hoffmann, Lis Pleasant, and Wil Tan (5 each); Michelle Stacy (4): Mike Hall, Mike Seward, Allen Smith, and Keith Wall (3 each); Robb Beeson, Maridy Knight, and David Murray (2 each); and Deb Blackwelder, Jimmy Davis, Kyle Gaulthier, Doug Jeffcoat, Kris Kilsdonk, Mark Knight, Tim Lane, Sean O'Brien, and Lee Whitehead (1 each). [Note: with the recent replacement of the four-player 701 event with singles 301, it will likely be more difficult in the coming years for people to join the state champions list…]

Week 10 answer: In my 33 seasons as the statistician, 3 times the RDL has produced neither an undefeated team nor a winless team (Fall 1998, Spring 2004, and Spring 2006). The last of those is the most remarkable, as there was a bye in each of the seven divisions, meaning every team played only 12 matches. Only two undefeated and two winless teams stand in the way of that so far this season.

Week 11 answer: In the Fall 2000 season, the Starving Dartists took home the D division regular season crown despite winning only 52.1% of their player slots!! They finished 9-5 that season, and outran Nine Lives (who had gotten a five-point penalty in week 11) by a whopping three points. Throughout the season, the

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page. No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "Loving you forever is what I need, Oh let me be the one you come running to, I'll never be untrue"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "Hangin' 'round downtown by myself, And I had too much caffeine, And I was thinkin' 'bout myself"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "Heaven help me for the way I am, Save me from these evil deeds before I get them done"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "If you know your history, Then you would where you coming from, Then you wouldn't have to ask me"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "Now over at the temple, They really pack 'em in, The in crowd say it's cool, To dig this chanting thing"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "Many times I've tried to tell you, Many times I've cried alone"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "Now the only thing a gambler needs, Is a suitcase and trunk, And the only time he's satisfied, Is when he's on a drunk"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "But you see, it's not me, it's not my family, In your head, in your head they are fighting"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "One hand in the air for the big city, Street lights, big dreams, all lookin' pretty"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "It was so easy, living day by day, Out of touch with the rhythm and blues"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "Started out this morning feeling so polite, I always thought a fish could not be caught who wouldn't bite"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "DJ Soul was on a roll, I've been told he can't be sold, He's not vicious or malicious"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "I made it down the coast in seventeen hours, Picking me a bouquet of dogwood flowers, And I'm a hopin' for Raleigh, I can see my baby tonight"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "I'm stranded in a sleet of rain, Don't think I'm ever gonna make it home again, The mornin' sun is risin', It's kissin' the day"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "I said 'look man, a-what time is it?', He said 'the clock on the wall say three o'clock, Last call for alcohol'"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "You could be someone, you could be my scene, You know that I'll protect you, from all of the obscene"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "I'm so scared, in case I fall off my chair, And I'm wondering how I'll get down the stairs"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "...Is my private cul de sac, I can't get from the cab to the curb, Without some little jerk on my back"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "Even if I say, It'll be alright, Still I hear you say, You want to end your life, Now and again we try, To just stay alive"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Though we really did try to make it, Something inside has died, And I can't hide it, And I just can't fake it"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "You're in hiding, and you hold your meetings, I can hear you coming, and I know what you're after"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "In a tavern or in a honky tonk or on a four-wheel drive tailgate, I've got posters on my wall of Skynyrd, Kid and Strait"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "Who could ask for more, Everybody's comin', leave your body at the door"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "You can't get romantic on a subway line, Conductor don't like it, says 'you're wastin' your time'"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "Tell me your troubles and doubts, Giving me everything inside and out, and love's strange so real in the dark"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "It's so easy to blow up your problems, It's so easy to play up your breakdown, It's so easy to fly through a window"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "You know you got me goin' now, Just like I knew you would"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "And you're playing so cool, Obeying every rule, I dig a way down in your heart, You're burning, yearning for songs"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "I touched you once, I touched you twice, I won't let go at any price, I need you now like I needed you then"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "But it's been no bed of roses, No pleasure cruise, I consider it a challenge before the whole human race"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "Call me a relic call me what'cha will, Say I'm old fashioned say I'm over the hill"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "Ain't there one damn song that can make me, Break down and cry?... All night"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "I can see a new horizon, Underneath the blazin' sky, I'll be where the eagle's flying, Higher and higher"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "Plastic tubes and pots and pans, Bits and pieces and, Magic from the hand, We're makin'..."

[Some of the weeks had themes, with some of them obvious and some of them subtle. But none of them was as recognized and appreciated as the biggest hit songs from a dozen iconic '80s movies (listed in alphabetical order by movie title) in week 14. The movies were: #1 - Back To School, #2 - Better Off Dead, #3 - The Breakfast Club, #4 - Fast Times at Ridgemont High, #5 - Ferris Bueller's Day Off, #6 - Footloose, #7 - Pretty In Pink, #8 - Revenge of the Nerds, #9 - Risky Business, #10 - Sixteen Candles, #11 - St. Elmo's Fire, #12 - Weird Science. - JK]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED…

Dartists only surpassed 14 points twice, getting a win with 15 points and a win with 16 points (all the way back in week 1). Their season-long set records were 45-39 in 301, 42-42 in SCkt, 19-23 in DCkt, and 25-17 in 501 (yes, they had a losing overall cricket record), for a total overall player slot record of 175-161. I guess it's not how many you win, but how well you balance the number of those wins each week. For those who are curious… yes, we have two teams this season for whom this record just might be in reach: Choot 'Em! in D (presently 3rd, but only by points, and sporting a 0.530 winning rate so far), and 8T0 Proof in G (presently 2nd, but only by points, and sporting a 0.527 winning rate so far). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: that record is safe this season… the lowest win rate for a division-claiming team this season was the Brown's Bombers' 56.0% rate in G division.]

Week 12 answer: Barring a bunch of heavy point penalties or forfeits or heavily shorthanded matches (all of which could have excessive effects on any point race situations), an 8-team division can't be clinched before week 10. After week 9, it isn't possible to have greater than a 5-match lead (with 5 weeks to play). That means that Projectile Dysfunction and BullsHitters each clinched their division titles this season only one week after the fastest possible time. A 7-team division also can't be clinched before week 10, but that would obviously be with fewer than 10 wins (since every team would have had to have had at least one bye by that point).

Week 13 answer: In my term as statistician (the last 34 seasons), not one single team has clinched a division during week 10 (the fastest time possible, see week 12 question above). Quite a few teams have clinched division titles in week 11, with the most recent being… both 1 to Potato in C division and the BullsHitters in E division just one month ago.

LEAGUE RECORD TIED AGAIN!!!!!

Earlier this season, I told you all about how Tony Keller of Is It In? had tied an all-time RDL record with a 7-dart 301 game. That is scary fast… 6 perfect darts and only 1 miss. Tough to top that. So tough that nobody ever has in league play here in the RDL. In fact, only one person had ever thrown a 7-darter in the RDL before Tony did it. And now… that same person is also the only one to throw a 7-darter since Tony did it! Tom Brown of Narfle the Element, who held that record all alone for several years, evidently wasn't satisfied with holding 1/2 of the record, so in the A division tournament final he threw a 7-darter again! I guess he sort of holds 2/3 of the record now… in a way… record held by Brown, Keller, and… Brown again. This time Brown led off with a smooth 149-In, stuck a triple-20 on the fourth dart, but only hit a single-20 on the fifth dart. Triple-16 on the sixth dart set up the double-12 winner on dart 7. (And yes, Brown did win the set. And then he won his singles cricket. And his double cricket… taking that last one with a third-leg final turn of 3 15s and 3 bulls!)

HOW ABOUT THIS FOR A SET?

The 7-darter above highlighted what was a pretty excellent night of darts in the A division final between Element and Klitzkrieg. But that certainly wasn't the first time those teams had gotten together for some big throws… In week 13, those same two teams played their second regular season match, and the 301 set that night was won in games of 12, 12, 13, 15, 15, and 17 darts. That is only 84 total darts for the six winners in that set!! 14 darts was the average game in that set. And what you don't see in that initial number is that only one of those six games wasn't actually really close and coming down to one turn. Nice!

EVER HIT THAT DREAM SHOT?

Ok, so if you're reading this, the odds are that you're a darter. And you're probably one of the hundreds of weekly warriors like the rest of us, all dreaming of those big nights when we help our teams to the big victory… Those are the best things that most of us will ever pull from our nights at darts (since most of us are not multi-time national champions), and we wouldn't trade those days for anything. But in addition to those great team victory nights, I will bet that each and every one of you has had at least a fleeting daydream about being the hero in one of those matches. About being that guy or girl who hits the monster shot in the most clutch of moments, with the season's victory or defeat hanging in the balance. And I will bet that for almost every one of you, the shot you hit in the daydream is not just a one-dart double or something… it's probably a three-dart perfect throw. Great little daydreams, right? Well… how many of us have ever actually hit that dream shot? Very few of us ever even end up in the situation to face one, much less hit it. I've personally hit things like a 170-Out in the RDL… in the second leg of a 301 set in the quarterfinals, in a match in which my team would barely have noticed if I had skipped the match entirely. Big shot? Sure. Clutch shot? Debatable, at best. The fact is that the very very very very large majority of us will never join that perfect-throw-team-hero club. But that majority no longer includes one of my teammates in the Bull City Dart League (BCDL) in Durham.

A few weeks ago, my team was in the championship match of the BCDL leaguewide tournament, against a team (made up of all RDL members, by the way) that was undefeated for the entire season to that point. My team fought for a slight lead heading to the final three games of the night (2 DCkt games and a four-player 801). My team would win the League Cup, and prevent our opponents from completing a perfect season (something that has been done VERY rarely in the handicapped league's history, and only by our team) with both DCkt wins, or with the 4-player. After my team had won the first DCkt, my teammates Alberto Sandoval (of Mug Hunters) and Robb Beeson (of Narfle the Element) in the other game reached the bull down by 8 marks and about 35 points. It certainly looked like we were headed to the 4-player for a one-game showdown. But… after a few odd darts from their opponents, Beeson and Sandoval threw turns that included 4B, 3B, 3B, and 2B+triple-to-close+single (this being one of Sandoval's final three turns of the night…). After Beeson had pointed again and the opponents had pointed by a handful more, Beeson told Sandoval to just go load it up. And then came the turn that probably none of us will forget for years (if ever). Load it up, he did… With the League Championship Cup on the line, with one of the biggest comebacks I've ever seen in a game well on its way, against the opposition's two best players who had both been playing very well, Sandoval stepped to the line, and… Double-bull… double-bull… double…bull!!!!!!! A perfect throw, with all three shots in the smallest target on the dartboard, with an entire team on his back (and some of our team is pretty dang heavy, pal… some of us in terms of weight, and some like me in terms of ability…). Sandoval had hit the frickin' home run. Like so many of us have daydreamed about so many times. Now sure, it wasn't the 'final' turn, but it was just a few more singles to end the match (and Sandoval hitting two singles with two darts on his next turn to end it might actually be almost as impressive of a turn, since some might expect the post-excitement letdown). The only throw I can remember being as big as this one was Jon Kenney's 137-Out in the third leg of 501 in the RDL A final for Element, against the opponents' best pair (see Fall 2010 RDL banquet Tons, pg. 14, for the story of that masterpiece).

THE RDL STILL SO ROCKS!!

Remember last December when I wrote this exact paragraph?:

"North Carolina is, honestly, quite a hotbed of dart talent in the southeast. Many of the best players around hail from our state, and I don't mean just the National Champs (e.g., Robbie Phillips) and the ADO #1s (e.g., Brian Blake). It's the next hundred or so top guys that really make North Carolina shine. And on top of that, a large portion of the state's talent calls the RDL home!"

I wrote that after the North Carolina City Dart League (NCCDL) & North Carolina Ladies' Cup (NCLC) championships were both claimed by teams chock full of RDL members. In addition, almost all of the best regular season stuff in 2011 was also done by RDL members. Well… guess what… the 2012 NCCDL and NCLC seasons and tournament just completed, and do you want to take a random shot at what happened this year? Yep! The RDL stocked the winning teams in both leagues again!!!

The NCCDL and NCLC are leagues featuring the best players from the entire state, basically organized into sort of city-wide all-star teams. They play a year-long calendar of travel matches highlighted by some long-standing inter-city rivalries and some of the highest level darting most of us might ever see without the aid of an internet feed from a European tournament. (For full results from this year, see pages 18 and 19). And this year was another great year for RDL league members…

In the NCCDL, the Durham team (comprised of 14 players, 13 of whom are RDL members) defended its title in strong fashion, taking its 8th state title in the last 13 years!! And did so this year with an undefeated regular season to go with the tournament victories. Add in the fact that Durham was the losing finalist in 4 of those remaining 5 years (all to Wilmington) and you have the makings of quite a run… Congratulations to my Durham teammates (from left to right): standing - Wil Tan (of Narfle the Element), Todd Lemons, Allen Smith (Element), Mike Seward (of Klitzkrieg), Mark Knight (Element), Robbie Phillips (Element), Robb Beeson (Element), Chad Massengill (BullsHitters), Kyle Gaulthier (Element), Jason Kilts (Element), Paul Jacobi (Lunatic Fringe); kneeling - Tom Brown (Element), Keith Wall (Element); missing from photo - Jeremy Dziczkowski (Element).

RDL RULE CHANGE FOR 2013

Just a quick notice from the RDL Board, a rule change effective immediately for all coming seasons: "effective January 2013, the RDL Board has REMOVED the exceptions to the 15-mile radius (for the old After Hours and Varina Sports Bar)."

Summary of the rule change from JK (meaning not actually written by the RDL Board): Given the fact that After Hours is now at a new address within the 15-mile radius, that portion of this change is really just paperwork. And since no teams have played at Varina Sports Bar recently, that portion was really just the closing of the last loophole allowed many years ago. This rule change means one very simple thing that will make life easier for all Board members, as well as for any teams looking for a new home establishment. It means you should use the RDL website map feature that allows you to put in an address and see if it's within the 15-mile radius… If your new place is within the 15 miles, hang the dartboards and call the RDL Board for inspection and approval. If your prospective new place is not within the 15 miles, don't even bother asking. The rule is 15 miles, and that means 15 miles, and asking repeatedly or having different people ask the same question will not change the rule or the outcome. Simple, right?

MORE MEMORABLE DOUBLES PAIRINGS…

Every so often teams turn in a scoresheet listing a doubles pair with names that make me chuckle when I read them together. Then, sometimes I share them here in case they amuse you too…

In week 1, the Blind Squirrels (with the assistance of Sharky's Machine, who picked half the team as a blocker for the short-handed Squirrels) won a game with the pair of Tom/Cruze (as Michael Cruze is often listed solely by his last name)

Also in week 1, Wire We Back won a game with the 101.5 FM morning show pairing of Bill/Linda

In week 8, Fire for Effect dropped a 501 with the pairing of John/Kenny (clearly losing because their guys misspelled the name of my multi-Mug-winning teammate Jon Kenney)

In week 13, the Blind Squirrels painted a nice 501 victory with the pairing of Michael/Angelo

And in week 14, the Ducks put together a winning 501 pair for all the Liam Neeson fans out there with Martin/Harris (if you don't know that one, go rent Unknown…)

I LOVE THE RDL BRACKET SETUPS…

Some people will always complain about space, travel distances, quality of the setup relative to what they are used to having, etc., but I personally think the bracket style that Membership Director Heather Bohanan has put together (all divisional semifinals held in the same bar as the other division match, all the finals held next to other finals) is brilliant. Really adds something to it all.

In the NCLC, there was a changing of the guard this year, but just from one team full of RDL members to another team full of RDL members! Congratulations to the Fuquay-Varina ladies, who won an absolute nailbiter over Hickory, in a match that went to the third leg of the third set of doubles cricket. Yes, that's right, an entire year-long season of darts and travel came to down to the very last game of the very last set in the very last match on the very last day of the season. Tami Wells came through the Cup-winning dart in just a monster set. After Sherry Barnette of Hickory hit a 4-bull and Deb Blackwelder of Fuquay-Varina followed with a 6m on 16s, Hickory needed 1 bull and 2 16s. Lora Josey hit the bull, but wired the double-16 on her last dart, leaving Fuquay-Varina needing just 1 bull… As Deb herself put it: "Of course, Tami the over-achiever hits a double bull (with her 1st dart) to win the match and the Cup…" The new reigning champion team (photo on left) is: standing - Karla McCray, Kris Kilsdonk (of Fire for Effect), Tami Wells (Wire We Back), Deb Blackwelder (Wire We Back); kneeling - Lisa Dendy, Linda Jones (Wire We Back), Allyson Blackwelder (Onemoregin).

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- If I was to change my last name to "No", don't you think that would be one of the most functionally beneficial name changes ever? Just imagine how many parking areas I would have all to myself. It's not like there are entire streets with signs that say Smith Parking or Miller Parking… but No Parking areas are frickin' everywhere.

-- Do you ever fly on Southwest Airlines? You know, the airline that doesn't have assigned seats? I personally sort of love the rates that you can get from Southwest, and I don't mind signing in online to get my spot in the seating line. But I'll tell you what… I have encountered on a few occasions couples who get on the plane in the early portions of the passenger groups, and then sit in something like seats A and C in the same row, leaving the seat between them empty. Nobody is required to sit in any specific seat, but to come in as a pair, leave a seat open between you, and then proceed to talk back and forth over the person stuck between your window-hogging and aisle-grubbing asses, is just plain self-centered and rude. Sit in those two seats if you want, but don't put some other person in the middle of your conversation. You're going to get me tossed off my flight when I lose the ability to resist smacking both of you in the head.

-- Every now and then a great television commercial comes along that I (and maybe you?) just never get tired of seeing. [For reference, see: Orbit gum lint-licker ad. :o)] But every now and then, a commercial (or in my case two) comes along that admittedly isn't really all that good at all, but for some reason I still love it. My two commercials that I love right now are the Toyota "grounded to the ground!" ad, and the Galaxy S III phone ad where the guy's daughters and wife make him videos for his trip. In the Toyota ad, it's the way the announcer growls the catch phrase. And in the Galaxy S III ad, it's the way his wife just barely raises her eyebrow when she warns him that he shouldn't watch her video on the airplane… she is awesome. Love that one.

-- My favorite bumper sticker of this past year? "I have no intention of tiptoeing through life only to arrive safely at death."

-- Maybe this isn't all that rational, but you know those giant stuffed sumo wrestling suits they use at stuff like baseball games? Those things look fun as hell. Anybody got a set of those I can borrow?

-- But then again, after I think about that… I don't want to borrow anybody's set of those. Can you imagine how much sweat must be soaked into the interior lining of those things? Especially in the ones used during summer sporting events… Oh, yikes. Those would likely remind me of some of our darting brothers' t-shirts during the spring season tournament matches in May…

-- You want to know what bugs the crap out of me? Well… of course you do… that's probably half the reason why half of you even bother reading this column, right? And maybe you're tired of these guys too. Which guys do I mean? Local television news reporters who "report live!" from someplace during the 11 o'clock news show. They are almost without fail reporting from someplace where something happened at some point in time that isn't now. It's usually in front of places like the local courthouse, where a trial happened ten hours earlier, involving people that you can't see or hear now, with lawyers and officers involved who are now at home watching this very same broadcast. Why the heck is that reporter live from outside that building? To show us the color of the bricks used to construct the building? To give us a view of the ever-present plastic bag blowing by on the deserted sidewalk? There is frickin' NOBODY there!! Why do you think we need to see you at THAT spot? There is zero added news value associated with you being there. All you did was burn up some gas driving you and your camera man over to that location. It's wasteful and it's stupid. What…in…the…hell…

-- You know how your smartphone (at least for those of you that have one) shows your location in some apps? I don't keep the GPS on my phone turned on, but I do have a weather app that is part of the clock program, and it reports the weather for whatever my current location is just by reading the tower that it is pinging. And it's usually pretty accurate, and generally uses pretty standard town names…Durham, Pittsboro, Apex, Roxboro, etc. But a few weeks ago I went to Greenville to see a concert with some friends of mine, and we passed the town Conetoe. Now that name itself is pretty much odd enough to be interesting, but it's what my phone read that was really odd. It said my location was "2, Lower Conetoe". Where the heck did that numeral 2 come from? Does its presence imply that there is a 1, Lower Conetoe? Or is 1 associated with Upper Conetoe? Which begs another question… when the heck did Conetoe become big enough to have a Lower?

-- Did anybody here happen to see those Pittsburgh Steelers throwback uniforms they wore a couple times this season? Those horrid things look like some sad combination of the bumblebee costume the kid wore in that Blind Melon music video a couple decades ago and a prison outfit from some early 1900s Keystone Kops movie. I just couldn't stop looking at them, as if they were some sort of awful train wreck that had locked in my attention. The only thing that really made me look away was that those silly pants they were wearing almost seemed to be nude tone. Oh, yikes. I still find it hard to believe an entire organization thought those were a good (or even passably acceptable) idea for public use.

-- You guys all know that stupid or inaccurate crap that people perpetuate bothers the hell out of me. I just want to slap all those people that aren't smart enough to see the obviously incorrect side of whatever the issue is. For example, remember when a giant pile of people celebrated a new millennium when the year number switched from 1999 to 2000? Ummm…the new millennium started in 2001, ya tools… Well, as the new year nears, I'm now reminded by an ad of one of these stupidly inaccurate names that was first brought to my attention by longtime RDL member Bill Buckley. And this one is about to bombard you for a week or two as you live and work in our state capital… As Bill pointed out, the New Year's celebration in many places (including here in Raleigh) is called "First Night". Why the heck is it First Night when actually it is the last night of the year? If they want it to be first something, shouldn't it be first morning or first day? But first night? Ummm… nope. Not even close. As Bill said then, 'maybe someone can clear that up at last - or maybe I should say "at first".....?'

-- Do you have a Bluetooth phone? Is it one of those really little ones that isn't even all that obvious from looking at you straight on? If yes, then please do me a favor… Don't have a phone conversation near me… especially one where you weren't talking for the first 30 seconds or so when you are first in my presence… You just blurting out something out of context is uncomfortable.

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- So I'm driving down the road the other day and I'm coming up behind a Volkswagen Passat, and it's license plate reads: MYVWP! Cute, right? Just flippin' adorable… This just HAS to be a woman of about 22 years old in her first car that she ever bought for herself, doesn't it? Well, I thought so. Right up until I saw that the driver was a curmudgeonly old man that was about 70 years old. Someone please tell me he borrowed his granddaughter's car…

-- You know what I love? People who are either too stupid or too lazy to look at the actual cost of something. Like the people who buy the 12-pack of something for $7, because the bulk pack is always the cheapest, despite the fact that the 6-pack of the same thing right next to those is only $3. Two x $3 is only $6, people. Well, I encountered an interesting one that most people probably would never even consider. I went into McDonald's (because I had something like 2 minutes to get food, not because I love McD's) and was planning on ordering the 2-cheeseburger meal. It comes with a medium fry and a medium drink, and that seemed like enough food for me. But then I looked at the price for that "Value Meal"… $5.19. Not a king's ransom or anything, but I perused the rest of the board, then walked to the counter and ordered: "2 cheeseburgers, not the meal, just the burgers. A medium fry. And I'll have a large Coke." That's actually the same food and more soda, so it should cost more, right? Cheeseburgers? 1.09 each. Medium fries? 1.39. Large Coke? 1.00 (because all drinks are a dollar now). That means that my food totaled $4.57. Yep, 62 cents LESS than if I had gotten the same thing as a meal, (even with my bigger drink). Nope, 62 cents will not change my outlook on life, but knowing that I'm not paying more than I should because I'm not a dolt might.

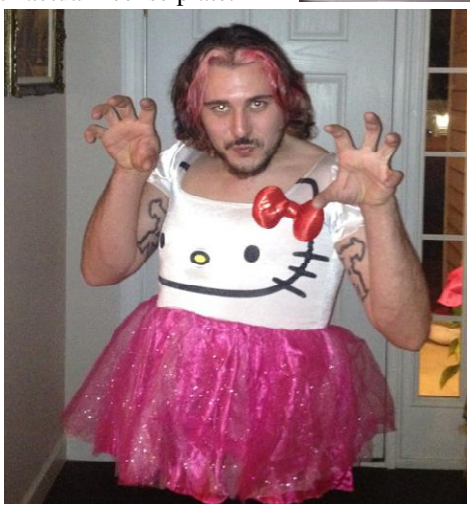
-- I'm going to miss American Idol… I was never a hardcore fan or anything like that, but I enjoyed catching some shows each season. Some of the early ones to laugh at the clueless, and some of the later ones to see who is making it, who I like, whatever. And I had just convinced myself that I could learn to ignore new judge Mariah Carey enough to watch. Then they announced that the poster child for trash, Nicki Minaj, would be a judge. Done. Over. Never watching again. That disgusting bit of filth that record executives love because she can sell drivel to teenagers has ended any chance of me watching. At all. Ever. Oh, yuck… vomit… Minaj replaced Kesha (nope, still not putting a stupid dollar sign in her name) as my least favorite act a long time ago. Hell, Kesha can't even see Minaj from her spot on my hatred scale.

-- While we're on the subject of dropping a couple rants, let's invite my rant-compadre Heather Bohanan in, shall we? She shares a pure unadulterated hatred for a commercial that I have. I think I will let her speak for herself, taking some text straight out of an email she sent me last week, when she said that her ire reminded me of the rants I run in the Tons: "The K-mart commercials with the annoying music about the layaway leap and crap were annoying, but the one that goes 'The lights, the lights, the lights that light the lights' makes me want to shoot my TV. Not only is it highly annoying, its moronic. Hello, let's try to have a basic understanding of the functionality of electricity – LIGHTS don't light other lights. If they are waiting for that to happen, it's gonna be real damn dark in your local K mart……" Ha! I love her. I couldn't have said it better myself. But you know what I can't decide if I love or hate? The fact that we found out that somebody actually released that schlock as a song!!! That makes me weep a bit for humanity.

-- Hey, should we run a few photos that I've collected over the past few months for you guys? I never know what to do with them, so this seems like as good a time as any to share them…

Left photo in first pair: I work at the Durham VA Medical Center. Yep, that's a government facility. And yep, that's a door about 18 feet off the ground on the top floor of our parking deck. Open. Why? I've learned not to ask questions like that too often.

Right photo in first pair: If you want to sell something, you need it to be new, better, or at least different. Kudos to Coke on their hot new idea! The 2-liter family bottle. Brilliant, I say!



Say what you want about me for including this next one, but I think it's frickin' funny that a Chinese Trampolinist has the name Dong Dong. Too bad if you think that makes me insensitive or xenophobic. You're wrong. It makes me able to recognize really funny st. Plus, he won the gold medal!! Yep, the announcers had to introduce a national anthem played in honor of Mr. Dong. (And no, it was not Let's Get It On or Sexual Healing…)

I get that it's in honor of breast cancer awareness, and I personally love it… but I'm still surprised that North Carolina let this be an actual license plate.

And my final Tons thought for 2012… What exactly do you think you would do if Zak Mayhew (of Pulled Cork) showed up at your doorstep on Halloween in this outfit and asked you for some candy?

No, stop laughing… Seriously, what do you think you'd do??

Zak, my man, that is righteous…

NCLC "East" Division -- Candi Ellis - Wilmington - 10-0 (sets), 20-1 (games)

NCCDL / NCLC MEETING RESULTS FROM THE OCTOBER MEETING

NCCDL and NCLC: The NCCDL will operate with a 15-team league (the same 14 from this season, plus the newly added Pineville Dart Club), using the Central/Peripheral style of divisions that we have employed in odd-numbered years for a while now. The Central division will include Piedmont, Chapel Hill, Durham, Raleigh, Fuquay-Varina, Cary, and Capital Area. The Mountain/Beach division will include Asheville, Lake Norman, Charlotte, both Pineville teams, Jacksonville, Wilmington, and Port City. Central teams will play 8 matches and the Mountain/Beach teams will play 7 matches, with all matches during the regular season being inter-divisional. == The NCLC will operate with either 11 or 12 teams, in a similar division format, with the following team groupings (since some leagues have only one team or the other): Piedmont/Chapel Hill/Apex/Capital Area/Fuquay-Varina/ (and maybe Durham? - but almost certainly not...), and Asheville/Hickory/Pineville Dart Club/Charlotte/Jacksonville/Wilmington. The NCLC will add intradivision matches as needed to bring their match total to 7 for all teams (although if it's an 11-team league, one team will have something different).

HISTORY OF THE NCCDL…

It was back in 1995 that Tim Lane (now of the Cary NCCDL team) first introduced the idea of the statewide year-long season style of play to replace the old "one team holds the cup against a string of challengers" sytem. It's still possibly the most popular and successful idea ever for anything larger than a local league. Here are the 17 tournament final results so far:

1996: Raleigh over Charlotte
1997: Piedmont over Durham
1998: Piedmont over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
1999: Wilmington over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
2000: Durham over Charlotte
2001: Durham over Wilmington
2002: Wilmington over Durham
2003: Wilmington over Durham
2004: Wilmington over Durham
2005: Durham over Wilmington
2006: Durham over Charlotte
2007: Durham over Charlotte
2008: Durham over Charlotte
2009: Wilmington over Charlotte
2010: Wilmington over Durham
2011: Durham over Lake Norman
2012: Durham over Wilmington

Request to the NCLC Ladies: if any of you have a history of the results like the one above for the NCCDL, I would love to have a copy of those so I can periodically run an NCLC history as well. Drop me a line please if you're willing to share.

TONS OF NEWSLETTER

Home to the Spring Session of the Raleigh Dart League for the Banquet, Saturday, May 18, 2013 Issue #JK560
The "I Really Can't Imagine A Decade Going A Whole Lot Better Than That One Just Did" Edition

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - Klitzneckers (13-5)
Klitzneckers started throwing smoke about mid-match, ending Element's two-and- a-half-season win streak by turning a 5-5 tie into a bit of a romp with a huge set of doubles cricket wins.

"B" Division - Slop and Shots (13-11)
One of the league's best matchups (Slop vs. Reaperz) produces nailbiter awesomeness, going to game 3 of the final set, and then… devolves into a (very) extended d1 battle won by Paul Beaudoin.

"C" Division - Dublin Dublout (?-?)
The only team from outside the top two in a division to make a finals match finishes the job, as Dublin Dublout completes the sweep of the #2, #3, and #1 C division finishers in succession.

"D" Division - BullsHitters (13-5)
They might've dropped a match during the season, and then been trailing during a playoff match, but the highest-scoring team of the regular season didn't face a tournament match closer than 13-6.

"E" Division - Methodical Madness (14-4)
In a division tournament full of close scores, the Madness rolls through three straight matches only having to play 501 in one of those, as they head toward their 5th different division in 5 seasons.

"F" Division - Brown's Bombers (14-6)
In what might be starting to sound like a broken record to We Be Triplin, the Bombers complete their second consecutive season/ tournament double (with Triplin finishing second in all of those).

"G" Division - Five-OH! Whizzle (13-11)
Whizzle is one of five teams (divs. D-H) to complete the season/ tournament double, but they were probably the most nervous, winning their only two matches played by identical 13-11 scores.

"H" Division - Same Day Different Darts (13-7)
Same Day ends the spring as the only RDL team to go undefeated in both the season and tournament, giving up only 9 total points in the tournament (with 78% of those coming in this finals match).

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - The Decennary Element (12 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - Klitzneckers

"B" Division - The Reaperz (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Slop and Shots

"C" Division - Nine Lives (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Red Dragons

"D" Division - BullsHitters (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Carry Oakie

"E" Division - Methodical Madness (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Sharky's Machine

"F" Division - Brown's Bombers (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - We Be Triplin

"G" Division - Five-OH! Whizzle (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - UZMAgain

"H" Division - Same Day Different Darts (14 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - That's What She Said

Rosters of all season- and tournament-winning teams are on page 4.)

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Wow, in the same season that we had a seemingly impossibly low league total of penalties (see page 6), we also had the least amount of tiebreaker drama that we've had in many seasons! Wow, what a weird season… We only 34 total games of 1001 (and only 1 of those came during the divisional tournaments). No team lost more than 2, only 2 teams won more than 2, and only two teams played as many as 3. E division led the way with 9 tiebreakers (including the only one in the tournaments), followed by C with 7, D and G with 5 each, and then all of A, B, F, and H with only 2 each. Yep, that's right, four different divisions had only two tiebreakers each… all season…

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) is shared by Julie's Angels in C division, Menace 2 Sobriety in E, and Ton 80 Proof in G. Both the Angels and Ton 80 managed a 3-1, thus being the only 3-tiebreaker-win teams in the league (Menace was 2-2).

The Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost) is shared by five teams, and since the greatest number lost is only 2, I don't really think that's all that heartbreaking. I suppose maybe the most heartbreaking one would be Menace's 2nd loss since it was in the tournament semis, but one could argue the Red Dragons' first (to Nine Lives) was most painful, as it cost them the C title (but occurred way back in week 1).

FALL 2013 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

These dates (or at least some of them) are on page 8, as well as on pages 1 and 40, but I am putting them in many locations because they might be the most important thing for you in this newsletter.

Wednesday, July 24th - Fall season registration, Rally Point (online registration available in days immediately prior to the 24th)
Wed., Aug. 7th - Preseason capts.' mtg./packet pickup, Rally Point
Wednesday, August 14th - Start of Fall season match play
Monday, Sept. 16th - Fifth week captains' meeting, Rally Point
Wed., Nov. 20, Dec. 4/11 - Fall season divisional tournaments
Saturday, December 14th - Fall season banquet, site TBD

A MATCH MADE IN… THE UPPER DECK??

People can find love just about anywhere in their daily lives. So, why not at a dart match, right? Ok, to be fair, I don't actually know if they met through darts, but Lauren (Schmidt) and Bryan Gaines (of Show Us Your Tips) are certainly darters to the core. And now they're married to the core!! Back in March (on the 23rd, I think), Bryan somehow tricked Lauren into saying 'yes', and now she has to live with that silly mistake for years to come. Of course, if the second photo is any indication of home life, I'm thinking maybe it might not have been a silly mistake after all… Check out that hands-covering-mouth reaction. They claim it was all about a garter. Ok, actually only Lauren claimed it was all about a garter…

Anyway, our most sincere congratulations to the happy couple.

(And you really should see the before/after rehearsal/wedding photos to see Bryan's hair. They said they were going to share, but haven't yet.)

6-Bulls

(none reported)

Ton-70-Ins and Outs

(none reported)

For those who are new or simply were not aware of it: fast games, high ins and high outs in the tournament do not win awards unless they are perfect shots (170s) or games.

OTHER TOURNAMENT HOT DARTS (Sorry, no award -- but they're still great shots)

Kenny Persson	Klitzneckers	"Perfect" 8m (two triples & a double-bull)	Donald Grubb	Triple Threats	146-Out	Mike Seward & Scott Stankevich	Klitzneckers 17-dart 501, 18-dart 501, in same set
Wil Tan	The Decennary Element	8m	Paul Beaudoin	Slop and Shots	120-Out	And while it's not actually from a match, this warmup game action was pretty awesome in back-to-back '01 games:
Tom Brown	The Decennary Element	5-Bulls	Paul Beaudoin	Slop and Shots	12-dart 301

SPRING 2013 PENALTY SUMMARY

WOW!! This is one of the best seasons in terms of penalty that the RDL has had during my tenure. Seriously. If I went back to check the all-time historical records, this might well be the least-penalized season ever! And on top of that, the penalties that did exist had almost zero effect on… anything. Only two teams in the entire league got more than one penalty (and those two only got two each), and one division (H) had zero penalties at all. In total, there was 1 preseason captains' meeting penalty (for 5 total points), 7 phone penalties (35 total points), 4 mail penalties (64 total points), 1 incomplete tiebreaker penalty (16 points), 1 ineligible player penalty (that only cost 5 points), and 1 penalty for the deliberate defacement of a scoresheet (10 points). That means the league as a whole had only 15 total penalties, for a total loss of only 135 points. And something rare happened: not one single team lost even one spot in the standings due to a penalty. None, zip, zero. Awesome.

Even rarer than that though is the last penalty in that list above… The deliberate scoresheet defacement was, to my knowledge, the first in RDL history. It was also the first intentional penalty in my tenure. You really should see it… really… so turn to page 14…

SUMMER DARTS

Well, we're about at that time when most of us take a Wednesday break for a couple months, with the Fall season not starting up until July/August. And for those of us that really need to replace our regular Wednesday night out at darts, there are quite a few options, from leagues to blind draws to tournaments…

Tuesday league - BCDL - in Durham

Ok, this one just started this past week, so initial team registration is already over. But that doesn't mean there might not be a team looking for another player or two. You can visit www.thebcdl.org to peruse rosters, and you can contact league officers for any information on teams looking for players through the website as well (you should probably start with Treasurer Maridy Knight).

Thursday league - TDL - in Chapel Hill

The registration information for the TDL isn't out yet, but the spring finals are June 13th. So I would expect the registration meeting to occur sometime in that next week. You can check www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/ for information updates soon.

possible Monday league - in… Raleigh-ish area?

Tom Wiegand let me know that he is trying to start up new league with a minimum of 4 players (max of 8), with a 14-week season plus playoffs. Dues would be $20 per player, format would be best-of-3 doubles 401 & cricket and singles 301 & cricket. Play would begin on June 10th, and registration would be done via their website (www.nextdaisportsleague.com). Bars that might participate are On the Snap, The Brick (Fuquay), Chevy's Ale House (Apex), The Local Bar (Apex), Jack Piner (Apex), Champions in Morrisville and Raleigh, and Rally Point.

Or maybe a blind draw…

Page 8 lists the regular weekly blind draws offered by RDL host establishments, and there are a bunch. But I'm also sure that The Upper Deck will be adding a weekly Wednesday draw for every week this summer. It will have basically the same features as the Friday and Sunday draws, with the same entry fee and pay out.

And for those lookin' for a bigger tournament…

Lots and lots of weekend tournament action is available within a moderate distance as well. You can see pages 20 and 21 for fliers for events in such nearby locales as Richmond (June 7-9), Greensboro (June 21-23), and Charlotte (July 12-14). There's also a big tournament in Nashville (July 26-28). And that list doesn't even include the most important one of them all… which is…

THE 8TH ANNUAL WRECK AT THE DECK !!! (see pg. 20)

Yep, one of the best ADO tournaments on the annual calendar is right in your back yard again. May 31st-June 2nd at The Upper Deck on Harrison Avenue. Too good and too close to pass up…

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "H" = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:
for all Divisions except "A", and all "B-G" division teams except B7, F2, F6, G1, G4, G5, G6, G8, & H5 (8 teams/div.):
Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for Div. "A" (7 teams / div.), teams F6, G8 (due to 2 ffts. rcvd.):
min. of 16 Singles Games Played, 32 Total Games Played for teams B7, F2, G1, G4, G5, G6 & H5 (due to 1 forfeit rcvd.):
min. of 18 Singles Games Played, 35 Total Games Played

THE THIRTY-THIRD SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs

A Division	Shane Murray	Klitzneckers	E Division	John Carroll	Methodical Madness
B Division	Jerry Oakley	The Reaperz	F Division	David Simpson	Home Grown Wolves
C Division	Randy Wilcox	Julie's Angels	G Division	Andy Krestalude	Ton 80 Proof
D Division	Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	H Division	David Martin	Duck Dynasty

All of RDL -- John Carroll -- Methodical Madness

"A" Division (really had ten guys for this one)

Tom Brown	The Decennary Elen	Nothing flashy, just dozens of wins again.
Simon Healy	Triple Threats	A matchup almost nobody wants to draw.
Jon Kenney	The Decennary Elen	Hit roughly 2,394 huge turns this season.
Sid Mitchell	Appetite for Destruc	Gets on strings of 10-15 near perfect darts.
Shane Murray	Klitzneckers	Was an absolute machine all season long.
Robbie Phillips	The Decennary Elen	Still maybe the best the RDL has ever seen.
Alberto Sandoval	Mug Hunters	Put his team on his back week after week.
Mike Seward	Klitzneckers	Threw his best games when needed most.

"B" Division

Ryan Anderson	The Reaperz	Just solid in both singles and doubles.
Scott Butters	Slop and Shots	Beats you soundly yet politely. Repeatedly.
Mikey Hindle	Excalibur	Someone is going to have explain that 501.
Steve Holland	Slop and Shots	70% winner for team that coulda won it all.
Tim McNamara	She Doesn't Look D	Druish is dangerous anytime he is there.
John Murdaugh	Fire for Effect	Just a monster for team that got hot late.
Jerry Oakley	The Reaperz	Clearly belongs where his team is headed.
J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	Biggest, baddest Outlaw all season long.

"C" Division

Aaron Fitzgerald	Big Bulls	Only real standout for good balanced team.
Jess Jur	Rif Raf	Clearly the best Rif Raffer in down season.
Eric Klann	Julie's Angels	Could be top player for several C teams.
Ronnie Knott	Red Dragons	When 8-4 is your bad set, things are good.
John Mays	Nine Lives	Just the lead guy for a balanced winner.
Sal Reitano	The Locals	Really jumped up this season in a big way.
Jeff Rudy	Dublin Dublout	Top shot for team that is a bit of an enigma.
Randy Wilcox	Julie's Angels	Every season, every set, so consistently.

"D" Division

Angelo Azevedo	You're Supposed To	11-0 in SCkt is nearly enough by itself.
Dave Krasnow	Carry Oakie	The D division Giant Killer was clutch.
Tom Kubel	You're Supposed To	12-0 in 501? Seriously? That's finishing.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Just passing through on his way to A.
Randy Massengill	BullsHitters	Maybe 2nd best in D, still 2nd in his family.
Hugh Vance	Carry Oakie	Top full-time winner for the runners-up.
Tolson Willis	Death Throw	Carried DTs to 0.500 in first season in D.
John Wylie	BullsHitters	Excellent singles, not so much the doubles.

"E" Division (ended up with 14 legitimate candidates here)

Frank Allison	Sharky's Machine	Holy cow, this guy owned the first 3 sets.
John Carroll	Methodical Madness	But this guy… he owned all 4 sets…
Galen Gillett	XXX^3	2-to-1 W-L ratio in every set is excellent.
Brad Hamilton	Methodical Madness	Great in singles, just passable in doubles.
Dave Johnson	Menace 2 Sobriety	The biggest Menace came up just huge.
Mike Snyder	Nick the Green	Wow, what a huge jump from last season!
John Wells	Got Wired!	John Boy just hangin' out… winning…
J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	Three 11-win sets? Yes, please.

"F" Division

Randy Deemer	We Be Triplin	Wins like crazy for regular runners-up.
David Huffman	Brown's Bombers	Best shot on the clearly best team.
Aaron Mooty	Liquor Posse	Just can't will his team to more DCkt wins.
Phil Murphy	One Armed Bandits	Super consistent once again, of course.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	Gaudy SCkt record is the big draw here.
David Simpson	Home Grown Wolve	Constantly pulled out the big winners.
Paul Spaulding	Brown's Bombers	38-4 in the last 3 sets is pretty sick.
Patrick Todd	We Be Triplin	Great addition was the doubles master.

"G" Division

Brad Adams	Five-OH! Whizzle	Tough to get 301 time on a team this deep.
Bradley Hamilton	Five-OH! Whizzle	'New' Brad Hamilton was a great pickup.
Andy Krestalude	Ton 80 Proof	Led his team in every set yet again.
Mark Powell	UZMAgain	Seems like I write his name every season.
Bob Rube	UZMAgain	And this guy too… consistency, man…
Mark Slawter	Five-OH! Whizzle	Ok, so we play the other guys in '01.
Rob Stuckey	Five-OH! Whizzle	Why don't they list his clutch shot in 501?
Dan Therrien	We Ain't Ready!	Well, HE was ready… rolling in first 3 sets.

"H" Division (holy cow, there were a LOT of possible picks here)

Ken Brinson	That's What She Sai	Team champ (pg.14) carried them to 2nd.
Mike Kyle	Same Day Different	Could he really be only the team's #2 or 3?
David Martin	Duck Dynasty	Maybe never has a pickup meant so much.
Vince Martinez	The Misfits	If he was full time, Misfits move up a bit.
Terry McAfee	Duck Dynasty	Another great new addition to the flock.
Greg Stahl	Same Day Different	Maybe he just doesn't like playing '01?
A.J. Strickland	The Misfits	Super singles covers for average doubles.
Bill Wissinger	Same Day Different	Where did this find new rock star? Wow.

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): Only 4 people in the true Quadruple Double club this season: Jerry Oakley of The Reaperz in B, Chad Massengill of BullsHitters in D, John Carroll of Methodical Madness in E, and David Huffman of Brown's Bombers in F. Not surprisingly, I picked 3 of those 4 as my division MVPs… A quick honorable mention (again) for Robbie Phillips of The Decennary Element, as he amassed four 9-win sets while playing in a 12-match division (A had 2 byes) AND missing two matches.

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: Oh, The Lunchbox folk were all set to snag this title again with their regular shorthandedness… but then, they got so short-handed that they forfeited out of the league! That left the race wide open, with lots of contenders, but in the end we crown another Iron Woman this season: Denise Vithorkus of Tips & Shafts in H division rang up a league-leading 69 this season (I'm betting that just made her giggle, for which I'm proud of her). 15-18 games per set, plus one tiebreaker, and poof, she got more games for her buck than you did! Honorable mentions as division leaders: Matt Heimbach (Fringe), Justin McCurry (Appetite) and Alberto Sandoval (Mug Hunters) in A with 50; Dan Clark & Chris Peterson (Outlaws) in B with 64; Whit Bryant (Locals) in C with 63; Rick Dysard & Sean Bosier (Death Throw) in D with 58; Brady Price (Menace) in E with 59; David Huffman & Paul Spaulding & Sean O'Brien (Bombers) and Gus Martinez (Posse) in F with 56; and Erin Hartmann (Ton 80 Proof) in G with 61.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Six teams all warranted a look-see for this category, but I decided Missing Flights, TBD, and Appetite for Destruction were all close, but not close enough. In the end, the three I tagged as closest to a pure 6-player lineup: #3 was Tips & Shafts in H division, who only played 6 all season, but with scattered attendance; #2 was Overtime Outlaws in B, who only had 6 on the team at all; and #1 was Brown's Bombers in F, with 6 guys playing 50-56 games.

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

As usual, I'm left with the option of trying to bluff my way through this part, or just telling the truth. And since I know that some of you squirrel away every last thing I've ever written about your team, I guess I better give real results… dang.

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season given the imminent roster changes/additions), I did pretty well. Sure, I only hit a few of the division winners, but what I really did was predict exactly which teams would be in the close battles, and even what divisions would be messy free-for-alls. A few of my picks might've finished 2nd, but they did it in a close fight that I predicted. And I really only missed overall season calls on a small handful of teams in all of RDL. Apologies to Appetite, Red Dragons, Carry Oakie, and Death Throw…

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. I improved for a second consecutive season (after that disaster last spring), this despite the ridiculousness most of you know as C division. What a pile of poopie that division was this season. Ugh. Outside of C, I had a winning record for every team not named Ton 80 Proof (and when you consider the fact that I started out 2-8 with them, but closed with 4 straight picks in the season and dead-on calls for their two tournament matches, I would say I pretty much figured out everybody outside of C). Now if only there was no C…

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And as usual, we jump to best-of-three, and my picks look generally pretty strong, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals & finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. I was 25-5 in the quarterfinals, an awesome 14-2 in the semifinals, and then I hit 4 of the 8 Mug champions (with my pick losing in the final in ALL 4 other divisions)! That's a final record of 43-9, which is pretty damn good if you ask me. I even nailed every match in two divisions (D and E), and all three of my my Surest Things rolled to Mugs (my Dark Horses, though, sort of flopped).

JK'S TEAM-BY-TEAM, WEEK-BY-WEEK MATCH PREDICTION RESULTS

(I introduced this page seventeen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the two 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the three 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [Ok, it wasn't as bad as E division a year ago, but C division this time around was just a mess for me. I was 0.500 or less for FIVE C teams, but only ONE team from the entire rest of the RDL. You C folk suck.]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 5 question: This coming Monday we will finalize the RDL rosters for this season (barring extraordinary late-season circumstances), and we will have one of the biggest numbers of members in league history. What is the record, and during what season did the RDL have that number?

Week 6 question(s): What is the highest point total ever achieved in a single regular season? What is the highest total ever in a division with a bye (meaning 12 matches instead of 14)?

Week 7 question: In my 35 statistician seasons, what is the greatest number of weeks it took to get the league's first 180?

Week 8 question: Let's follow up with a similar question… In my 35 statistician seasons, what is the greatest number of weeks it took to get the league's first 9-mark?

Week 9 question: What is the RDL record for greatest number of divisions played in by a single team, and how long did it take them to play in all of those divisions?

Week 10 question(s): How many host establishments have hosted teams in every one of my 35 seasons as newsletter editor? Which ones are they?

Week 11 question: We're going with a follow-up question to the one above… Of the four establishments that have had an RDL team in each and every one of my 35 seasons with the Tons, which is the only one to have more than one team in each of those 35 seasons?

Week 12 question(s): In the past decade prior to this season, which player(s) has won the most tournament Mugs? How many?

Week 13 question: How many times in the past 6 seasons has an RDL Board member resigned his/her position (stepping down mid-term instead of just not re-running)?

Week 5 answer: The all-time RDL membership record was set in the Spring 2010 season, when the RDL boasted 586 members. I didn't have the final player additions for this season prior to the writing of this issue of the Tons (additions were allowed all the way up to 8 p.m. this past Monday night), but this season was a pretty good one in terms of membership numbers (but likely did not catch the 2nd highest total ever of 561, set in the Spring 2011 season). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: we ended up with 536 league members this season.]

Week 6 answer: Ok, I forgot to add my standard disclaimer: "during my 34 seasons as statistician, since records from before that are a little dicey…" With that in mind, the point record is 265 (that's 18.93 points per week!) by Element Horizon in the Fall 2010 season, in A division! The same team holds the 12-week point record too, as No Element of Doubt in the Fall 2008 A division put up 216 points (18.00 points per week). Ya think the BullsHitters in D division can haul in a new record? They have 111 (18.50 per week) so far… [Answer update for the banquet Tons: The Bulls-Hitters ended up with a respectable 237 points, but no record…]

Week 7 answer: As I suspected when I wrote the question, the longest it took for the first 180 (at least during my tenure as the statistician) is 5 weeks. And that happened, of course, this very season. Yep, we were void of Ton-80s for the entire first month of this season. But then the floodgates opened and five of them poured out on the same night.

Week 8 answer: Ok, I know that 9-marks are more common than T80s in the RDL, but I'm a little surprised by the answer to this one. In my 35 seasons, not one single season went more than one week without a 9-mark. Four seasons (Fall 1997, Fall 2001, Fall 2002, and Spring 2004) each went to the second week. I suppose that Fall 2001 was the most interesting of those four, as it was the only season of my 35 in which no perfect throws of any kind at all were thrown in week 1.

Week 9 answer: Initially when I asked this question, I thought the answer might be Mug Hunters (sometimes I know the answer before I ask the question, sometimes I don't), but then I realized they had a jump straight from I to E in their second season. Because of that leap, their 6 different divisions leave them 1 short of the record of 7 divisions, which has been achieved by SEVEN teams! Team lineages (sometimes exact names change) that have played in every division from H through B include two teams: the Grateful Darts and UZMAgain; and team lineages that have played in every division from G through A include five teams: Appetite for Destruction, Overtime Outlaws, Off Constantly, Horsemen, and Dodge Darts. 'Who might be in line to break that record?', you ask… Well, there are two current teams that have methodically climbed from humble beginnings… Ale-ing Archers have played in the six divisions from H to C, but have dropped back down to D at the moment, so they have some work left to break the record. But Big Bulls… they have the same H through C history, and are presently only 5 points out of first in C division, so they are looking good for a jump to B next season, giving them their 7th division and tying the record. Could a subsequent jump to A (and an 8th division) be in the future too? [Answer update for the banquet Tons: due to a 4-match losing streak to end the season, the Big Bulls dropped to 3rd in C and might well still be in that same division in the Fall season.]

Week 10 answer: Four of our host establishments have hosted one or more teams in each and every one of my 35 seasons as editor and statistician. Those four are Sharky's Place, The Upper Deck, Snooker's-Ridgewood, and High Park Bar & Grille (which has also been known as The Profile and The Upper Deck Profile during that time window).

Week 11 answer: Ha! I thought most people would guess The Upper Deck… and they did. But the answer is the establishment of those four that has hosted the lowest total number of teams in those 35 seasons: Snooker's-Ridgewood! Just plodding along with 2 or 3 teams, season after season, year after year. That's consistency.

Week 12 answer: Well, the only answer I received for this one was "any original Element members still on the team". Close, but nope. The answer is Wil Tan, Tom Brown, and Keith Wall, who each have 13 tournament winner Mugs (all in A div.) in the past 20 seasons. They've won 12 together during Element's 19 seasons, Tan added a Mug in the Fall 2006 season (the one season he fulfilled a prior commitment to play for what has now evolved into Klitzneckers), and Brown and Wall both played for Lunatic Fringe in Spring 2003, the season before Element formed.

Week 13 answer: Sadly, 6 different people have stepped down from Board positions mid-term in the last 6 seasons. In the Fall 2010 season, John Howley gave up the Membership Director spot; then the next season, Thom Dunn gave up the Rules & Grievances Director position; then last season, Jim Gallagher relinquished the Secretary position, and Matt Huff relinquished the Treasurer position; and then two weeks ago, Frank Hall gave up the Treasurer spot, and William McEwen gave up the Secretary spot. I'm thinking the take-home message from this question might be that everybody should probably be pretty damn nice to Jason Thomas (15 seasons as a Board member), J.P. Evans (11 seasons), Jim Hunsberger (5 seasons), Tim Mozzetti (2 weeks! :o), and Heather Bohanan (25 seasons, including several holding down 2 or 3 offices!).

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page. No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "Keep holding on, When my brain's ticking like a bomb, Guess the black thoughts, Have come again to get me"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "Watch me unravel, I'll soon be naked, Lying on the floor, Lying on the floor"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "Firm stands her line of blue, For they are loyal through and through, Fighting with the spirit true"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "Hold that line, hold them fast, We will reach victory at last, We're behind you, keep fighting for state"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "I won't tear the sack up, Punk you'd better back up, Try and play the role and the whole crew will act up"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "This is how I show my love, I made it in my mind because, I blame it on my A.D.D. baby"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "And it all comes down to you, Well, you know that it does, And lightning strikes, maybe once, maybe twice"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "So baby talk to me, Like lovers do, Walk with me, Like lovers do, Talk to me, Like lovers do"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "Little darling, I feel that ice is slowly melting, Little darling, It seems like years since it's been clear"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "And all the night's magic seems to whisper and hush, And all the soft moonlight seems to shine in your blush"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "Not about to see your light, But if you wanna find hell with me, I can show what it's like, Till you're bleeding"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "Don't mess around with those silly toys, We'll beat you up if you don't hand it over, give all the toys to the little rich boys"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "Paranoia, paranoia, Everybody's comin' to get me, Just say you never met me, I'm runnin' underground with the moles"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "Say, we can act if we want to, If we don't nobody will, And you can act real rude and totally removed"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "Waitin', watchin' the clock, it's four o'clock, it's got to stop, Tell him, take no more, she practices her speech"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "Love of two is one, Here but now they're gone, Came the last night of sadness, And it was clear she couldn't go on"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "Well, you gave me all your loving, And all your turtle doving, All your hugs and kisses, And your money too, well"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "Bye, bye, it's been a sweet love, Though this feeling I can't change, But please don't take it badly"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "Day by day, night after night, Blinded by the neon light, Hurry here, hustling there, No one's got the time to spare"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "I can't remember anything, Can't tell if this is true or dream, Deep down inside I feel to scream"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "Got a surprise especially for you, Something that both of us have always wanted to do, We've waited so long"

Week 11, song #3 lyric: "She says it's cold outside and she hands me my raincoat, She's always worried about things like that"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "Although she may be cute, She's just a substitute, Because you're the permanent one"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Picket lines and picket signs, Don't punish me with brutality, Talk to me, so you can see"

Week 12, song #3 lyric: "I can think of younger days when living for my life, Was everything a man could want to do"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "Bootlegging boozer on the west side, Full of people who are doing wrong, Just about to call up the DA man"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "They got little hands, little eyes, They walk around tellin' great big lies, They got little noses, and tiny little teeth"

Week 13, song #3 lyric: "I've been singing with my band, Across the wire, across the land, I've seen every blue eyed floozy on the way"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "And baby it's true, You're the one, Who caught me baby you taught me, How good it could be"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "The heart is a bloom, Shoots up through the stony ground, There's no room, No space to rent in this town"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "If I were the king of the world, Tell you what I'd do, I'd throw away the cars and the bars and the wars"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "You and I must make a pact, We must bring salvation back, Where there is love"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "I've done things that you won't, There's nothing like a trail of blood to find your way back home"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "Too heavy, too light, too black or too white, too wrong or too right, Today or tonight"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "Will you chew until it bleeds? Can you get up off your knees? Are you brave enough to see?"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "She said I don't know if I've ever been good enough, I'm a little bit rusty, and I think my head is caving in"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "Boy mercury shooting through every degree, Oh girl dancing down those dirty and dusty trails"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "Late night, come home, Works sucks, I know, She left me roses by the stairs, Surprises let me know she cares"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "Whenever I'm alone with you, You make me feel like I am home again"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "C'mon now, try 'n' understand, The way I feel under your command, Take my hand, as the sun descends"

[I started increasing the weekly song groups to three at mid-season, each with it's own theme (some of the two-song groups in the past couple seasons also had themes, but it wasn't so consistent before now). The number theme in the band names was a moderate hit in the big week 14 lyrics set, but I think it's going to be hard to beat the '80s movies set from last season… - JK]

TWO RDL FIRSTS IN ONE FELL SWOOP…

As noted in the week 14 Tons, Alberto Sandoval of the Mug Hunters became the first person in my tenure as statistician (17.5 years), and possibly the first person in RDL history, to do two things. First, he became the first to intentionally receive a penalty (others have been penalized repeatedly out of laziness - read: Fulton Crowley - but none ever took 'intentional' penalties before now). Aaand… he also became the first to ever be hit with the RDL's "deliberate scoresheet defacement" penalty. As I told you then (and again on page 6), you really had to see this thing to believe it. He raided his daughter's sticker box, he colored on it, he wrote weird stuff, and then… he recruited assistance from a bunch of people from other matches at the bar where his team was playing that night (including a select few who had actually already traveled back to that establishment from another where they had played earlier). It's even got comments in multiple languages on it! Wow. Yikes. Congratulations(?!), I guess, to Alberto? On a job, uhhh… well done?

WAYS TO MAKE A FORFEIT SUCK LESS

Forfeits suck. It's a fact. They suck for the team that wins by forfeit, and they suck even more for the team that loses by forfeit. But, the bottom line is that they suck for everybody. And some teams when they win by forfeit just sort of give up on the night and go home and watch television, or do chores, or ack(!), work… But some other people? Those others are not giving up their night out having fun. And it's right about here that you can file the members of That's What She Said in that other group. When The Misfits had to forfeit to them in week 11 (with lots of very polite and awesome notice in case That's What She Said didn't want to drive around town for no reason), the members of That's What She Said held their own best-of-three, double-elimination singles tournament! Most excellent! And I think that sort of team dedication deserves some recognition, so… here are the results:

Tisha Taylor and Ken Brinson started off lucky with first-round byes… Meanwhile Eric Hodgen took out Meghan Howard (is it a good idea or a bad idea to beat the captain?), and Kaushal Doshi dumped John Geraghty. The advancement of both Hodgen and Doshi was short-lived though, as the well-rested Taylor and Brinson sent them to the losers' bracket, after which Brinson took the winners' bracket top spot.

In the losers' bracket, Hodgen sent Geraghty packing and Doshi did the same to Howard. Hodgen then outlasted Doshi for the right to play Taylor (who had just lost the winners' bracket final). The hot streak for Hodgen continued, as he quickly dispatched Taylor to move on to the finals, where he also handed Brinson his first loss, setting up a one-match championship between the two survivors, each now with a loss in the double-elimination format. It was here though that Hodgen's four-match win streak would come to an abrupt and agonizing end. And thus, here in the Spring 2013 season, Ken Brinson is the That's What She Said team singles champion. Which I suppose is fitting since he had the team's best record this season. Would've been a lot better story if Hodgen (the clear underdog) had won though…

WHILE WE'RE CLEARING UP FIRSTS…

In light of the two RDL "firsts" above, this might be a good time to add some clarification to an RDL record that happened last season (Fall 2012). Tony Keller tossed a 7-dart 301 that was reported here as tying Tom Brown's two 7-darters for the RDL record. While that information is still true, I would like to add a third name to that list: in culling through old records provided to me by some of the longer-tenured league members, I found that Don Bingham (formerly Don Butman) also has a 7-darter to his credit. So, make that three people, four games, and all just one dart short of perfect. [Are you an old-time RDL member? Do you have any pre-1996 records on a shelf somewhere? If so, I would love a crack at copying them! For just this kind of thing… Call or email (contact info on page 8). Thanks. - JK]

RDL MEMBERS OWN THE TRIANGLE

Given the amount of darting fervor here in RDL-land, combined with the talent that our league boasts, it really shouldn't surprise anyone that some RDL members choose to basically spend their non-Wednesdays roaming the Triangle area, claiming titles in the other local leagues. Case in point: We Got Time for Dat Dirty Box in the Bull City Dart League in Durham! The five RDL-ers below just took the league championship Cup (it's a handicapped league with an all-divisions-included league tournament). From left to right, Billy Hamilton (of Lunatic Fringe), Zak Mayhew (of Suck My Cork), Sid Mitchell and Tim Mozzetti (both of Appetite for Destruction), and Joel Eason (also of Lunatic Fringe). Congrats to all five, but especially Mitchell and Mozzetti, as this was their first BCDL title!

MY FAVORITE QUOTE FROM THE ENTIRE SEASON

There were a lot of really funny things said this season, from getting ghetto married by yours truly, to hilariously inaccurate guarantees of match results. But my favorite, for its simplicity and dead-pan delivery, is still this one from Alberto Sandoval of Mug Hunters, whose team plays at Cleveland Draft House, commenting when my son was perusing the menu there: "The Wednesday fish special is really delicious. And it's huge, so it's an awesome deal. Unless… you don't like fish… then it's not that great of a deal."

OTHER QUOTES I STILL HAD AROUND…

from Tolson Willis of Death Throw in week 6, letting us know just how excited teammate Neal Hogan was to hit the 1001 winner: "Neal nailed it then nearly broke my hand with the high five."

from Mike Roberts of You're Supposed To Beat Us!, highlighting his displeasure with a specific opponent's demeanor: "Sportsmanship - If your dart playing doesn't increase your tax bracket, relax, have fun and be nice!"

from my teammate Robbie Phillips, describing a weekend night at a dart tournament, that probably should worry me: "I was sipping beers to sober up…"

from Mike Steppe of Projectile, the day after a particularly unique VoiceMail message: "Having a good time shooting darts...free. == 9 or 10 Miller lite beers in 4 hours... $28. == Calling in an impossible Ton92 IN to Jason Kilts while blasted...PRICELESS."

WANNA SEE SOMETHING FUNNY?

The photo to the right was taken from inside my golf cart when some of my City League team members hit the course for a day near Lake Norman. Pretty standard golf cart windshield, warning, right? Well, turn to the very next page to see why this particular cart with this particular warning sign was such a funny pair…

BEST RDL DECADE EVER?

Ok, first off, a little disclaimer… I generally try not to write too much stuff about my own team here in the newsletter, because nobody wants to hear me just talk about my own stuff repeatedly. But the fact of the matter is that, by its position/standing in the league, and by the successes of the individual members of the team, my team is certainly one of the more newsworthy groups here in RDL. And if I didn't point out some of the newsworthy stuff, that would just be a disservice to my teammates resulting from nothing more than the fact that the newsletter editor is on their team. Thus, I'm taking this opportunity at the one-decade anniversary of the formation of our team (The Element) to point out, hopefully in a somewhat objective fashion, what I think might well be the greatest decade of darting success the RDL has ever seen, and probably by quite a decent margin. Sure, there will be people that will argue that Lunatic Fringe in the '90s was close, but I've seen much of the results of those seasons (and played in a lot of them too), and the fact is that teams came and went that took the titles and glory from Fringe for periods of time (e.g., Pigs, Shadows). That really just isn't the case for Element. This despite the fact that quite a handful of teams have formed for the primary purpose of nothing but defeating our team. These have even included such silliness as a team of players that was recruited (by a 100% non-playing captain) from quite a distance with gas money, hotel rooms, and even job opportunities. And the greatest threat to the Element's standing came from a one-year stint put together by a team of players from all of Wilmington, Southern Pines, Fayetteville, Fuquay-Varina, Wake Forest, and Raleigh. It has been quite a barrage of challengers… but through it all, Element has just kept on winning.

But don't take my word for it… how about some cold hard numbers to support that statement? Element is now 10 years (20 seasons) old, playing every single season in A division, and here is the team history to this point:

== In every one of the 20 seasons, Element has been 1st or 2nd in the regular season, finishing 1st 16 times and 2nd 4 times

== In every one of the 20 seasons, Element has been 1st or 2nd in the tournament, with 12 wins and 8 runner-up finishes

== Element's 20-season regular season record is 236-20 (a number that probably could have been higher if A division hadn't been saddled with a bye in 12 of those 20 seasons)

== Element's 20-season tournament record is 41-8 (with Element also earning the first-round bye in 11 of the 12 bye seasons)

== Only 1 team in 20 seasons has ever finished a season with a better win/loss record than Element, that being the team in Sp11 with guys from Wilmington to Southern Pines (the other three 2nd place season finishes were based on point tiebreakers)

== Element has only lost a match prior to 501 three times in its 20 seasons (sadly, with one of those being this past Wednesday… sigh… Klitzneckers were on frickin' fire)

== The worst Element has ever finished a season in terms of season/tournament combined losses is 3 -- the team has had 3 seasons with 0 combined losses, 10 seasons with 1 combined loss, 3 with 2 losses, and 4 with 3 losses

And before anyone thinks that Element is just a bunch of rotating hired guns, please note that 6 of the original team members are still on the team today (Jason Kilts, Tom Brown, Keith Wall, Wil Tan, Robbie Phillips, Mark Knight), and a 7th (Allen Smith) re-joined us as a teammate after a self-imposed RDL break 14 seasons ago. Add Jon Kenney (6 seasons) and Robb Beeson (2 seasons) to that group, and that's the full lineup. To borrow a line from Fringe, I have to admit that I'm damn proud to be associated with each and every one of these guys. Yes, even him… And him… and him…

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- Yes, it's Survivor time! If you didn't watch this season, you missed out, plain and simple. The scrawny, gawky uber-nerd with the self-admitted lifelong obsession with the show OWNED it. He won challenges, he engineered the banishment of conniving competitors, and then he absolutely rocked the other two finalists in the last tribal council with the speeches and the questions. Got all 9 votes. Should've gotten more. Yep, he was so good he should've received more votes than even existed. Cochran!!!

-- How bad was the pressure and nerves in this season's divisional tournaments? Well, one team called me at my match to ask if they could pick a guy as his own partner in a doubles game with a blocker. And another team wanted to know if they could go back and protest the fact that a team was even in their division at all, from the start of the entire season. The first of those I've heard a few times before, but that second one… that's a new one for me…

-- Did you know that a 14-year-old was in the Masters last month? Did you know that he then made the friggin' cut to play on the weekend?! What the hell were you doing last month? Or when you were 14? Whatever it was, I'll bet now it sucks in comparison.

-- So my wife… she's a little bit crazy. (Yes, I know, she married me… ha, ha…) But she's crazy for other reasons. Like… she runs half-marathons. Doesn't she know that people are technologically advanced and we don't have to do that?! Well, she runs anyway. And several weeks ago I went out before sun-up (literally before sun-up) to see her run in Cary. Well, imagine my surprise when Joe Kunesh of UZMAgain went trotting by my sideline position! Turns out Joe is crazy too. Heck, he might've even been crazy enough to have been in the full marathon (a condition for which I'm certain many good medications have been developed). That puts him in with the crazy RDL-er group that includes such other lunatics as Ryan Anderson and Rachel Wallach. The bumper sticker that says "my sport is your sport's punishment" says it all. Fools, I tell ya…

-- Which brings me to this… You know how half the cars on the road nowadays have some white oval with an abbreviation or something in them? Well, runners have a couple of those too… generally 13.1 or 26.2 for half-marathoners and marathoners. Well, I was behind somebody who is clearly on my side when it comes to this little slice of lunacy. Here is their white oval:

-- What are the odds of this? I played 301 in 4 of the first 5 weeks of the season, and in those 4 games, 3 different people hit a first turn double-20 on me. But that's no big deal. The odd part is that all three of them also splashed another double-20 on that same turn. Yep, double -double-20s on the opening turn, 3 times in a 4-game span.

-- You know that new item at McDonald's, the Fish McBites? I think that name really McSucks.

-- And while we're talking about food (or at least 'near-food'), why is it that we eat 'chicken sandwiches' and 'fish sandwiches', but we never say we're eating 'cow sandwiches'? And don't try to tell me it's about being a mammal and not being a mammal… People eat things like buffalo or bison burgers, so that doesn't wash.

-- So now that 7th place Dublin Dublout has won the C division tournament, does that mean they'll be drinking from their Mugs at D matches next season? Hmmm… tough one there…

-- Hey, back in week 5, Missing Flights was short one player in singles cricket. And just singles cricket. Not the set before it or the two sets after it. You don't see that every day…

-- So this past Wednesday, Kyle Gaulthier hit a whole bunch of triples, won a bunch of games, and took the Mugs over my team in the A division final. Then afterward we talked about his plans for prom this weekend. Seriously. Geez, I am so old nowadays. I guess it's better than a couple years ago when he was beating me before he could even get his driver's license. Damn kids…

-- The other day I'm watching television and an ad for satellite service comes on… The guy on the ad keeps repeating that dish prices are "a fraction of the cost of cable". Well, I'm good at math, so I know that means frickin' nothing! Heck, 15/8 is a fraction… Doesn't mean I want to pay 15/8 of my bill next month instead.

-- How is this for an awesome and unusual game? In one of our matches this season, Simon Healy of Triple Threats threw 10 darts in our 501 game. Every one of his darts was in the 20, including the out (yes, obviously, that one was a double). I think he hit a 140, a 100, a 60, and a 40-out. Think about that… have you ever thrown every dart of your half of a doubles game in the exact same wedge, including the out?!

-- As a service to any of you who might forgot your scoresheet at a match and need to draw a new one, or are simply in need of a place to plot polynomial equations, included here is a photo supplied by one of Mike Seward's teammates, who took to calling him "Graph Paper" when he wore this rather graph-paper-like dress shirt to a tournament match when he came straight from work. You can feel the love, right? I hope it's useful.

-- Ever notice when a company puts an April Fools' Day joke up on their company website on April 1st? Often witty, sometimes dumb, but I appreciate their willingness to mock themselves a bit. This year the email from Redbox was introducing "Lunch Meat - now sold at Redboxes!" Little red plastic boxes with a couple slices of meat in them. That one was particularly awesome to me.

-- Are you one of those guys who lets your pants sag so we can all see your underwear? You look good, right? Cool? Wrong. You're a fking tool and you need to pull your pants up. Moron.

The warning sign at the base of the golf cart windshield (see closer image on the previous page) was evidently more spot-on than they might have ever planned. It seems hard to believe that a golf ball did that (as opposed to an angry golfer's club or a branch that jumped out in front of a terrible driver), but either way that's some funny shit. I wondered a bit if somebody might have even done that on purpose…

TEN-YEAR (20-Season) TEAM PROGRESSION RECORDS (this page and the next)

Ok, those of you who weren't around in 2008 (the last time I made one of these) are probably wondering what the heck this is. Well, it's a table listing where each team has finished in each of the last 20 seasons. You can track just how your team has moved up or down over the past twenty seasons of play, and maybe relive that one great season just one more time. What each set of information means: Division / Regular Season Finish Position / W-L Record / Tournament Result (xx = first round loss) (Whenever a team changed its composition significantly from season to season, I just did the best I could.) (This list only includes teams that played in the current season.) (Whenever possible, I also included the different team names for those groups that change their name from season to season.) [Notes: H division came into existence in the Fall, 2007 season. I division only existed during the Spring, 2010 season.]

TEN-YEAR (20-Season) TEAM PROGRESSION RECORDS (this page and the previous)

Ok, those of you who weren't around in 2008 (the last time I made one of these) are probably wondering what the heck this is. Well, it's a table listing where each team has finished in each of the last 20 seasons. You can track just how your team has moved up or down over the past twenty seasons of play, and maybe relive that one great season just one more time. What each set of information means: Division / Regular Season Finish Position / W-L Record / Tournament Result (xx = first round loss) (Whenever a team changed its composition significantly from season to season, I just did the best I could.) (This list only includes teams that played in the current season.) (Whenever possible, I also included the different team names for those groups that change their name from season to season.) [Notes: H division came into existence in the Fall, 2007 season. I division only existed during the Spring, 2010 season.]

"A" Division - Element Twenty Won (14-8)

Element completes the season/tournament double in yet another close match with Bullklitz that was tied at 8-8 before Element slowly pulled away, in large part due to Wil Tan's huge 141-Out in 501.

"B" Division - Excalibur (12+-12)

The greatest division in the history of all organized competition in the entirety of mankind ends exactly as it should, with the #7 and #8 seeds playing a 1001 for the Mugs before possibly heading to C.

"C" Division - BullsHitters (13-7)

In one of only two tournaments in which the better seed won every match (along with A division), the Hitters claim both the regular season and tournament for a 4th consecutive season (F,E,D,C divs)!

"D" Division - Projectile Dysfunction (12+-12)

Projectile, this season's #1 nail biter match winners (taking regular season matches with 12,12,12,13,13,14,14,14,14,14,15,16 points) take down the Madness in the only way that seems appropriate, in 1001.

"E" Division - We Be Triplin (11-4)

In a tournament final pairing of teams that had quite a few short-handed nights, Triplin wins another shorthanded battle to shake off their recent bridesmaid tag and take home their first Mug set.

"F" Division - Liquor Posse (12+-12)

The F tournament ends the exact same the way the F regular season did, with Danny Caputo popping a double in 1001 to bring the title to the Posse, this time over the upstart #6 seed Whizzle.

"G" Division - Shootin Da Bull (14-8)

After being the only team to beat Your Mom in the six weeks before the finals, Shootin Da Bull spanks Your Mom again to finally stop Your Mom from being on top for the first time in literally months.

"G" Division - Why Not (13-10)

Well, they don't really share results willingly (in almost any week of the tournament), but Why Not finally breaks through against Missing Flights to end the RDL's last bid at an undefeated season.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Element Twenty Won (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Bullklitz

"B" Division - Despicable Us (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Fire for Effect

"C" Division - BullsHitters (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Rif Raf

"D" Division - Methodical Madness (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Projectile Dysfunction

"E" Division - Brown's Bombers (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - We Be Triplin

"F" Division - Liquor Posse (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - I Got Nothing

"G" Division - Your Mom (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Same Day Different Darts

"H" Division - Missing Flights (14 wins, 0 losses)
2nd place - Brewster's Pub

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Same number of divisions and teams as last 2 seasons, so the same number of matches as those seasons. Despite the historic parity we experienced, we somehow dropped the tiebreaker total for the second straight season, falling to only 34 tiebreakers played (with 4 of those 34 occurring during the divisional tournaments). B and D divisions led the way with 7 tiebreakers each (with B having 2 in the tournament, and D having 1), followed by F (6, with the only other 1 in the tournament), E and G (4 each), and C and H (3 each) divisions. A division ended up without even one solitary tiebreaker all season.

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) is shared by three teams, each with very different outcomes. While Menace 2 Sobriety in D division was a strong 3-1, the Home Grown Wolves in F was a decent 2-2. But sadly, the third team in that group is also the recipient of the Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost). Not only did Nine Lives drop 3 of their 4 1001 games, the last of those eliminated them from the B division tournament.

Probably the team that most appreciated the presence of a tiebreaker though was the Liquor Posse. The Posse only played in two 1001s, but those two? They won both, and the first clinched the F regular season title in week 14, while the second claimed the F Mugs this week.

SPRING 2014 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

I am putting these dates in many locations (pages 1, 4, 8, 40) because they might be the most important thing for you in this newsletter.

Wed., Jan. 15th - Preseason capts.' mtg./packet pickup, Upper Deck
Wednesday, January 22nd - Start of Spring season match play
Monday, Feb. 24th - Fifth week captains' meeting, Upper Deck
Wed., Apr. 30, May 7 / 14 - Spring season divisional tournaments
Saturday, May 17th - Spring season banquet, site TBD

JOE McCARTNEY IS HUMAN, LIKE US

Sometimes I think the agony of the game and the never-ending chase for that one moment, that one achievement… those are the things that keep us coming back. And keep us beating ourselves up…

From Joe in week 13: "I do have to share my frustration, my wife has been hearing my disappointment since I came home last night - I had a chance at Dart Greatness (for an E player). I had an 8 dart 301 in my finger tips - T02 in, T39, single 20 leaving with me with 40 on my 8th dart. And in typical 'Joe McCartney Fall 2013 Dart season', where I cannot get my dart game going, my 8th dart is .... a F'n 5. Yes, a five. One single 5. Net of it, it took another 15 darts before I closed. Damn making one single double-20, which I have done many times in the past… I would be on cloud nine today. Oh well.." [I'm so glad he at least still won that game… That could've been cruel… - JK]

BUT ALBERTO SANDOVAL EVIDENTLY IS NOT

Some guys always deliver at the biggest moments. And we all learn to hate those guys. (Unless they're on your team, as Alberto is with mine. :o) Seems like he could share some of the glory as he has been getting pretty gluttonous in the past several months. Some examples:

-- Biggest doubles cricket of the Bull City (Durham) League title match… Alberto is trailing. Soooo… Six-Bull, win, take title, smile.

-- Final 4-man set for the top teams in the NC City League. Match on the line. Soooo… T80, both double-outs (best of 3), win, smile.

-- Final 501 of final RDL week, with the game deciding the RDL A div. title. Pair with Robbie Phillips, hit 3 triple-20s, 2 single-20s, and a near-miss on the double. 13 dart game for the division win, smile.

-- Late doubles cricket set in NC City League semis. Trailing again. Six-bull again. Win set, smile. == Sooo… anybody hate him yet?

TEAMS THAT WON BOTH THEIR DIVISIONAL TOURNAMENT AND REGULAR SEASON TITLE !!!!!!

FALL 2013 PENALTY SUMMARY

Holy cow, this column might as well just be written directly about H division… While H only had 26% of the teams that were penalized, that division was responsible for 58% of the penalties and 60% of the total points lost. And one of the teams set a new league record… but more on that in a minute….

Overall, there were 38 total penalties for a total of 313 lost points. That is a crapload, people. In total, there were 2 preseason captains' meeting penalties (for 10 total points), 7 fifth week captains' meeting penalties (35 points), 10 election ballot penalties (50 points), 7 phone penalties (35 points), 10 mail penalties (160 points), and 2 ineligible player penalties (23 points).

Nineteen of the 64 teams got a penalty, including at least one in every division, with C and H leading the way with 5 penalized teams each.

As noted above, H led the way with 22 total penalties for a loss of 189 total points. And that record-breaking team? Why Not, in its 7 total penalties, hit a loss in SIX different categories!! Those 53 points ended up costing them 2nd place and a set of team awards too! (And no, the 37 points that second place team also dumped to penalties would NOT have been enough to keep second if Why Not hadn't been penalized at all.)

HOLIDAY BREAK BLIND DRAWS

As in many previous years, throughout the holiday break the Upper Deck will be adding a weekly Wednesday blind draw for all those who just want to keep their regular dart night out rolling through the break. The Wednesday draw will be run just like the Friday and Sunday draws at the Deck (the Triple Shot will be exclusive to the Friday draws still). If you have more free time, you might want to try one or more of the other 5 weekly/monthly draws as well. For a full list, see the bottom half of the right column on page 8.

AND THE ANSWERS ARE: YES, AND YES

But two of the Wednesdays during the break this year are going to be on Christmas day and New Year's Day, you say. Is the Upper Deck really going to be holding a blind draw on Christmas? Yep! And New Year's too?! Yep! Both days… Registration will close at 8 p.m. on both of those days, just like always. When I confirmed both of those draws with Maridy Knight (of Cork Blockers, who runs most of the Upper Deck blind draws with her husband Mark, of Element Twenty Won), I texted back to her "Addicts… dart addicts, I tell ya…" Her response? "I resemble that remark."

OR MAYBE YOU WANT TO ADD ANOTHER LEAGUE?

If you're quick, and you live on the Chapel Hill side of things, you might be able to pick up a second league this coming season if you are so inclined. This past Thursday, the Triangle Dart League held their Organization & Information Meeting, followed by their Captains' Meeting. I've gathered that it was at these meetings that they were planning the upcoming season and setting registration times and locations. For more information about the league, the registration plans, etc., visit: http://www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/

FUNNY SCORESHEET STUFF

From the week 13 Bullklitz scoresheet… This is when you know your team loves you. In the Hot Darts section were these listings: 120-In - Scott [Stankevich]; 2-In - Mike [Seward].

In week 9, the Duck Commandos listed their Total Games Played on the back of the scoresheet as 4.0, 3.0, 1.0, 3.0, etc., prompting captain Bob Carawon to leave me this note there: "I was just trying to be precise on our games played."

Oh, and you know that scoresheet template file I send out at the beginning of the season? The one with my team's template in it too? Well, some of those files end up in odd places. One H team, that just formed, was sending me scoresheets with my Fa12 Narfle the Element team's player information printed in place of theirs.

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "H" = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for singles win %-age & all-star point ave. awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:
for ALL teams except the ten listed below (8 teams / div.):
Singles = 19 Games Played, ASPs = 37 Total Games Played for B1,C6,D7,E3,E8,F2,F6,F7,G4,H1 (due to 1 forfeit rcvd.):
Singles = 18 Games Played, ASPs = 35 Total Games Played

THE THIRTY-FOURTH SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs (four of whom were Divisional MVPs last season too!)

A Division	Robbie Phillips	Element Twenty Won	E Division	Dave Krasnow	No Bulls Hit
B Division	Randy Wilcox	Despicable Us	F Division	David Simpson	Home Grown Wolves
C Division	Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	G Division	Joe Rigert, Sr.	Show Us Your Tips
D Division	John Carroll	Methodical Madness	H Division	Kevin Timmons	Brewster's Pub

All of RDL -- Robbie Phillips -- Element Twenty Won

"A" Division

Tom Brown	Element Twenty Wo	One of the two A throwers ≥ 9-4 in all sets.
Kyle Gaulthier	Bullklitz	On fire right now like few have ever been.
Simon Healy	Triple Threats	And he played all the best guys repeatedly.
Sid Mitchell	Appetite for Destruc	Becoming a fixture on this division's list.
Robbie Phillips	Element Twenty Wo	What more can I say at this point?
Mike Seward	Bullklitz	Awesome 21-2 in cricket covers for '01.
Wil Tan	Element Twenty Wo	Mr. Clutch delivered at all the best spots.
Bob Terry	Lunatic Fringe	Still the guy the others don't want to play.

"B" Division

Matt Goss	Fire for Effect	Ok, so he's not exactly a 501 wizard…
Mikey Hindle	Excalibur	I'm betting he led the underdog Mug run.
Ronnie Knott	Red Dragons	Led his team (or tied) in wins in all 4 sets.
Zak Mayhew	Cork Blockers	Really took over as the Corkers' top gun.
John Mays	Nine Lives	Solid in all sets, and great in a couple.
Kevin Scott	Despicable Us	Is he late for 301? Or just on a big roster?
J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	Big cricket winner was bit of an '01 weight.
Randy Wilcox	Despicable Us	Headed to A. Where he absolutely belongs.

"C" Division

Rick Bradshaw	The Locals	Not his best season, but he intimidates in C.
Jess Jur	Rif Raf	Won better than 4 of 5 for runners-up.
Billy Maccini	The Locals	Gets a little ragged by the end of the night.
David Martin	Rif Raf	Great pickup, nearly pushed team to top.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Finally almost up to the proper division…
Randy Massengill	BullsHitters	Could he be the actual best Massengill?
Robert Ray	Traveling Beer Belli	Dropped from A, still played like an A guy.
Sal Reitano	The Locals	Three 10+-win sets and some passable 501.

"D" Division

Frank Allison	Sharky's Machine	One of the best throwers most don't know.
Angelo Azevedo	You're Supposed To	Holy cow, I guess we call him Mr. Singles.
John Carroll	Methodical Madness	25-1 in cricket, 16-6 in '01. Wins and wins.
Dave Tanner	Projectile Dysfunctic	2/3+ in both singles and doubles is strong.
Jason Thomas	Ted's H&S Emporiu	Doesn't write down ASPs, but hits a lot.
Billy West	Projectile Dysfunctic	He's back; throwing like he was never gone.
J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	What a machine this guy was for Menace.
John Wilson	Methodical Madness	What a great second fiddle for strong team.

"E" Division

Randy Baldwin	We Be Triplin	SCkt is awesome, and the rest is decent too.
Randy Deemer	We Be Triplin	Nothing flashy, but just kept winning.
David Huffman	Brown's Bombers	When 10-3 is your bad set, that's just nuts.
Dave Krasnow	No Bulls Hit	Beats all the best players… repeatedly.
Jon Lesher	Blind Squirrels	Huge singles winner stole a few doubles.
Michael Raquet	The Dartists	Season after season, solid, solid, solid.
Mike Snyder	Drinkers with a Dart	Monster season carried the Drinkers.
Paul Spaulding	Brown's Bombers	Could be top gun on any other team in E.

"F" Division

Danny Caputo	Liquor Posse	Big winner, and hit two huge 1001 doubles.
Andy Krestalude	I Got Nothing	Nobody in any division is more 501 clutch.
Frankie Langston	Home Grown Wolve	Wins so much he's an honorary Simpson.
Mark Powell	UZMAgain	Wow, 13-0 in SCkt. Anything else is gravy.
Bob Rube	UZMAgain	Can't remember last time I didn't pick him.
David Simpson	Home Grown Wolve	Nobody delivers what his team needs more.
Tyler Simpson	Home Grown Wolve	The Simpson family is taking over a bit…
Denny Williams	UZMAgain	After 301 was one of F division's best.

"G" Division

Jim Dunham	Same Day Different	Most consistent set-to-set for #2 G team.
Seth Fagan	Your Mom	Successful season in the face of adversity.
Josh Frumkin	Your Mom	Almost never lost in the first three sets.
John Geraghty	That's What She Sai	Just a solid season throughout all four sets.
Mike Kyle	Same Day Different	Wow, Joe DCkt Guy needs a 501 partner.
Joe Munroe	Your Mom	Won more games than most even play.
Joe Rigert, Jr.	Show Us Your Tips	Looks like darts might run in the family.
Joe Rigert, Sr.	Show Us Your Tips	Responsible for huge portion of team's pts.

"H" Division

Andrew Borgna	Tips & Shafts	While the cricket was moderate, '01 rocked.
Andrew Bowen	Why Not	He certainly won't be the captain here…
Kevin Casey	Missing Flights	Almost led team to an undefeated season.
Fulton Crowley	Why Not	Slow starter, but picks it up in a hurry.
Sebastian Foster	Missing Flights	The rare guy who is great in every set.
John Keleher	Why Not	Doubles were good, singles were better.
Bob Lane	Brewster's Pub	Was especially good earlier in the match.
Kevin Timmons	Brewster's Pub	Sets w/9 wins, 10 wins, 11 wins, 12 wins…

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): Oh, man, down to only 2 people in the true Quadruple Double club this season: Robbie Phillips of Element Twenty Won in A, and David Huffman of Brown's Bombers in E. Phillips is (not surprisingly) a regular in these parts, and this is Huffman's second consecutive season with this achievement. We also had a set of four honorable mentions, for throwers who were only one win in one set away from joining the list: Tom Brown of Element in A, Joe Rigert, Sr. of Your Tips and Joe Munroe of Your Mom in G, and Kevin Timmons of Brewster's in H.

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: We didn't have a team show up with something awful like only 4 players every week, but we did have a team or two with a handful of shorthanded weeks. And one of those teams provided a chance for the Spring Iron Woman to come back and defend her 'more games for the buck' title! Denise Vithorkus of Tips & Shafts in H div. went well beyond the 69 games she played in the spring, putting up a league-leading 77 game total. A full 10 more than anyone else in any division! Honorable mentions as division leaders: Justin McCurry (Appetite) led A for a 2nd straight season, with 60; Aaron Fitzgerald (Big Bulls) in B with 65; Bob McCredie (Bellies) in C with 58; Gregg McCurry (Leftovers) in D with 65; Ryan Cusman (No Bulls Hit) in E with 65; Henry Dougherty (EZDUZIT) in F with 67; and Joe Munroe (Your Mom) in G with 60.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Six teams all made a nice attempt for this category, but The Locals, Blind Squirrels, All BullS hit, and Tips & Shafts each sprinkled in too much of a 7th player, or played shorthanded all the time. In the end, there were two far more aligned to a pure 6-player lineup than all the rest: #2 was Shootin Da Bull in G division, who shared only 7 games with a 7th thrower; and #1 was I Got Nothing in F, who ended up a classic uniform 6-pack of players! I Got Nothing carried three emergency players, but never needed a single one!!

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

As usual, I'm left with the option of trying to bluff my way through this part, or just telling the truth. And since I know that some of you squirrel away every last thing I've ever written about your team, I guess I better give real results… dang.

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season given the imminent roster changes/additions), I actually seemingly did my best predictions of the fall. Outside of B division, I mostly just mis-slotted about one team per division. My picks weren't "perfect" orders for several divisions, but I was really close to hitting all but one… B division. But even there, I wrote the following: "literally any of those teams could end up in A division next season." Looks like I kind of knew what a mess that whole division could become.

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. I dropped from last season, almost entirely due to my B division record (still didn't even come close to the debacle of Sp12 though, so I must've been doing pretty well aside from my B picks). Those picks in B were pretty historic though… I was below 0.500 for every last team in the division, with 6-8 records for the Dragons and Big Bulls being my high bar. And with the Outlaws, I finished 3-10… 3 and friggin' 10! I got 9 in a wrong with them at one point. The odds of that seem nearly unbeatable. I promise I was trying…

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And as usual, we jump to best-of-three, and my picks look generally pretty strong, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals & finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. But… not as strong as in some years… I was a great 27-5 in the quarterfinals, but then I slipped to only 9-7 in the semifinals, and then really stumbled in hitting only 2 of 8 Mug champions (but at least my team won, right?)! That's a final record of 38-18, which is decent, but not awesome. My Dark Horse picks were pretty inspired though… figures… given how oddly this season went.

(I introduced this page eighteen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the two 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the twelve(!) 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [Well, what can I possibly say here? B division fooled me like no other division ever. Below 0.500 with every last team in the division? That hardly seems possible… but… there it is. And 9 wrong in a row with the Outlaws? How could that happen?! Yikes.]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 9 question: For this first question of the week, we are bringing back a question we've had in a past season, in honor of B division. What is the worst match record, in my 35 seasons as statistician, to claim a regular season division title?

Week 10 question: We presently sit with a 101-In and a 92-Out taking High In/Out awards in a couple divisions if things hold up. What are lowest "In" and "Out" awards the RDL has awarded in my 35 seasons as statistician?

Week 11 question(s): What is the greatest total number of forfeits in any one season during my 35 seasons as statistician? What is the greatest number of teams to have lost at least one match by forfeit in the same season?

Week 12 question: In my 35 seasons as statistician, what is the greatest number of divisions in any one season that had not produced a division title-clinching team prior to the final week?

Week 13 question: Of course I'm going to follow that last one up… In my 35 seasons as statistician, what is the lowest number of divisions in any one season that had not produced a division title-clinching team prior to the final week?

Week 14 question: In my 35 (and for the purposes of this question, now 36) seasons as statistician, what is the worst record to have claimed a divisional singles win percentage title?

Week 9 answer: In my 35 seasons, the worst record to ever claim a division title has been 9 wins, 5 losses. And that has happened 3 times - No Clue took D division in the Fa97 season, the Starving Dartists claimed D division in the Fa00 season, and Dublin-Dublout won E division in the Sp12 season. Each of those teams won a point race, as 2, 2, and 3 teams had finished with a 9-5 in those three divisional races, respectively. So what do you think… is this season's B winner headed to an equal (or worse!?) record? [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Despite the leader of B div. sitting at a very moderate 4-3 at the midway point of the season, it turns out the division didn't even come close to the record. While 7 of the 8 B teams finished 8-6 and worse, Despicable Us ended the season with a 7-match streak that ran them all the way up to 11 wins.]

Week 10 answer: Well, the first thing to recognize here is that we've only given divisional High In and High Out awards since the start of 2007. That means the first 22 seasons with me as statistician included only leaguewide High Ins & Outs. In that time, the lowest Ins and Outs that were awarded were a 149-In (Spring 2003, by both Tom Brown and Jim Budelman) and a 126-Out (Spring 2000, by both Lee Scott and George Sutphen). But in the 13 seasons since we separated the awards divisionally, we've (predictably) had some significantly lower winning numbers. Thus, the real answers to this question are: a pair of 105-Ins (both in Spring 2011, in H division, by Michael Solomon and Shannon Lougher), and a 55-Out (in Spring 2010, in H division, by Norm Klein - this is the only Out award ever given for a score below 80). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: While we came nowhere near the low High Out record this season, H division missed out on the low High In mark by just 1 point. Not a record they would really want, I suppose, but one they almost got anyway.]

Week 11 answer: Ok, well, the greatest total number of forfeits in a season is 18, with that number produced by only 3 teams in the Fall 2008 season. Two of those teams were removed from the schedule due to repeated forfeiting, with one team eventually dropping 10(!) matches due to the administrative removal. The greatest number of different teams that have forfeited is 7, with that occurring twice - Fall 1997 (for a total of 15 forfeits) and Fall 2012 (for a total of only 8 forfeits). This season we've already had 6 different teams forfeit, so the team record is actually in jeopardy (I hope we don't reach it); but they've only forfeited once each, so the total forfeit number record is likely pretty safe this time around. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Wow, oh wow, did we smash the "number of teams with a forfeit" record this season! In the end, we had an astonishing TEN teams forfeit a match this time around. Ten. Out of only 64. 15.6% of the league forfeited a match this season. That is flippin' crazy. At least those ten teams only forfeited once each during the season (although one did go ahead and forfeit its quarterfinal also).]

Week 12 answer: Ok, this question was a little bit cooler to go back and research than I expected when I wrote it. Just seeing the amount of final week drama (or sometimes lack thereof) that has occurred was really pretty interesting. And it turns out that the most drama- packed week 14 happened in the Spring 2012 season, when 7 of 8 division races went to the final week! Sadly (I guess), the drama didn't produce a lot of changes, as 6 of the 7 unclinched leaders held on for their titles. Better drama was found back in Spring 2007, when 6 races were still on, and 3 leads changed hands in week 14!

Week 13 answer: Holy cow, the Fall 1998 season was short on drama… ALL SEVEN division titles had been clinched before the last week of the season. Wow. When you add in this season's 5 division races that have yet to be decided, it turns out that we average 3.4 divisions per season that go to the final week (out of an average of 7.3 divisions per season). So this season has more drama than usual! Excellent. I don't know about you guys, but I'm pulling for the teams that presently sit in second place… [Answer update for the banquet Tons: This season, 2 of the 5 teams that entered week 14 in first place but had not yet clinched the title gave way in the final night. Element Twenty Won passed Bullklitz in the final 501 of their head-to-head match in A division, and the Liquor Posse leapfrogged both I Got Nothing and UZMAgain with a 1001 win in the final week to take the F title from the third slot!]

Week 14 answer: [This one is automatically an update for the banquet Tons, because I didn't have room to run the answer in the tournament edition of the Tons. Thus, here is your first look at this particular answer…] First, the short answer that directly answers the rather simple question: Tim Lane holds this record, with a 0.750 win percentage (15-5) in the Fall 2007 B division season, making him the only singles champ to lose a quarter of his/her games. And now for the longer answer: over our 36 seasons, featuring a total of 262 competitive divisions, 13 times the player with the best singles win percentage in a division has won less than 80% of his/her games. It has never happened in A, G or H divisions, and E leads in terms of most seasons with super-balanced individual stats (with 5 of the 13 sub-0.800 singles champs - although it should be noted that 3 of those 5 were all tied in the same Fall 1998 season). The full list of the 13 sub-0.800 singles champs is: Tim Lane (0.750, 15-5, Fa07 B), Tim Davis (0.760, 19-6, Sp98 F), Stan Converse (0.769, 20-6, Sp98 E), Vicente Martinez (0.786, 22-6, Sp11 C), Andrew Bacanskas (0.783, 18-5, Sp02 F), Bob Rube (0.783, 18-5, Sp96 F), Tom Winters (0.783, 18-5, Fa07 D), Jacky Buckman/ Justin Cunningham/Bill Stasko (0.786, 22-6, Fa98 E), Tom Kubel (0.792, 19-5, Fa09 B), Steve Wilcenski (0.792, 19-5, Sp10 E), and Andy Schwochow (0.792, 19-5, Sp10 F).

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page (and continuing onto the next page). No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song (and weekly theme)"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "Feel the fire, he's entering the ring, His mindset only knows how to win, This Danish fighter will break you in two"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "There's no blame only shame, When you beg you just complain, The more I come the more I try, All police are paranoid"

Week 2, song #3 lyric: "Feel the rhythm with your hands, Steal the rhythm while you can… Speak the rhythm on your own"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "I look around but it's you I can't replace, I feel so cold, and I long for your embrace, I keep crying baby, baby please"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "As the river flows gently to the sea, Darling so we go some things were meant to be"

Week 3, song #3 lyric: "Got me hoping you page me right now, Your kiss's got me hoping you save me right now"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "Two o'clock this morning, If she should come a calling, I couldn't dream of turning her away"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "Something in the moonlight catches my eye, The shadow of a lover goes dancing by, Looking for a little bit of love to grow"

Week 4, song #3 lyric: "I like to draw marijuana, It gives me a deep meditation, It keep the natty deadlocks jumping, It keep the natty dreadlocks rocking"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "I miss my baby and I feel so sad, I guess my race is run, Like she's the best girl I ever had"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "When I was just a baby, my mama told me Son, Always be a good boy, don't ever play with guns"

Week 5, song #3 lyric: "All around in my home town, They're trying to track me down, They say they want to bring me in guilty"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "And it's two bare feet on the dashboard, Young love and an old Ford, Cheap shades and a tattoo"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "Here it is the groove slightly transformed, Just a bit of a break from the norm, Just a little somethin' to break the monotony"

Week 6, song #3 lyric: "One of these mornings you're going to rise up singin', Yes you'll spread your wings and you'll take to the stay"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "I don't really want to stop the show, But I thought that you might like to know, That's the singer's going to sing a song"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "Well, the rain exploded with a mighty crash, As we fell into the sun, And the first one said to the second one there"

Week 7, song #3 lyric: "Out on the road for forty days, Last night in Little Rock put me in a haze, Sweet, sweet Connie was doin' her act"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "I dial it in and tune the station, They talk about the U.S. inflation, I understand just a little, No comprende, it's a riddle"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "We watch the shows, we watch the stars, On videos for hours and hours, We hardly need to use our ears"

Week 8, song #3 lyric: "They took the credit for your second symphony, Rewritten by machine and new technology"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "Through all the cities and all these towns, It's in my blood and it's all around, I love you now like I loved you then"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "Waiting on a Sunday afternoon, For what I read between the lines, your lies, Feelin' like a hand in rusted shame"

Week 9, song #3 lyric: "Lay back, enjoy the show, Everybody gets high, everybody gets low, These are the days when anything goes"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "Well the crowd cleared away, and I began to pray, as the water fell on the floor, And I'm telling you son"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "To avoid complications, she never kept the same address, In conversation, she spoke just like a baroness"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "You got problems in your life of love, You got a broken heart, He's double dealin' with your best friend"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "Silverado, candy-painted, Ray-Bans got the whole world shaded, Chrome piece tucked in the console"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "Masquerading as a man with a reason, My charade is the event of the season, And if I claim to be a wise man"

Week 11, song #3 lyric: "I poked my finger down inside makin' a little room for an ant to hide, Nature's candy in my hand or a can or a pie"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "I'm gonna singe those songs that offend the censors, Gonna pop my pills from a Pez dispenser"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Twenty-five years ago they spoke out and they broke out, Of recession and oppression and together they toked"

Week 12, song #3 lyric: "Hope you got your things together, Hope you are quite prepared to die, Looks like we're in for nasty weather"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "Castles of stone, soul and glory, Lost faces say we adore you, As kings and queens bow and play for you"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "Living is easy with eyes closed, Misunderstanding all you see, It's getting hard to be someone, But it all works out"

Week 13, song #3 lyric: "And I've been knocking but no one answers, And I've been knocking most all the day, Oh and I've been calling"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "I count the falling tears, they fall before my eyes, Seems like a thousand years, since we broke the ties"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "Mirror queen, mannequin, rhythm of love, Sweet dream, saccharine, loosen up"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "Now it's the middle of the night on the open road, And the heater don't work and it's oh so cold"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "Ragz to richez or so they say, ya gotta keep pushin' for the fortune and fame, It's all a gamble, when it's just a game"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "Skydive naked from an aeroplane, Or a lady with a body from outerspace"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "They say I spend my money on women and wine, But I couldn't tell you where I spent last night"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "Well, I'm frustrated, outdated, I really want to be over-rated, I'm a finder and I'm a keeper"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "The night is calling, I have to go, The wolf is hungry, he runs the show, He's licking his lips, he's ready to win"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "Bang Bang, Shoot'em Up, the party never ends, You can't think of dying when the bottle's your best friend"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "Turn it down you say, Well all I got to say to you is time and time again I say 'no! No! No, no, no, no, no!' "

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "Tho' I keep searching for an answer, I never seem to find what I'm looking for"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "Daddy says she's too young, but she's old enough for me"

[Unlike in previous seasons, this season we used three-song groups each week and also included a theme each and every week. Added a layer to the game for everybody and proved pretty popular. Here are the themes for each week*, including the week 14 twelve-song set that proved to be one of the most popular lyric quiz weeks we've ever had - pretty clear that I hit a bit of history for quite a segment of our league there…]*

Week 2 theme: All bands that cancelled their "Rain or Shine" sets at the Carolina Rebellion this summer, because of… rain!!! No, seriously. Because of rain. Week 3 theme: Sadly, those were the #1 songs in the nation 30 years, 20 years, and 10 years ago that week. Week 4 theme: Obviously, all three songs have the same name… Week 5 theme: Criminals, penalties, etc. I guess the performance of H division so far had inspired me. Week 6 theme: Another week with three songs with the same name… Week 7 theme: It's all about 'the band'. Week 8 theme: A week all about 'radio'. Week 9 theme: Hitting the road, in some fashion or other. Week 10 theme: Bands whose original lead singer from their successful time passed away; additionally, all of those songs were recorded with that original lead singer. Week 11 theme: The states, of course! Week 12 theme: Star, sun, moon… celestial bodies… etc. Week 13 theme: Yard/field/garden stuff. Week 14 theme: 1980s hair bands, with the songs listed alphabetically by band name.

I said you would see this again…

RULE CLARIFICATION NEEDED BY R&G COMMITTEE

As noted in the tournament issue of the newsletter, I was forced to make an executive decision after week 14 on something teams had never done during my time as statistician. In the Missing Flights - Ton-sters match, the Ton-sters were shorthanded two players. And in 501, Missing Flights picked the same person to fill both blocker slots (giving that person 3 games in the same set). And the Ton-sters agreed. So both teams ignored the rule (which is actually included in bold on front of the scoresheet… twice…), making them both at fault. So, hmmm… This is where we need a rule/interpretation. Is this an ineligible player? And for which team? Both? In the end, I decided that the game simply didn't exist and nobody got the points. Both teams played a game that can't exist in the RDL, so… at least this time, the game didn't exist to the statistician… I expect that you can likely count on an updated rules set (or at least a clarification to be added) at the preseason captains' meeting for the spring season.

ALL-TIME RDL RECORD TIED AGAIN!

For years, Don Bingham (then Butman) and Tom Brown sat alone in the 7-dart 301 club. Then, just a season ago, Tony Keller punched himself a membership card in that club. And now, we have a newly appointed fourth member of the club!! Dave Krasnow of No Bulls Hit came within a single dart of perfection during his quarterfinal match against the Blind Squirrels. After starting with a decent, but seemingly still somewhat pedestrian, opening turn of double-16/ single-5/triple-20, Krasnow still had a stout 204 points remaining. No matter… Just a little Ton-80 to leave 24 on turn two, followed by a first-dart double-12, and bang!... league record time! Three decades of darts in RDL, and nobody has ever finished a game faster. Congrats, Kraz! I feel a little bad that you won't be here at the banquet to hear us applaud your achievement. Of course, you're on a cruise with Dad instead, so… I don't feel that bad you're missing it…

[On a related note, I wish I knew the dart order of Don Butman's 7-darter early in 1995. Of the four games/three people since his, only Tom Brown has gotten a look at a double on dart 6 (and in only one of his two 7-darters). Just curious how often the league has flirted with one single dart at complete perfection.]

[Extra side note: while it wasn't a perfect "game", in April 2008, Kevin Kendall threw his part of a 10-dart DCkt in a perfect fashion. His six darts were five triples and a double-bull. Pure awesomeness.]

FIRST, SOMETHING BAD, AND SORT OF SAD

Just a quick reminder here to everyone before we crank up the next season: if your behavior dips to such a level that one (or more!) of the league's host establishments ban you from their premises, the league's stance in general will be "too bad for you." So if your team has multiple matches at a place where you are persona non grata (look it up if you need to...), your team had better find somebody to play in your spot. [And a note to our establishments: feel free to let me or any Board member know if there is anyone that is no longer welcome at your business.] [Also a last note to the membership: it is very very very very sad that an item like this is ever necessary.]

BUT NOW FOR SOMETHING GREAT…

In stark contrast to the very negative item above, I present to you here an item very much the opposite. The sexy beast to the right is RDL President Jason Thomas! And the most exceptional outfit which he is sporting is his wife's racing gear for the Pink Shamrock 5K! Yep, that's right… JT is wearing Jill's women's small racing shirt and race number. You see, Jill had signed up to run in the fundraiser race for "1in9", a nonprofit dedicated to raising funds for women and their families as they deal with the costs of various treatments, prescriptions, and medical supplies necessary for their care as they battle breast cancer. However, shortly before the race, Jill injured her foot and couldn't run. So what do you do if you're a self-confident, well-adjusted, athletic male, who knows that he most decidedly "married up", and who respects the cause his wife was supporting? You put on her gear and you go run the race for her! And you pose long enough for a photo you know will make others chuckle. And you maturely laugh and agree when a guy who writes a newsletter for one of your favorite hobbies says he is going to show the photo to everyone. Hats off to you, President Thomas… === Interested in donating or volunteering? Visit 1in9.com and make a real difference.

THE LADIES OF THE RDL KICK BUTT AND TAKE NAMES

North Carolina Ladies' Cup

Remember last year when the Fuquay-Varina ladies' team (featuring multiple RDL members) took home the North Carolina Ladies' Cup? Well, this past weekend, it was time to defend that title, and wow, did they ever! While 75% of the matches that didn't include them went to nail biting 13-11 finishes, the Fuquay ladies rolled through their three opponents by a combined score of 41-19, including a 14-2 pasting of Chapel Hill in the finals! (see full results on page 19) Congratulations to Lisa Dendy (front row in photo), Kris Kilsdonk and Karla McCray (2nd row), Allyson Blackwelder, Carol Federline, Tami Wells, Deb Blackwelder, and Linda Jones (back row). [Note: this photo was taken on Saturday, when the Fuquay ladies started a great tradition of snapping a photo of every team in the tournament. A second Fuquay ladies photo was also supplied to me, from after their victory… complete with drunken smiles, Tami hanging on the Amer. Legion commander, Linda biting the cup, and general goofiness. I used the photo to the right instead to protect the guilty.]

North Carolina/South Carolina Mixed Challenge Cup

But having the NC Ladies' Cup here in the Triangle isn't enough! Don't believe me? Just ask the Apex ladies! They put together a Mixed Cup squad chock full of RDL members and went down to Wilmington on August 24th and brought the NC/SC Mixed Cup back! (Yeah, yeah, I'm a little late reporting this one… but thankfully, after a Cup defense and then another by forfeit, they still have it.) Congrats to: (front row) Zak Mayhew, Angela Jeffcoat, Cody Gaulthier; (back row) Julie Payne, Joel Eason, Lis Pleasant, Robbie Phillips, Maridy Knight, Scott Butters, and Barbara Cotton!

BANQUET TONS COMPILATION GROWS

As I noted to those on the Tons email list prior to this past season, this summer I was able to go back and create clean, organized copies of all of the banquet issues of the Tons since I took over 36 seasons ago. Older issues with some pretty rushed cut/paste jobs and other items that generally just weren't available electronically are now all compiled, with versions saved as pdfs, as well as in both the current Excel format and an older-Excel-compatible format. Also, I've created a single pdf compilation file of all 36 seasons together. However, due to the size of that file (1200+ pages, 40 MB), it can't be emailed easily. You'll have to get that one from the league website or from me on a flash drive. Email me (address on page 8) if you're interested in any.

FURTHER PROOF OF THE BEST

We've all seen players come and go over the years who have been dominant here in the RDL, even stomping through A division unimpeded at times. Some of those times we've seen evidence of it in gaudy numbers like ASP Averages above 2.5/game. But having been around these top guns for years, I've seen them play and I've seen how truly dominant (or not) that they've been. Which is what brought me to an interesting task this season… Despite how often I've included items about Robbie Phillips (which will happen when you win multiple national championships and come within two legs of a World Cup), I highly doubt that most people have any idea how truly high his ability ceiling is. So, I decided to try to figure out a way to help you understand. And here is what I came up with: for the first month of the season, I counted how many turns throughout the night at our matches that Phillips had a turn where he could legitimately hit an ASP - turns in '01 where he started the turn at 100 or more, and turns in cricket where he needed at least 5 marks or at least 3 bulls to end the game. Now, mind you, he didn't always 'choose' the ASP route, as throwing 97 from 137 is certainly a better choice than throwing a Ton, so if anything these numbers are actually deflated, rather than being inflated, which is more than a bit scary when you see the numbers below.

Phillips is such an efficient player of the game that in the first four matches of the season, he only had 66 total turns in which an ASP was in play. Yep, despite playing 4 games a night for 4 weeks, he only had 66 turns for open scoring. That's only 4.125 turns/game! And how many ASPs did he hit? 11.5. In week 1… Then 10.0 in week 2, 10.5 in week 3, and 12.0 in week 4. For a total of 44.0 ASPs in those 4 matches. In only 66 turns.

For the mathematically challenged, I'll calculate that for you… Phillips had an ASP Average of 0.667 during that first month when I was watching. Oh… but… that's 0.667 all-star points PER TURN. No, not per game, like the rest of us use as a measuring stick. Per turn. That means that when you throw three turns, if you don't already have 2.0 ASPs, you're falling behind.

Just for comparison: there were 549 members in the RDL this season. Of those, 13 did not play in the regular season, leaving 536 league members throwing. Of those 536 (one of whom is, of course, Phillips himself), 458 averaged less than 0.667 ASPs per game. That means that the average TURN for Phillips scores more ASPs than the average GAME does for 85.6% of the league. How's that for some perspective?

WHICH BRINGS ME TO…

What happens when you hit huge turns all the time, win national championships, and nearly win a World Cup? Well, you end up getting sponsored and producing your own signature line of darts! How freakin' bada is this?! When you go to the Puma Darts catalog, you can get yourself a set of the Robbie Phillips signature model darts (available in multiple weights, including light enough for soft-tip conversion). Below is the actual photo from the catalog, complete with an image of his name laser-written right on the dart!

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- Once again, it's Survivor time! But this season, this first item is just a touch different… I'm watching this season (of course), but I admit I'm a week behind (yay, DVR). That's not important though… what is important is that there's a new format this season: each Survivor came on the show with a loved one. Pretty excellent. Which got to me thinking… Can you imagine a dart team Survivor? Which of your teammates would you blindside in a Tribal Council vote first? Which one would you pick to go on challenge rewards with you? Or more to the point… which would you not pick? Oh man, that would be so fun. The fact that it would probably destroy your team isn't maybe the most ideal thing ever, but it would be really fun for the rest of us to watch at least…

-- So lately I've been seeing seemingly more and more people opening their car windows a bit, sticking their fingers out, and then rubbing and flicking their fingers and thumbs together. Could that really be anything but people flicking off boogers while they drive? And with that in mind, does that mean nose-picking is on the rise? Or just that I'm noticing it more?

-- This is the label off of an actual bottle of beer. There's nothing more to this one… I just thought this looked really awesome, and thought that a beer with hot peppers added was pretty interesting.

-- Not that I really want to associate myself with the throwing talents of a guy who, shortly after this, drunkenly informed me that I was "mentally distressed" and "mentally disturbed" because my team had too many good players to win anymore, and we were all both mad and dead (no, really), but… if I was to ever throw two 9-marks in the same game, it would probably be similar to the fashion in which Steve Chorba of Wilmington did it in the state finals this past weekend: 0-mark, 0-mark, 9-mark, 0-mark, 9-mark.

-- I kept meaning to include this item in the Tons, but I always thought that whatever location it was in the newsletter where I had space was just a little too prominent to keep Deb Blackwelder from beating me (or maybe her daughter) for embarrassing her in print. But this one just has to be passed along, beatings be damned… At the state championship this past September (full results on page 20), Allyson Blackwelder teamed up with the happily degenerate and debaucherous pair of Paul Jacobi and Alberto Sandoval to enter the Mixed Triples event. As many teams do, they chose to sign up for the event not just under their own three names, but also under a "team name". In this case, Allyson was somehow convinced (and by 'convincing her', I mean they said 'how about this?' and she said 'hell yeah!') to play under the team name of Allyson and Her Ta-Tas. Paul and Alberto even went so far as to rename themselves Left and Right. I've never seen teams so happy to come to a board to meet their opponents! My only lament here is that they didn't win the state title - I would have loved to have seen what they chose to put for their names on their state shirts.

-- I really don't know that the true awesomeness of this season's B division can be overstated. After the seemingly thousands of matches this season (out of the 56 played in B, which makes that a pretty high percentage) that were won by the team lower in the standings, for the #7 and #8 seeds to roll to the tournament final together was just perfect. I think that the teams in that division should be made to stay together as its own separate division in perpetuity. Nobody can change teams or stop playing, ever. No teams can ever leave or join the division - just the same eight teams playing, and almost certainly crowning 8 different winners in every 8-season run. Let's look at just a few of the statistical features of B that made it so silly:

The highest win percentage for any team equated to only 54.2% success, while the lowest two were down at 46.4% and 46.2%. Those lowest two are, of course, the tournament finalists.

Each of the eight teams had a losing record in at least one set.

Only one team (the 4th place team) had a singles win rate over 51.2%. And they were only at 54.2%. If I hadn't seen that happen, I would've said that was nearly impossible.

And six of the eight teams finished with ASP averages within 0.053 of each other. The only team above that range lost in the first round of the tournament, to the only team below that range. That below-range team? They also happen to be drinking out of the Mugs today.

Craziness, I'm tellin' ya… I'm going to miss this division…

-- Most people are proud of their kids (even if there is really no reason to be), and I fully admit I'm one of them. But in the past week or two, I've really had two moments where I just sat and glowed at how great my 12-year-old son is. In one of those, he was just talking along and he dropped the word 'sentient' into his sentence as he was rolling, and it was completely accurate usage. (Go ahead, check out the definition on your smartphone… I'll wait… no, really, go ahead… ok, got it?) So, he's as smart as a whip, which is awesome. Then in another discussion, he starts his thought out with "so, the front man for Radiohead…" And the rest of the sentence was completely logical and a great music discussion, but that really didn't matter. Just starting what he was saying like that was enough for me. He's as smart as a whip and he's cool. Man, I got way lucky… I sure love that kid.

-- So is it really great when an opponent wears your team's shirt? Or is that them trying to steal some of your karma? This is from last season, but clearly Paddy Diamond of Rif Raf is of the mind that it was awesome that Julie Wilcox (of Despicable Us) was sporting Rif Raf's colors. [For the record, Julie's bunch won…]

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- You guys all know that I hate when words are simply sucked into the lexicon because so many people use a word (or non-word) so often and so incorrectly that it sort of becomes 'accepted'. Well, I'm not alone in that one. Ever watch football on TV? Ever hear the analysts refer to a team's or player's "physicality"? I dare you to walk over to Maridy Knight (she's probably around here somewhere selling dart supplies) and tell her all about physicality. Just be ready to deal with some physicality as you do so.

-- I'll bet most of us know who "those teams" are in our divisions. You know the ones… the ones that are generally disliked due to their behavior, and the ones where everyone else is pulling for you to beat them every week, just because… But do you think they know who they are? I'll bet most of them do. And that, I think, makes it even sadder. I can assure you that, for the most part, I certainly know who those teams are…

-- It was killing me during the season to not share this one… but I said I would wait so that they could pull it again a couple times if they felt like it. Which I'm sure they did. But now it's time to share, and what better time than in the banquet Tons? From Mike Seward of Bullklitz back in October: "Last night Doug [Jeffcoat, Mike's teammate] had his old man reading glasses so he could see the score sheet. Every time he set his glasses down I smeared pink lip gloss (borrowed from Joey's girlfriend) on the nose piece. Doug's entire nose was shiny and reddish/pink all night - and he never figured out why his glasses kept slipping down….I couldn't even look at him. I wonder if Angela questioned his Rudolph Red nose appearance when he got home---oh honey, you must have a cold!" Geez, you need to be on your toes to play for Bullklitz…

-- You guys have heard me mock concert-goers who spend their whole time trying to record songs on their phones instead of just enjoying the show. But at one of the concerts I went to recently, a woman there raised the pathetic-ness (that's a word, but only for the purposes of this discussion) bar for me… She spent most of her time at the show recording videos on her phone, but… she was recording the images on one of the side screens! She wasn't even recording the performers directly! What a waste of money her ticket cost was… no idea why she was even there…

-- I've decided that there is a new entry in the 'dumbest drivers' category that I unintentionally keep in the back of my head. Can someone tell me how low on the list to put the woman who feels the need to tailgate a school bus? [Some karma here though… the bus was actually pulling over, not to pick up kids, but rather to stop on the side of the road because it was ahead of schedule for its next route (I'm assuming that's why, based on the time of the day). She was tailgating so closely that she didn't see the driver get off the bus at the curb, and when all the cars were going around the bus to continue onward, she was so close to the bus that she couldn't pull around without waiting for everyone else to go and then backing up. Even today that makes me smile.]

-- Some guys simply have the demeanor and calmness to be a great dart thrower. At our tournament final this past Wednesday, with my team ahead by a narrow score of 10-8, Wil Tan and Jon Kenney trailed in game 1 of their 501 set, sitting on 141 while their opponents sat on 30. Tan stepped up and threw triple-20, triple-19, double-12 with a calm pace that made it look like he was tossing warmup darts. Then he just turned and shook hands. How many of you would be jumping up and down and shrieking?

-- Are you a woman who tries to hover over the toilet when you go in to pee in a public restroom? Do you realize that's its you who pees on the seat and makes it all yucky? Yep, it is YOUR fault, not the others'. Which means it's also your fault that my wife has to come out of public restrooms all the time telling me how nasty you are. Just sit your butt down. Turns out others are cleaner than you are anyway.

-- An awesome email quote from Heather Bohanan that I saved from some time ago: "Hey, something strikes me as weird, and you seem like the kind of person who may also think it is weird [note from JK - she was right]. Now, I Googled this but couldn't find confirmation that it is the same woman, but it sure sounds like it. Ok, you know the British woman who does the voiceovers for Victoria's Secret? I guess it's sexy if you are a dude. Well, this weekend there is this commercial for Benefiber Orange and she is doing that too!! Now, to me it seems really ironic that there is a (supposedly - doesn't do it for me personally...) woman selling sex appeal doing ads for lingerie and a product to help you poop?!?! Am I the only one who thinks this is weird??"

-- So when you go into East Coast Wings, and they have that super-hot wing challenge, they'll put your picture on the wall if you can eat the required number. And if there was to be an RDL member on that wall of 'fame', how could it be anyone other than Matt Varnadoe of Is It In? And how could he be labeled as anything other than Carnie Matt? If you don't know Matt, just trust me… it's Matt who would've been the league's odds-on favorite to show up there.

-- You know what I think is cool? (Yes, some of you might well disagree with me, but you people would be wrong.) I think it's cool when people come out to watch the finals of the league championship match. Not just in RDL, but really in any league in which you participate. I just think it's a little bit excellent to enjoy and respect a hobby so much that you'll come share in the finale of the season at the top levels of competition. Or really at any level. Just come revel in the excitement of the moment for people that like to do what you like to do. Adds a little something for them too, so don't think they don't appreciate it. Sort of a little extension of a darting family. I like it. (And as a side note: thank you to those that come out to hang out at our finals match on Wednesday. I like you all more than I did before Wednesday. I don't care what your teammates say about you…)

-- I hope I'm not too hung over when I see you guys during this party. Last night was the faculty dinner dance over at Duke, and my wife and I love good formal dinner parties with cocktail hours, open bar, and hours of dancing. You have no idea how much energy I poured into this issue to make sure it was done in time to go to the dinner. But I made it, and I'm down to these last four lines. So here, I will just say this: thanks for reading, thanks for making our hobby go, and thanks for making regular old weekdays so much fun. I hope the holidays find you healthy and happy…

NCCDL / NCLC MEETING RESULTS FROM THE SEPTEMBER MEETING

== The NCCDL will operate with the same 13 teams as in 2013, and divisional play will return to the East/West format employed in even-numbered years for a while now. The exact division lineup has yet to be decided, as Port City has come through with a confirmation that they will be playing in 2014. The exact division alignment has yet to be decided as Port City was not part of the initial planning discussion at the recent state meeting. Discussions between the League Directors and NCDO officers will address the main issue of which division will play with 7 teams - being the geographic swing team, Durham will be the team in question as to division assignment. The West division will certainly include Asheville, Pineville, Charlotte, Lake Norman, Piedmont, and Chapel Hill. The East division will certainly include Port City, Wilmington, Jacksonville, Capital Area, Raleigh, and Cary. Whichever division ends up with 6 teams will play 7 matches, whichever division ends up with 7 teams will play 8 matches, and all teams will have 2 interdivisional matches on their schedules (except for 2 teams in the larger division, who will have one extra intradivisional match). == The NCLC will operate with the same 11 teams as in 2013, also with an East/West format. The West division will include Asheville, Hickory, Pineville, Charlotte, Piedmont, and Chapel Hill. The East division will include Wilmington, Jacksonville, Fuquay-Varina, Capital Area, and Apex. The West division will play 7 matches, and the East division will play 6 matches, and all teams will have 2 interdivisional matches on their schedules (except for 2 teams in the larger West division, who will have one extra intradivisional match).

HISTORY OF THE NCCDL…

It was back in 1995 that Tim Lane (now of the Cary NCCDL team) first introduced the idea of the statewide year-long season style of play to replace the old "one team holds the cup against a string of challengers" sytem. It's still possibly the most popular and successful idea ever for anything larger than a local league. Here are the 18 tournament final results so far:

1996: Raleigh over Charlotte
1997: Piedmont over Durham
1998: Piedmont over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
1999: Wilmington over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
2000: Durham over Charlotte
2001: Durham over Wilmington
2002: Wilmington over Durham
2003: Wilmington over Durham
2004: Wilmington over Durham
2005: Durham over Wilmington
2006: Durham over Charlotte
2007: Durham over Charlotte
2008: Durham over Charlotte
2009: Wilmington over Charlotte
2010: Wilmington over Durham
2011: Durham over Lake Norman
2012: Durham over Wilmington
2013: Wilmington over Lake Norman

Request to the NCLC Ladies: if any of you have a history of the results like the one above for the NCCDL, I would love to have a copy of those so I can periodically run an NCLC history as well. Drop me a line please if you're willing to share.

TONS OF NEWSLETTER

Home to the Spring Session of the Raleigh Dart League for the Banquet, Saturday, May 17, 2014 Issue #JK592
The "Why Do The Youth Soccer Schedulers Seem To Have It Out For Me During Dart Season?" Edition

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - Bona Fide Element (13-5)
Though the score doesn't fairly show the closeness of the final, Element becomes just the 4th A division team since 1995 to win the Mugs without playing any 501 sets (2 of the other 3 were Element too).

"B" Division - BullsHitters (13-7)
The Hitters end the season on a 13-match run (losing only to the Niners in week 4), losing only 9 total points during the tournament & completing their FIFTH consecutive season/tournament double!

"C" Division - Projectile Bombers (13-9)
They had to go almost the full distance in each of their tournament matches, but the Projectiles (who ended the regular season with back-to-back losses) take the Mugs for the 3rd time in 4 seasons.

"D" Division - We Be Triplin (13-5)
After barely surviving both their quarterfinal and semifinal matches, Triplin rips through the Machine in the final to take their second straight Mug (though they're still hunting their first season title).

"E" Division - Liquor Posse (14-4)
The Posse bounces back from a tough loss in the regular season extra tiebreaker match to mostly cruise through the E bracket, claiming their 2nd consecutive Mug (and 3rd in the last 5 seasons).

"F" Division - Home Grown Wolves (13-11)
The Wolves end the Spring on a roll (Spring roll?), ending a strong upset run by the Bandits (who the Wolves hadn't beaten except by forfeit this season) when 70-year-old John Jenkins pops the winner.

"G" Division - The Sofa Kings (13-7)
They might not be able to actually sit anywhere near their own matches, but The Sofa Kings still shoot down the lowest-seeded finals participant (the 5th-place Gratefuls) to claim the G Mugs.

"H" Division - Train Station Shooters (14-10)
The Shooters went nearly the distance in all three tournament matches (I think, since the official semis score wasn't reported), giving them 12 of 17 Spring matches decided by one doubles or less.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Bona Fide Element (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Wil. Take Shots

"B" Division - BullsHitters (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Inconceivable!

"C" Division - Methodical Madness (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Traveling Brown's Billiards

"D" Division - Sharky's Machine (9 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Death Throw

"E" Division - I Got Nothing (12 wins, 2 losses, plus 1 extra win!)
2nd place - Liquor Posse

"F" Division - Home Grown Wolves (10 wins, 4 losses)
2nd place - Darty Deeds

"G" Division - Shootin Da Bull (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - The Sofa Kings

"H" Division - Quack Hos (12 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Misfits

Rosters of all season- and tournament-winning teams are on page 4.)

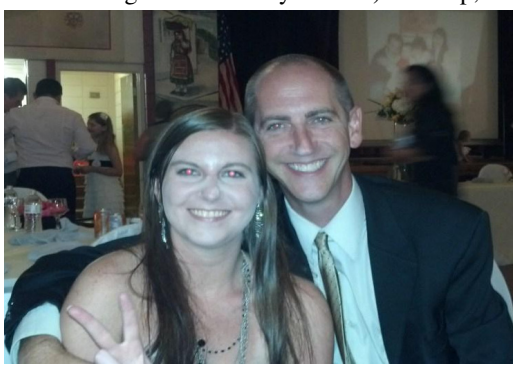
THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Fewer teams than in the last 3 seasons, and 14 fewer total matches, but that didn't prevent there from being a veritable avalanche of 1001 tiebreakers. 45 total tiebreakers played (with 3 of those 45 occurring during the divisional tournaments). B division had a colossal 13 1001s (12 in the season and 1 in the tournament), more than double the total in any other division. E and G each had 6 tiebreakers, D and H each had 5 tiebreakers (both with 4 in the season and 1 in the tournament), A and C each had 4 tiebreakers, and F trailed the rest with only 2.

An astonishing NINE teams played 3 or more tiebreaker games, with 7 of those 9 each playing 4 or more! Poppin' parity, Batman!

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) is shared by three teams, with two of them (No Quarter and Rif Raf, both in B division) sadly sitting with 1-4 records in the extra leg (which also makes these two teams the recipients of this season's Heartbreak Awards). The third team with five 1001s (What Does the Cork Say?, also in B, of course) fared much better at 3-2, including a tiebreaker win in the tournament.

Probably the teams that most appreciated the need for a tiebreaker though were the Big Bulls (in B) and We Be Triplin (in D). Both rang up 4-0 records in the extra leg, but it was Triplin that really lived large in extra time, winning 1 of their 4 on the way to a tournament title.



FALL 2014 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

Saturday, December 13th - Fall season banquet, site TBD

MATCHES MADE ~~IN HEAVEN~~ IN A DART BAR

Well, ok, maybe the matches were "made in heaven" in terms of the happiness of those involved… but the actual time put in that grew these pairings was spent at dart matches. That's right, we have two new dart couples that are tying the knot!! (Sure, the couples aren't necessarily new, but their wedding vows certainly will be.) First up, we have Barry Jackson and Kelly Haller of Armed & Hammered. They actually got married this past weekend, so this one is sort of a "post"-notice. Stupid Barry made the rest of us guys look bad with a storybook proposal on top of the Empire State Building. I think he must be compensating for something… Oh, not that… Well, maybe not that, I guess… But I meant that he is an Ohio State fan… That might be worse, don't ya think? :o)

And second up, we have upcoming nuptials for a couple of the E champion Home Grown Wolves. David Simpson & Rhonda Gregory will be getting married June 14th! I freakin' LOVE the description of their notice that David shared with me: "We just did our Facebook announcement… which is apparently required now!" Hahahahaha! How great that David clearly thinks of Facebook much like I do…

Congratulations and best wishes to the happy RDL couples!!

SPRING 2014 PENALTY SUMMARY

Oh, flippin' wow! At some point I am going to have to go back and add a penalty history to my growing file of cumulative RDL records. I have banquet issue summaries of penalties, and a few listings of the most historically bad captains, but I think this season approaches a whole new set of records that we generally don't get to discuss…

It is entirely possible that this season had the FEWEST penalties in my 37-season tenure as statistician! Sure, there was no fifth-week captains' meeting and no Board election, so there were fewer chances for losses due to laziness, but the bottom line is that the penalty total was LOW.

Overall, there were only 12 total penalties for a total of 93 lost points!! That is 220 fewer lost points than last season! That is an astoundingly low total, so kudos to all (or at least most) of you guys. In addition, there were only two types of penalties assessed all season: 9 phone penalties (45 points), and 3 mail penalties (48 points).

Only 8(!) of the 63 teams got any penalty at all, and only 2 teams (Nice Grouping with 2, and Train Station Shooters with 4) received more than a single penalty. Heck, A and C divisions didn't ring up any at all. And on top of all that, not one team lost even one spot in the standings… what a great and nearly penalty-free season this was. Excellent job.

SUMMER DARTS

It's that time again when our standard Wednesday league takes a break for a couple months. That's ok for some of us, but not so much for others… Looking for a replacement? Try these options.

Thursday league - TDL - in Chapel Hill

The registration information for the TDL isn't out yet, but the spring finals were this past Thursday. So I would expect the registration meeting to occur sometime very soon. Check www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/ for information updates soon.

Or maybe a blind draw…

Page 8 lists the regular weekly blind draws offered by RDL host establishments, and there are a bunch. But I have also confirmed both The Upper Deck AND Sharky's Place will be adding weekly Wednesday draws for every week this summer. They will have basically the same features as their regular draws listed on page 8, except that there is no Wednesday "triple shot" at the Deck.

And for those lookin' for a bigger tournament…

Check pages 20 and 21 for fliers for events in nearby locales, and also the calendar on page 8 for a couple more. If you can only hit one of those, I wholeheartedly recommend… THE 9TH ANNUAL WRECK AT THE DECK !!! (see pg. 20). Yep, one of the best ADO tournaments on the annual calendar is right in your back yard yet again. May 30th-June 1st at The Upper Deck on Harrison Avenue. Too good and too close to pass up…

BEST THROW OF THE TOURNAMENTS?

I think the best throw at any tournament match this season was Julie Scheppele's throw of… PAPER?!?! Yep, paper! Scheppele (center below) was part of the self-titled Crazy Bit*hes trivia team, along with Bianca Gentry (left) and Dawn Bocchinfuso (right), that won a $50 certificate at Brewster's during the A division semifinals. Where does the 'paper' come in? Well, they tied for for first and had to play Roshambo (rock-paper-scissors) for the win, best 2-of-3. After taking the first round and losing the second, Scheppele threw the winning 3rd round paper for the title!

TerraFin Station 919-773-2220
25 Old Drug Store Road Garner
-corner of Hwy 42/Cleveland Sch. Rd, acr. from Walgreen's

Tir na nOg Irish Pub 919-833-7795

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "H" = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:
for all except Div. "D" & teams A7, B8, F4 (8 teams/div.):
Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for Division "D" (7 teams / division):
min. of 16 Singles Games Played, 32 Total Games Played for teams A7, B8 and F4 (due to 1 forfeit received):
min. of 18 Singles Games Played, 35 Total Games Played

THE THIRTY-FIFTH SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs (the first three of whom were Divisional MVPs last season too!)

A Division	Robbie Phillips	Bona Fide Element	E Division	Vince Martinez	I Got Nothing
B Division	Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	F Division	Seth Fagan	F Your Mom
C Division	John Carroll	Methodical Madness	G Division	Andrew Strickland	Shootin Da Bull
D Division	Alex Mathews	Death Throw	H Division	Tom Wiegand	Misfits

All of RDL -- Robbie Phillips -- Bona Fide Element

"A" Division (had 2 more that were so close)

Tom Brown	Bona Fide Element	He's like the Ener-winner Bunny…
Kyle Gaulthier	Darts of Anarchy	His absences were a huge hurdle for team.
Simon Healy	Appetite for Destruc	Maybe RDL's most dangerous non-Phillips.
Donnie Lassey	Wil. Take Shots	Main reason shorthanded team thrived.
Dan Naylor	Wil. Take Shots	Nationals thrower drove a long way to play.
Robbie Phillips	Bona Fide Element	I'm running out of sufficient superlatives.
Mike Seward	Darts of Anarchy	Still able to beat anyone at any time.
Wil Tan	Bona Fide Element	Always plays his best at the biggest times.

"B" Division

Jeff Dahulich	Inconceivable!	Hooch returns with a winning vengeance.
John Dunleavy	What Does the Cork	Quietly one of the best below A for years.
David Hoyt	Rif Raf	Welcome back, Diablo! Like you never left.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Has done nothing but win for years now.
Randy Massengill	BullsHitters	Ever closer to being the best Massengill…
Zak Mayhew	What Does the Cork	Ok, so maybe DCkt wasn't the best ever.
Tim McNamara	Inconceivable!	When was his last time not on this page?
Jeff Watson, Jr.	Inconceivable!	The captain finally started listing himself.

"C" Division (this was a DEEP division…)

John Carroll	Methodical Madness	Just huge before his schedule changed.
Josh Hall	Excalibur	Solid or better all season for near-winners.
Mikey Hindle	Excalibur	Was a cricket monster and good in '01.
David Huffman	Methodical Madness	Stepped to the front for Mug champs.
Robert Ray	Traveling Brown's B	Part-time, but so strong when he was there.
Sal Reitano	The Locals	Biggest Local for several seasons now.
Steve Wilcenski	Traveling Brown's B	And to think they wanted him to play in D.
Joe Work	Traveling Brown's B	Awesome singles record, decent in doubles.

"D" Division

Frank Allison	Sharky's Machine	Led basically a season-long comeback.
Randy Baldwin	We Be Triplin	Not a doubles king, but that's sorta Triplin.
Randy Deemer	We Be Triplin	See Baldwin comment immediately above.
Joshua Janssen	Leftovers	Not unbeatable, but solid for 5-man squad.
Alex Mathews	Death Throw	Newcomer made a massive difference here.
Jim Peele	Shark Shooters	Great to see the Sharks add a new gun.
Tony Thomas	Leftovers	There's a reason he isn't picked as blocker.
J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	Good player, here because of DCkt run.

"E" Division

Will Bennett	Blind Squirrels	Wow, what a pickup! Owned in cricket.
Ryan Cusman	Nice Grouping	Most solid for just a solid Grouping team.
Danny Hall	Village Idiots	Should I make a "Biggest Idiot" comment?
Andy Krestalude	I Got Nothing	What..is..that..501..record? Aberration.
Vince Martinez	I Got Nothing	So huge in all sets all season for E champs.
Aaron Mooty	Liquor Posse	Biggest gun for team that nearly won it all.
Mike Snyder	Drinkers with a Dart	Bit of a slow start in 301, but then rocked.
Jason Thomas	Gift Returns	The President drilled people all season.

"F" Division

Brad Adams	Five-OH! Whizzle	Does he just show up too late for 301?
Ryan Anderson	Darty Deeds	Really? Ryan Anderson in F division? Ok.
Seth Fagan	F Your Mom	Carried shorthanded squad along so often.
John Geraghty	Darty Deeds	01 champ? Nope. Ckt champ? Maybe!
Mike Kyle	Same Day Different	A fixture here, just solid wins all across.
Phil Murphy	One Armed Bandits	Team is so much better when he is playing.
Tyler Simpson	Home Grown Wolve	Couple seasons in a row on this roster.
Ken Trefzger	One Armed Bandits	This one arm was a great one all season.

"G" Division

Rich Bialaszewski	Northern Flights	A dozen wins in each cricket set is smokin'.
Andrew Bowen	Whynot!	Most dependable on always-so-close team.
Bob Lane	Northern Flights	Oh, yikes… ok, he just plays singles here.
Ken Moore	The Sofa Kings	Most balanced on a very balanced squad.
Andy Morse	Shootin Da Bull	Super solid 9+ wins across the board.
Joe Rigert, Sr.	On the Wire	So maybe the doubles weren't all that…
Andrew Strickland	Shootin Da Bull	Almost unbeatable in singles to lead team.
Craig Strickland	Shootin Da Bull	Leader of one of league's most dominant.

"H" Division (had 11 or 12 I wanted to pick here)

Charlie Frazier	Ballistic Behavior	Exactly 9-4 in every set is so excellent.
Roger Genzlinger	Who Darted?	Easily the best for tough underachievers.
Charlie Long	Misfits	Wiegand's top compadre for newcomers.
Chad McGhee	Train Station Shoote	Great second fiddle for the H Mug winners.
Richard Oakley	Train Station Shoote	Why the heck does he sit himself in SCkt?
Adam Schoch	Quack Hos	Biggest Duck on the pond until last set.
Kenny Spencer	Tips & Shafts	A monster for 3 sets, then… other.
Tom Wiegand	Misfits	Holy cow, this guy is in the wrong div.

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): Once again only 2 people in the true Quadruple Double club this season: Chad Massengill of BullsHitters in B, and Tom Wiegand of Misfits in H (which isn't all that surprising given how long Wiegand played in higher divisions and the fact that he is in H mostly because they formed a new team). We also had four honorable mentions, for throwers with at least two 10+-win sets and 9 wins in the others: Randy Massengill of BullsHitters in B, Ryan Anderson of Darty Deeds and Seth Fagan of F Your Mom in f, and Andy Morse of Shootin Da Bull in G.

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: No teams were relegated to something silly like only 4 players every week, but there was one team that continually showed with only 5. Thus, for the first time ever, I'm giving the Iron Man Award to someone who didn't play the most games leaguewide! Gregg McCurry of Leftovers missed the league lead by 1 (playing 61 games), but he did it in a 12-week D season! Wow. More than 5 games a week. McCurry also led D last season, so we've seen him here before. Honorable mentions as division leaders: Michael Johnson (In Treble) led A with 60; Aaron Fitzgerald (Big Bulls) led B for the 2nd straight season (and the whole league this time!) with 62; Jason Crowe (Outlaws) led C with 59; Jason Thomas (Gift Returns) led E with 60; Joe Kunesh (UZMAgain) led F with 59; Rich Bialaszewski (Northern) led G with 61; & Norm Thaxter (Bull Busters) led H with 60.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Five teams this season made a run at this category this season (some unintentionally), and all are worthy of note this time! In Treble in A division became a solid six after about week 4; the Leftovers in D tried to be a solid six, but were more of a rotating five; We Be Triplin in D became the closest to a weekly six we had this season; I Got Nothing in E planned to be just a six, but had to call up their emergency #7 a few times; and Ballistic Behavior in H actually only rostered 6 players, but seemed to play with 5 just about as often.

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

As usual, I'm left with the option of trying to bluff my way through this part, or just telling the truth. And since I know that some of you squirrel away every last thing I've ever written about your team, I guess I better give real results… dang.

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season given the imminent roster changes/additions), I actually did really well. I had a large percentage of the teams in every division within one spot of their finish, but there were some glaring misses… First off, I had WAY too much love for Armed in D, and for UZMAgain and MoonShines in F. Next, I simply didn't see I Got Nothing in E and the Misfits in H coming (but at least the Misfits were an unknown new one). And, like my weekly E picks below, E here was… well… a bit of a mess for me.

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. I climbed up compared to last season, but with the horrid mess that was B last season, it might've been sort of difficult to not improve. F division was a serious pain for quite some time, but even those guys I started to decipher by about mid-season. In the end, I was able to reach at least 6-8 for every team in every division, and would've been 0.500+ for all teams if I had just managed to get the week 14 Darty Deeds-Five-OH! Whizzle prediction correct.

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… And as usual, we jump to best-of-three, and my picks look generally pretty strong, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals & finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. Much like last season, I was great in the first two rounds, then missed a whole bunch of finals winners. I was a strong 26-5 in the quarterfinals, then a solid 11-5 in the semifinals, and then I really fell off in the finals, hitting only 2 of 8 Mug champions for the 2nd straight season (but at least still hitting my team's win again :o)! That's a final record of 39-16, which is at least decent. I even had a Dark Horse pick win (in C), and 2 of my 3 Sure Things delivered.

(I introduced this page nineteen seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the six 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the two 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [Very cool that I was able to add another pick in week 14.5!! And I got it right to boot! Nice… I suppose that is one small step toward covering for my relative F division ineptitude for most of the season. At least I got to 6-8 or better for all teams… decent, I guess.]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 8 question: As of week 6, Wil. Take Shots in A division was left as the only undefeated team in any division this season. In my 36 and a half seasons as statistician, what is the earliest week of a season in which the RDL was left without any undefeated teams?

Week 9 question: How many teams have won a match this season despite being losing a set 6-0? (and yes, I mean 6-0, as dropping a 4-0 to a double-shorthanded team is a far lesser issue)

Week 10 question: What is the average number of 24-0 shutouts per season in the RDL? (well, ok… the average number during my tenure as RDL statistician - the previous 36 seasons)

Week 11 question: How long ago was the last week in which zero teams in the RDL played shorthanded for even one set?

Week 12 question(s): How many different establishments have hosted the RDL banquet in the past decade? Can you name each of them?

Week 13 question: What percent of the division races in the past 36 seasons have been decided by points (meaning the top two teams finished with the same match win/loss record)?

Week 14 question: What is the greatest margin of victory for a season division winner in my 36 seasons as the statistician? Who did it?

Week 8 answer: Well, with Wil. Take Shots winning in week 7 (and 8), this season lost its shot at breaking or tying this record. That record for the latest the last undefeated team lost is week 7, and that has happened twice. In Spring 1998, Lunatic Fringe in A division and Top Dead Center in B division both entered week 7 undefeated, and both lost in tiebreakers. Then in the Spring 2009 season, Who's the Daddy? in A, Rif Raf in B, and the Overtime Outlaws in D all entered week 7 undefeated, with all three losing (14-10, 16-8, and 12+-12, respectively) that night.

Week 9 answer: In the first 9 weeks of this season, 12 different teams have dropped a set 6-0 and still won the match. To be fair though, 6 of those weren't very interesting, as they were teams that clinched the match in DCkt and then lost all three 501s. Two more (Inconceivable! in week 8 and Big Bulls just last week) were swept in 501 and then had to win a tiebreaker for the match victory. It's the remaining four that I find most interesting though… Nine Lives in week 5 was swept in DCkt and won in a tiebreaker. Shootin Da Bull in week 8 and Sharky's Machine last week were each swept in DCkt and still won the match 14-10. And then there's The Locals in their rescheduled week 4 match - they were swept in SCkt(!) and still managed to win without even going to 1001 (14-10 final score). It takes some serious resilience to bounce back from a set loss like that to still take the match, and to do it in regulation. Wow. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Four additional teams won a match despite losing a set 6-0 in the last 5 weeks of the season. Two of those were teams that had clinched in DCkt and then dumped the 501s. The third was a team that led 12-6, dropped the 501s, and then won the 1001. But the fourth was another pretty interesting one… Liquor Posse got swept by the Village Idiots in DCkt in week 14, but still won the match by a 13-11 score.]

Week 10 answer: We actually only average 0.44 full 24-0 shutouts per season. We've had 16 total 24-0s in our past 36 seasons. Twenty-four seasons have gone with no forfeits, 9 have had 1, 2 have had 2, and 1 season had 3(!). Possibly as expected, 13 of those 16 have happened in A division (as did the one 24-0 so far this season). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: The one 24-0 noted above was the only one in a match this season, so there have now been 10 seasons out of the past 37 with exactly one 24-0 result. That means our league average has also climbed to 0.46 full 24-0 shutouts per season.]

Week 11 answer: Holy cow, I knew it didn't happen that often, but I was shocked when I finally dug up the answer to this one. The last week we had no shorthanded teams (during the season, that is, as there is no way to know during the tournaments since we don't submit those scoresheets) took place on March 10th, 2010. Over 4 years ago! Over 8 seasons ago! Wow. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: No weeks in the last month of this season with no shorthanded teams…]

Week 12 answer: Ok, so I got pretty interested in this one when I was pulling out the answer, so I actually went back and collected the info from my entire 36-season tenure as statistician/editor. So, I'll give you the answer for just this past decade... and also for the past 18 years! Ok, in the past decade, only 5 locations have hosted the banquet: The Upper Deck, High Park Bar & Grille, and Rally Point Sport Grill have covered the last 18 seasons, and Tir na nOg and the VFW Hall in Cary held the two before that (in 2004). And shockingly, adding in the prior 16 seasons increases our number of banquet hosts by only 1! In the past 36 seasons, here are your banquet hosts: VFW Hall - Cary (10 times, all pre-2005), The Upper Deck (8 times), High Park Bar & Grille (7 times, all in the last 13 seasons), Tir na nOg (5 times, all in a row from 2002-2004), Rally Point Sport Grill (3 times, all in the last 8 seasons), and The Warehouse (3 times, in 2000 and 2001). Given that the VFW and Warehouse don't host dart matches, that means only 4 of the league's weekly host bars have been a banquet host in the past 18 years! [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Obviously, The Upper Deck is adding its 9th time hosting the banquet today.]

Week 13 answer: Of the 262 divisions contested in the past 36 seasons, 57 have had first place decided by points because the top teams had the same match record. That's nearly 22% of the divisions!! A/B/E have each used points 9 times, D/F have each used points 8 times, C has 6 times, G has 5 times, and H has 3 times. Five of the 36 seasons have had no point-decided titles, and the highest number of point races in any one season is 4 (which happened twice, in Spring 2002 and Fall 2010). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: This season brought us two more division titles (E and F divisions) decided by points, bringing our totals to 59 of the 270 divisions in the past 37 seasons. But actually, I guess that isn't really 100% accurate... It turned out that one of those two divisions this season was not decided by points at all, since the top two teams in E ended up tied in both matches and points and had to play an extra match to decide that race! I think that race certainly qualifies to be included in these statistics though, simply because it clearly at least fits the spirit of this trivia question.]

Week 14 answer: Well, since this season is now over, we'll add this one in to make it 37 seasons. And in those 37 seasons, there have been 270 total divisions. Of those 270, 26 of them have been decided by 4 matches, another 8 have been decided by 5 matches, but another 2 were decided by SIX MATCHES!! In the Fall 1999 season, Get the Point won D division by 6 matches & 42 points, and did it in a 12-week season (12-0 first, 6-6 second; 3rd/4th/5th were all also 6-6)!! And in the Fall 2000 season, Madhouse Patients won G division by 6 matches & 40 points (14-0 first, 8-6 second).

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page (and continuing onto the next page). No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song (and weekly theme)"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "The scars of your love remind me of us, They keep me thinking that we almost had it all"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "Now and then I think of all the time you screwed me over, But had me believing it was always something that I'd done"

Week 2, song #3 lyric: "She's up all night 'til the sun, I'm up all night to get some, She's up all night for good fun"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "I've seen it before, it happens all the time, You're closing the door, you leave the world behind"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "The more I see the less I know, The more I'd like to let it go, Hey oh, woah"

Week 3, song #3 lyric: "She had a lot on her mind and she didn't pay attention, She was going way too fast"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "Please, swallow your pride, If I have things you need to borrow, For no one can fill those of your needs"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "When people can be so cold, They'll hurt you and desert you, And take your soul if you let them"

Week 4, song #3 lyric: "Now if you feel that you can't go on, Because all of your hope is gone, And your life is filled with much confusion"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "After all it was great big world, With lots of places to run to, And if she to die tryin', She had one little promise..."

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "Come back home to the refinery, Hiring man says 'son if it was up to me', Went down to see my VA man"

Week 5, song #3 lyric: "She said the man in the gabardine suit was a spy, I said 'Be careful, his bowtie is really a camera' "

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "There's something inside me that pulls beneath the surface, Consuming, confusing what is real"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "Now security did not see him, They just hovered round his tomb, But there's a pretty little thing, Waiting for the king"

Week 6, song #3 lyric: "Coming down may be the hardest thing, Well the good ol' days may not return, And the rocks might melt and the sea may burn"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "Although I search myself, it's always someone else I see, I'd just allow a fragment of your life to wander free"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "I used to think maybe you loved me, now I know that it's true, And I don't want to spend my whole life just a-waiting for you"

Week 7, song #3 lyric: "When I'm out walkin', I strut my stuff, yeah, I'm so strung out, I'm high as a kite, I just might stop to check you out"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "Paint your smile on your lips, Blood red nails on your fingertips, A school boy's dream, you act so shy"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "I guess I just lost my husband, I don't know where he went, So I'm gonna drink my money, I'm not gonna pay his rent"

Week 8, song #3 lyric: "Tell me now baby is he good to you, Can he do to you the things that I do, I can take you higher"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "All I ask for when I pray, steady rollin' woman gonna come my way, Need a woman gonna hold my hand"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "We want to multiply, are you gonna do it? I know you qualify, are you gonna do it? Don't be so circumscribed"

Week 9, song #3 lyric: "Well I, believe, it all, is coming to an end, Oh well, I guess, we're gonna pretend"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "I want you to know, I said I want you to know right now, You've been good to me baby, Better than I've been to myself"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "Hatty told Matty, Let's don't take no chance, Let's not be L-seven, come and learn to dance"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "A fine little girl, she waits for me, Catch a ship across the sea, Sail that ship about, all alone, Never know if I make it home"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "He smiled, so I got up and asked for his name, But that don't matter, he said 'cause it's all the same"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "Oh, it doesn't matter what they say in the paper, 'Cause it's always been the same old scene, There's a new band in town"

Week 11, song #3 lyric: "You keep on saying you'll be mine for a while, You're looking fancy and I like your style, You drive us wild"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "Every time you call my name, I heat up like a burnin' flame, Burnin' flame full of desire, Kiss me baby"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Summer turns me upside down, Summer summer summer, It's like a merry go round, I see you under the midnight"

Week 12, song #3 lyric: "You better stop the things you do, I ain't lyin', no I ain't lyin', You know I can't stand it, your runnin' around"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "Everybody, get on the floor, let's dance, Don't fight your feelings, give yourself a chance"

Week 13, song #2: "When you take me by the hand, Tell me I'm your lovin' man, When you give me all your love, And do it babe the very best you can"

Week 13, song #3 lyric: "Baby, babe, let's get together, Honey, honey, me and you, And do the things, ah, do the things, That we like to do"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "Early to rise, early to bed, In and between I cooked cleaned and went out of my head"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "I never said you had to offer me a second chance, I never said I was a victim of circumstance"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "New boy in the neighborhood, Lives downstairs and it's understood, He's there just to take good care of me"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "Making your way in the world today takes everything you've got, Taking a break from all your worries"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "I know my parents love me, Stand behind me come what may, I know now that I'm ready"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "Now the world don't move to the beat of just one drum, What might be right for you, may not be right for some"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "There's a time you got to go and show, You're growin' now you know about"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "I bet we've been together for a million years, And I bet we'll be together for a million more"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "Hello sunshine, goodbye rain, She's wearing my high school ring on her chain, She's my steady, I'm her man"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "On your mark, get set and go now, Got a dream and we just know now"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "So while you're here enjoy the view, Keep on doing what you do, So hold on tight and we'll muddle through"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "When I wake up in the mornin', And the alarm gives out a warnin', I don't think I'll ever make it on time"

Week 14, song #13 lyric: "You'll see that life is a ball again, and laughter is callin' for you, Down at our rendezvous"

Week 14, song #14 lyric: "There's a time for love and a time for living, You take a chance and face the wind, An open road and a road that's hidden"

Week 14, song #15 lyric: "Got kind of tired packing and unpacking, Town to town up and down the dial, Maybe you and me were never meant to be"

[Like last season, this season we used three-song groups each week and also included a theme each and every week. Added a layer to the game for everybody and proved popular again. Here are the themes for each week*, including the week 14 fifteen-song set that proved to be another of the most popular lyric quiz weeks we've ever had - we certainly have a LOT of old sitcom fanatics in our midst...]*

Week 2 theme: The last three winners of the Best Record award at the Grammys. Week 3 theme: The weather/driving conditions that postponed the league's week 2 matches, of course. Week 4 theme: Having a friend you can really count on… don't underestimate that - if you don't have some, you should make an effort to cultivate some. Week 5 theme: Well, it was Olympics time, and I was up late watching curling and ski jumping and snowboarding… so I was feeling all patriotic and we went with a set that might have been more expected if the RDL had matches in early July.. Week 6 theme: The evolution of getting around… crawling, walking, flying... Week 7 theme: Daylight Savings Time!! Yeah, yeah, the sun was a theme too, but it was really about that Sunday's awesome clock change... Week 8 theme: The three music performers/ groups with the highest-grossing tours in groups with the highest-grossing tours in 2013. No, really. I'm not making that up. Bon Jovi and his 80s hair were #1 and the Boss was #3 last year! Week 9 theme: Bands with lead singers named Robert. Week 10 theme: College frat songs that everyone sings despite almost everyone not knowing the actual lyrics. Week 11 theme: Well, rock and roll, of course! Sort of an obvious one once you had the songs, I would say. But you had to get at least two songs to get there. Week 12 theme: Well, magic, of course. Week 13 theme: Disco bands with singers who now live in Durham! Duh…. Week 14 theme: theme songs for '80s TV shows, with the songs listed alphabetically by show name.

SUSPENSIONS, REMINDERS… SADNESS…

First, a minor one that serves as a reminder to all

This one is included here very much as a general reminder to all of our league members that it's time to grow up and act like an adult when you are out in public. Two members of "A" division received official warnings from the Rules & Grievances Committee for a brief altercation they had near the end of the season. I've sort of gathered that it was a lot of "he said - he said" and that the Committee couldn't fully determine who started what or who was at fault. But either way, both players got all riled up, things got loud, and maybe there was chest-puffing and bumping. I'm honestly not really sure. All I know is that the behavior went beyond the acceptable, and both players have been put on notice by the Committee (and thus, subsequently, the RDL Board). Let this notice be the warning to you from the powers that be, such that I don't have to write something like this about you in the future. [Note: I do not know if either of these two is planning to appeal the Committee's decision at the next Board meeting.]

Second, a more severe one, with greater ramifications

This one is included as a reminder to all like the one above, but actually more as just an official notice to the membership so that they know in seasons going forward. Danny Caputo, formerly of Liquor Posse, has received a permanent ban from RDL activities from the Rules & Grievances Committee, in response to a series of actions following a late-season match. This ban was put in place in response to repeated inexcusable behavior (following a one-year ban a couple years ago for punching an opponent), with the most recent acts being reportedly excessively vulgar, unprovoked, and now being directed toward random patrons of the host establishment. [Note: as of the time I am writing this, it does appear that Caputo will indeed be appealing at least the length of the suspension at the next Board meeting.]

MORE ABOUT TYING ALL-TIME WORLD RECORDS

This season, members of Appetite for Destruction tied all-time world records (and obviously RDL records) with both a 170-In (by Tex Mozzetti) and a 170-Out (by Justin McCurry). Somehow, most of the 170s in recent years have been hit either by or against Appetite, so much so that captain Sid Mitchell was inspired to go back through the banquet Tons compilation and do a little history-compiling for us. Starting from the Spring 1996 season (the first for which I was the statistician), there had been only 8 Ton-70-Ins thrown prior to this season (and only one - of course by a member of Appetite - during the time in which it being the first turn was required). [Interesting side note: Mike Seward of Darts of Anarchy threw 3 of those 8 170-Ins!] In that same timeframe, there had also been 8 170-Outs in the RDL. So Mozzetti's shot had given the "Ins" a 9-8 lead, but then McCurry tied it back up for the "Outs". [Personally, I think it's far cooler to be in the "Outs" club in the 170 room… sure, maybe I'm biased because I have 1 of those 8 myself, but whatever… :o) - JK]

ONE PLAYER CLOSE TO TWO MORE RDL RECORDS…

In weeks 6 and 13, my teammate Robbie Phillips came within a dart each time of the RDL record for fast singles cricket (something my teammate Tom Brown did in week 8 also!), finishing with a strong 12-darter each time. Bummer for Lunatic Fringe, as they were his opponent both times… I guess they inspire him.

But in week 10, Phillips also came within a quarter-inch of the first perfect game in the history of the RDL. 160-In (dbl-20,trip-20,trip-20), then trip-20, trip-19, followed by dart six JUST above the double-12. Sadly, the miss at the 6-darter was followed by a full turn of misses, meaning he didn't even get to tie the league record of 7 darts.

Still, can you imagine throwing all these games? In one season!?

BIGGEST RDL MATCH EVER!!

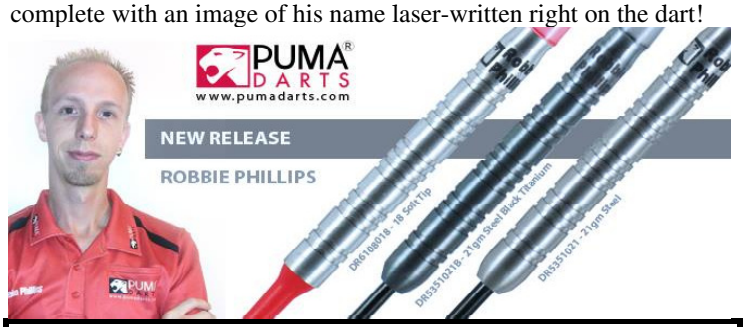
How unbelievably awesome… this season the RDL had its first-ever "extra" match that decided a division title!! At the end of 14 weeks, I Got Nothing and Liquor Posse ended their E division schedules with the same match win total, the same season point total, and the same number of wins by the same score against each other!! There are no tiebreakers left after that! So, what do the RDL rules say to do? They say to have an "extra" match between week 14 and the tournament quarterfinals!!! The league has seen ties before like this, but they have generally been to decide things like 6th place. Never before has a tie like this occurred at the top of a division. Thus, the two tied teams squared off the Monday night after the regular season to play the biggest match ever in RDL history!

And now a quick sidebar… if anyone reading this is going to try to come argue with me that some tournament final they played was bigger, save your breath. I've been in roughly two dozen A division tournament finals, and NONE of them were as big as this. The regular season is the gold standard of importance, not the tournaments. I do not care that the tournaments are best-of-three… you can win them with a lucky night or two, and some teams carry players solely for tournament time. Yeah, great team commitment there. The season takes consistency and dedication to the league. The tournament does not. And the league itself agrees with me here, very obviously. What is the metric used for determining when teams move up and move down? The season. What is used when numbering teams in each division after next registration? The season. And for what does the league give host establishments team champion plaques? Yep, the season. The only quick nod the tournament gets is that Mugs are the prize there. Heck, we don't even collect scoresheets from the tournament matches, simply trusting that you guys will handle whatever on your own. The tournament pales in comparison to a season-long run of more than 3 months. Period.

Ok, now that we can all recognize that the league's first-ever "extra" match to decide a division was the biggest match ever, we can get on to just what exactly happened…

301: Posse starts off quick, with Nathan Watkins and Drew Duncan ringing up a fast 2-0 lead. Andy Krestalude and Pete Hartmann immediately strike back for I Got Nothing to tie it at 2-2, but then Aaron Mooty and captain Ryan Bathurst push the Posse back ahead at 4-2.

SCkt: Hot run for I Got Nothing! Mike Holly, Krestalude, captain Erin Hartmann, and Vince Martinez rip off the first four to push I Got Nothing back ahead, 6-4! But as would be expected in a battle this even, Bathurst and Gus Martinez immediately ties things back up, 6-6.



DCkt: Posse rides the momentum of the end of SCkt with two wins by Adam Barnes/Mooty and Watkins/Duncan to take a strong 10-6 lead, leaving them within 2 games of the title. But then… the tides in this back-and-forth matchup turned back the other way yet again. Krestalude and Louie Cuevas took the last DCkt for I Got Nothing to start a run that didn't end for the rest of the night… 10-8 Posse, but still a whole set to go. A whole set of… Nothing…

501: Cuevas/Pete Hartmann take out Mooty/Watkins and it's 10-10. Then Krestalude/Martinez slide past Duncan/Martinez, and it's 12-10, I Got Nothing. Now with one game left (in regulation play), it had to almost seem predestined that the Posse would tie it up and sent it to 1001 (a place these two have been often in the past couple seasons). But nope… captain Erin Hartmann punched out a double-10, and I Got Nothing goes down as the Spring 2014 E division champs!!

(Pretty regular sight for these two to come down to one dart. Pretty odd sight for that last throw to not involve the Posse's clutch finisher in so many of these matches, due to a suspension [see previous page]. Bottom line though is that if you can't be there, you can't win.)

REMEMBER A YEAR AGO, WHEN I PRINTED THIS?

What happens when you hit huge turns all the time, win national championships, and nearly win a World Cup? Well, you end up getting sponsored and producing your own signature line of darts! How freakin' bada is this?! When you go to the Puma Darts catalog, you can get yourself a set of the Robbie Phillips signature model darts (available in multiple weights, including light enough for soft-tip conversion). Below is the actual photo from the catalog, complete with an image of his name laser-written right on the dart!

Well, that's still really bada and all…

But what does a company-sponsored national dart champion do when he's not throwing darts?

He goes to weekend-long rock festivals and crowd surfs!! That's him at the Carolina Rebellion a couple weekends ago, during the Staind show. He surfed at other times too, but this was the best photo (thanks to Paul Jacobi, for having a good camera and for being tall enough to make that matter).

But he, of course, wouldn't be alone!

We didn't all go up top surfing, but some others did! Like Angela Jeffcoat of What Did The Cork Say? That's her riding hands within moments of the time that Phillips had gone, during the same song. (Thanks again to Paul Jacobi for sharing his awesome photos… and for being tall…)

THE RDL'S BEST FROM TWO DECADES AGO

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- It's Random Thoughts time, so that means it's Survivor time! Just this past Wednesday, we were talking about reality television and how much some of my teammates hate it. Well, Survivor is barely reality, people. It's sort of a social experiment, edited really well to take out all the boring parts and make the drama even more dramatic than it probably really is. Oh, and the people are barely allowed to eat and they get all paranoid and bit*hy. Awesomeness incarnate. Plus, every week I get to hear my favorite line on any show on television: every time there is a reward challenge where one team will win food or a night away or a shower (yes!!), when the challenge is over, host Jeff Probst says "winning team head off that way toward your prize" and then he turns to the losing team and says "losing team… I got nothin' for ya…" Oooh, burn! Get outta here, losers! You get flippin' nothin'!

-- I write a lot of stuff in the Tons about Robbie Phillips. That's pretty much inevitable since he does some of the best 'stuff' at the dartboard and this is… you know… a dart newsletter. But this Wednesday's match had an excellent display of darts, followed by something much funnier. You see, on my team, when you hit a perfect throw each of your teammates gives you a dollar. Can be a nice tab-coverer if you're rolling for a night. In doubles cricket, Phillips had three full turns in the first leg: a 9m, a 3m, and then an 8m with a double-bull (absolutely considered a perfect throw and good for a dollar). Yep, two perfect throws in three turns. We were still collecting the first round of dollars when he tossed the second. In the next leg, on his second turn, Phillips went up and went triple, triple, 'click' right on top of the triple… which prompted teammate Mark Knight (who was clearly tiring of getting his wallet out) to immediately blurt out "GOOD! Ya little bastard." Yep, that's how my team rolls. Hit a bunch of great stuff and we insult you and yell at you because you're costing us money.

-- A couple summers ago I won some Tim McGraw tickets in the raffle at the Wreck at the Deck. My wife and her friend used them, she became a country music fan that night, and I am now sort of a country music fan (or at least attendee) by default. Oh, and the radios in our cars? Set to 94.7 or 93.9 every time my wife has been in the car. Which means I get to hear a LOT more country songs than I used to hear. Recently, a song called Redneck Crazy came over the airwaves while we were listening. (I will pause here to give the non-country fans time to snort and chuckle at the fact that someone willingly wrote a song called Redneck Crazy… … … … ok, that should be enough time…) Anyway, the singer's woman is now with someone else, and he is going to get drunk and then head over to her place to basically start a fight. Hey, great plan… But that isn't my issue. My issue is that the lyrics of the song include the chorus of "I'm gonna lean my headlights into your bedroom windows, Throw empty beer cans at both of your shadows." Really? You're going to shine lights on the house from the outside and then throw beer cans at the shadows that appear on the windows from the people inside. Well, evidently "redneck crazy" is code for "no understanding of physics". If you don't know what I mean by that, well… try not to break any windows the next time you're the one throwing the cans.

-- Some of you guys definitely make my life as statistician more interesting than others do. Lyman Kiser, captain of the One Armed Bandits? He makes things interesting. After their quarterfinal match, he sent me an email that simply read "Bandits win 14." Attached to that email was a photo of a handmade scoresheet (awesome in its own right!) showing a score of 13-3. Then he called and left me a VoiceMail reporting their score as 15-4. Ummm… Well, regardless of the score, they won. And when we had a funny email exchange the next day, he confessed the following: "Haha, yep. Excited and can't count or read very well. No idea why they have me as captain!"

-- So I go to lunch over at the Tobacco Complex in downtown Durham, and as I'm walking out of the parking deck, I notice the open parking space right next to the walkway leaving the deck. It's a handicapped spot. Logical, right? But it doesn't look right, so I take a closer peek as I'm walking through there. It turns out that it's a "Compact Car - Handicapped" spot! Isn't that sort of counter-intuitive? Aren't handicapped parking spots designed to: a) be closer to the destination, and b) provide extra space for ease of exiting your vehicle if you need assistance (cane, walker, motorized chair, simply help from a loved one)?

-- Here's an interesting little statistical tidbit that was recently pointed out to me… The highest singles win percentage for a woman in our league this season is held by Adrienne deFontes of Sharky's Machine. And the highest singles win percentage for a woman in our league last season was held by… Adrienne deFontes. And two seasons ago? That highest singles win percentage for a woman? That was… Adrienne deFontes.

-- So next week at my work, we're having a ribbon-cutting ceremony at my building at the Durham VA Medical Center. We moved over to the new building in March, but I suppose the plan was to make sure that stuff worked before doing all the official public show stuff. Well, anyway, this is a government building, and it's big, and it's expensive. And that means that any local or state politician who "might" have said something slightly in favor of funding the building, at some point, for some random reason that might or might not have meant they wanted to spend money on the building, now wants to come be part of a media photo opportunity. So on the day that the state senators and the state representatives and all of their support staff all come over to our building for a couple hours to tour, we basically need to: be at work at times when we normally wouldn't be there, wearing clothes far dressier than we normally would wear there, doing things that have nothing to do with what we actually do there (since we can't have anything biological, chemical, radioactive, or hazardous in any way out on the benchtop - you know, like you might find in, oh, say, a lab!). So that photo op with the politicians sure will be an accurate portrayal of the new building.

-- Holy crap, I love my team… I was just sitting here jotting some stuff into this column while sitting down for a few minutes at work, and I hopped into a team email chain. Longtime teammate Wil Tan typed something that I "pretty much" understood, but not longtime teammate Tom Brown. He replied with a message of confusion, asking us to send him a Wil-to-English translation. Ha! When TOM says something is too odd/cryptic… yikes.

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- Do you ever feel like a match is just getting out of hand, such that it just about feels "over" before it's actually over? Well, the next time you're about to toss in the hat prematurely, think back to the Spring 2014 Appetite for Destruction team. In the A division semifinals, Appetite was sitting with a grand total of 1 point while their opponents (Wil. Take Shots, a team featuring a few NC State Champions) were sitting with 8 points. Oh, yikes, a 1-to-8 deficit. Things were not looking great. Until… they ran off 13 straight points to win 14-8! Holy crap, that was awesome to watch (they were next to us at Brewster's that night). What a reversal! It was one of those great situations where the spectators (and likely the participants) could just "feel" the momentum turning. Nice.

-- Sometimes you guys do funny stuff as a team… Take Death Throw, for instance. In a 12-week season, Ben Thompson played 8 SCkt games and 8 DCkt games. And exactly zero games of '01 (he was even the only regular on the team to not be part of their lone 1001 game). And then Mike Zimmerman? 11 301s, 11 501s, and exactly 1 of each cricket set. Their win percentages? 0.625 and 0.750, respectively!! Clearly they're good enough to play the other game as well, right? I think Thompson and Zimmerman need to renegotiate their contracts…

-- I've written about this before, but I'm doing it again… because the people to whom I'm talking didn't hear me yet. And here is what I want to tell you: If you are one of those people that always feel the need to back your vehicle into a parking spot, stop it! Probably 90% of you abso-freakin-lutely SUCK at it! You take for-flippin-ever to do it, moving forward and back, realigning over and over, blocking traffic (especially in parking decks!), and making most of us basically hate you. And the punch line? More than half the time you STILL miss the parking space!! You park over the lines, you park on odd angles, and/or you leave your vehicle's front end sticking out too far. And heaven help us if you are driving a vehicle that is just too big for you to handle (this is apparently about half of you, sadly) - that just magnifies the situation in just about every way. And before you bother arguing that I'm just some lone curmudgeon complaining about you, please note that it is becoming more and more common for parking lots and decks to post signs prohibiting backing vehicles into spots, with possible punishments being tickets or towing. So, it's not just me, it's pretty much everyone who is not you. Cut it out, you slow, selfish, sucky parkers. You simply don't gain enough time/comfort/whatever to justify making life so miserable for the rest of us.

-- A quick comment on something that I noted on the front page in the B division write-up. In case you didn't see it there, I want to reiterate it here. The BullsHitters claimed the B division title in both the regular season and the tournament this season. And last season, they did the same thing in C division. And before that, it was D division. And before that, it was E division. And before that, it was F division. Yes, what I am telling you is that they have been the top team in their division in both the regular season and the tournament FIVE seasons in a row. Nobody has finished ahead of them in any standings or bracket in two and a half years! You have to go all the way back to their third place finish (despite a pretty decent 10-4 record) and semifinals loss in F division in the Fall 2011 season. One of the most amazing climbs the RDL has ever (or likely will ever) see. Now… if they can make it six straight next season… THAT would be something. See you soon, Hitters…

-- Just a note to anybody out there who is a male, and who might find himself at a rock concert: If, at any point, you find yourself sitting on your friend's shoulders, get the hell off. Now. That little trick is only acceptable for females. Don't ask me why, don't argue. Just accept it, and put your damn feet back on the ground. Unless, of course, you enjoy having bottles of water thrown at you and having a bunch of mockery loudly hurled in your direction. Which… you would deserve…

-- I heard this ad on the radio that struck me as having one of the dumbest reasons for you to rush right out to shop. The ad was for a local boat seller and their big statement in the ad was "this is the last sale at the fairgrounds before summer!" Oh, really? I will have to either come to your store… or… wait for a couple weeks? It just lacks the push of an end-of-season sale in the fall or something. How gullible do I have to be that I would feel the need to rush right out this weekend?

-- Has anybody else noticed that people on live TV (studio hosts, reality show judges, sports commentators… just about anyone not acting directly from a script) have basically forgotten how to use adverbs? Did they stop teaching those in school? I am so tired of hearing "I want it so bad" and "you did so good" and "wow, you got here so quick." Good lord, those people all talk English so nice they make me want to stab my own ears. I weep a little bit for us…

-- On a related note, what…in…the…hell… is that new number line method of teaching addition/subtraction/multiplication/division? What happened to long addition, etc.? That worked for me and it's actually explainable. This new number line hop thing is ridiculous. I'm soooo glad my kids are just old enough to escape falling under that math teaching system. I'm already amazed at how many news articles I've seen about parents that are PhDs and MDs sending notes back to the school with their kids, saying they can't help them with their homework because the system is silly and nobody can figure it out.

-- Have you seen all the pro athletes suspended for testing positive for banned substances? How about the college guys that went to the NFL scouting combine and failed their drug tests? Are you kidding me? How stupid do you have to be to risk a multi-million dollar career to toke one up? Seriously. I cry for us.

-- Hey, do me a favor… If you have taken a "selfie" today for which you held the camera on an odd angle because that makes it artsy and cool, unless you are a teenager, please go outside and run yourself over with your car. If you are a teenager, do the same, but go out and use your parent's car because you probably don't have the responsibility level to maintain enough of a job to pay for your own vehicle if you think angled selfies are cool. Oh, and if you have taken more than four selfies on any one day ever (I am being WAY generous with the four, by the way) or if you have "posted" more than one selfie in a day, just please leave the banquet and go play in traffic. The speed increase in the natural selection process will be appreciated by the rest of us. [Note: getting a "selfie" with a friend so that you have a photo of you with them is NOT what I'm talking about here. I'm taking about YOU taking a picture of YOU. You simply are not important enough to warrant that, trust me.] [Exception to the previous note: if you take a selfie with a friend, but insist on holding it an odd angle, then still run yourself over with a car.]

22-SEASON LISTING OF REGULAR SEASON & TOURNAMENT WINNERS

Lots of us like to think back to "that one great season when it all came together." Others like to brag about how many times in a row their team came out on top. Probably even more of us like to refute the crap story that the bragging butthead is spouting about how many times his/her team won. Well, things like that are the reason that I run pages like this. Hard to make stuff up when the historical record is sitting right in front of you. So, here is a list of the recent season- and tournament-winning teams, listed by division. See your team anywhere? [Note to those who are curious: the regular season winners in these 22 seasons also won the tournament 55% of the time. Not counting I's 1-season history, in no division are the season winners doing better than 64% in the tournaments.]

TONS OF NEWSLETTER

Home to the Fall Session of the Raleigh Dart League for the Banquet, Saturday, December 13, 2014 Issue #JK608
The "I Admit I'm Surprised How Quickly The White Hat Hero Of The People Can Become The Black Hat" Edition

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - Appetite for Destruction (13-5)
This is not your father's Appetite… Heck, it's not even the same Appetite as back in the quarterfinals two weeks ago. Former ADO #1 Blake and current ADO 501 champ Naylor were on a roll for them.

"B" Division - Nine Lives (13-5)
In a year that had lots of upsets, the tournaments were won mostly by top seeds… but not here in B! The #6 Niners take down the title, sometimes playing shorthanded but still winning by more each week.

"C" Division - Excalibur (14-8)
I guess maybe the most surprising thing here in C is that Excalibur had to play 501 in both of their matches (they had a quarterfinal bye). Their lone loss in week 7 feels like it was a very long time ago.

"D" Division - The Jeffersons (?-?)
I don't really know if The Jeffersons were crushing people or just squeaking out wins (they don't turn in tournament scores), but they were the lone top-4 seed in D to win even one tournament match!

"E" Division - Darty (14-2)
The best part of the E story was the #7 Neighbor Bangers making the finals with two 1001 wins, but Darty was the real deal here, with only one opponent all season even holding a potential match dart.

"F" Division - One Armed Bandits (?-?)
See what happens when the Bandits decide to start getting the whole gang together? How many times have I picked them before? Don't know, but it's a lot… and this season/tourney double is why.

"G" Division - Release the Quacken (13-5)
This was a second consecutive season title for the Ducks, but this time they went ahead and added a tournament title as well, riding a championship path that didn't involve either the #2 or #3 seed.

"H" Division - Whynot! (?-?)
It was quite the slow start to the season for Whynot! (1-3 in the first month), but 13 consecutive victories later they completed the season/tournament double on their way up to G next season.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - The Dynastic Element (11 wins, 1 loss)

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

Well, geez, after some seasons with an incredible amount of parity and a corresponding increase in tiebreakers, we had a veritable drought this time around. There were only 29 tiebreakers played (with 7 of those occurring during the divisional tournaments). D and G divisions led the way with 7 tiebreakers each (with D having 1 in the tournament), followed by A (4, with 2 of those in the tournament), and then B, C, and E divisions (each with 3, and each with at least one in both the season and the tournament). H came in with only 2 tiebreakers, and the drama-less F division ended up without even a single one!

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) are absolutely the Misfits in G division, who came within one of tying the all-time tiebreaker record. They pulled in three tiebreaker wins out of an alarming five matches with the extra leg. Good thing they were good at it, because if they had dropped even two more of those, they would have fallen all the way from third place to sixth.

There really isn't much of a recipient of the Heartbreak Award (for most tiebreakers lost), as no team lost more than two.

Probably the team that most appreciated the tiebreaker though was the Neighbor Bangers. They only played in two 1001s, but both of them were tournament wins on their run to the finals as a #7(!) seed.

SPRING 2015 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

I am putting these dates in many locations (pages 1, 4, 8, 40) because they might be the most important thing for you in this newsletter.

MONDAY, January 5th - Spring season registration, Upper Deck (online registration available in days immediately prior to the 5th)
Wed., Jan. 14th - Preseason capts.' mtg./packet pickup, Upper Deck
Wednesday, January 21st - Start of Spring season match play
Monday, Feb. 23rd - Fifth week captains' meeting, Upper Deck
Wed., Apr. 29, May 6 / 13 - Spring season divisional tournaments
Saturday, May 16th - Spring season banquet, site TBD

OH, SO SO CLOSE…

It just kind of came out of nowhere in a match that wasn't all that close, but during my team's semifinal match, Tom Brown and Mark Knight came within a wire of an all-time RDL record. Brown led off in 501 with a 140, Knight backed him up with a 140, then Brown hit a 171 to leave 50. Knight's dart at the double-bull hit the wire (scoring a single), leaving them just a fraction of an inch from a league-record 10-dart game. (For the record, Knight did hit single-1 / double-12 to still complete the 12-darter.)

A SEASON FOR THE AGES

If you turn to page 24, the first name you'll see there is that of Robbie Phillips. And the reason you see him there is that he had the best overall record in A division this season. But what you might not immediately note is that his season this fall might be the single greatest in league history! His 41-2 record is the best A division win percentage for a season in the past 19 years (which is the entire length of time for which we have full singles+doubles records for the league). Not only that, it's the second-best record ever in the RDL if you include all divisions (which obviously even includes when a 'top' player drops down to a lower division). That is amazing. And wow did it take two great games to beat him. The 301 game ended on a 103-Out from Steve Holland, and Chad Massengill averaged easily 5+ marks/turn in the one singles cricket loss for Phillips. Might have witnessed a little history here…

ONE OF MY FAVORITE QUOTES EVER

This one is from my teammate (and multi-time National Champion) Robbie Phillips when we were discussing how often people ask him for advice, help, whatever. He is so interested and excited to help people that he'll talk with them at length over just about anything. He did describe to me his limitation though: "I'm always willing to help out people that are trying to improve, provided they aren't of the douche variety. I don't want them getting better. :)"

FALL 2014 PENALTY SUMMARY

Just like last fall, this column might as well just be written directly about H division… Holy crikey... Not only did H have 40% of the teams that were penalized, that division was responsible for 63% of the penalties and an astonishing 70% of the total points lost (as well as losing the one match win that was coughed up due to a win with an ineligible player). And one of the teams came within one penalty type of matching the all-time league record for most different kinds of penalties in a season…

Overall, there were 32 total penalties for a total of 275 lost points (and 1 lost match win). That is a kind of a lot, but certainly not a league record or anything like that. In total, there were 6 fifth week captains' meeting penalties (for 30 total points), 4 election ballot penalties (20 points), 11 phone penalties (55 points), 9 mail penalties (144 points), and 2 ineligible player penalties (23 points and the lost match win).

Fifteen of the 61 teams got a penalty, with A, E and F divisions ringing up exactly ZERO penalties. H led the way with 6 penalized teams. H also had 20 of the 32 total penalties, as well as 193 of the 275 lost points.

And now back to this season's biggest penalty gatherer… the Train Station Shooters. They missed the 5th week meeting, didn't turn in an election ballot, got three phone penalties, got two mail penalties (I eventually got those scoresheets from their opponents), and they used an ineligible player twice. They accounted for 28% of the league's total penalties and 30% of the league's lost points (and the lost win). They also were the only team to cost themselves a spot in the standings. Yikes.

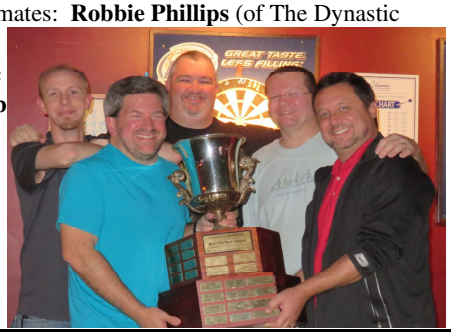
HOLIDAY BREAK BLIND DRAWS

As in many previous years, throughout the holiday break the Upper Deck will be adding a weekly Wednesday blind draw for all those who just want to keep their regular dart night out rolling through the break. The Wednesday draw will be run just like the Friday and Sunday draws at the Deck (the Triple Shot will be exclusive to the Friday draws still). If you have more free time, you might want to try one or more of the several other weekly and monthly draws as well. For a full list, see the bottom half of the right column on page 8.

OR MAYBE YOU WANT TO ADD ANOTHER LEAGUE?

If you're quick, you might be able to pick up a second league this coming season if you are so inclined (and have a couple options!).

Triangle Dart League (TDL - Chapel Hill & Durham)



The Triangle Dart League will be holding its General Interest Meeting (followed by a captains' meeting) for their Spring 2015 season on Thursday, December 18th, beginning at 7:00 p.m. The meetings will actually be held at Bull City Tap House (1647 Cole Mill Road, Durham), likely because much of the TDL season is now played in Durham. There will be a blind draw that night also. For more league info, visit: http://www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/

Bull City Dart League (BCDL - Durham)

If you happen to be interested in trying out one of the very few handicapped steel-tip leagues anywhere, maybe the BCDL is in your future. Registration continues through the final meeting at Bralie's Sports Bar & Grill (1725 Carpenter Fletcher Rd, Durham) that is being held from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. this coming Tuesday (December 16th). Teams are 4-8 players with dues of $25/player, and more complete information can be found at: www.thebcdl.org

RECENT BCDL LEAGUE CHAMPS

Should you decide to venture over toward Durham for the next BCDL season (see immediately above), maybe you'll get a shot at the recent league champs, the Pastafarians. Because of the handicap system used for all divisions, there is a leaguewide postseason tournament to determine one overall season champ. Congrats to my teammates: Robbie Phillips (of The Dynastic Element), yours truly (also of The Dynastic Element), Paul Jacob (of Lunatic Fringe), Tom Brown (also of Dynastic Element), and Mike Seward (of Who's Sittin'?). Not pictured is Jeremy Dziczkowski.

"HOT DARTS" CALL-IN GUIDELINES

Here are the guidelines you should use for the minimum number of all-star points to report when calling in your scores.
"A" Div. = 4.5 or more ASPs; "B" Div. = 4.0 or more ASPs
"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "H" = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for all-star point ave. & singles win %-age awards, you must play at least 66% of this season's projected games:

for Divisions "B", "D", "E" (except team E1), "G", and "H"(except teams H6 & H8) (8 teams / division):
Singles win %-age: min. of 19 Singles Games Played
All-star pt. Average: min. of 37 Total Games Played for teams E1, H6 and H8 (due to 1 forfeit received):

min. of 18 Singles Games Played, 35 Total Games Played for Divisions "A", "C", and "F" (except teams A6, F2, F6 and F7) (7 teams / division):

min. of 16 Singles Games Played, 32 Total Games Played for teams A6, F2, F6 and F7 (due to 1 forfeit received):

min. of 15 Singles Games Played, 29 Total Games Played

THE THIRTY-SIXTH SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF : JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs (I feel a little bad picking Phillips for a third consecutive season… but he had maybe the best season in RDL history...)

A Division	Robbie Phillips	The Dynastic Element	E Division	John Geraghty	Darty
B Division	Joe Work	Traveling Brown's Billiards	F Division	Ken Trefzger	One Armed Bandits
C Division	J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	G Division	Bryan Ogden	Grateful Darts
D Division	J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	H Division	Jonathan Lawrence	Chalk it Up

All of RDL -- Robbie Phillips -- The Dynastic Element

"A" Division

Tom Brown	The Dynastic Eleme	Hunting early a.m. = too tired for doubles?
Kyle Gaulthier	Who's Sittin'?	If only he hadn't been out of town so much.
Simon Healy	Who's Sittin'?	Only an Irishman gets better as it gets later.
Chad Massengill	BullsHitters	Played all the top guns. And beat them.
Dan Naylor	Appetite for Destruc	ADO 501 champ was the best addition.
Robbie Phillips	The Dynastic Eleme	See page 4, right column, half way down…
Mike Seward	Who's Sittin'?	Plays his best against the best opposition.
Wil Tan	The Dynastic Eleme	Feels no pressure, every dart is the same.

"B" Division (had LOTS of candidates in this division…)

John Dunleavy	Smell My Cork	Was Mr. Consistency for the B runners-up.
Eugene Foushee	Methodical Madness	Just shone forth on a very balanced team.
Ed Grubb	Smell My Cork	Always on the cusp of just owning B div.
David Hoyt	Rif Raf	So dominant outside of… doubles cricket?
Kris Kilsdonk	Fire for Effect	She just kept pounding people all season.
Keith Ohrberg	Rif Raf	Super solid for the first three match sets.
Robert Ray	Traveling Brown's B	Ended up as the clear B division hammer.
Joe Work	Traveling Brown's B	He's a regular on these lists nowadays.

"C" Division

Dave Buckman	Excalibur	Nothing fancy, just strong team support.
Josh Hall	Excalibur	With fewer SCkt losses, might be C MVP.
Mikey Hindle	Excalibur	Rates high on two things: music, winning.
David Huffman	To B or not to B…	Just biding his time on eventual trip to A.
Ronnie Knott	Fortnight Hooligans	Was an '01 machine with ok cricket stats.
Dave Tanner	To B or not to B…	301 starts slowly, but ramps up from there.
J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	What a monster season for the top Outlaw.
Steve Witz	Excalibur	Man, it's good to see Steve back full time.

"D" Division

Randy Baldwin	We Be Tripplin	Had some serious spikes of brilliance.
Tom Flood	What the Fog	His A experience likely wins him games.
Mike Holly	The Jeffersons	Just didn't quite roll doubles like in singles.
Andy Krestalude	The Jeffersons	10+ wins in every set? Yes, please.
Alex Mathews	Death Throw	For a pretty new player, he wins a bunch.
Jim Peele	Shark Shooters	You'll be seeing this guy's name for years.
Brady Price	Menace 2 Sobriety	Could be a team's top gun on another team.
J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	Is being the league's most Menacing good?

"E" Division

Jimmy Dzengeles	Dynamic Darts	Another very solid, if uneventful, season.
John Geraghty	Darty	Was the dominator for the dominant team.
Nate Groce	Darty	How awesome that a team's #2 is this good.
Dave Krasnow	Brown Chicken Bro	Really, he has beaten almost all below A.
Tom Kubel	Neighbor Bangers	Q rolled in singles, managed ok in doubles.
Patrick Merkle	Village Idiots	The new guy has to sit out the first set?
Jason Thomas	T.A.P.E.	Ok, time to start listing the Prez in 301…
Tom Winters	Dynamic Darts	Still a part-timer than wins a whole bunch.

"F" Division (this one was a tough set to pick too…)

Brad Adams	Double In Taco Out	So good we might actually make his award.
Tony Alcon	The Sofa Kings	31-2 in the first three sets?! Flippin' wow.
Kevin Casey	Shootin Da Bull	70% or better in every set is pretty hot.
Jim Dunham	Qu-Easy Darts	I guess we forgive rough doubles at times.
Phil Murphy	One Armed Bandits	Such a steady winner for so many years.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	Mr. Singles just needs an attendance bump.
Andrew Strickland	Shootin Da Bull	Was a machine… why does he sit in 501?
Ken Trefzger	One Armed Bandits	If Phillips hadn't made history...RDL MVP.

"G" Division

Tim Ellis	Release the Quacker	10-0 in 501?! Who doesn't need a closer?
Steve Hall	Measure From The T	Ok, two in one here… how do Hall and
Craig Millikan	Measure From The T	Millikan own singles and nap in doubles?
Bryan Ogden	Grateful Darts	What a machine this Grateful has become…
Joe Rigert, Jr.	Wayne Gretzky	Better overall record than dad? Uh-oh…
Joe Rigert, Sr.	Wayne Gretzky	…if only his DCkt could match his son's.
Dan Therrien	Release the Quacker	Was clearly Mr. Cricket, and just ok in '01.
Tom Wiegand	Misfits	The King of The Island of Misfit(s) Toys.

"H" Division

Andy Bowen	Whynot!	Just took them a few weeks to start rolling.
Frank Fleming	What's the Point?	Kept the team in contention for months.
Jeff Gillespie	Chalk it Up	Just so strong in each of the first 3 sets.
Simon Hayward	Ballistic Behavior	Solid cricket, passable '01 for 2nd-placers.
Evan Howey	Whynot!	Awesome #2 for season/tourney champs.
Jonathan Lawrenc	Chalk it Up	If he makes every match, they win the div.
Mike Prusisz	Tips & Shafts	Starts huge in 301, stays strong in the rest.
Parker Stark	Whynot!	I guess they didn't need him much in 501?

QUICK STAT TIDBITS

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): Oh, man, down to just 1 person in the true Quadruple Double club this season (a season with only 5 divisions with a full 8 teams): Andy Krestalude of The Jeffersons in D division stands alone! We do have three honorable mentions though, for throwers who were only one win in one set away from joining the list: Robbie Phillips of The Dynastic Element in A (in only a 12-week season!), Joe Work of Traveling Brown's Billiards in B, & J.J. White of Menace 2 Sobriety in D.

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: Ok, we had teams play shorthanded a bit, but not at alarming rates. So, it's not the game number that is newsworthy… it's that this season's Iron Woman is claiming a 3rd title in the last 4 seasons! Denise Borgna (formerly Vithorkus) of Tips & Shafts in H rang up 68 games (her lowest of her 3 title seasons by a game) to lead the way for us all. After her, the honorable mentions for the other division leaders: Billy Hamilton (Lunatic Fringe) in A with 50; Eduardo Jimenez (Traveling Brown's Billiards) in B with 59; Josh Hall in C with 50; Gregg McCurry (Leftovers, duh...) in D with 62; Dave Krasnow (Brown Chicken Brown Cows) in E with 58; Julie Scheppele (No Boys Allowed) and Brad Adams (Double In Taco Out) in F with only 48 - that's just showing up for all 48 of the regular sets(!); and John Suan (Missing Flights) in G with 65.

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Only five teams were even considered for inclusion in this category, but Missing Flights and Tips & Shafts had patterns of attendance that were just too sporadic to make the list. That leaves us with two honorable mentions: Armed and Hammered in E division, who basically split their 6th between two people, and The Jeffersons in D division, who carried a 7th on the roster to cover absences. But our hands down winner is C division's Fortnight Hooligans, who only played 6 players throughout the entire season, with only 1 of them missing a match and even he only missed that one.

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

As usual, I'm left with the option of trying to bluff my way through this part, or just telling the truth. And since I know that some of you squirrel away every last thing I've ever written about your team, I guess I better give real results… dang.

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season given the imminent roster changes/additions), I actually did pretty well in a handful of divisions, nailing A exactly and coming within a couple slots of H and B (other than not knowing that the Freaks were going to have huge attendance issues all seasons). Where did I fail? My top G picks were absolute flops… I didn't see Darty as the powerhouse they were… my top D picks (in a mess of a division) slid down… and Excalibur climbed a couple spots higher than I expected.

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. I had a pretty respectable record, especially when you consider what horrible back-and-forth messes each of B, D and H divisions became. Shockingly (not!) my worst record came with the Leftovers, who seem to decide how many players to bring to a match by rolling a die. I didn't end up below 50% in any division, but I was certainly dancing close to that line with D division for most of the season. Not so coincidentally, that happens to be the division where the Leftovers play… as well as Tripplin… and Fog… and… ugh.

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… But these were not my usual tournament successes! We jumped to best-of-three (well, evidently not for part of the H tournament) and I didn't ramp up the success like in past years. I was a pretty weak 19-10 in the quarterfinals, did a touch better at 10-6 in the semifinals, and then kept the same rate in the finals when I hit 5 Mug winners. That's a final record of 34-19, which is alright I suppose, but really not awesome. Understandable I suppose though, since one wrong pick early can cost multiple picks later, and because some teams changed a bunch come tournament time.

JK'S TEAM-BY-TEAM, WEEK-BY-WEEK MATCH PREDICTION RESULTS

(I introduced this page twenty seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the three 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the six 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not. [It was an absolute struggle picking D and H division matches… never knowing which players would attend, in addition to those divisions just being nuts in general. At least only one team (the random-attendance Leftovers) ended up below 6-8 for me...]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 8 question: If you were to throw one dart at the board, and you were to assume that all targets on the board were of equal likelihood to be hit (and assuming that the dart will not miss the board), what is/are the most likely value/s for that dart to score?

Week 9 question: It seems that the math-based questions get the most participation, so let's go with a follow-up to last week's question… If you were to throw a full turn of three darts at the board, and you were to assume that all targets on the board were of equal likelihood to be hit (and assuming that all three darts will not miss the board), what is/are the most likely value/s for that turn of darts to score?

Week 10 question: In honor of the very tight nature of some of our divisions this seasons (such as D and B!)… what is the greatest number of teams in a division that has finished within one match of 0.500 (7-5 to 5-7 in a 7-team division, or 8-6 to 6-8 in an 8-team division? (As with most questions like this, I can really only base the answer on my time as statistician, as the info available from before that isn't all that complete. So, questions like this are generally based on the assumption of "1996-present".)

Week 11 question: Last week there was a great 14-dart doubles cricket thrown in A division, which is the new fast game leaguewide for the season. How many times since the start of 2007 (when we began separating the fast games by division) has the fastest singles cricket or doubles cricket in the league not come from A division?

Week 12 question: The Misfits in G division just played their fourth 1001 tiebreaker of the season (that's more than 36% of their matches!). In the 37 seasons that I've been statistician (since the start of 1996), what is the greatest number of tiebreakers that one team has played in a single season?

Week 13 question: How many people do you think are paid members of the RDL this season? And is that number above or below the seasonal average over the last decade?

Week 14 question: How many times since the start of 2007 (when we began separating games/in/outs by div.) has the "High In" in A division been the lowest in any division?

Week 8 answer: There are actually three equally likely values for a single dart to score, regardless of whether you define the board as 82 individual scoring beds (of six different sizes) or whether you define it as in infinite number of incredibly tiny places the dart can land within the confines of the board. Those three values are 6, 12, and 18, the only three values that can be achieved by hitting a single, a double, or a triple with your one dart. (Please note that this question does not ask for the average value of all points on the board, but rather asks for the most likely scoring value of a single dart.) [The best answer that was offered up came from Erin Hartmann of The Jeffersons, which she named ' the wrong answer to the trivia question': "It has to be 1 or 5 because that is what I always seem to hit, no matter what I'm aiming at. - Unless, of course, I'm playing Shanghai. Then I can't hit the damn 5 to save my life!"]

Week 9 answer: Given what you know from last week's trivia answer (that 6, 12 and 18 are the most common values for a scoring dart when all spots on the board are equally likely to be hit), it is clear that the most common three-dart turns will include three darts of those values. Of the 27 possible turns that include those 3 scoring values on each dart, the most prevalent is a total turn of 36 (with that value being the result on 7 of those 27 turns).

Week 10 answer: Ten times over the years, we've had 5 teams in a division finish within one match of 0.500 - including five times in divisions with only 7 teams(!). But the record stands at a crazy 6 teams (out of an 8-team division), and it has happened twice! In the Spring 2004 B division, Here for the Beer put up a 13-1 record to outrun two 8-6s, a 7-7, and three 6-8s. And then in the now-historic Fall 2013 B division, Despicable Us and their 11-3 record pulled away from the same array of two 8-6s, a 7-7, and three 6-8s. Just crazy how even those divisions were.

Week 11 answer: Ok, we've separated the fast games by division for 13 seasons so far, meaning there have been 26 SCkt & DCkt categories in each division in that time. And in a surprising 12(!) of those 26 cricket season records, the fast game came from a division lower than A - 7 in a lower division alone, and 5 in a tie between A and a lower division. In Sp07, Timmy King of The Replacements in B had a 14-dart SCkt (tied the A number); in Sp09, Eugene Foushee and Keith Shearin of Excalibur in C had a 16-dart DCkt; in Fa09, Steve Holland and Ron Ridenour of Pheasant Pluckers in B had a 15-dart DCkt; in Sp10, Jay Kron and Vicente Martinez of Hammered Heads in D had a 17-dart DCkt; in Fa10, Randy Umstead of The Locals in B had a 13-dart SCkt; in Fa10, Tommy Gelhar and Darren Schmaus of Jack Nine in B had a 15-dart DCkt; in Sp11, Jimmy Kerr of OT Outlaws in B had a 13-dart SCkt; in Sp12, Van Smith and Nate Wade of Coral Reefers in C had a 16-dart DCkt (tied the A number); in Fa12, Keith Gibbs of 1 to Potato in C had a 16-dart SCkt (tied the A number); in Fa12, Joshua Janssen an Tony Thomas of Leftovers in D had a 16-dart DCkt; in Fa13, Jason Thomas of Ted's H&S Emporium in D had a 14-dart SCkt (tied the A number); and in Fa13, John Carroll and Scott Stephenson of Methodical Madness in D had a 16-dart DCkt (tied the A number). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Both Mark Sellers (of Excalibur in C) and Randy Baldwin (of We Be Tripplin in D) tied the three 17-darters tossed in SCkt in A division this season.]

Week 12 answer: I asked this question once before, near the end of the Spring 2010 season, and at the time seven teams during my tenure had managed to work their way into 5 tiebreakers in a single season (including the tournaments). Since that season, four more teams have encountered seasons with 5 legs of 1001. However, that 5 is no longer the answer… In the Spring 2012 season, Constantly Corked of B division played in an astonishing SIX tiebreakers. The Corkers put up a 3-3 record that season, but that last loss was a painful one, coming in the tournament semifinal. [Answer update for the banquet Tons: G division's Misfits ended with the same 5 tiebreakers this season that they had when I asked the question back in week 12.]

Week 13 answer: There were 533 paid members this season (including the one player who was replaced on his team's roster with a new player). That's above the average of 508 members from the last decade, but is below the average from just the last 7 years. And it's actually the lowest number in the last 10 seasons.

Week 14 answer: In the 16 seasons that have been played since we separated games/ins/outs by division, this season is only the 2nd one in which the A division "High In" has been the lowest (well, tied for lowest) in any division. During most seasons, the A division High In is 160, with a couple of 170s along the way. This season, however, nobody in A managed an In of more than 130, which tied A with H for the lowest High In. The previous occurrence of this was during the Spring 2012 season, when the giant-ass logjam of Ton-20-Ins (that infernal plaque-creating page-3-space-eating hurdle that I always hope we cross) spread across several divisions. That season, there were 7 Ton-20-Ins in A divisions (with one player doing it twice), which tied A division with all of B, E, F and G divisions for the lowest High In. I had to morph the trophy darts box a bit by the end of that season…

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page (and continuing onto the next page). No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song (and weekly theme)"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "Robert's got a quick hand, He'll look around the room, he won't tell you his plan"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "Follow me into the desert, As thirsty as you are, Crack a smile and cut your mouth, And drown in alcohol"

Week 2, song #3: "So he creeps into this house, yeah, And unlocks the door, And while a man reaching for his trousers, Shoots him full of .38 holes"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "I ain't happy, I'm feeling glad, I got sunshine in a bag, I'm useless but not for long, The future is coming on"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "And I feel, so much depends on the weather, So is it raining in your bedroom? And I see, that these are the eyes of disarray"

Week 3, song #3 lyric: "Mr. Play It Safe was afraid to fly, He packed his suitcase and kissed his kids goodbye"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "I've made up my mind, Don't need to think it over, If I'm wrong, I am right, Don't need to look no further"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "You know you can't hold me forever, I didn't sign up with you, I'm not a present for your friends to open"

Week 4, song #3 lyric: "Don't need reason, Don't need rhyme, Ain't nothin' that I'd rather do, Goin' down, Party time, My friends are gonna be there too"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "I want a girl who gets up early, I want a girl who stays up late, I want a girl with uninterrupted prosperity"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "Go on over there and turn on the light… no, all the lights, Now come back here and stand on this chair… that's right"

Week 5, song #3 lyric: "You keep saying you've got something for me, Something you call love, but confess, You've been messin'..."

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "What set you free and brought you to me babe, What set you free I need you here by me"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "They gave you life, And in return you gave them hell, As cold as ice, I hope we live to tell the tale"

Week 6, song #3 lyric: "Any time, any day, You can hear the people say, That love is blind, Well, I don't know but I say love is kind"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "And now that your rose is in bloom, A light hits the gloom on the gray. There is so much a man can tell you"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "And he's tradin' in his Chevy for a Cadillac, You oughta know by now, And if he can't drive with a broken back"

Week 7, song #3 lyric: "It doesn't matter where you've been, as long as it was deep, You always knew to wear it well, you look so fancy I can tell"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "And these children that you spit on, As they try to change their worlds, Are immune to your consultations"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "Well there's a girl that lives up the block, Back in school she could turn all the boys' heads"

Week 8, song #3 lyric: "You better get yourself a partner, Go down to the concert or the local bar, Check the local newspapers"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "And he's up there, what's that? Hawaiian noises? Bangin' on the bongos like a chimpanzee"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "You've had enough of two-hand touch you want it rough you're out of bounds, I want you smothered want you covered…"

Week 9, song #3 lyric: "You went to school to learn girl, Things you never, never knew before, Like I before E except after C"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "Pour me somethin' tall an' strong, Make it a 'Hurricane' before I go insane, It's only half-past twelve but I don't care"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "I'm dizzy drunk and fightin', On tequila white lightnin', My glass is getting shorter, On whiskey ice and water"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "I really do appreciate the fact you're sittin' here, Your voice sounds so wonderful, But your face don't look too clear"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "Not sure how I got it, not a dollar in my pocket, And it kinda looks just like you, Mixed with Zach Galifanakis"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "I threw a wish in the well, Don't ask me, I'll never tell, I looked to you as it fell, And now you're in my way"

Week 11, song #3 lyric: "Head in the clouds, Got no weight on my shoulders, I should be wiser, And realize that I've got"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "We'll be fighting in the streets, With our children at our feet, And the morals that they worship will be gone"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Weapons not food, not homes, not shoes, Not need, just feed the war cannibal animal"

Week 12, song #3 lyric: "But if you want money for people with minds that hate, All I can tell you is brother you have to wait"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "When I'm tired and thinking cold, I hide in my music, forget the day, And dream of a girl I used to know"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "Waiting for the break of day, Searching for something to say, Flashing lights against the sky, Giving up I close my eyes"

Week 13, song #3 lyric: "Gonna keep on dancin' to the rock and roll, On Saturday night, Saturday night, Dancin' to the rhythm in our heart and soul"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "So needless to say, Of odds and ends, But I'll be stumbling away, Slowly learning that like is ok"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "My fantasy has turned to madness, And all my goodness, Has turned to badness, My need to possess you"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "Now when you take me by the hooves, Who's ever gonna know, And every time you move, I let a little more show"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "I know a guy who's tough but sweet, He's so fine, he can't be beat, He's got everything that I desire"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "Philosophy is a walk on the slippery rocks, Religion is a light in the fog, I'm not aware of too many things"

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "I-I-I got to be your friend now, baby, And I-I-I would like to move in just a little bit closer"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "Poor old Johnny Ray, Sounded sad upon the radio, But he moved a million hearts in mono, Our mothers cried"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "It's poetry in motion, She turned her tender eyes to me, As deep as any ocean, As sweet as any harmony"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "With auburn hair and tawny eyes, The kind of eyes that hypnotize me through, Hypnotize me through"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "Live those dreams, scheme those schemes, Got to hit me, Hit me, Hit me with those laser beams"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "Who is to blame in one country? Never can get to the one, Dealin' in multiplication, And they still can't feed everyone"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "Modern medicine fall short of your complaints, Ooh, try a little harder, You're moving in circles, you won't dilate"

Week 14, song #13 lyric: "Father gets up late for work, Mother has to iron his shirt, Then she sends the kids to school"

Week 14, song #14 lyric: "I saw the world thrashing all around your face, Never really knowing it was always mesh and lace"

Week 14, song #15 lyric: "As I pass the dreadlocks' camp I heard them say, How does it feel when you've got no food?"

Week 14, song #16 lyric: "I'm just an average man, with an average life, I work from nine to five, hey hell, I pay the price"

Week 14, song #17 lyric: "And you'll think love is to pray but I'm sorry I don't pray that way, Once I ran to you, now I'll run from you"

Week 14, song #18 lyric: "Oh, you don't know me but you make me so happy, I tried to call you before, but I lost my nerve"

[Like the last couple seasons, this time we used three-song groups each week and also included a theme each and every week. Added a layer to the game for everybody and has been quite popular. Here are the themes for each week*, including the week 14 eighteen-song set that brought fewer guesses than I expected… maybe people just misremember those, and these don't match what has been in their heads for years.*

Week 2 theme: Guns, shooting somebody, etc. No real reason I picked that for a theme other than I wanted to put Burden In My Hand in a list. Week 3 theme: Songs with a title that has very little to do with the content of the song. :o) That's right… Clint Eastwood is named that because the bass line is vaguely reminiscent of the theme from The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly… which is about as direct of a link as any of Ironic's verses have with actual irony. Nice one, Alanis… At least you supplied my favorite theme so far… Week 4 theme: Motorways, of course. Week 5 theme: Short skirt, long jacket, hat, and boots? She's goin' out. And she's going to have fun. But she'll leave the hat on… Week 6 theme: Well, if you were at the captains' meeting, I'm pretty much guessing you can figure this one out… Some yelling, some shouting, some rebelling, and in the end… I hope you all decide to listen to what the man said... Week 7 theme: Singers who married supermodels! Week 8 theme: Looking back at your past, reminiscing, etc. Kind of a tribute to me getting old enough to have written six hundred issues of the Tons. Week 9 theme: Songs that say the name of television networks. MTV, Discovery Channel, and ABC. Week 10 theme: Well, it was sort of a salute to the World Beer Fest that I had just attended, but I would take any of the obvious related thoughts. Week 11 theme: Those are the last three bands/singers to win the American Music Awards Best New Artist award. This was right when the AMA nominees were announced, and this year's nominees for Best New Artists (at the "American" Music Awards) include exactly zero Americans. Week 12 theme: Government unrest, street riots, general unhappiness with the leadership… sort of a commentary on the status in several locations globally, and also on how tired everyone here is of the awful election push that crams two bad options down your throats. Week 13 theme: Pretty obviously it's city names in the band names. Week 14 theme: One-hit wonders of the '80s, with the songs listed in order by band/singer name, alphabetically.

SOME '01 OUT ADVICE FROM MULTI-TIME STATE CHAMPION WIL TAN

I've watched people with more dart talent than me throw at pretty stupid (or at least very poorly planned) targets in '01 for years. And throughout much of that, I've stood next to my longtime teammate Wil Tan and lamented it. (Ok, in Wil's case, far fewer of the guys we've watched were more talented than him, but that's beside the point.) Evidently, Wil has tired a bit of seeing it all and he decided one day to send me a strategy advice item for '01. I've included it here for the perusal/use/enlightenment by/of the RDL general membership. Many thanks to Wil for taking the time…

I've often heard in conversations about the strategies involved in '01 games from many people. The current and most prevalent being "hit as much as you can and get more shots at the double than your opponents." That is completely valid and true, but the thing I've noticed is the difference in how it's done. On my team, always named some form of Element, there is an emphasis of giving yourself a possible 3-dart out or leaving yourself a 2-dart out when shooting a three dart string. People have even argued against the merits of giving yourself a possible shot because they are more comfortable shooting the shot that does not leave them an out if they miss. My argument as well as my team's argument is that if you don't have a shot at the out, you will never take the out.

So let's begin with three-dart outs. In a long game of 501 or the shorter game of 301, it is important to leave yourself a number that has a possible, even if extremely hard to hit, chance of a three-dart out. There are charts you can use that will help in this manner so I will not go into an in-depth discussion about this. I've seen many people shoot for the all-star point of getting a ton rather than leave themselves a valid 3-dart out. Leaving a 169, 168, 166, 165, 163, or 162, rather than leaving themselves 170, 167, 164, or 161. The previous numbers leave no possibility of ever taking a 3-dart out while the last four do. Ok, so they are hard to hit, but they are possible and give you the chance to win, however slim it might be. A million throws at the six high numbers with no outs will result in ZERO outs. That's what my team likes to see in our opponents. A million throws of the latter four numbers will eventually lead to one or many outs, depending on how good your mechanics are; but at least there is a chance that it can be done. Look at how many 160+ outs have been hit in the league over the years. They all consist of only those 4 numbers. Ever notice the first 6 have never been hit?

Now, on to the low 100s 3-dart outs. Most of these consist of leaves from 135 down to 120. A lot of people prefer their favorite number rather than the smart shot. What I mean by this is shooting your first dart at a number that subsequently requires a triple to leave a 2-dart out. The philosophy here is the same as the 3-dart out but with only 2 darts left in your hand if the first dart does not hit that triple about which you were so confident. Leaving yourself 110, 107, 104 or 101 after your first dart still allows you to finish the game with your remaining 2 darts. The only number below 100 that does not allow for a 2-dart finish is 99. Once again you can consult out charts to figure out the possible combinations. The point is, without a 2-dart out, you will never be able to finish the game. When I see an opponent shoot for a triple-20 with 129 left I rejoice unless they happen to hit that triple-20 because they have the ability to still beat me. I worry when my opponent shoots a number that leaves one of the four I mentioned above, because they can still win. I have been the victim and the beneficiary of such winning combinations over the years but have been more the overwhelming beneficiary against those who don't leave themselves a proper out.

One last thing: Don't be afraid of a double-bull out. IT IS AN OUT and can be hit with one dart. If you can leave yourself a double-bull with your last dart by only having to hit singles to get there, then do so. An OUT is an OUT. Good luck and happy winning.

IT WAS NEARLY OUR VERY OWN "YEAR WITHOUT A ~~SANTA CLAUS~~ LEAGUE TREASURER/PRESIDENT-TO-BE"!

This past October, RDL Treasurer (and President-to-be for 2015) Tim "Tex" Mozzetti took part in a fund-raising hike to raise funds for Veteran non-profit groups. What follows is Tim's account of Day 1. Keep that in mind as you read on… this is just day 1… holy cow.

Kilts [yes, me, your humble statistician] had joked that I pay bills up front or leave the checkbook with someone when I went on my 120+ mile hike from Death Valley to Mount Whitney in California...in case I die. Well, I'm back! I made it. And death actually was a very real possibility on day 1. I thought of you guys several times as I was climbing that mountain range alone on day 1.

The brief summary: I got separated from the group of eight hikers for about 9 hours, and hiked at least 8 miles, with about 4,300' of elevation gain toward Telescope Peak, CA), and 1,700' of elevation loss (to Mahogany Flat Campground) in that time, alone. The entire day was 18+ miles, and 7,600' of elevation gain from about 2,200' up to 9,800', then down the other side to 4,200' elevation at Wildrose Campground. We started around 7am and I got to safety at the camp by 9:30pm. (I was at MFCG by 9pm.)

And now the more detailed narrative: From Hanapauh Canyon at about 2,200' elevation we started hiking around 7:30am. I had issues with gathering and stowing gear so Jay and I departed about 15 minutes behind the others. It wasn't long before we caught up with Emily and Lee, but the others I briefly saw in the distance and then they were gone. The team split into two groups of four hikers early on since the lead team was all former military and rolling along. Jay, who had a walkie-talkie to communicate with the lead group, stayed back with us slower "climbers". I say climbers because the terrain was more difficult than any imagined. We trained for hiking... not climbing, bouldering, or scaling steep mountain sides with loose rock, sheer drop offs, and no trails.

Anywho, the other group pressed on and we soon lost sight of them. Lee was the next most experienced hiker (having previously summited Mt. Whitney 22 times) so he got about 20-30 minutes ahead of us (the last three). At around 5,000' of elevation, Emily had a bout with dehydration and elevation sickness. Jay and I took breaks with her trying to get her to eat and drink. After radioing to the first group her condition, it was decided to med-evac her out of there via helicopter. Around 12:30pm we got to about 5,600' and Jay started to radio for help. He told me to catch up to Lee while he waited with Emily for the air lift. I said "OK!" and pressed on. My legs were shot from all the climbing already but I pushed through it (thinking I was crazy for doing this). Lee was nowhere in sight. By now he had to be at least 40 minutes ahead of me. I had an idea of where I had to go (up) but without a trail I was forced to become a tracker. I was constantly searching for footprints, broken twigs and limbs, and disturbed ground. I saw big mountain lion tracks several times and knew danger was not far off since I was alone.

About 2 hours after Jay made the call I heard the helicopter coming. I got some photos of the helicopter from a distant ridge (about 6,400') and noticed that both Jay and Emily got picked up. Now I really was the last man, and alone. So I kept pressing on. At one point I came to the base of a tree that had claw marks in it and the ground looked like two big cats had been scuffling. That's when I really started praying. "God, you helped Daniel in the lion's den, please keep me safe and help me." Somehow, I knew He would. Then things got scary. The elevation shot up, the ground turned into loose rock, there were no footprints or tracks from the people ahead, and a wrong move could send me sliding off the mountain thousands of feet.

I kept praying as I thought "I am alone, I have no communication, no one knows where I am, my legs are like lead weights, I am lost." I thought of my family, friends, work, that damn RDL checkbook -hah!, and wished I had left letters of what to do and where everything was in case I died. I started shouting "Can anyone hear me!?" "I'm lost!" "Helloooo!!!" "Help!". …No response. So, up I slowly and cautiously struggled for the next few hours, knowing that the top was the only way out to survival.

Eventually, with rock sliding beneath my feet, while digging my hiking poles in to pull me forward, the sun started sinking behind the ridge. In the cold dark of a steep mountain side, with mountain lions, is not where I wanted to be. I started shouting again hoping for a response. Finally! I heard a whistle from far up the mountain. Fortunately it was in the direction I was headed. I shouted again and Lee shouted back. We couldn't make out what each other was saying, but just knowing where he was and having him know where I was, helped immensely! I regained hope and some strength to push through. Up the steep mountain toward the ridge I pressed on.

I finally came to the trail crest at about 9,800' as night was falling. Seeing that trail I became fully re-energized knowing it was all a downhill path from here. Lee was nowhere in sight, so I assumed he pressed on due to night falling. Following the trail wasn't the original plan. It was a longer but much easier emergency route that I had marked on the google map while helping to plan the trip. This was an emergency to me. It was getting dark and heck if I'm getting on another uncharted mountain side today! So I picked up the pace and was hiking as fast as I could down the trail. About 30 minutes later it was dark and as I rounded a mountain side the cold wind picked up. It felt like 20-30 degrees compared to the 95+ degrees at midday. I ducked back behind cover and layered on every piece of clothing I had in my pack. Now I had to worry about hypothermia!? This day was crazy! I ate a power bar to keep my energy up, drank some water, and kept on trucking. The path wound down the mountains and became narrow with a steep cliff up on my left and a steep drop off to my right. My head lamp only lit so far, but I could hear the rocks dislodged by my feet tumbling down the mountain side. After almost slipping off the trail once, I slowed my pace to a more cautious walk, pause, hold wall, step, walk, repeat.

I got to the Mahogany flat campground trail head at 9pm. I signed the trail book, took a photo of it and walked toward the campground hoping to find someone. My team was staying at Wildrose campground about 9 miles further away, but I needed a break. As I approached MFCG, I heard voices and saw a fire. Two awesome guys welcomed me to sit down, warm up, gave me water and a Gatorade as I told them the day's events. After about 15-20 minutes they offered to drive me down to the other campground and I happily accepted. About 3 miles down the 9-mile dirt road we saw a hiker waving his arms. Pulling over and opening my window I said "Lee!?" He had a puzzled expression followed by pure joy and he said "Tim!?" Jumping out of the truck we hugged it out, happy to see each other alive. He got in the truck and we gave him water as he was dehydrated. Then we drove 6 more miles to our camp.

When we got there, no one was at the camp! We drove around for a bit looking at other campsites but couldn't find anyone. Not knowing what to do, we decided to stick to the plan and hunker down at the campground hoping the rest of the team would eventually show up. We were in the process of setting up a two-man tent that our new friends were going to let us borrow when about ten minutes later a truck came driving down the mountain. As it passed, I yelled "hey guys!", the truck quickly stopped and I heard team leader David's voice "Tim!?" I said "Yeah, we are here!" Our support truck sped into the campground, they jumped out, and then hugged me and Lee with excitement and relief.

It turns out the rest of the team had their troubles too. Trying to stick to the original route, they got lost coming over Bennett Peak and were dehydrated due to being out of water for at least 6 hours. Fortunately, the support truck (with Jay and Emily fully recovered) found them and they immediately called in a 911 search & rescue for Lee and myself, not knowing where or how we were. Needless to say, they were exuberant to see us alive and well, though worn out. The search and rescue was canceled and we started setting up camp. After eating and rehydrating, I thanked God for getting us all through it alive. I slept well that night knowing we were all safe. ... End of day 1…

After that, David changed the daily routes to be less dangerous and more geared toward us reaching our goal, Mount Whitney.

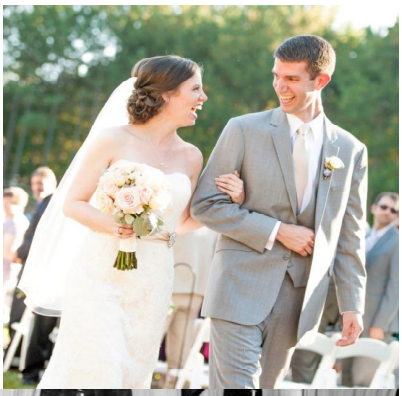
MORE STATEWIDE SUCCESS BY RDL MEMBERS!

Ok, sure… the RDL is the biggest league in the state and thus is likely to have the most success on a statewide level. But the fact is that the RDL gets way more than its share on a per-player comparison to just about any other league (except maybe the small Wilmington league that wins a lot of stuff too). Anyway, this past weekend, RDL darters added a whole bunch more glory and success to the pile!

North Carolina City Dart League

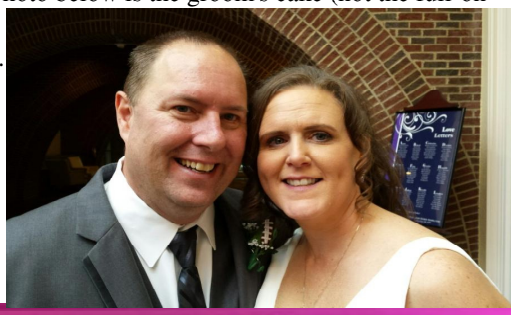
For the 9th time in the past 15 years, the Durham City League team took down the state title this past weekend! (Full results are on pages 19 and 20.) And due to the fact that the Triangle area leagues and teams are so heavily cross-populated, the Durham team is made up almost entirely of guys that play in the RDL! After finishing the regular season undefeated, Durham rolled through three tournament matches by scores of 21-1 over Jacksonville, 20-8 over Lake Norman, and 20-12 over Wilmington. Congratulations to (pictured from left to right): Kenny Persson (of Who's Sittin'?), Todd Lemons, Paul Jacobi (of Lunatic Fringe), Jason Kilts (of The Dynastic Element), Chad Massengill (of BullsHitters), Robbie Phillips (of The Dynastic Element), Keith Wall (of The Dynastic Element), Wil Tan (of The Dynastic Element), Tom Brown (of The Dynastic Element), Mike Seward (of Who's Sittin'?), Stevie Phillips, Alberto Sandoval (of The Dynastic Element), and Allen Smith (of The Dynastic Element). Not playing this past weekend (and thus not pictured) were: Mark Knight (of The Dynastic Element), Kyle Gaulthier (of Who's Sittin'?), Robb Beeson (of The Dynastic Element), and Jeremy Dziczkowski.

North Carolina Ladies' Cup



But it wasn't just in the City League that the RDL had members bring home the state title! The Hickory ladies' team, featuring three RDL ladies, rolled through defending champion Fuquay-Varina (13-7) and Pineville (14-6) before needing a doubles cricket sweep (the last set in their format) to dig out of a huge whole against Asheville in their 13-11 finals win! Congratulations to: (back row, left to right) Nicolle Deyton (of No Boys Allowed), Brenda Whitley (of BullsHitters - yep, their team won BOTH Cups this weekend!), Lora Josey, Nora Amorello, Jenn Bowser, Tiffany Stone, and (front row, left to right) Donna Ferber, Julie Scheppele (of No Boys Allowed), and Sherry Gronek.

MORE DARTER WEDDING BLESS! I love these…



Oh yay, oh yay! We recently had even MORE darter weddings! Maybe it's just because I'm so happily married, but I just flippin' love weddings. And we have two more made up entirely of darter couples to share with you.

First up, we have David and Kristen (Immen) Bradford, both of Qu-Easy Darts in F division. They met playing pool at Snookers just over 4 years ago, and when Kristen returned from her 3-year darting hiatus this season, she talked David into playing also… and now he's hooked too! Most excellent. They wed on October 26th, and no word on who is the better darter (or pool player!) yet, though I have my guesses. [And a quick thanks to Brian and Kessie Photography of Chareston, SC, for letting us grab a couple photos here before the full package was ready for the happy couple.]

Next up, are Billy and Dawn (Bocchinfuso) Hamilton! Billy is a weekly warrior for Lunatic Fringe (and a past A singles champ!), while Dawn (while not currently an RDL member) is the Director of the North Carolina Ladies' Cup statewide league and a longtime hammer for the Jacksonville ladies' team (oh, and, by the way… she also won an NC state women's singles 501 title in 2005! Bam!). Anyway, my favorite part of their November 8th ceremony? The fact that I was there for this one! It was awesome. So much fun. Did I mention that I love weddings? Although I have to say… I'm thinking they sure must love each other a lot to put up with each other… the bottom photo below is the groom's cake (not the full-on wedding cake, but the other extra cake). You see that, right? Yep, a Cowboys fan and an Eagles fan. Diehards. Their household could be a little bit tense tomorrow night…

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. As always, this is just about the last thing that I'm writing and once again much of it was written when it was already today… soooo, also as always not even I know what's about to hit the page…

-- You know what's first... it's Survivor time! This season is a second awesome season that brings in pairs of loved ones, but that isn't what hit me. What hit me is that dumba John Rocker, the pitcher for the Atlanta Braves (and Indians and Rangers and Rays) from the 1980s, who is most famous for making a bunch of horribly racist comments in his interviews, was surprised when the others recognized him and reacted to his ignorance accordingly. I was thinking maybe he would show us a sensitive and understanding side that he gained as he aged, but his responses to the others made it clear that nothing has changed. He's still a ridiculous tool. I shouldn't be surprised. Actually… I wasn't surprised. And then I wasn't surprised again when one of my co-workers shared a funny story with me. His brother had somehow ended up with tickets to one of the dinners in Cooperstown during Hall of Fame induction week, and Rocker was at one of the dinners. And at that dinner, Rocker's "people" were selling raffle tickets for something like twenty bucks, with the prize being that you get to go out to the bar after the dinner with Rocker. No, seriously, that's the prize. And my-coworker's brother's boss bought them each a ticket to be funny… and his brother won! My co-worker and I have no real facts on the specifics, but we're both guessing that you also had to buy Rocker's drinks… it just fits. Oh, and while they were out, they called my co-worker from his brother's phone, and it was Rocker on the other end of the call… All he said was "Larry, this is John Rocker, and the Yankees and Mets still suck!" Wonderful.

-- Do you watch much NFL football? If so, do you ever listen to the on-field microphones that pick up the quarterbacks' play calls? I'm sure it's probably some sort of indication of flipping the play to the opposite side (simply from the number in use and a basic knowledge of geometry), but it sure sounds like about half the quarterbacks in the league are big darters. A decent percentage of the time they turn each way and yell "One-eighty!! One-eighty!! Hut, hut! One-eighty!!" before they have the ball snapped.

-- Not that long ago, Robbie Phillips (of The Dynastic Element) and Kyle Gaulthier (of Who's Sittin'?), who are arguably two of the very best throwers in the state on pretty much any day, drew each other as partners at the Upper Deck blind draw. Which, as you can likely imagine, inspired a number of groans and comments like "oh, of course." Which is a really really really accurate comment if you think about it… well, as long as by "of course" you mean something like "well, they've both been in the blind a few dozen times together and so, of course, they should draw each other as partners every so often." Because, sure, that's what everybody meant… Somehow I'm guessing those same complainers don't have quite the same tone when they themselves draw Phillips or Gaulthier as a partner.

-- Ok, please tell me you're not one of the people that sits around and watches Lizard Lick Towing. Yes, I know Ron Shirley was an RDL member for a little while, but that just isn't reason enough. But if you really must watch, at least confirm for me that you aren't gullible enough to think that the "action" sequences are actually being shot live when they're out on calls. Do you really think that when they're driving next to somebody who is angry and shooting at them that the show characters duck and dive but the camera man just remains sitting up or standing up filming? Seriously?

-- Did you ever see the movie Winter's Tale? It came out in the last year or so, and it has some stars in it, and they make it look pretty decent in the trailer. Well… it's not. It's really quite awful. But it did contain one line that made me chuckle, uttered by Colin Farrell's character when describing his weird amnesiac condition: "I've had no memory for as long as I can remember." Just think about that one for a minute. Can that even be true?

-- I've decided that I know what it is that makes somebody a true star in a competitive setting like darts. It's how well you handle the outcome. That seems simple and obvious, but it's really not. There are people who are good winners and there are people who are bad winners (and I think those that gloat and mock without even realizing they're doing it are slightly better than those that are just dicks on purpose, but not by a whole lot). And there are people who are good losers and there are people who are bad losers. I would say that most of us fall somewhere off-center on maybe one of those scales (seems like it's more common to be a bad loser), but there are a select few that are both really really bad winners AND really really bad losers. And that group, regardless of talent level, is pretty much reviled by most others (and, I think, mostly rightfully so :o). And there is a group on the opposite end that are both good winners and good losers. And it's when you add a really high talent level to someone in that group that you find the true star. Rare indeed, but when you encounter him or her, you are so ok with them beating the living snot out of you that you almost find yourself rooting for them just to see how well they can play against you. You want to hate them just a little bit because they are so much better than you, but you just can't. Pretty awesome to be in that group… or at least it appears to be to those of us like me on the outside looking in at that one.

-- Ok, I'm about to lose a little bit here in the eyes of some of our league members, but I'm just going to say it: a restaurant is no place for your dog, even if you are sitting at the tables under the outside awning. If your dog is a little tiny piece of what other dog owners might consider a real dog, and you can hold it in your lap or in its little doggy purse or whatever, then I suppose you might be able to pull it off (at the outside tables only). But if your dog is walking around, extending its leash into the walkways, pushing its head up on to the tables (or the crotches of your tablemates), or splashing water all over out of a bowl because the restaurant provides one to appear pet-friendly (and to keep receiving your dollars), then it's simply inappropriate. If people let their kids run around and make messes and push up on others at your table, people complain that it's the wrong setting for that too… and those offenders of your comfort are humans! No, your dog is not going to contribute to me getting cancer (like the secondary smoke that thrust all those changes on our establishments), but it can certainly make others' nights out just as uncomfortable.

-- Here's how you know your team loves you: earlier this season the Neighbor Bangers turned in a scoresheet with this comment in the box on the back: 'Mike Cruze - "1" in 501.' Yep, felt the need to share with the rest of us Cruze's awesome 0.33 points per dart turn. And what do we say to them for that? Awesome, thanks!

That simply isn't enough Random Thoughts… see the next page for more mostly useless ramblings…

MORE(!) RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

No, really… I have more silly pointless stuff to share. Interested? Then read on… and leave yourself wondering why you didn't have something better to do… Sad for you, right?

-- I just realized that I never passed on a game that Kyle Gaulthier (of Who's Sittin'?) threw over in the Bull City Dart League a few months ago. That league is a handicapped league, so in cricket games, the lesser player starts with some number of points that the better player must make up in addition to the regular seven numbers and points that are part of a standard game. And Gaulthier is most decidedly one of the 'better' players. He was playing a singles cricket game in which he had to spot his opponent 220 points… and he completed the game in 18 darts! Yes, he closed all seven numbers and scored 220+ points in just SIX turns. Even if he was able to score the entire point requirement on just the 20s (I'm not sure if he was or not) that means he would have to score 32 marks at the bare minimum (21 marks plus the 11 20s to score)… on just 18 darts. That is sick. That is at least 5.33 marks per turn, including the turn to close the bulls.

-- Did you hear that last week you could get tickets to the St. Louis Rams @ Washington Redskins game this past Sunday for $3 on the secondary market (StubHub, etc.)?!?! Yes, THREE dollars. Now, granted, that only got you a standing-room-only ticket, but you're in the stadium. If you wanted a seat in the upper level, that would actually cost another WHOLE DOLLAR. Yep, four bucks for upper level. Oh, wait, you wanted to sit in the lower level like all the cool people? Well, then you would've needed to look under another couple couch cushions, because those seats were going for the lofty price of eight bucks. Highway robbery, I'm tellin' ya. But what if you really wanted to get close and sit in the front row behind the Redskins' bench? Well, those went for the atronomical (not!) price of eighty dollars. Holy cow, when I was reading about this, I was admittedly quite surprised. Lots of people in lots of cold places with lots of years of bad teams still go to the games like it's a true religion (says a lifelong Detroit Lions fan). But not over in D.C. evidently… That's pretty sad.

-- Yep, I've included this picture before (back in week 6)… but I just flippin' love it. It's Keith Feller of Travelin' Brown's Billiards with his new celebration buddy during a trip to Ecuador, during which he actually hung a dartboard in an outdoor bar just yards from the beach… This photo just looks deadly… You go, Keith.

-- I've complained about the way people drive in the newsletter on several occasions. And I've been particularly colorful about the way people park in my parking deck at the Durham VA Medical Center. It seems like I've painted about as many pictures for you as is possible. But about three weeks ago when I came in to work, somebody had backed in his/her car along the endcap of one of the aisles (our decks is WAY over-sold so they let us park in places like that), and that car had ridden up on to the curb in such a way that the opposite side back wheel was OFF THE GROUND. The weight of the car was keeping it from rocking on the angle, and the back passenger side was just sitting there about 5 or 6 inches off the pavement. Now tell me, if you parked like that, wouldn't you notice? And wouldn't you, ya know, move it?

-- And on a related note, how is it ok that they over-sell our deck to such an extent? We're not talking 510 permits for 490 spots so that the deck is still full when people are on different shifts. We're talking dozens and dozens of employees driving around for what can be long periods of time (especially Tuesday through Thursday mornings) looking for some sidewalk they can use for parking, despite the fact that they pay hundreds of dollars each year to park there. Isn't that a breach of contract of some type? We've had people in our lab just give up and go work at home on a few occasions. That's just not ok.

-- Hey, do me a favor… go to your computer, open your email, and search something like "disable reply all button", and then do whatever it says there. If you don't know why I'm telling you to do that, then it's you to whom I am most certainly talking. Don't ask somebody else what I mean or why… you won't understand, and you'll just be angry and confused. Just disable it. Thanks.

-- Earlier this fall, my wife and I went to Cleveland for a Browns game (she is a lifelong Browns fan), and the entire weekend was just excellent. And the stadium there was just electric, and it had a bunch of jaw-dropping big features as well as a whole slew of smile-provoking small extra touches too. Two of my favorites were the simple-but-very-Browns-oriented seat backs (complete with football-shaped seat number) and the giant banners that entire sections of the crowd choreographed at various times. But my absolute favorite part has to be that each time the other team starts a possession (or comes out of a time-out or commercial break), the sound system plays the creepy theme soundtrack from the Halloween horror movie series with Michael Myers. That is some nerve-tingling stuff when it's seemingly both loud and subtle at the same time. Not sure how they achieve that.

-- And while we're mixing football in with our darts… did you happen to see the Maryland football team get penalized for not shaking hands with the Penn State captains a few weeks ago? They were given an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty (they were trying some silly crap to try to start a rivalry because they just joined the Big Ten). Can you imagine if we gave penalties here in the RDL for not shaking hands? Geez… I have one opponent who simply never stays for even 20 seconds after his team loses and doesn't shake anybody's hands, and who also sometimes doesn't even come to shake hands when his team wins (preferring for you to come over to him where he's sitting to… pay your respects, I guess? Oh, sure that's going to happen…). I'm not sure I could sleep with myself at night if that was my reality.

-- For the first time in a long time, I'm very glad this Tons/season is over… I've had to answer so many more texts/emails/personal conversations in the past 10 days (and even stretching back 2 months) over the same rule issue that I'm just exhausted with it. Haven't felt that way in a long time. I guess I'll just be glad that neither I nor my team are in any way at the heart of the reason that so many people are complaining. At first it was just one division, but I guess word travels quickly and others feel the same way. If you don't know what I'm talking about it, consider yourself lucky.

2014 SINGLES WIN/LOSS AWARD WINNERS

(Eligibility for these awards in the NCCDL requires playing in 60% of your team's singles sets, while also playing in at least two "away" matches.)

(Eligibility for these awards in the NCLC merely requires playing in 50% of your team's singles sets.)

NCCDL "West" Division -- Robbie Phillips - Durham - 14-0 (sets), 28-3 (games)

NCCDL "East" Division -- Steve Chorba - Wilmington - 10-0 (sets), 20-1 (games)

NCLC "West" Division -- Sabrina Merrill - Asheville - 12-1 (sets), 24-6 (games)

NCLC "East" Division -- Kris Kilsdonk - Fuquay-Varina - 10-0 (sets), 20-3 (games)

(this is the second consecutive divisional singles title for Kilsdonk, giving her a 24-1 record over the last 2 years)

NCCDL / NCLC MEETING RESULTS FROM THE OCTOBER MEETING

NCCDL and NCLC: The NCCDL will operate with either a 13-team league , using the Central vs. Peripheral style of divisions that we have employed in odd-numbered years for a while now. The 13 teams are the same as this year (as the outside-chance possibility of Fuquay-Varina returning to make 14 did not come to fruition). The Central division will include Piedmont, Chapel Hill, Durham, Raleigh, Cary, and Capital Area. The Mountain/Beach division will include Asheville, Pineville, Charlotte, Lake Norman, Jacksonville, Wilmington, and Port City. Unlike in past years with this alignment, the NCCDL captains (like the NCLC captains) voted to not include any intra-divisional matches. Thus, Central teams will play 7 matches and the Mountain/Beach teams will play 6 matches, with all matches during the regular season being inter-divisional.

== The NCLC will operate with 12 teams (as Cary has added an NCLC team for this coming year) in a similar division format, with the following team groupings (since some leagues have only an NCCDL team OR an NCLC team): Piedmont/Chapel Hill/Apex/Cary/Capital Area/Fuquay-Varina, and Asheville/Hickory/Pineville/ Charlotte/Jacksonville/Wilmington. The NCLC will play only the inter-divisional opponents as well, meaning each team will have 6 matches.

HISTORY OF THE NCCDL…

It was back in 1995 that Tim Lane (now of the Cary NCCDL team) first introduced the idea of the statewide year-long season style of play to replace the old "one team holds the cup against a string of challengers" sytem. It's still possibly the most popular and successful idea ever for anything larger than a local league. Here are the 19 tournament final results so far:

1996: Raleigh over Charlotte
1997: Piedmont over Durham
1998: Piedmont over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
1999: Wilmington over Raleigh/Charlotte(?)
2000: Durham over Charlotte
2001: Durham over Wilmington
2002: Wilmington over Durham
2003: Wilmington over Durham
2004: Wilmington over Durham
2005: Durham over Wilmington
2006: Durham over Charlotte
2007: Durham over Charlotte
2008: Durham over Charlotte
2009: Wilmington over Charlotte
2010: Wilmington over Durham
2011: Durham over Lake Norman
2012: Durham over Wilmington
2013: Wilmington over Lake Norman
2014: Durham over Wilmington

Request to the NCLC Ladies: if any of you have a history of the results like the one above for the NCCDL, I would love to have a copy of those so I can periodically run an NCLC history as well. Drop me a line please if you're willing to share.

The "Only Bad Thing About Finding Great Friends Is The Chance That They Will Someday Have To Move Away" Edition

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

"A" Division - The Alpaca Element (13-5)

In a match that was very much closer than the score, the Element and Appetite for Destruction swap spots from last season in terms of season and tournament wins, with each taking one of each title.

"B" Division - Traveling Brown's Billiards (?-?)

After a pretty crushing final two weeks of the regular season brought two match losses and the loss of both first and second place, TBB bounces back to win round 3 against Fire in the final.

"C" Division - Death Throw (12+-12)

After many seasons of success and near-success, Death Throw finally hauls in its first set of team Mugs, winning both the semis (over the #1 seed) and the finals (over the #6 seed!) in tiebreakers.

"D" Division - Talk Darty To Me (13-5)

In one of the tournament's most dominant performances, Talk Darty only reaches 501 once (in the semis), and becomes one of only two teams this season that completed a season/tournament double.

"E" Division - Them Handsome Devils (13-11)

The Devils race to a quick 9-3 lead in singles, then pull in one DCkt before waiting until the final 501 to close out the Bandits, becoming the first team to beat the Bandits since the first half of the season.

"F" Division - Pat's Blue Ribbon (14-4)

Pat's completes one of the most up-and-down Jekyll & Hyde seasons in recent memory, starting the season with 5 wins, then losing 4 of 5, then finishing with another 5-win run and the Mugs.

"G" Division - Missing Flights (13-5)

In only two matches all season did a team have a shot at even pushing Missing Flights to 1001, and it was just more of the same as Missing raced its way through the tournament on the way to F.

"H" Division - Train Station Shooters (14-10)

The wild H division season continued in the tournament with more 'decided-by-one-dart' matches than any other division, with the Shooters winning the H tournament's fourth of those in the final.

REGULAR SEASON WINNERS

"A" Division - Appetite for Destruction (13 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - The Alpaca Element

"B" Division - Fire for Effect (8 wins, 4 losses)
2nd place - Overtime Outlaws

"C" Division - Projectile Dysfunction (10 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - The Jeffersons

"D" Division - Talk Darty To Me (11 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Shark Shooters

"E" Division - One Armed Bandits (9 wins, 3 losses)
2nd place - Armed and Hammered

"F" Division - T.E.D.S. (10 wins, 2 losses)
2nd place - Pat's Blue Ribbon

"G" Division - Missing Flights (11 wins, 1 loss)
2nd place - Full of Bull

"H" Division - AC Dart C (10 wins, 4 losses)
2nd place - Train Station Shooters

Rosters of all season- and tournament-winning teams are on page 4.)

THIS SEASON'S TIEBREAKERS

For the second season in a row in which there was some amazing parity in many of the divisions, we didn't really have an astonishing number of tiebreakers. There were only 33 this season (with 4 of those coming during the divisional tournaments). C division easily led the way with 9 tiebreakers played (7 in the season, 2 in the tournament). A and H each had 6 tiebreakers (each with one in the tournaments), B and E each had 4 tiebreakers, G had 3, D had 1, and F didn't have even a single game of 1001.

Six teams played 3 or more tiebreaker games, while twenty-one teams never went into extra time.

This season's Cardiac Kids award (for most tiebreakers played) is shared by two teams, 4 each: Sharky's Machine went 3-1, with all four of those coming in the first five weeks(!); and while Death Throw only went 2-2 in their four 1001s, they saved their two wins for the tournament semifinals and finals!!

The Heartbreak Award doesn't really have a clear winner, as no team lost more than two 1001s. Three teams (Methodical Madness, Girls Night Out, and Ducking Farts) went 0-2, so that's bad. But Projectile Dysfunction's 1-2 (with a tournament loss) likely hurt more.

FALL 2015 RDL SEASON INFORMATION

Wed., Nov. 18, Dec. 2 / 9 - Fall season divisional tournaments
Saturday, December 12th - Fall season banquet, site TBD

WHEN EVERYONE DOES THINGS THE RIGHT WAY

We all know that there are sometimes tense situations and bad blood in competitive settings (such as a dart match). And then there are intense matches in which everybody is just an awesome person and it ends up as a great night for everyone on both sides. Those nights are freakin' priceless. In light of that, imagine if you were such a good person/team that your opponent felt compelled to share a message such as this one from Shane Richardson of One Armed Bandits in E: "I wanted to shoot you a message about the match last night. As you know, after a hotly contested well-played match between two great teams, the Bandits fell to the Devils in the last match of the night. I have never left a match from a loss grinning from ear to ear after having had that good of a time. I have to say I wish the RDL had more teams like these guys! They are a highly talented group, but more importantly they are classy guys and good sportsmen. Something you see too little of these days. If I can't take home the hardware, it's nice to see it go to a deserving group of guys like these. Hats off to Them Handsome Devils!" [And a quick addition from JK: I think it's something about the people in E right now… I received several similar messages this season in E, with a couple a bit like this about Shane's own Bandits squad. Kudos to E.]

SPRING 2015 PENALTY SUMMARY

Alright, another really good season in terms of a low penalty number! Yes, we generally have fewer in the spring (no election ballots in those seasons), but it's still impressive when you guys do as well as you did this season.

Overall, there were only 13 total penalties for a total of 120 lost points!! That is 155 fewer lost points (& 1 fewer lost match win) than last season! That's really a great job by most of you. Congrats. We had four different types of penalties assessed: 7 phone penalties (35 points), 1 captains' meeting penalty (5 points), 1 tiebreaker listing penalty (16 points), and 4 mail penalties (64 points).

Only 7(!) of the 59 teams got any penalty at all, and only 2 divisions (G and H) received more than one total penalty. Heck, A, C and E divisions didn't get any penalties at all. And while the Ducking Farts lost 4th in H due to a penalty, the real pain was felt by Traveling Brown's Billiards in B div., who lost 2nd place (along with a set of team plaques & a spot in A!).

SUMMER DARTS

It's that time again when our standard Wednesday league takes a break for a couple months. That's ok for some of us, but not so much for others… Looking for a replacement? Try these options.

Tuesdays - BCDL - Durham Handicapped Steel-Tip League

The Bull City Dart League continues its year-round play with a summer season that fits the RDL summer break pretty well. Registration likely ends on Tuesday, June 9th at 6:59 p.m. The final location of that registration hasn't been set yet, but you can get updates at the league website (www.thebcdl.org). The league plays Tuesday nights throughout Durham and RTP, and uses a rolling handicap system to level the playing field quite a bit. Teams consist of 4-8 players (about 6 is the norm), and dues are $25/player per season.

Thursday league - TDL - in Chapel Hill/Durham

The registration information for the TDL isn't out yet, but the spring finals were this past Thursday. So I would expect the registration meeting to occur sometime soon. Check www.ibiblio.org/ncdarts/tdl/ for information updates soon. The teams in TDL consist of 6-10 players per team, and dues are $20/ player per season. I believe this past season the league used 3 bars in Chapel Hill and 2 in Durham, although I'm not certain that list is necessarily static, and is likely more determined by the number of teams that are registered (and bar availability).

Or maybe a blind draw…

Page 8 lists the regular weekly blind draws offered by RDL host establishments, and there are a bunch. But I have also confirmed both The Upper Deck AND Sharky's Place will be adding weekly Wednesday draws for every week this summer. They will have basically the same features as their regular draws listed on page 8, except that there is no Wednesday "triple shot" at the Deck.

And for those lookin' for a bigger tournament…

Check pages 20 and 21 for fliers for events in nearby locales, and also the calendar on page 8 for a couple more. If you can only hit one of those, I wholeheartedly recommend… THE 10TH ANNUAL WRECK AT THE DECK !!! (see pg. 20). Yep, one of the best ADO tournaments on the annual calendar is right in your back yard yet again. June 5th-7th at The Upper Deck on Harrison Avenue. Too good and too close to pass up… And you can even sponsor a board at the tournament with the form on page 20 if you want to see your team (or business!) name in print on one of the board stanchions.

"C, D" Divisions = 3.5 or more ASPs
"E, F, G" Divs. = 3.0 or more ASPs; "H" = 2.5 or more ASPs
Also, call in any fast games, high ins, high outs, or other amazing feats that you think warrant a little recognition (e.g., Ins & Outs higher than a Ton, 24-dart cricket games, 15-dart 301s, 24-dart 501s, Ton-70s and up, 5-Bulls+, etc.).

Extra note: it's also ok to call in "fast games" in each set, even if they don't necessarily meet the maximum dart counts above.

SEASON-LONG TROPHY DART MINIMUM GAMES PLAYED REQUIREMENTS

THE THIRTY-SEVENTH SEMI-ANNUAL EDITION OF: JK'S DIVISIONAL ALL-STAR TEAM PICKS

(Players within each division are listed alphabetically) (Players are chosen any way I damn well please - not purely by the numbers!)
(This is not purely my own guesses at who is simply the best thrower, but also who is important to their team, who is good in the clutch, etc.)

Divisional MVPs

A Division	Robbie Phillips	The Alpaca Element (his fourth in a row…)	E Division	Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits
B Division	Steve Wilcenski	Traveling Brown's Billiards	F Division	Andrew Palmisano	Pat's Blue Ribbon
C Division	Billy Lloyd	Projectile Dysfunction	G Division	Chris Robertson	Missing Flights
D Division	Jim Peele	Shark Shooters	H Division	Nate Burner	Ducking Farts

All of RDL -- Shane Richardson -- One Armed Bandits

"A" Division

Tom Brown	The Alpaca Element	The endless winning machine rolls on.
Kyle Gaulthier	Listing 9 Sux	Roll in, 5 min warm-up, crush everything.
Chad Massengill	The Alpaca Element	Looks like clearly the RDL's next monster.
Sid Mitchell	Appetite for Destruc	Led A's top team for much of the season.
Dan Naylor	Appetite for Destruc	The National Champ is still just on fire.
Robbie Phillips	The Alpaca Element	Really, what more can I type here?
Mike Seward	Listing 9 Sux	When was the last time he wasn't here?
Wil Tan	The Alpaca Element	RDL's highest success/practice ratio ever.

"B" Division

Will Bennett	Overtime Outlaws	SCkt record carried the day for his stats.
Dan Clark	Overtime Outlaws	Got better from set-to-set all night.
John Murdaugh	Fire for Effect	Very unassuming and humble. And good.
Jerry Oakley	Fire for Effect	Was just a huge addition for B winners.
David Romanchek	Nine Lives	Almost able to carry usually-5-man team.
Mark Sellers	Cheap Shots	Just the best shot on a balanced squad.
J.J. Tant	Overtime Outlaws	Biggest hammer for team on late rush to A.
Steve Wilcenski	Traveling Brown's B	Came within a dart of carrying team to A.

"C" Division

Rick Dysard	Death Throw	Top gun for DT's first-ever Mug run.
Ernie Gilyardi	Down the Road	If he was there more, the Road wins more.
Andy Krestalude	The Jeffersons	Decent, decent, decent, then 501 machine.
Billy Lloyd	Projectile Dysfuncti	Seriously, best C recruiting job in years?
Vince Martinez	The Jeffersons	The Jeffersons top shot is back to form.
Chris Montesi	Dublin Doublout	Ok, so maybe we just sit him in the last set.
Jeff Reynolds	Down the Road	He's a true Roadie… good until the 501.
Dave Tanner	Projectile Dysfuncti	Starts off moderate, but climbs every set.

"D" Division (there were a LOT of candidates here)

Jim Gallagher	Coral Reefers	Another guy whose attendance is so key.
John Geraghty	Talk Darty To Me	Super for three sets, with a slight late drop.
Nate Groce	Talk Darty To Me	Took over as the top shot for top D team.
Dave Johnson	Menace 2 Sobriety	The lead Menace is leading by example.
Charles Parker	Shark Shooters	Hard to believe he's only team's 2nd best.
Jim Peele	Shark Shooters	Mr. Quadruple Double had a huge season.
J.J. White	Menace 2 Sobriety	Awesome in singles, acceptable in doubles.
Tom Winters	Dynamic Darts	Now that's he back to full time, he's rolling.

"E" Division

Randy Deemer	Kwitchabitchn	Bright spot for slight underachievers.
Dave Krasnow	Them Handsome De	Still throws his best in the biggest spots.
Anthony Macias	Armed and Hammer	How does this team have a DCkt issue?
Joe McCartney	Dartaholics Anonym	Some 0.500 sets, but carried the team well.
Phil Murphy	One Armed Bandits	Won 71% of singles, and then got better.
Shane Richardson	One Armed Bandits	Was just a rock star for the entire season.
Tyler Simpson	Armed and Hammer	Two big sets, two ok ones, pretty good.
Ken Trefzger	One Armed Bandits	Wow, this makes 3 serious Bandit guns.

"F" Division

Brad Adams	Pat's Blue Ribbon	Just simply solid for the Mug winners.
Stephen Long	T.E.D.S.	After a moderate 301 set, he caught fire.
Tony Millage	T.E.D.S.	27-6 in the first three sets is domination.
Bryan Ogden	Grateful Darts	Still a shining star in rough team season.
Andrew Palmisan	Pat's Blue Ribbon	Wins nearly 90% of his games. Just wow.
Joe Rigert, Sr.	Wayne Gretzky	The dominant force for the Great One.
Dan Therrien	Djucks Unchained	He won a bunch, and didn't miss matches.
Jason Thomas	T.E.D.S.	If he would list himself, he could own this.

"G" Division (wow, there were 13 throwers I considered here)

David Bradford	Wizards of One Mar	Best player on a team coming together.
Joe Brennan	Full of Bull	New addition nearly put them over the top.
Luke Davis	Missing Flights	== Really, what can I say about any one
Evan Howey	Full of Bull	Has taken over as top gun for runners-up.
Doug Nettesheim	Missing Flights	== of these four guys alone? This team
Chris Robertson	Missing Flights	== was so dominant that I honestly
Julie Scheppele	Girls Night Out	Carried team in doubles, with good singles.
David Sorber	Missing Flights	== could've picked nearly any of them.

"H" Division

Rich Bialaszewski	Northern Flights	Sits out more and more late in matches??
Nate Burner	Ducking Farts	Holy crap! What a jump in his 2nd season!
Neal Crawford	Chalk it Up	6-0 in 501. List him in more 501s. Duh.
Eric Emerton	AC Dart C	Captain and top shot for top finishers.
Roger Genzlinger	Chalk it Up	Singles hammer was just so-so in doubles.
Richard Oakley	Train Station Shoote	Really flourished without captain duties.
Kenny Spencer	Tips & Shafts	One of the more under-the-radar winners.
Dave Woodard	AC Dart C	Solid #2 able to push ACDC up all season.

-The Quadruple Double Award winners (double-digit wins in all 4 sections): With 5 divisions having a bye this season, this is one lonely club, with only 1 person in the true Quadruple Double club this season: Jim Peele of the Shark Shooters in D division. While there were 3 people in A and D divisions that came within one win of a quadruple double (Chad Massengill and Robbie Phillips of The Alpaca Element, & Dave Johnson of Menace 2 Sobriety), the top honorable mentions go to Billy Lloyd of Projectile Dysfunction in C (for four 9-win sets in a 12-match season) and Chris Robertson of Missing Flights in G division (for three 11-win sets in a 12-match season… the Missing Flights won a lot…).

-The Iron Man/Woman Award: Given the number of times the Liquor Posse in D division played with only 5 players, it was pretty obvious they would have the winner of this one on the roster (and they actually ended up with the two highest games played totals in the league). The Iron Woman of the season was Alyssa Leggett (whose 66 games barely edged out the 64 by teammate Adam Barnes). And the honorable mentions for division leaders: Joey Gaglione (Pick Your Poison) and Randy Massengill (Anything Goes) with 57 games in A; Hugh Vance (Traveling Brown's Billiards) and Stephen Flanagan (Big Bulls) with 51 in B; Jimmy Bateman (Sharky's Machine) with 52 in C; Patrick Todd (Kwitcha-bitchn) with a huge 61 in a 12-match E season(!); Stan Converse (Djucks Unchained) with 57 in F; Harry Annon (Another Sinking Ship) with 59 in G; and Denise Borgna (Tips & Shafts) with 63 in H (the highest non-Posse total)

-The Team Attendance Award winners: Six teams this season made a run at this category this season, but three of them really stood out ahead of the rest. All three of these teams carried 7 players on the roster, with one player on each team throwing in only two matches, leaving the other six to hit all the rest of the sets. The teams: Fortnight Hooligans & The Jeffersons in C, and Missing Flights in G.

MY PRESEASON, WEEKLY, & TOURNEY PREDICTION RESULTS

As usual, I'm left with the option of trying to bluff my way through this part, or just telling the truth. And since I know some of you squirrel away every last thing I've ever written about your team, I will again give real results… bummer.

In my preseason picks (usually the toughest every season given the imminent roster changes/additions), I actually did really well again. My season pick won either the season or the tournament (or both!) in every division but E. That's pretty stout, eh? On top of that, I was within a spot or two of nailing the entire order in A, D, F, G and H. Wow, nice! I really gave Rif Raf too much credit in B, just as I did with the Hooligans in C and the Leftovers in D. The one winner I just didn't see coming was the Bandits (which is odd, because I often pick them).

My weekly prediction results you can peruse pick-for-pick on the other side of this sheet of paper. What an absolute catastrophe my picks in C division were… and those in D weren't much better. Those divisions made me have one of my lower pick percentages in recent years, at below 68% correct. It's still hard to believe that I got 2/3 or more wrong with not one… not two… not three… but FOUR different teams (with three of those in C division). Really, it seems hard to believe I could've done that poorly with them if I had actually tried to do badly.

Last but not least were my tournament predictions… Usually when we jump to best-of-three, my picks get stronger, despite the fact that I'm picking semifinals and finals that I conceivably could have wrong before the match is even played. This season, however, my pick rate wasn't even as good as my weekly season rate, mostly because I got every tournament match in C division wrong! 0-7! I had a decent 20-7 start in the quarterfinals (with five divisions not having the #1 seed playing due to a bye), then a very strong 12-4 semifinals record, but then flopped out by hitting only 2 Mug champs (leaving me at 34-17 total). I did hit a Dark Horse champ in E though, and my Sure Things indeed were.

JK'S TEAM-BY-TEAM, WEEK-BY-WEEK MATCH PREDICTION RESULTS

(I introduced this page twenty-one seasons ago, and it has become almost expected as a newsletter staple. Feast your eyes on the success...)

For several years, many of you have taken no greater pleasure in your weekly darting endeavors than to call the RDL VoiceMail and point out to me just how wrong I was in my prediction of your match result. On a related note, I have noticed that many of you seem to have relatively selective memories saving only the weeks when I was wrong. Further, many others of you regularly embellish your statistics of how often you fool me. It's not so easy to get away with those rambles anymore, however, as you can see below. Each W is a week when I picked your match correctly, and each L is one I picked incorrectly. Division totals are to the right of the team totals, weekly totals are at the bottom, and in the space between the 14 weeks and the team totals, the seven 'o' symbols indicate the teams for which I was only 0.500, and the ten 'x' symbols indicate the teams that fooled me more often than not[What an absolute catastrophe C and D divisions became for me... and B and E weren't a whole lot better. This was an extremely tough season for match predictions (despite the fact that I just about owned both A & G divisions). I was sub-0.500 for more than half the teams in C, and had teams (Sharky's Machine in C and Leftovers in D) with whom I was 3-9 and 4-10, respectively. Just awful.]

THIS SEASON'S TRIVIA QUESTIONS… REVISITED

I now run this column during seasons in which I've included trivia questions all season. Each question is listed exactly as it was during the season, so there is potential for a question to now be out of date, but it's usually not too much of a problem. Each question is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers follow the questions. No peeking…

Week 5 question: The February 7th start of the NCCDL (NC City Dart League) and the NCLC (NC Ladies' Cup) 2015 seasons got me wondering… How many of this season's RDL members played for an NCCDL or NCLC team in 2014?

Week 6 question: How many times in the past decade (20 seasons) has the Board cancelled the week 5 captains' meeting?

Week 7 question(s): How many teams have had 7-match win streaks since the start of 2014? Who are they?

Week 10 question(s): How many RDL members have have continuously remained teammates in all 39 seasons of my tenure as RDL statistician? Who are they?

Week 11 question: With Missing Flights taking a loss in G division last week, there are no undefeated teams left in the entire RDL. In my 39 seasons as RDL statistician, how many of them ended without a team undefeated through the regular season plus tournaments?

Week 12 question: (the obvious corollary question to week 11) In my 39 seasons as RDL statistician, how many of them ended without a team winless through the regular season plus tournaments?

Week 13 question: Last week's question about the number of winless teams is interesting, but I think there's something much more interesting… In the last 39 seasons, how many teams have finished winless in the regular season but then won at least one tournament match (which are best-of-three for the points, and with a match guaranteed against a top-two finisher)?

Week 14 question: In my 38 seasons as statistician before this season, what is the lowest number of regular season champions that also won a tournament title that same season? (note: we've had four seasons with 6 divisions, nineteen seasons with 7, fourteen seasons with 8, and one with 9)

Week 5 answer: Of the 509 people presently on RDL rosters, 81 were on an NCCDL or NCLC team (64 on an NCCDL team, 16 on an NCLC team, 1 on both) last year. And those 81 people were on 7 of the 13 NCCDL teams and 6 of the 11 NCLC teams. That means that the RDL includes 28.3% of the NCCDL darters in the state, on 53.8% of the NCCDL teams; and also includes 15.6% of the NCLC darters in the state, on 54.5% of the NCLC teams. No wonder it's so hard to win here in the RDL… it turns out that, as a whole, we're evidently pretty good at this stuff. Yay us!

Week 6 answer: The fifth week captains' meeting has been cancelled in 12 of the last 20 seasons (and that's actually 12 of the last 16 seasons, since we mostly started cancelling the fifth week meeting from the Fall 2007 onward). In those past 8 years, we've had two spring season meetings and two fall season meetings, without ever having meetings in consecutive seasons. Mostly, it seems that we have the meetings now when captains/ teams just get lazy and start creating issues…

Week 7 answer (as of the time the question was asked): In just the past 14 months of RDL darts, there have been a surprising 21 win streaks of 7 matches or more! And of those 21, exactly ZERO of them are current streaks. [note: see end of answer for an update to that fact] The longest recent streak was by Bona Fide Element/ The Dynastic Element with a 21-match run, all in A division. Next longest was 17 by the BullsHitters (14 in C plus 3 in B), followed by Full of Bull (13 in H plus 2 in G), Darty/Talk Darty To Me (10 in E plus 4 in D), the BullsHitters again (13 in B), Shootin Da Bull (13 in G), and then Element again (with another 12 in A as Element Twenty Won and Bona Fide Element), One Armed Bandits (11 in F), and Excalibur/Cheap Shots (9 in C plus 1 in B). [Answer update for the banquet Tons: Projectile Dysfunction in C and the One Armed Bandits in E each added a 7-match string, Missing Flights in G added an 8-match string, The Alpaca Element in A is presently on an 8-match-and-counting run, Talk Darty To Me in D is presently on a 9-match-and-counting run, and Appetite for Destruction in A just had their win streak stopped at a very impressive 14 matches.]

Week 10 answer: It turns out that only one team in the RDL has has team members that have been on a roster together for each of the last 39 seasons. From their days on S.S.H. back in the Spring 1996 season right up through their current time together on Bullish, the trio of Joe Kunesh, Charlie Wilkinson and Chuck Rouse have been teammates each and every season. They aren't the only people to have been in the league every season (heck, that list obviously includes yours truly), but they are the only ones to be continuous teammates. [It's actually possible that they could all have been teammates for even longer, but team-by-team statistics records are a little dicey prior to my time as statistician. I'm sure somebody somewhere must have something that shows that information, but none of the people who have shared earlier records with me so far have had anything with information that complete in it.]

Week 11 answer: In my 39 seasons as statistician, we have had 18 without even one undefeated team in any division (including 4 in a row now). In the 21 seasons that have had an undefeated team, there have been a total of 28 undefeated teams (8 in A, 6 in B, 4 in C, 2 in D, 2 in E, 1 in F, 3 in G, and 2 in H). That is a LOT of parity in the lower divisions… only one undefeated F team in two decades? Only two in D, E and H? I'm honestly surprised it was that few. And obviously we won't be adding to any of those numbers this season…

Week 12 answer: In 15 of the last 39 seasons [this answer has been updated to include this season], the RDL has gone without a winless team. In the 25 seasons with at least one winless team, there have actually been 39 winless teams. As might be expected, 12 of those 39 have been in A division (and maybe surprisingly, only 2 of them have been in H div. - although it should be noted that H division has only existed for 16 seasons now.) The number of winless seasons by division over the last 39 seasons are: A-12, B-3, C-7, D-3, E-2, F-4, G-6, H-2. And obviously, you can't have more than one winless team per division in any one season..

Week 13 answer: As we noted the previous week, there have been 39 winless teams in the last 39 seasons. And there is only ONE other team that went through the season winless, but then won a tournament match. In the Fall of 2003, Dogs of War III stumbled to an 0-12 season in C div. before taking down the 2nd place AND 3rd place teams by 14-10 and 13-3(!) scores. Then they took the regular season champs all the way to the last 501 in a 14-10 loss in the finals. What a crazy and amazing postseason bounceback, eh?

Week 14 answer: 1! And that has happened three times in the last 38 seasons! In the Fall 1998 season, B division was the only one of the seven divisions in which a team pulled the season/tournament double. In the Fall 2000 season, G division was the only one of seven. And in the Spring 2011 season, E division was the only one of the EIGHT divisions that season with a team taking a season/tournament double. (On average, about 3-4 division winners fail to win their tournaments.) [Answer update for the banquet Tons: this season nearly tied the record, as only 2 of the 8 regular season-winning teams pulled in tournament titles too.]

THIS SEASON'S LYRICS QUIZZES… REVISITED

Much like the column of this season's trivia questions on the previous page, I've listed here each lyrics quiz from this season. Each lyric is listed exactly as it was during the season. Each lyric is listed under the week number when it ran, and the answers are listed at the bottom of the page (and continuing onto the next page). No peeking… So who's ready to re-play "Name the band/singer and song (and weekly theme)"?

Week 2, song #1 lyric: "I lost my fake ID, But you lost the motel key, Spare me your freaking dirty looks, Now don't blame me"

Week 2, song #2 lyric: "A lady doesn't leave her escort, It isn't fair, and it isn't nice, A lady doesn't wander all over the room"

Week 2, song #3: "Bright light city gonna set my soul, Gonna set my soul on fire, Got a whole lot of money that's ready to burn"

Week 3, song #1 lyric: "And I watched as you turned away, You don't remember, but I do, You never even tried"

Week 3, song #2 lyric: "Yeah here we go for the hundredth time, Hand grenade pins in every line, Throw 'em up and let something shine"

Week 3, song #3 lyric: "The roses in the window box, Have tilted to one side, Everything about this house, Was born to grow and die"

Week 4, song #1 lyric: "Me and some guys from school, Had a band and we tried real hard, Jimmy quit, Jody got married"

Week 4, song #2 lyric: "That we don't even care, as restless as we are, We feel the pull in the land of a thousand guilts"

Week 4, song #3 lyric: "The sky was all purple, there were people runnin' everywhere, Tryin' to run from the destruction, you know I don't even care"

Week 5, song #1 lyric: "You see dimensions in two, State your case with black or white, But when one little cross leads to shots, grit your teeth"

Week 5, song #2 lyric: "Marry him or marry me, I'm the one that loves you baby can't you see? I ain't got no future or a family tree"

Week 5, song #3 lyric: "Thanks for the times that you've given me, The memories are all in my mind, And now that we've come to the end of our rainbow"

Week 6, song #1 lyric: "Strange voices are saying, What did they say, Things I can't understand, It's too close for comfort"

Week 6, song #2 lyric: "If you want to find all the cops, They're hanging out in the donut shops, They sing and dance, oh whey oh"

Week 6, song #3 lyric: "Can you hear them, They talk about us, Telling lies, Well that's no surprise, Can you see them, See right through them"

Week 7, song #1 lyric: "I think I'll go for a walk outside now, The summer sun's callin' my name, I just can't stay inside all day"

Week 7, song #2 lyric: "When the moon is in the seventh house, And Jupiter aligns with Mars, And peace will guide the planets"

Week 7, song #3 lyric: "That's why I'll always be around, You are the apple of my eye, Forever you'll stay in my heart"

Week 8, song #1 lyric: "Can't you hear them sayin'? I'm goin' home one of these days, I'm goin' home see my woman, whom I love so dear"

Week 8, song #2 lyric: "And I've seen a lot of good folks die, That had a lot of bills to pay, I'd give the shirt right offa' my back, If I had the guts to say"

Week 8, song #3 lyric: "At least until I die, damned if you do, damned if you don't, I'm supposed to get a raise next week, you know damn well I won't"

Week 9, song #1 lyric: "Must be your skin that I'm sinking in, Must be for real 'cause now I can feel, And I didn't mind, It's not my kind"

Week 9, song #2 lyric: "I know you like me, I know you do, That's why whenever I come around, She's all over you, I know you want it, It's easy to see"

Week 9, song #3 lyric: "From out of the shadows, She walks like a dream, Makes me feel crazy, Makes me feel so mean"

Week 10, song #1 lyric: "Fee, fee, fi, fi, fo-fo, fum, Look at Molly now, here she comes, Wearin' her wig hat and shades to match"

Week 10, song #2 lyric: "Can't you see the sunshine, Can't you just feel the moonshine, Maybe just like a friend of mine, It hit me from behind"

Week 10, song #3 lyric: "In touch with the ground, I'm on the hunt I'm after you, Smell like I sound, I'm lost in a crowd"

Week 11, song #1 lyric: "Got a beat-up glove, a homemade bat, and brand-new pair of shoes, You know I think it's time to give this game a ride"

Week 11, song #2 lyric: "I never will forget those nights, I wonder if it was a dream, Remember how you made me crazy?"

Week 11, song #3 lyric: "Josie's on a vacation far away, Come around and talk it over, So many things that I want to say"

Week 12, song #1 lyric: "My shadow's the only one that walks beside me, My shallow heart's the only thing that's beating"

Week 12, song #2 lyric: "Hey Jack it's fact they're talking in town, I turn my back and you're messin' around"

Week 12, song #3 lyric: "Can't you see the tears roll down the street? I've been looking for my baby, And I wonder where she can be"

Week 13, song #1 lyric: "I've been to Hollywood, I've been to Redwood, I crossed the ocean"

Week 13, song #2 lyric: "City sidewalks, busy sidewalks, Dressed in holiday style, In the air there's a feeling of Christmas"

Week 13, song #3 lyric: "I like it, I'm not gonna crack, I miss you, I'm not gonna crack, I love you, I'm not gonna crack"

Week 14, song #1 lyric: "And I'm gonna sing a song for you, And Bill's gonna show you a thing or two, You'll have some fun now"

Week 14, song #2 lyric: "Let's ride with the family down the street, Through the courtesy of Fred's two feet"

Week 14, song #3 lyric: "Strong as he can be, Aaaaah, Watch out for that tree… Lives a life that's free, Aaaaah, Watch out for that tree"

Week 14, song #4 lyric: "Number one super guy… Quicker than the human eye, He's got style, a groovy style, and a car that just won't stop"

Week 14, song #5 lyric: "His boy, Elroy. Daughter Judy. Jane, his wife."

Week 14, song #6 lyric: "Don't you want a little gorilla you can call your own, A gorilla who'll be with ya when you're all alone?"

Week 14, song #7 lyric: "One is a genius, the other's insane, They're laboratory mice, their genes have been spliced"

Week 14, song #8 lyric: "I'm one tough Gazookus, Which hates all Palookas, Wot ain't on the up and square"

Week 14, song #9 lyric: "Even the coyote can't make him change his ways… The coyote's after you… If he catches you, you're through"

Week 14, song #10 lyric: "I see you, pretending you got a sliver, But you're not fooling me, 'Cause I can see, the way you shake and shiver"

Week 14, song #11 lyric: "Next time you're feeling blue just let a smile begin, Happy things will come to you"

Week 14, song #12 lyric: "Wrench (wrench), Socket (socket), Gloves, motor, tires, chassis… That's me! Big race today! Pfft, Pfft…"

Week 14, song #13 lyric: "He's gainin' on you so you better look alive, He's busy revvin' up a powerful Mach 5"

Week 14, song #14 lyric: "They're the world's most fearsome fighting team, They're heroes in a half-shell and they're green"

Week 14, song #15 lyric: "Speed of lightning, roar of thunder, Fighting all who rob and plunder"

Week 13 answers: Song 1 = "Heart of Gold" by Neil Young === Song 2 = "Silver Bells" by Bing Crosby === Song 3 = "Lithium" by Nirvana.

Week 14 answers: Song 1 = "Theme to Fat Albert" (Note: determining who sang some of these week 14 themes was next to impossible, so we're just ignoring the singers for this one week…) === Song 2 = "Theme to The Flintstones" === Song 3 = "Theme to George of the Jungle" === Song 4 = "Theme to Hong Kong Phooey" === Song 5 = "Theme to The Jetsons" === Song 6 = "Theme to Magilla Gorilla" === Song 7 = "Theme to Pinky and the Brain" === Song 8 = "Theme to Popeye the Sailor Man" === Song 9 = "Theme to Road Runner" === Song 10 = "Theme to Scooby-Doo" === Song 11 = "Theme to The Smurfs" === Song 12 = "Theme to Speed Buggy" === Song 13 = "Theme to Speed Racer" === Song 14 = "Theme to Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" === Song 15 = "Theme to Underdog"

[Like last season, this season we used three-song groups each week and also included a theme each and every week. It adds a layer to the game for everybody and proved popular again. Here are the themes for each week*, including the week 14 fifteen-song set that once again was one of our most popular lyric quiz weeks - probably because most of us were morning cartoon addicts in a previous life...]*

Week 2 theme: Vegas, baby! A couple of our fellow RDL-ers were taking part in the ADO Nationals in Vegas that week. Week 3 theme: Well, once you see the three song titles, I would think this one becomes pretty bloody obvious. Week 4 theme: Pretty obviously, it was songs with years ending in 9 in the title. Couldn't really think of one for 1989, so we went from 1969 to 1979, and then hopped forward to 1999. Week 5 theme: Well, the obvious theme is that the song titles increase from one to two to three… but the reality is that I just wanted to the song by The Fixx in a theme somewhere because I just love that song. Week 6 theme: All-female groups of the 1980s, of course! Week 7 theme: Daylight Savings Time! Sunshine later in the day! The best day of the year! (the same week 7 theme as we had last spring :o) Week 8 theme: Hard work! In honor of the weekend at work that I had during grant writing time two weekends ago. Worked Friday night until 12:30 a.m., worked Saturday from 5 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., then set the clocks ahead an hour to lose an hour of sleep, then worked from 11:15 a.m Sunday straight through to 10:20 a.m. Monday. That was a long flippin' weekend. Week 9 theme: All bands that have had a song on a movie soundtrack. Of course, right? Duh…that's easily the most obvious theme. Why…what did YOU think the theme of those three bands was?! Week 10 theme: The NCAA basketball 'Sweet Sixteen' runs by the Duke Blue Devils, Carolina Tarheels, and North Carolina State Wolfpack, of course. Week 11 theme: This coming week's opening day of the baseball season! To keep the songs from being too obvious, I had to mix in a bad name with the song titles, but it's still a good trio. Week 12 theme: Each of these three were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame that week (Saturday, April 18th). Week 13 theme: Gotta have a little science knowledge for this one… all three song titles contain metals. (Yes, lithium is a metal.) Week 14 theme: theme songs of cartoons from the 80s (with a little bit of the 70s and 90s), with the songs listed in order by name of the cartoon, alphabetically.

RDL'S TELEVISION STAR IS BACK

Ron Smith of Ducking Farts (another team that received a handful of compliments like the one I noted in the right column of page 4 this season) dropped me a line to let everybody know that the 3rd season of their reality show "Garage Gold" began in the last week of April, on the DIY network. It airs primarily on Sunday nights, I believe. Ron says they have already filmed a 4th season, bringing their total so far to 47 episodes, and he says there is already talk about possibly adding a 5th season. So, if you're interested in seeing what another RDL-er does with his time, tune in and check them out. And if you have a garage that needs to be cleaned out, I'm thinking that Ron can probably help you out with that too. :o)

REMEMBER MY FA14 WEEK 10 COLUMN?

If so, then you know that I'm one of those new age liberals that has the audacity to think that people should have the right to do what they want (as long as it doesn't harm others), and I shouldn't legislate their lives for them. Well, whether you agree with me or not, I defy you to watch the video at this link (https://www.yahoo.com/health/the-skeleton-video-everyones-getting-emotional-112702802882.html), and not feel some serious human compassion. If you don't, seek help.

HOCKEY FAN? THIS LINK IS FOR YOU

My buddy Paul Jacobi shares some really funny stuff when he comes across it, and just two days ago he came through in a big way. This link: http://bleacherreport.com/articles/2464678-the-discovery-channel-just-killed-the-poor-pittsburgh-penguins (you have to copy all the text on both lines for the full address) is an awesome nerd hit against the Pittsburgh Penguins. Hockey fans, take a quick peek.

I'M ABUSING MY POWER AS EDITOR HERE…

…to say a personal goodbye. It's pretty rare that you just randomly meet somebody who immediately and effortlessly fits into your core group of friends such that he or she is almost instantly a core friend themselves. Well, I had the benefit of finding a guy just like that two years ago. My team, The Element, is very much a family as much as it is a dart team, and Alberto Sandoval (shown here with his wife, Estrella) became family very quickly. Sadly, Alberto is moving to Charlotte (it turns out he is really good at his job, dangit), and the Element is surely worse off in many ways because of it. Good luck, my friend. You'll be missed dearly. [Although I can take a little solace in the fact that he says he will still be staying with us in the NC City League on the Durham team, a promise that I will steadfastly attempt to hold him to… those Charlotte bitches better just back the hell off my boy… just sayin'.]

THE RDL IS FULL OF AWESOME PEOPLE WITH AMAZING TALENTS
Awesome People #4, #5 and #6 in this series (it's a 3-for-the-price-of-1 special!!)

Over the past couple seasons, I started a new periodic column in which I share with you guys stories and tidbits about the things that RDL members do for fun when they're not out throwing darts. Predictably, some of our RDL brothers and sisters have stories that are quite remarkable and interesting. With their permission, I will continue including some highlights from their stories right here in the pages of the Tons. For this week's fourth entry, you guys are getting an awesome deal! It's not 1… it's not 2… it's 3 awesome RDL-ers with a great talent all at once! I present to you the RDL's very own competitive barbecue champion trio, otherwise known as Fat Heads BBQ!!

The Fat Heads consist of (left to right in the photo to the left) Mike Venable of Methodical Madness, Mike Horrall of Wayne Gretzky, and Brad Hamilton of Methodical Madness (along with Brad's daughter Natalee), and they're mostly a competitive BBQ team, but also do a bit of catering if you're interested (I've included their card here in case anyone wants to get in touch with them). They're based out of Clayton, and they started in just 2012 (a fact that is going to hit home a bit more as you read on and consider the astounding level of success they've already reached). They primarily compete in four categories - chicken, pork ribs, pork butt/shoulder, and brisket; they do, however, also do whole hog, and have also even dabbled in wing sauce and desserts (and actually grabbed 1st place with their sauce!). So far they've only been tearing things up in NC and SC, but they're up to about 8-10 competitions each year, and it's hard to imagine that bigger things aren't ahead…

Now when you're talking about a BBQ team, it's hard not to talk about their grill equipment, right? Well, some of the "pros" that show up at the same competitions as our local heroes have setups that cost $30,000 to $40,000! Ladies and gentlemen… here is what Brad uses to go out and BEAT them: (Note the dartboard in the background!)

Mike V. and Mike H. are a little more modern with $300 and $400 Webers (oooo, fancy!), and they have both a pig cooker and the 'pull-behind' in the picture below. All in all, their total equipment cost comes in more than 3/4 below some others' single items. The final math of that calculation is this: Talent > equipment dollars, people…

Alright, so there you have it… RDL's very own champion BBQ team. Sounds good, doesn't it? Makes you want to go out and try a bit of the goods, right? Well, lucky you! You can see the Fat Heads at the Peak City Pig Fest in Apex (June 19-20, peakcitypigfest.com), and then at the Beer, Bourbon & BBQ Festival in Cary (July 31 - August 1, http://www.beerandbourbon.com/cary/show-info). There will be a few more, but those two are so close to home that it's hard to get a better opportunity.

The Fat Heads' slogan sums it up nicely:
"Life is good but BBQ is better"

And while it's easy for me to just sit here and say 'hey, they're successful', nothing speaks louder than a little bit of proof. Sooo…

Yeah, that's right… they win awards in just about every category, and at just about every competition they attend! And they've been awarded a Reserve Grand Champion title a couple times (including the Kannapolis Jiggy with the Piggy event last year that had SEVENTY teams in it)! One of the best accomplishments though was when Brad took 1st place in pork in Rocky Mount when they were filming a BBQ PitMaster show and all-time winningest BBQ champion Myron Mixon (and a few others BBQ stars) were all part of his list of victims!! Holy crap! Take that, suckahs! RDL-ers rule!

RANDOM THOUGHTS FROM JK

Nowadays, it's a fact… this column has become a banquet Tons staple. I have no idea why so many are so keen on taking a peek into the oddness that is my head, but you are. So without further ado, let's open up my head again and see what falls out. Some of these observations are dart-related, and some of them clearly are not. For the first time though, I'm actually writing this a little more than a day early due to some family commitments… still tired and busy, so still not sure what's about to hit the page, but anyway… whatever…

-- I always start the Random Thoughts with a Survivor item, and this season is no exception. But this time I'm making this item just a short and sweet one-word reference: "Bro." Or rather… "BRO!" Or "Bro, bro, bro, bro, bro, bro, bro." If you don't get that, you don't watch Survivor. Luckily, in this one case… What a tool.

-- I completely understand that many words in the English language can be pronounced in different ways depending on the context or definition of choice. However, I have news for furniture store salespeople: the word 'suite' is not pronounced (sūt). Not even after the word 'bedroom'. A "bedroom suit" is more a set of pajamas than a bed/nightstand/dresser combo. From where in the hell did that pronunciation come? I hate those ads.

-- Inappropriate humor is great. And holidays that include a lot of partying and laughter are great. And cake is absolutely amazing. But this past St. Patrick's Day, this cake at a local unnamed grocery store (whose name rhymes with Ferris Peeter) had me scratching my head. A drunk leprechaun cake? Really?! Was this a good idea at some point? There's just something about it that seems a bit more wrong than it should. (And no, I didn't buy it… although a big cake is a good idea in pretty much any setting…)

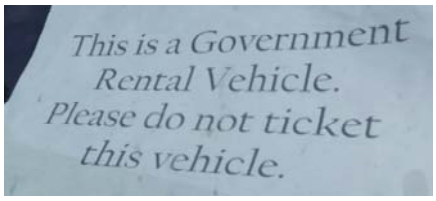
-- Quick note to the people who feel the need to drive with their hazard lights on when it starts to rain: cut it the hell out! Yes, it is technically legal in North Carolina (unless otherwise posted), but it is illegal in many states and the use of hazard lights generally indicates a stationary or very slow-moving hazard. Driving 60 miles per hour in the rain does not qualify you as either of those, and you are just unnecessarily making the drivers around you very nervous. Ok, well… I guess it might be that if you are a driver that feels the need to drive with hazard lights on, maybe the drivers around you really should be wary of being near you… just not because you are a vehicle in the rain.

-- One of my favorite things an RDL member told me this season is that he loves to read the team names together in the match pairings each (and especially the short nickname versions I use in the page 2 boxscores). I do that too. :o) Sometimes the name pairings make some really funny stuff… Although I still can NOT figure out how Something Inappropriate and Talk Darty To Me didn't produce some better awesome pairings… seemed perfect.

-- This season The Amazing Race had consecutive legs that sent contestants from Phuket to Bangkok. Does anyone besides me think that wasn't a coincidence?

-- How's this for a really underwhelming bonus item? On Super Bowl Sunday, Carmike Cinemas across the nation offered this amazing deal: one free small popcorn when you purchase a ticket for a movie that starts after 4:00 p.m. A small popcorn. Granted, that much popcorn likely costs about 73 bucks, but still, it will almost certainly be gone before the previews finish. Oh, yay. And no, it didn't come with a drink or free refills. Sigh.

-- You know all those family member sticker sets that you see on car windows nowadays? Well, every now and then you see one where the car owner has added the family's name, right? This photo is one I just saw a few days ago, and apparently was on the car of a family with a stack of extraneous apostrophes lying around the place. My wife very generously tried to cover for them quickly by saying that maybe it referred to the car belonging to them. And I, of course, pointed out that the apostrophe would still have to be moved. The only way this awesome display could be accurate is if someone owning the car somehow went by the title "The Pollay". You know, like "The Napster" in The Italian Job…



-- Not sure why I just thought of this now, but how about this for an example of your team loving you? Doug Jeffcoat of Listing 9 Sux has been known as Dougie Fresh and other Fresh-type nicknames for years. In about week 6, he rang up a very strong "7-In" in his 301 game, and his team went ahead and reported it on the scoresheet as a '7-In for Freshticles'. Ummm… yikes.

-- Quick note to those of you who insist on pushing into the elevator before the people that are already inside the elevator can exit: stop it, you self-important butts. The door will not be magically closing immediately after the last person exits. Relax a little bit and get out of the damn way.

-- Did you guys know that Kyle Gaulthier of Listing 9 Sux (and repeated A division all-star teams) has started working at UL (Underwriters Laboratories)? Why is that of interest here, you ask? Because Robbie Phillips (of The Alpaca Element) and Mike Seward (of Listing 9 Sux), who both also are absolute regulars on the A division all-star team, also both work there. That's three of the best players in the history of the RDL (and the state of North Carolina) all working at the same place. The odds of that coming together are pretty slim. I'm not a betting man, but if there was a nationwide workplace three-man dart tournament, I would have a hard time not putting a bit of a wager on those guys. Yikes.

-- So I'm walking past a car in a restricted parking spot at the Durham VA Medical Center (where I work), and I look in the front window and see this sign on the dashboard. Is that how this works? You just type up a sign that completely ignores any of the reason why you aren't allowed to park in a reserved/restricted space, and just beg for no ticket? If this works, can you imagine the shortage of printer paper that would immediately happen in New York City? (and for those who are curious: no, this car did not have official license plates, just regular ones… and I have no idea what the heck a Government Rental Vehicle, but each of the words is capitalized, so it must be really important, right?)

-- One of my favorite parts of a dart match is the post-match handshake (sort of like the post-series hockey handshake line). It brings the match back to a very friendly respect level, and it's just very classy. Well… it is if you stay to take part in it, I guess.

THE BEST SEASON SINGLES WIN %-AGES -- Spring 1996 through Spring 2015

This list of the best seasons contains results from the last 39 seasons, as that is the time during which I have been statistican. The statistical records prior to that (pre-1996) are not quite as complete, at least in the newsletter issues that have been made available to me thus far

Best Seasons (by SINGLES Win Percentage) in only "A" Division in the Most Recent 39 Seasons

(Given the fact that the level of play in "A" division is obviously generally higher than in the rest of the divisions, I have pulled out the best seasons in just "A" division in this section for a quicker perusal of what would most fairly be considered the best seasons at the highest level in the RDL.)

THE BEST SEASON SINGLES+DOUBLES WIN %-AGES -- Spring 1996 through Spring 2015

This list of the best seasons contains results from the last 39 seasons, as that is the time during which I have been statistican. The statistical records prior to that (pre-1996) are not quite as complete, at least in the newsletter issues that have been made available to me thus far

Best Seasons (by SINGLES+DOUBLES Win Percentage) in only "A" Division in the Most Recent 39 Seasons

(Given the fact that the level of play in "A" division is obviously generally higher than in the rest of the divisions, I have pulled out the best seasons in just "A" division in this section for a quicker perusal of what would most fairly be considered the best seasons at the highest level in the RDL.)
